AN EDITORIAL

FOR YOUR CHILDREN'S RIGHT.

HERE IS a persistent talk about preserving the citizenship status of the Japanese-Americans while we are relocated in a colony like this.

There is a greater persistency among opportunistic politicians outside to wrest that constitu-

We believe in the intelligent public opinion of the American people to take care of these ill-advised opportunists. Perhaps it is naive for us to think that way, but our faith in American sense of fair-play and good taste has not been shaken as yot.

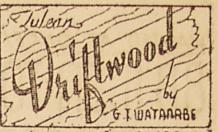

However, we must never lose a single opportunity on our part to preserve and protect this right to vote and everything that is implied in that right.

The case in point is our privilege to cast absentee ballots. War Relocation Authority in Tule Lake is offering its facilities to make applications for these ballots easier. Blanks may be obtained from the Legal Aid department at #1908.

We urge you to avail yourself of this opportunity today so that you will be doing your bit to protect the constitutional right of the Japanese-Americans. It is your duty—a duty you owe to yourself and to your children who wish to live in an America untainted with racial prejudice.

Since then, the Royal Hawaiians have appeared at the Bussel Festival and the Rotarian dinner. At each engagement, the Island boys stopped the show.

Maestro Tak Ota is rated one of the best steel guitar men in the business. During the last decade, Ota has played with numerous orchestras on the Pacific Coast. His most recent engagement was at the Vagaband night club in Los Angales.

Joe Fujioka is an accomplished planist and was a member of Seattleite Koichi Hayashi's allnisei swing bend on their California tour last year.

Five of the seven hail from the Islands. Two Royal Hawaiians, Mickey Tanaka and Fumi Sugimura, call Sacramento their homes.

Ota's crew is a smoothworking aggregation, equally at home with the "sweet" or the "hot". They have the juke boxes beat a mile, dance lovers claim.

Tuleans are looking forward to hearing more of the Royal Hawaiians' soothing music. They know a good thing when they hear it.
