There is no ban on dried fish or dead chicken.

DR. MARVIN OPLER TO HEAD

Program For Community Study

For the past week, a newcomer to Tule Lake has busied himself meeting and getting acquainted with both residents and appointed staff. His name is Dr. Marvin Opler and he explains his purpose as setting up a new program for community study.

"Actually," says Dr. Opler, "the emphasis is on the word n e w. I have little doubt that people within this community have thought about its problems seriously and intelligently. I feel, rather humbly, that many have already made keen analysis of the human and social equation at Tule Lake. What this

SERVICEMEN'S HOP CANCELLED

WILL JOIN HUSBANDS IN FAMILY INTERNMENT CAMP

Seven families from Tule Lake Project left yesterday to join their husbands in the family internment camp at Crystal City, Texas. They are: Mrs. Furumoto, 3002-D; Mrs. Ishizuka, 2501-A; Mrs. Morioka, 4411-D; Mrs. Oshima, 3804-B; Mrs. Sakamoto, 44-12-D; Mrs. Taketa, 2902-A; and Mrs. Yamamoto, 4406-E.

According to Robert A. McDaniels from the Border Patrol of Immigration and Naturalization Service who escorted the group from Tule Lake, there is not enough space for other families unless additional accommodations are made for them. He was unable to say when this would be possible.

Crystal City is located approximately 120 miles southwest of San Antonio, Texas. The weather is reported to be mild except for the excessive heat during the summer months. Buildings are made in individual family units of duplex, triplex, or quadruple types with wood or gypsum board sidings and partitions, concrete floors and with electric lights installed. Each housing unit has a kitchen sink with cold running water, an oil stove with oven for cooking, heating, essential cooking utensils and dishes. Each building has one toilet and lavatory. Even essential i-project means, however, is that the W.R.A. on a national scale is inviting a group of residents at each project center to study their own community and to come to grips with the problems inherent in relocation and re-settlement".

To further this purpose, Dr. Opler explains he will set up shop at 801-

A with a staff representative of as many age-groupings, social groupings, and interests as possible. The project is obviously for the benefit of the community and is intended to represent it as well as humanly possible.

All colonists contemplating group or indefinite leaves are reminded to have their identification pictures taken at the Leave building immediately.

These pictures are taken free of charge. All persons leaving the Project for work on the outside must have an identification card. It requires almost a week to take, print and mount the photos.

*Editorial PageOUR CONDUCT ON THE OUTSIDE

The rate of relocation has been greatly accelerated. More and more Japanese-Americans are finding a place for themselves in the American society. The great majority of these people are out to make an honest living and to prove their worth as American citizens.

In the Middle West and Eastern States the evacuees of Japanese ancestry have proven their loyalty and trust and have won a place for themselves in the Caucasian society. They have proved, under adverse circumstances, that they think and speak American in communities where Japanese faces are something new.

But trickling out along with these earnest evacuees have been not too few zoot suit boys and the so-called "yogores". Their conduct has proven to be detrimental to the welfare of the Japanese-Americans as a whole. These boys tend to stay in a gang, thereby making themselves very conspicuous. Not only are they prominent in appearance but more so in their actions. Perhaps they believe that they are Americanized in their manners and in the way they dress. It is high time that someone educated them to the real meaning of the word Americanism. And it is about time that these nisei buckled down and shouldered their share of responsibilities.

Let us bear in mind that each of us are ambassadors for the rest of the Japanese-Americans. Bear in mind that every good deed done reflects upon the nisei as a whole. BUT also remember that ONE WRONG can undo all the good that has been established. A right can never right a wrong.

There are many Caucasians who still have strong faith in the Japanese-Americans. Each time the newspapers carry an unfavorable report of the nisei they are faced with comments such as "Once a Jap always a Jap", "You just can't trust them", "I told you so", etc. These Caucasians cannot make a come back as long as there are a few nisei who are irresponsible. Every bit of help counts. By letting them down we are actually letting ourselves down.

LOYAL TO AMERICA

(Excerpts from an editorial published in the Canton Repository, Ohio)

The relocation program for loyal Japanese who want to contribute to the war effort outline by war relocation board is a challenge to that American way of life we talk about so much.

Our population and our fighting forces contain representatives of every nationality, all bound together by common devotion to freedom.

The Japanese have presented a special problem because of the color difference that makes them conspicuous. There is no more reason for holding all Japanese in internment camps than there is for holding other minorities. Indeed, when the Japanese so held are native-born citizens of the United States, there is every reason to give them a chance to prove their loyalty.

Their relocation in areas where they might be useful is an experiment, and it shouldn't be allowed to fail. If it succeeds, it will be proof beyond dispute that in America there is only one test of an individual's worth--the test of his loyalty to American principles. No nationality or race is excluded arbitrarily from participation in the American way of life.

CASTLEROCK HILL

Thursday last, the first anniversary of Tule Lake was celebrated. Much was made of Newell's first born and Frank G. Smith's pipe tobacco but not a word was devoted to Castlerock Hill with whom we have enjoyed a year's acquaintance. This utter lack of appreciation, or perhaps it was oversight, should be roundly admonished. Reparations shall be made posthaste.

When the evacuees first sought refuge in this reclaimed lake bottom, Castlerock was just "those peculiarly shaped hills to the west of the colony." (Information Bulletin of May 28, 1942) today she is a Tule Lake institution, as much a part of our life as the tarpaper-covered barnacks, or the "Warm Morning" Army stoves squatting in Tule Lake living rooms.

MANY MEMORIES

She's a friendly hill, not as majestic nor as breath-takingly beautiful as Shasta; but also not as detached, reserved, and inaccessible. At times Castlerock becomes exciting and even dramatic especially as the shadows cast by the sinking sun reveal voluptuous curves, unsuspected in bright daylight.

After all this is over, many Tuleans will cherish happy memories of tobogganing down her snow-covered sides, climbing and picnicking on her grass-cushioned slopes, painting her subtle beauty, and discovering the shy inhabitants of her inclines and her cliffs---the pheasants, owls, swallows; gophers, lizards, snakes, beetles, etc.

There is something we could do to express our fervent love for her. Picnic refuse certainly cuts down on her appearance and sex appeal. And before the coming of the Japs, "she wasn't" nearly as sloppy".

Plans are being made to open a grammar and high school from the fall term with most of the instructors selected from among the internees. Libraries will also be opened.

Much of the set-up will be in similar lines with our relocation centers, such as provisions for canteens, operated by internees; hospital and dental facilities; recreational program, and also a city council will be composed of representatives elected from among the internees.

RESIDENTS MAY AID IN COMMUNITY ANALYSIS PLAN

 national W.R.A. wishes to promote better understanding of the problems facing both the people of the centers and the appointed staffs.

The program of community analysis at Tule Lake will be just that, "We are genuinely interested their wives and children will occupy this camp with each group permitted to have their own facilities, except for certain major facilities such as hospital, store, auditorium, and main laundry.

It is reported that citizenship will not be affected by voluntary internment. Transfers from a war relocation center to the internment camp will only be approved after careful investigation has shown that transfer of a family will be in the best interests of all members thereof and of the Government.

in the problems, the interests, the desires and hopes and fears of the people here," declared Dr. Opler, "and anyone who can help me and my resident staff understand these things better will be a welcome visitor at 801-A."

Hitherto, it must be admitted, W.R.A. has been constrained to make decisions and adopt policies frequently without real knowledge, sometimes without speaking acquaintance with, the situation in each center. Happily, those days are coming to a close.

"We are now turning over a new leaf, so to speak," Opler said, "and honestly insisting that policies and decisions based on ignorance may be futile and mistaken.

"More than that, we hope to avoid unhappy results and future misunderstandings. If we understand our history to date and can discover just exactly where we stand now, I think we can accomplish that end. Our motto, if we needed one, might well be: Know the truth, and the truth will set you free!"

To Present Co-op Show At Hospital

Co-op Nite, which made its weekly one night stand at each of the seven wards during the past seven weeks will present its final program in this series this coming Friday night at the Base Hospital at 7:00 p.m. for the benefit of the hospital patients who are able to attend.

An attractive entertainment program is being arranged, together with able speakers. There will also be doorprizes.

The complete series has been under the sponsorship of the Co-op Educational Dept.

ONCE UPON A TIME...

...Just before the "registration" days, plans for forming an Athletic Assn. were started with one of the purposes to be to enable the residents to buy athletic equipment at a saving by buying supplies in big lots.

Even then interest in the organization was small and now it appears almost impossible to begin any such club, but the need of some way for the competitors to be able to buy equipment at a cost below the list price is certainly needed. IT IS ABSOLUTELY...

...senseless for a place such as this, having some 100 softball teams and an unknown number of hardball teams, to have to purchase equipment at a high price. Each one of these teams should be able to buy supplies at a reduction.

HOW THIS IS...

...to be done is a big problem. The Recreation Dept. can not undertake such a project because of the lack of finances.

A solution could possibly be for the various teams in each ward to pool their money together and then order equipment from an athletic dealer who would make the best offer.

ANOTHER POSSIBLE...

...way could be to make arrangements through the Co-op but regardless of how it is done, it would be a tremendous saving in the long run.

The way it is now, the mail order houses get much of the business while the remainder buys at the canteens.

WHICH ISN'T BAD...

...but it isn't good either.

Anyway, this is a good spot for someone to step in to do the city residents some good.

With a little cooperation, there's no reason why some sort of plan should not be put into effect.
