

CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE NETS $631

SKATERS FALL IN SEWERAGE POND

Despite frequent admonishments, a number of skaters fell through the thin ice formed over the sewerage pond north of Block 34, sanitation corps revealed.

The corps warned that anything from typhoid to dysentery can be contracted by falling into the pond.

RECORD SALE IS $147 ON SECOND DAY

Final figures for the Christmas Seal Drive held last Dec. were released today by the Base Hospital. A total of $631.39 was collected including generous donation by the YBA and others.

During the 17-day sale which started on Dec. 7, a record sales was made on the second day when a total of $147 was taken in.

The sale was sponsored by the Triple O organization and the nurses' aides of the Base hospital through the help of the California Tuberculosis association.

A committee composed of orderlies, nurses, doctors and the accounting department is to be appointed for proper disbursement of the money for tuberculosis control on the Project.

RETURNING TO CENTER-HUYCKE

Spiking rumors that evacuees may not return to relocation centers once they are on the outside, Lorne Huycke, Leaves Officer, reiterated that those who leave the Project can return under certain conditions.

Outside evacuees desiring to reenter the Project must establish a need for returning. They can return in the event of serious illness to immediate relatives. Also, inability to get along with Caucasians in an area of relocation constitutes reason enough

JURY FINDS DEFENDANTS NOT GUILTY

In a day and half Judicial Commission hearing at #1308 held Tuesday and Wednesday, six defendants accused of disturbing the peace on Jan. 5 in Block 36 were cleared of the charge brought against them when the 12-men jury returned the verdict of "not guilty" after one-hour of deliberations.

The verdict was based on "insufficient and contradictory evidence" brought out by the complaining witnesses.

One defendant, however, was cautioned by the commission to "act more gentlemanlike" in the future.

The examiners were Walter Tsukamoto, Henry Taketa, and Tom Yego. Howard Imazeki acted as counsel for the defense. Mr. Nakata of the City Council executive staff was interpreter.

John D. Cook, project reports officer, will be the guest speaker of the Y.A.F. this Sunday from 7 p.m. at #1308.

He will relate some of his experiences as a foreign correspondent in France while working for the Chicago Tribune. The public is invited.

PLANNING BOARD ASSEMBLY IS SAT.

General assembly of the Planning Board will be held 1:30 p.m. Saturday at #1308. Project Director H. Coverley will be present at the meeting to discuss important matters.

LOREN HUYCKE

THREE METHODS OF RELOCATION

At an interview with the leave officer, Loren Huycke, told the Planning Board members three methods for evacuee relocation.

The first is to work for someone else, said Huycke. The second is to start a business of their own, and the third is to be supported by someone on the "outside".

The other alternative is to remain in the Project, Huycke asserted.

The leave officer dissuaded any prospective resettlers from opening businesses and investing capital in private concerns. Present circumstances do not permit satisfactory results in private business, he explained.

W.R.A. will not subsidize or finance any individuals in their relocation except the expense

Judge Mosebar of Modoc County will be at the Legal department 10 a.m. Saturday to take marriage applications and give nuptial services.

CURRENT SOCIAL TREND IS LAVISH--PLANNING BOARD

The growing tendency toward extravagance in the social life of the Colony has been brought to the attention of the Planning Board, Kazuma Yoshida, executive-secretary of the Board, disclosed.

Yoshida specifically mentioned weddings, funeral and dances. "Taking into consideration the present standards of income, the Planning Board recommends that tea and cake or other similar light refreshments be the extent of 'the wedding feast' and that 'chipping in' on the part of guests be limited to 25 cents," Yoshida said. "This sum should suffice for funerals and births."

He pointed out that funerals should, as well, be unpretentious.

"Most people are of the opinion that expensive and elaborate manifestation alone do not express sincerity of the human heart whether it be in celebration or in mourning," said Yoshida.

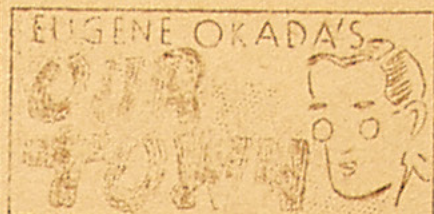

CO-OP CLASSES TO BE STARTED

Our Kats,

...an airplane enthusiast, recently received his model airplane outfit via mail order. A Curtiss Wright navy fighter, it was supposed to be an exact model, complete in every detail. Katsuro, highly elated, carefully examined each piece with his delicate, artistic, and nimble fingers like an expert.

"Yow! Sabotage! Ha, ha, ha! Wow! Hey, you guys, look at this stuff here manzo!" (The last word is a pet term of one K.H. adopted by his prodigy, Kats.) Startled, all eyes in the Dispatch office turned towards him with curiosity. Lo and behold, stuck on the "motor" of the "Curtiss Navy Fighter" was a tiny label with the following words printed on it: "Made in Japan". Ironic, huh?

Dick Reeder's,

...fancy men's clothes from Klamath Falls, came to town recently for the third time and attracted a huge crowd of Tule Lake youths. In order to see what the best dressed men would wear and to see what was offered, we went down to canteen #5 and after half an hour of shoving and squirming out in the cold snow we finally got in.

Merchandise displayed appealed largely to the so-called "zoot-suiters", most of the apparel being what one would call "sharp". However it wasn't as sharp as what they used to bring before in their trucks. Oh, yes girls, don't be surprised if you see an epidemic of flashy bow ties at the coming dances. These colorful ties were sold out in no time. Also popular were the slacks, shoes, suit and coat counters. We were somewhat taken aback at the prices quoted (socks 50¢ & $1.00 a pair, sport coat $20, slacks at $10 up, etc.). This war sure must be plenty tough on those outside.

RESETTLER RELATES EXPERIENCES IN WINDY CITY AFTER 11 DAYS

Living in Chicago just 11 days, and sight-seeing around a few times, I am writing notes about personalities met here and there. The first American evacuee I met here was Ruth Yoshimoto of Seattle, now attending Northwestern University. Her sister, Aya, is working for the government and came from Seattle a few months ago. Met Mike Sato, native Chicagoan, who works in the defense factory and former stage dancer and owns a limousine. The above mentioned persons and I attended a dance Saturday given by the Chicago girls for the Japanese American soldiers.

At a Sunday reception tea given by the Bethany Biblical Seminary, Yoko Dakuzaku of Oakland, Ted Shigeno of Tule Lake and I attended the affair given in honor of 13 nisei from Manzanar, the first contingent to arrive under the new W.R.A. regulations. They are now temporarily residing at the Seminary until jobs are found for them. Jobs are easily available here.

There is a fellow by the name of Keiji Okada from Manzanar whom I have not yet met, but will be speaking at Northwestern University Sunday. Ruth Yoshimoto and I are supposed to assist the speaker and answer questions about the camp. Later Dr. Busham head of the seminary division there asked us to have dinner at his home. This will be my fourth experience of this sort, so fellow Tuleans, come fully equipped with your camp knowledge! --Eureka Satou

ELBERSON FORMER SUPERVISOR OF CIVIC GROUP IS HONORED

Don Elbarson, former supervisor of civic organizations, was honored with a party Wednesday night in #3020 by the block managers of the Project.

Elbarson, who took care of the immediate and vital needs of the colonists since the inception of the Project, was recently appointed the chief of consumer enterprises.

The block managers presented an "appreciation gift" to their departing chief. Also honored was Harry Mayeda, president of the City Council.

Attending the party with Elbarson were his wife and Paul "Pop" Fleming, head of the community services department.

Ted Nakamura and Ben Oshima were chairmen. About 200 persons were present.

VISITING WILL BE DISCOURAGED

for coming back to the project.

However, in the latter case, the WRA officials will make every attempt to provide a solution for the difficulty on the outside, rather than send them back. Perhaps, a new job or a more satisfactory community would be sought.

It was announced that visiting by outside evacuees would be prohibited inasmuch as this project is in a restricted zone.

"If one returns to this project for any other reason than the above specified, they must expect to stay here indefinitely," Huycke revealed.

RETRACTION

CORRECTION: Records of the first judicial commission hearing held last week revealed no discussions of the "complicated amorous relationship" of either the defendant or the complainant as it was suggested in THE DISPATCH report of the trial in its Jan. 25 issue.

ses involved in communication with the Washington office and clerical works.

Reports from those who were relocated "has been good as a whole," said Huycke. However, some girls going out on domestic jobs with little sense of responsibility have caused unfavorable sentiments, he said. Usually employers go through great deal of trouble and waiting to arrange for domestic helps, and some of the girls have quit jobs without putting in any appreciable amount of work.

Housing problems are prevalent everywhere and this is especially true for Japanese, Huycke said. Arrangements for housing should be made before departure from the Project.

Elmer L. Shurrell, former project director here, is supervising a number of W.R.A. employment agencies in the midwest for prospective resettlers. His headquarters is in Chicago.

If the unfavorable playing conditions keep up like it has been doing for the past few weeks, there's a possibility that interest in outdoor basketball may fall off, if it hasn't already, with the result that many forfeited games would come up.

Thus far the casaba campaign has been successful in that the weather has been good until lately, the protest games have been few and far between, and everyone seems to have had the urge to play.

IT'S NO FUN

One thing that's certain is the fact that it's no fun to play on a wet court, let alone playing outdoors, especially when it's so unsure when the next games can be played.

So, it wouldn't surprise us any to see the end of outdoor basketball without having played all of the scheduled games, unless a "break" comes this way soon.

Of course the championship bound fives will play somehow probably, but it's asking a little too much of other teams to play for the fun of it on a muddy court.

BL. 38 DEFEATS 28 AGAIN, 18-14

Block 38 made their hold on the Ward Central League title decisive with an 18-14 victory this week.

#38'ers" coached by Terry Watanabe, went into an early lead and at the half led by a comfortable 11-4 margin.

In the second half, led by Butch Nagasawa and W. Sasaki, Block 28 came within 4 points of overtaking the winners but the time ran out.

Sam Tsuchida, Block 38 newcomer, swished in 7 points to cop scoring honors.

In the American League, Mickey Fukui was high with 15 markers in three contests.

Teruya Ogata, Block 23, was second in the American with 14.

MAYEDA HITS IND. LIMIT

Mike Mayeda, Artiste center, finally moved into the top spot in the Industrial scoring as he had threatened to do for some time.

With the limit in the Industrial League set at 15 points per game per player, Mayeda has hit 16 points each in 4 games, and 15 in another game, for a total of 79 markers in five contests.

Artiste guard, Terry Watanabe, was up in second place this week with 65 counters.

If no limit had been set on the players, without a doubt the Industrial League scorers would be the highest of any league.

28 once before in what was believed to have been the final game, but the Block 28 five protested the contest because of an ineligible player.

The protest was upheld and 28 could have taken the game but an agreement was made by the two teams to play it over.

As soon as possible the four ward leagues champions will begin the play-offs for the city championship.

A trophy will be awarded the winner.
