LAST-MINUTE GIFTS CAUSE OVERBURDEN OF LUGGAGE

Colonists leaving the project on indefinite leave are frequently overburdened with luggage, especially when well-wishing friends load them up with parting gifts. The traveler is unprepared to handle these incidental packages and can not, with good grace, refuse to accept them.

It is suggested that those who have gifts for departing friends should deliver them the night before their departure so that they may be packed in suit cases rather than be carried loosely in their arms.

Suddenly overburdened with numerous small packages, some

Mr. Charles F. Ernst, director of the Central Utah Relocation Project, is respected by residents of Topaz for his fairness and insistence on justice at all times.

Tule Lake residents who are planning on transferring to Topaz will find him always ready to discuss any subjects which concern a resident of this center with a fair and open mind.

He has enjoyed many! years of private business and social work and is thoroughly informed on the problems which face so many people during these war times.

was first a volunteer in social settlement work in his student days in Boston back in 1907, where he met Mrs. Ernst, a lovely and charming woand together they have been actively engaged in the general field of social service since that

In 1927 the Ernst family moved to the Pacific Northwest, where Mr. Ernst engaged in business in Seattle. Here their two sons grew up, one of them, Charles, now being aboard ship as a naval reserve officer and the other, David, having just completed his post-graduate work at the Fletcher Sahool of Law and Riplomacy in Medford, Mass.

For eight years Mr. Ernst was the director of the Social Security Dopartment for the state of Washington. Then in 1940 ', he joined the staff of Amarican Public Welfare Association in Chicago, of which he had been the president for two years.

In 1941 he joined the American Red Cross in Washington, D.C., as liaison for the National Office of the Red Cross to the Office of Civilian Defense under Mayor La-Guardia and Dean Lands and to the Office of Defense Health and Welfare under Governor Paul Mo-Nutt.

Pvt. Richard I. Yahiro worked for the comedian four and a half years before the evacuation of persons of Japanese ancestry from the Pacific Coast forced him out of the Beverly Hills mansion. Twelve months afterward he volunteered for the Combat Team

TENT FACTORY NEARLY COMPLETE

The tent factory which is situated at the southern extremity of the Project will be completed next week.

The roofing, siding and the installation of windows have been practically finished. All the doors are now in the making and they are expected to be hinged early next week. Aside from this, only the finishing touches remain.

There is still controversy as to what this building will be used for, but the latest assertion is that it will be used either for a carpenter, plumbing or electrical shop, it was be-lieved by Mr. Y. Imura and Mr. H. Ikemoto, foremen in charge.

Ernst joined . the War Relocation Authority at San Francisco and was assigned the directorship of the Central Utah Project, where he arrived on September 1.

Mr. Ernst is an excellent speaker and frequently is called upon by the residents to appear at social functions.

His chief interest right now is in helping people of the center relocate under circumstances that will make them happy Born in Boston, he knows the East and Middle West and is able to assist many in making choices of locations for their future homes.

He enjoys gathering Indian artifacts and has made an interesting collection of arrowheads which he has picked up near the Project.

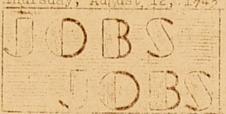

Pvt. Yahiro remembers the air-conditioning and luxury of Chaplin's showplace home, but, things being what they are he'd rather valet an anti-tank gun than lay out tweeds and monitor morning baths for a Hollywood mogul.

Born in Hawaii 36 years ago, Yahiro came to the mainland in 1925 to study at the University of Southern California. When his funds ran low, he dropped out of college and began a Jack-of-a 11 trades career which finally ended in his being the butler for the famed pantomimist.

Chaplin called his butler Dick and treated him almost as a member of the family. As an intimate of the household, Yahiro saw practically all of the famous personalities of the screen, relaxed and at ease in Chaplin's home. And most of them were regular fellows and girls, contrary to the popular view of Hollywoodians, according to Pvt. Yahiro.

As for Chaplin, Yahiro recalls, the great comedian was a serious-minded person in private life, generous and warm-hearted Instead of playing jokes Chaplin more often was the butt of pranksters who were among his frequent house guests.

As a master of pantomime, Chaplin frequently resorted to his droll gesticulations and artful expressions to express even the most ordinary of his thoughts or instructions to his valet. Sometimes Yahiro couldn't his mind on what keep. Chaplin was telling him as he watched the comedian silently enact what he wanted done. All in all, Pvt. Yahiro couldn't imagine a more diverting of the state of Illinois down to the steel mills of Gary, Indiana. There are many large and small cities in the metropolitan district; the train and bus service in this area is excellent, Miss Morcer explained.

CHICAGO AREA IN SMALL COMMUNITIES R MANY ADVANTAGES

Overshadowed by Chicago in the minds of many are the cities of Peoria, Rockford, and Milwaukee. These cities are also industrial and commercial in nature. The rural areas about Chicago, Peoria and Rockford are centers of diversified farming, much of the vegetable produce, grain and cattle reaching the Chicago murket.

The Chicago office has charge of the territory comprised by Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and eastern North Dekota. Indiana and Illinois have industrial and agricultural opportunities. Wisconsin is noted for its duiry products. Mines and grain fields are found in Minnesota. North Dakota, while onjoying some industrialization, is largely agricultural. A veritable sportsman's paradise are the hunting and fishing possibilities in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Life in a small community offers many advantages. In the rural districts year-round work is available, usually with modern housing, a garden plot, milk and a certain amount of meat provided all tenants. Though wages may be lower than those obtainable in the cities, living costs are considerably lower. Easier acquaintances with a greater variety of people are experienced in such a community; adjustment is more rapid and complete. The individual himself is largely responsible for the reception he receives.

In the larger cities schooling and cultural opportunities are plentiful; choice of jobs is greater. Since the large cities are populated by all races and nationalities, the Japanese need not feel conspicuous.

As a concluding note Miss Morcor commented, "I do believe that relocation is an answer to innumerable problems. All of you now have your greatest opportunity to relocate because there are many jobs available and because of the friendly atmosphere that provails throughout the midwestern communities. Since the communities are willing to help, there is no need to feel isolated. This is the chance to begin living a normal life -- to become a part of an American community."

PACKING SHEES GET CONCRETE FLOUR

The vegetable packing sheds located south of the project have just been floored with concrete.

Since vegetables have to be washed and propared for shipping in the sheds and since there was no nician, elevator and cold flooring of any kind pristorage operators. Sal- or to the concreting, aries from $12.50 and up this move was necessiper wk. and $122.50 per totad, declared Mr.Y. Kimo. Hourly wages from tauara, foreman in charge.
