BASE HOSPITAL FACING ACUTE SHORTAGE OF NURSES AIDES

With skyrocketing increase in the number of patients and the definite decrease in the number of nurses on the Base Hospital staff due to resettlement, the local hospital is facing an acute shortage of nurses aides, it was revealed today by City Council officials.

Dr. Hashiba of the hospital staff contacted Noboru Shirai, executive secretary of the council requesting the council's cooperation in securing about 50 nurses aides from the colonists.

The appeal was made jointly by the City Council and the City Planning Board to the young girls, between the ages of 19 and 21 or thereabouts, to apply for this position in the hospital immediately.

In the meantime, the city fathers in turn are asking the cooperation of block managers to contact prospective applicants and recommend one resident from each block to meet this acute situation.

"We have lost so many nurses recently that we are now unable to give even minor operations," Dr. Hashiba was quoted as having told the council secretary.

"For the welfare of our Colony health, and to give aid and comfort to our sick in need of attention," Shirai said, "I sincerely hope our young girls will come out and apply for this worthy job."

Applicants will be given a thorough training in nursing. Her health, too, will be jealously protected.

FARM PROPERTY SUPERVISORS HERE TO ASSIST COLONISTS

In line with the policy of service to colonists, recently inaugurated by the Evacuee Property division, Edward M. Joyce, evacuee property supervisor, and Earl De Smidt, assistant supervisor from the Seattle District Office, have arrived on the Project

The show, slated for Saturday evening for Wards III and IV have been cancelled, it was announced.

nerously on the floor of the butcher shop to soak up blood dripping from carcasses hung on racks and from the chopping tables. Saw dust and papers are changed each day.

Knives, cleavers, meat saw, grinders and all other tools used in the warehouse are kept constantly clean, and free from grease and dirt. At regular intervals, the tools are disinfected.

Windows are screened against flies but the door is not screened as yet. This will not be necessary until summer, it was pointed out.

112 REGISTER FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE HERE

Some 112 eighteen-year-olds have complied for the fourth selective service act, Attorney Henry Taketa of the legal dept., announced yesterday.

This number is altogether too small, said Taketa and there are considerably more who should register at once. He warned that delinquents will be subject to severe penalty under federal selective service laws.

The registration affects boys who were born on or after Nov. 1, and not after Dec. 31, 1924.

DIETICIANS WANTED FOR MESS 9 KITCHEN

Dr. Pedicord, chief medical officer, has made a call for two assistant dieticians for Mess 9. Applicants should contact the placement office immediately, if interested.

Property problems of this office have, according to Joyce, increased considerably during the past few weeks.

"We have been quite successful in effecting settlements on the basis of the original agreement entered into by the colonists and the operators (Cont'd on Page 3, Col. 2)

STAFF INVITED TO LITTLE THEATER

Caucasian members of the Colony and their friends have been invited to attend a special performance of the Little Theater's three one-act plays on Jan. 27.

Tickets are available at #1808.

MOTHER SPEAKS

LAMENTS OVER LACK OF INTEREST SHOWN IN TOTS

The recent focus on juvenile delinquency brings a few thoughts to my mind, that I wish to jot down.

It is well and good to reprimand youthful culprits by punishment, but has anything been done about providing adequate recreational facilities for all children? What about the rest of the thousands of children here who someday will be going through the same ages as these youthful offenders?

Is it not just as important to give them adequate play equipment so that they will grow up to be normal children? I am not saying that giving them play equipment will prevent delinquency. Depriving them, however, and leaving them to eke out any form of play the best that they can certainly can lead them into the wrong paths.

IN WASH ROOMS

Some children play in wash rooms, or the boiler rooms until the janitor shoos them out, simply because the recreation halls are closed to them. What are they to do in rainy weather?

Are the recreation halls here for adults only? I see very few halls accessible to children and youths. Some that are open are monopolized by older men who play "go" and "shogi" who chase the children out for making too much noise.

I understand that eventually, recreation halls for children accessible to every block will be provided. When this will take place, no one seems to know.

RAPS ADULTS

Are recreational facilities here for adults only? From my personal observations, it seems that way. It seems to me, facilities for adults have been taken care of, far in excess to those for children.

Adult education is a splendid thing, but, is it so important that we must have it so, at the expense of our children?

Are not our children important?

Are they not the future citizens?

Is not this present phase of their lives, the formative years, the most important of their lives?

FOR KIDDIES

Children need play equipment. To spend their play hours in the correct way is just as important as going to school. Yet, I see very little of any play ground equipment. Older boys and girls may join clubs turn out for sports, (the supplies for which, I understand are inadequate for all the children in camp), but I can see nothing for the little youngsters.

What we need is playground equipment, such as swings, sandboxes, rings, bars and etc.

If funds are limited, why can't the adults sacrifice some of their pleasures that their children might have properly directed play?

CLUB LIKE THIS IS ENCOURAGED

Boys of grammar school age have organized a club in Block #45. They proudly call themselves the 45 "Lightnings". Various supervised activities have been lined up to keep the youth engrossed in worth while projects.

Officers elected at a recent meeting were Bob Kozaike, president; Ben Yamane, vice-president; Ed Miyamoto, secretary; and Taku Nimura, song leader. Headquarters are in the block office with Block Manager Shig Yamane acting as advisor.

ROMANCE....

BLOSSOMS OUT AFTER DAYS OF WAITING

A former Tule Lake girl played an important part in a romance which received nation-wide publicity through the least wires of the Associated Press recently.

Yaeko Nakamura, an ex-resident of this Project and formerly of Tacoma, Wash., was married last Wednesday to Sergeant Shig Nishimura of the U. S. Army, near Columbus, Ohio. But it took a lot of waiting, the story related.

The couple first met in Tacoma where Nishimura was inducted into the Army early in 1941. A year later, the Sergeant was transferred to Fort Hayes and Miss Nakamura was removed subsequently to the Tule Lake Project with her family. Things looked pretty dark for the two.

But by constant effort, Nishimura finally won permission of two service commands, the FBI, and a Relocation board regional director for his beloved to be with him, the AP story disclosed. They were married by an Army chaplain.

Miss Nakamura, is a young sister of Ted Nakamura, prominent JACL leader and resident of this Project.

DON'T SPEND LIKE A FOOL!

"WOLF" BARED IN MAGAZINE

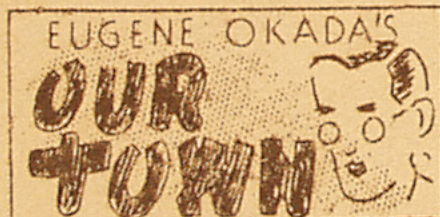

"An Expose' of a Wolf" or "What every Girl Between 12 to 60 Should Know" by Prof. Iroh Otoko is the much awaited article to be featured in the February issue of the Dispatch Magazine.

Art Morimitsu's short story, "The Barber's Wife", will be reprinted from Matrix, a literary magazine published in Philadelphia. Magazine Editor "Jobo" Nakamura will have a few laughable cartoons in the humor studded issue to be released Feb. 1.

Deadline for the March edition is Feb. 10.

DAIRY WORK IN WISCONSIN REC'D

Several dairymen and livestock men for work in Greenbay, Wisconsin, are wanted, a telegram to the Placement Office said. One family is wanted immediately. Interested persons may apply at the Placement Office for full details.

Public dance

...finally came down to camp level last Saturday. It reminded us of the dances that used to be held when we first came here. Those were the days when admission was 10¢, no decorations were had, refreshments were sold (with much loss), and one was able to go from one hall to the other.

Over at #720 the jitterbugs had the situation well in hand, swinging to the tunes of Woodrow Ichihashi's "Jivesters". And at #1620 the "Stardusters" really got hep but the dancers here were more conservative and unresponsive. Perhaps the slippery floor had something to do with it, but it seems that the crowd on that end are generally a bit backward.

FARM SUPERVISORS COOPERATE WITH LEGAL DEPARTMENT HERE

A number of checks in varying amounts representing accounts that were considered lost have been collected for distribution to colonists at this time.

While on the Project, Joyce and De Smidt will work in cooperation with the office of the Project Attorney. All colonists with property problems are entitled to avail themselves of the assistance of the Seattle supervisors. The interested persons are advised to see them as soon as possible.

Particular emphasis is placed on the matter of farm equipment, now in private storage. Since expensive farm equipment is subject to normal deterioration and, in many cases, to theft and misuse, damage or losses of this nature is a matter of great importance to colonists. Much equipment has been sold by colonists through the Evacuee Property division. Although a ceiling has been placed on used tractors and other types of equipment, the great demand for farm machinery still allows prices that are considerably higher than they were prior to evacuation.

Joyce and De Smidt will be glad to discuss these points in detail with colonists at the Legal department in the Administration building.

KANEKO NAMED CYF LEADER

Hiroshi Kaneko was elected president for the CYF at a election held last Sunday, Henry Omachi, chairman of the nomination committee disclosed today.

Helen Nitta was voted to be the new vice-president. For the secretarial position, a deadlock resulted between Sumi Hagi and Clara Sasaki, with a revote scheduled.

The new treasurer will be Bryan Mayeda, while Perry Saito will be the worship chairman. Tak Matsui will fill the music chairman role and Roy Kaneko, the social chairman spot in the new cabinet. Publicity will be handled by Ken Hayashi.

JOBS FOR SAWMILL WORKERS OFFERED

Former sawmill workers who are interested in securing work outside the Project may contact Fred Matsunaga at the motor pool.

PLANS MADE TO FORM ATHLETIC ASSN. HERE

INTERESTED TEAMS OR INDIVIDUALS URGED TO SIGN UP AT ONCE AT 1808

Plans to form an athletic association here were approved by interested persons who attended a meeting at the Recreation Center on Wednesday evening, and it was decided to get as many teams or individuals who were in favor of the idea to sign up as soon as possible at #1808.

Although the aims of the association were not definitely decided, the general view seemed to be to have the group sponsor all of the various sports and to do what they could toward raising funds and equipment to be used by the people in this city.

As it was pointed out by one of the persons attending the initial meeting, the whole sports program at the present time is being sponsored by the W. R. A. But as everyone knows little success has been attained by the Rec Sports Dept. in getting the necessary equipment or help to carry on as it should be done. The only thing that has made any sport possible so far has been that the teams bought their own equipment.

With the forming of the Association, the Rec staff would have the facilities to do as they see fit without relying to much on the W.R.A., it was emphasized.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, Jan. 29 at #1808 and the deadline for signing up has been set for Thursday, Jan. 28.

Any team or individual is eligible to get into the association.

TOM HONDA SCORES AS M'SVILLE WINS

Marysville drubbed the Bears 65-14 last Saturday and squeezed by the Question Marks 28-24 on Sunday.

Tom Honda made 29 points against the Bears and 10 against the Marks to move up into the top five scorers in the Class A League.

BIG 'IF' BUT

ALL TITLES CAN BE DECIDED SUN.

Basketball leagues will try again to play on both Saturday and Sunday this week, but if it turns out like last week and the schedule will have to be extended another week.

If, and it's a big "if" all games are played, then the various league races will be pretty well straightened but because crucial games are on the slate.

All eyes will be on the Placer All-Stars in the Class A League to see if they can get by the Wakabas. If they do win, the "A" title won't be decided until the Placer-Mik game is played at the end of the season.

CLASS 'B' CLIMAX

Both the American and National Class B Leagues reach a climax Sunday with the two top unbeaten squads pitted against each other. The National finds the Mik Jrs. meeting the Damedas, while the top American game is the Zephyr vs. Termite contest.

Zippers will try to knock over the league leading Termites in the Junior League. If they succeed then a three way tie is possible, but if they fail it just about cinches things for the Termites.

INDUSTRIAL RACE

Probably only one undefeated team will remain in the Industrial League next week. Favored Poster five takes on the Pensioners and Timekeepers on Sat. and Sun., prospectively, and all three have a clean slate.
