COAL PROBLEM SOLVED BY 450 VOLUNTEERS

The emergency coal crisis reached the turning point today, with the final 38 carloads of coal expected to be unloaded by tonight, Noboru Shirai, executive secretary of the City Council, revealed today.

During the past three days, a crew of 450 volunteers cleared 118 carloads. On Wednesday, 42 freight cars were unloaded, while 38 were unloaded Thursday and the same number today.

Only 15 cars were diverted, before the volunteer crew took action to save the coal for the co-

OUTSIDE JOBS BEGIN TO APPEAR

Job offers in various lines are beginning to appear. Already there have been calls for watchmakers, bacteriologists, lens grinders, etc.. With time, many more positions can be expected.

"This is only the beginning," Lorne Huyke, Leaves Officer, declared.

BOBBIE PINS MUST BE FURNISHED

Bobbie pins must be brought in by the customers of the Tule Beauty Shop hereafter, as it is impossible for the shop to furnish them due to current metal shortages, the management announced today.

COVERLY WILL BE HONORED TONIGHT

Harvey M. Coverly, new project director, will be the guest this evening at a banquet to be held in his honor by the City Council at #2920 from 7:30 p.m.

Members of various Civic groups have been invited.

lony. The regular coal crew will probably be able to handle the amount expected to be coming in, it was added.

Both the City Council and Planning Board, expressed their appreciation to the members of the farm, recreation, public works, fire, and block volunteer crew for their immediate action in unloading the coal.

MERIT BOARD

WORK EFFICIENCY RATED FOR FUTURE REFERENCES

"There's no use working your head off for 15 bucks a month. A guy is a sucker if he does." So state certain wise guys, with the "know it all" complex.

For the information of all workers, the Merit Board has some different ideas on the subject. According to John Fukuyama, executive secretariat of the Merit Board, reports compiled by their committee may not only promote the efficiency of the individual but can play an important part in resettlement. Fukuyama emphasized that outstanding individuals will be given first consideration for jobs.

The Merit Board has sent out forms to every division and many of them have been filled and returned and are now on file at the office at #709.

OTSUYA SERVICES FOR MRS. H. SATO

Otsuya service for Mrs. Hanako Sato, formerly of Chehalis, Wash., will be held on Jan. 15 at 2 p.m. and funeral service on the following day at the same time. Both services will be held at #1408.

30-DAY MONTH TIME PERIOD TO BE USED

Work time will be computed on a 44 hour week, 30-day month basis rather than on a 190 hour month basis as previously used, C.M. Busselle, fiscal officer announced.

The 30 day month computation will apply to months of 28 and 31 day months as well. This change in procedure is covered by Administrative instruction No. 10. Revised, issued by the Washington office.

Fukuyama stated that after weeks of consultation with proper bodies the Merit Board devised a system for rating workers. A rating committee for each division composed of supervisors and workers tabulate the various characteristics of the individual worker. The board has found this method very satisfactory.

The functioning body of the Merit Board is composed of Shigoichi Kubo, Senior Administrative Officer, John Fukuyama, Executive Secretariat and Kiyo Aiura, Secretary. On the councilatory staff are Joe Hayes, Harry Mayeda, Frank Fagan, Ted Nakamura, Shigeuchi Kubo and John Fukuyama.

LONG-BELL JOBS MAY BE POSSIBLE

There is a possible job offer for former employees of Long-Bell Lumber Company, Longview, Wash. Those who are interested please see Tom Uyeno at the Placement Office and apply for leave clearance immediately.

BORN: To William and Michiko Maebari, #5414-A, a boy on Jan. 13 at 8:12p.m.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

PROBLEM IS WORLD-WIDE IN WAR, NEED CLOSER TIES WITH SCHOOL

In New York City today Mayor LaGuardia seems to be in a hot spot with school authorities and various welfare organizations hopping all over his mayoralty office demanding that His Honor does something about the "sudden outburst" of juvenile delinquency.

The situation as it exists in New York City may not be so serious as it is implied in news reports emanating from our eastern metropolis. But it seems certain that the war and all it does to human psychology -- especially to our plastic youths -- has greatly increased the problems of juvenile conduct all over the country, and all over the world.

So, it is not peculiar or particularly disconsoling to find a number of cases of juvenile delinquency among our young evacuees in Tule Lake. We must attack this problem scientifically and with warm human understanding.

The City Council and the Planning Board are on the right road, we believe, when they made several proposals to combat juvenile problems here this week. The one in particular was their strong recommendation to form a group patterned after the Parents-Teachers Association.

We are grateful for the fine work our teachers are doing for our youngsters. But, that is not enough! We, as parents of these children, must evince our deep interest in their welfare and see that they will be well prepared, mentally and emotionally, to meet the world on their two feet as world citizens when the war is over.

We must instill in them the moral sense of human decency, duty, and responsibility. They need our sympathetic understanding and guidance. It is our duty as parents to show the way of the world.

LIFE

is an interesting proposition these days because of its challenge.

We've watched our youthful friends go out into the outside world. Some of them as students, some as soldiers for Democracy and some for private employment. They were all on the threshold of a new and great experience.

All of us have been torn from our snug, complacent nisei worlds. To be frank, we, for one, were getting tired of it all...the endless cycle of sameness...dances, conferences, business, drinking sessions. It was degrading and driving us into a rut we could not fight out of.

Then came the war.

Then confinement.

Now we hate the monotony and dullness of camp life.

The outside and our future is an unknown element. Maybe, many of us will fall by the wayside. But at least it presents a challenge. It will either bring out the best or worst in us.

Like this Country our future is worth fighting for.

Yes, our future in a greater and a more Democratic America.

We

bounced down to the Hi school campus today. The kids were making their campaign speeches for student body offices. We saw Eddie Yoshikawa waiting his turn to speak; Paul Ohmura said his little ditty and walked off; who was that gal streaking off the rostrum...her face flushed with excitement and proud as all get out? ...None other than Nobie Kodama, running again for the top slot in the Hi school paper.

Incidentally, we spent an enjoyable evening at Miss Smoyer's home last week. She's the Journalism teacher down at the high school and is more than charming.

Stars slated to meet the once-beaten Wakabas, and the league leading Miks pitted against the Clippers.

It will be sink or swim for the Placer five from now on and a defeat would practically cinch things for the classy Mikados.

All-Stars have the Tacoma Bussei team to handle on Saturday, but their game with the Waks will be their first stiff test this season. A victory would bring about another big game when they meet the Miks in the final game.

Going on season records, the Miks should have little trouble with the Clippers. But since the Clipper squad is mainly composed of ex-Wakaba players, no love will be lost by the two squads when they meet, and a hard fought game can be expected.

BIG IND. CONTEST

One of the three unbeaten Industrial League teams is bound to be eliminated when the high-flying Poster quintet meets the steady Timekeepers this Sunday.

Both squads have five wins and no set-backs to date in league play.

In a game which promises to be the beginning of a strong rivalry, the Electricians will tangle with the Warehouse on Sunday morning. Not much league honor is at stake but a $10 feed is in store for the Electrical men if they win.
