WORK OF MAKING BOXES, PACKING, CRATING BEGINS

During the past week the making of boxes for segregants has been progressing at a rapid pace. Already 750 boxes have been made and the distribution will start today.

Since the packing and crating will begin in a few days, a night crew will be slated to work from tonight on. Electricians are now busily engaged in setting a lighting system up in the Tent Factory.

Mr. MacKeever's staff and crew are anticipating to handle 80,000 pieces of personal belongings. After realizing this, the segregants are urged to help with this huge program, so that their property will be packed and crated much faster.

If any segregant feels that he can crate his own furniture, lumber will be supplied at the Tent Factory and crating can be done at his home. In addition, Mr. MacKeever's staff will advise as to how it is to be done, if necessary.

EVACUEES MAY ENROLL IN CO-OP TRAINING SCHOOL

Co-op training school will again begin at the Central Cooperative Wholesale of Superior, Wisconsin, from September 27 to November 6 when the annual training school will be in session.

In spite of the war and the difficulties that arise in getting students, the school committee felt that there was even greater need for school this year than ever before, said C. R. Crews, director. Co-ops are retailers of staple goods, and as processors of foods must serve the people regardless of the war. So employees must be trained for the responsible jobs in our Co-ops," he explained. (Con't on Page 3)

JAPANESE-AMERICANS IN HAWAII

HARPER'S MAGAZINE CARRIES

STORY OF NISEI IN HAWAII

"Before the bar of public opinion stand a quarter of a million American citizens--citizens with yellow skin, dark almond eyes, and a loyalty that has been finally and publicly challenged. These descendants of Japan anxiously await the verdict of their fellow-Americans."

Cecil Hengy Coggins, Lieutenant commander in the Navy Medical Corps wrote the above personal observations based on his experiences in his article "Japanese-Americans in Hawaii" in the June issue of Harper's magazine.

He comments that through long years of peace, the loyalty of Japanese-Americans was often discussed by the melting pot population in the Islands. The conclusion reached was that their loyalty was a mysterious, and unfathomable quality destined to remain forever a subject of argument.

ILL-FEELING CREATED BY WAR

When war exploded in the face of the peaceful islanders, three hundred potentially dangerous Japanese were interned and feeling ran high against the Japanese. The air became full of stories of sabotage and espionage, and young Japanese-Americans discussed the wisdom of wearing badges and buying war bonds. They wondered if those acts would be interpreted in the wrong way.

Lieutenant General Delos Emmons who arrived in the confusion, reassured the Japanese population that they had nothing to fear, and two Japanese owned newspapers were allowed to resume publication.

However, the fine record set by the nisei of the 297th and 298th Battalions of the U. S. Army did not overrule the suspicion of the white residents, and so the soldiers dug miles of trenches and piled sandbags instead of carrying rifles. The Hawaii Territorial Guard nisei, more unfortunate than the battalions were inactivated. Yet all of them were determined to take part in active warfare.

SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM

The solution to the problem came from the Japanese population. The Civic Association, most influential of the societies in Hawaii drafted a petition asking the Military authorities to grant them the opportunity to fight for their country.

During this time the Intelligence Service re-examined the files of a hundred thousand individuals. They found that the records showed not a single act of sabotage committed and that many nisei had lost their lives at Pearl Harbor. One of the most important facts revealed that if the Japanese population, numbering one-third of the Islands' people should be evacuated, other residents would not be able to eat.

Then came Secretary of War Stimson's announcement of the formation of a nisei combat unit. Hawaiian nisei's response was overwhelming and received public approval. "It serves notice...that while we fight for human rights abroad, we do not intend to surrender them at home," the author declared.

In conclusion, Coggins aptly describes the feeling of the mainland and Hawaiian nisei by quoting in full "American Creed" written by Mike Masaoka now a private with the Combat Team in Camp Shelby, Mississippi.

CAMP SHELBY

SOLDIER BOASTS MILITARY RECORD OF MANY "FIRSTS"

CAMP SHELBY, MISS., Sept. 1, 1943.-Warrant Officer, Junior Grade, Thomas M. Kobayashi, whose promotion to Chief Warrant Officer of the Headquarters Staff of the Infantry Regiment of the 442nd Combat Team has just been announced, boasts a military record studded with firsts.

Mr. Kobayashi is understood to be the first master sergeant, the first post sergeant major, and the first warrant officer of Japanese ancestry in the Army in the present war. His latest appointment is another first, the first Nisei to be Chief Warrant Officer.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kobayashi of Phoenix, Arizona, Mr. Kobayashi is the assistant adjutant on the Regimental Headquarters Staff. He is a graduate of Pasadena College, Pasadena, California, where he was a star debater and public speaker as well as the editor of the college newspaper. He was a post-graduate student at the University of Southern California when he voluntarily enlisted in the Army in October, 1940.

His first post was with the field artillery at Fort Rosecrans, San Diego. He became a master sergeant in October, 1941, and served as post sergeant major at Camp Sibert, Boulder City, Nevada. He received his appointment as Warrant Officer, Junior Grade, while at Fort Riley, Kansas. He came to the Combat Team from Camp Crowder, Missouri, in May, 1943.

Last spring, the only warrant officers of Japanese ancestry in the United States Army were Kobayashis, Thomas M. and Gerald J., the first and second persons of Japanese blood to be so honored by the Army. They are not related, even remotely. Mr. Gerald J. Kobayashi is the assistant adjutant at the Military Intelligence School at Camp Savage, Minnesota.

Mr. Thomas M. Kobayashi has two brothers, Reverend William Kobayashi of Glendale, Arizona, and Joe Kobayashi, a farmer, of Idaho Falls, Idaho. His only sister, Fumi, is a civil service worker in Phoenix.

UNDER EXPERIMENT

"PYRETHRUM" A PLANT WITH MANY PURPOSES, GROWN HERE

A new plant called "pyrethrum" is now being grown for experimental purposes at the nursery farm.

This plant is a specie of chrysanthemum and it is used for spraying and dusting of vegetables and other plants. Before this plant can be used for spraying or dusting, the bulb must be dried and ground. When used, it acts as a non-injurious chemical and does not damage the plants or does not effect humans, not like arsenic and other chemicals which are poisonous.

Pyrethrum is also used in killing of lice on birds. By burning it in its regular form, mosquitoes, flies and other insects are stunned with the odor which is produced.

This plant was originally an Asiatic plant, grown intensively in Japan. Since the importation of these seeds has ceased, the Colorado Experimental Station has been growing thousands of acres of this plant. It was through them that the nursery farm received the pyrethrum seeds.

The complete nursery farm is under the supervision and management of the Technical Staff. Their main objective is to test the plants climatically.

OKOLE HOUSE TO TANGLE WEST SAC' TO TOMORROW

WINNER TO PLAY HILLMEN FOR TITLE

In the semi-final of the Major League Hardball title race, Okole House will tangle with West Sacramento at 2 p.m., tomorrow on field #1 and the winner of this meet will play on Sunday against the Hillmen for the city championship. These games are in conjunction with the Labor Day festival.

Okole House is somewhat the heavy favorite to take the measure of the West Sacramento. Seibo Fujii, former Seattle hurler, is expected to get the starting assignment while big George Mayeda will be on deck. Backstop work will be conducted by either Jack or Bob Hayashida. For West Sacramento, veteran Hank Nakatomi will probably toe the mound with Junie Tsujisaka behind the plate.

The Okole boys will have to keep their eyes on dangerous Johnny Kimoto, who collected a double, triple, and three walks in five trips to plate in last Sunday's game.

GAME SUNDAY

Winner of the Okole versus West Sacramento clash will crossbat with the Hillmen who stand as the most serious threat to the title.

Hillmen will rely on either George Goto or Johnny Horio for the pitching duty while Teruo Yoshimoto will put on the mask. Ralph and Sumio Horio will be counted on to lead the hitting attack.

The game Thursday was a tight pitchers battle for five innings between Matsuura of the Solons and Nitta of the Pirates.

In the opening frame, Hatamiya singled for the Pirates and Yokota followed with a round-tripper to give them a two run lead.

Solons countered with one run in the second on a walk, error, and a hit, and the score stood 2-1, with the Pirates leading up through the fifth.

Then in the sixth, three hits sent two scores across and pushed the Solons into the lead
