

"The mimeograph machine doesn't work!"

Thus, with our stencils cut and everything ready in preparation to issue our Saturday edition of "The Tulean Dispatch", the editor and staff had to suspend work at the last minute. After trying to repair the machine and cutting new stencils, the entire staff gave up hopes and with a deep regret---decided to put out an edition on Monday. Come Monday--minus mimeograph. Tuesday, a little late but---

Upon being interviewed, Mr. Fryer remarked on how well we are doing with so little equipment. He was pleased with the attitude of the colonists; their willingness to make the best of what they have.

NINE TEMPORARY COUNCILMEN ELECTED

"The Tulean (pronounced too-lee-an) Dispatch" was the prize-winning entry in a contest held recently by the newspaper department.

The name is a compromise between two entries "The Tulean" entered by Miyuki Inouye and "Dusty Dispatch", the name submitted by Jack Meyer.

The winners are requested to present themselves at the newspaper office to receive a box of chocolates.

According to Mr. Kendall Smith, all laundry and drycleaning will be accepted by the community store starting today.

Tule Lake will be spelled as two words. According to Acting Project Director, Mr. Shirrell, the town of Tulelake spells its name as one word, while the post office and railroad uses two words. The administration departments have officially adopted the two-word spelling of Tule Lake.

TO STUDENTS

According to Mr. Tom Bodine of the American Friends Service committee, plans to enroll college students in the various Mid-Western universities are now under way. His story to this reporter is that the War Relocation Authority invited the American Friends Service committee to set up an organization to work out a program whereby students of college ages may leave the relocation and assembly centers to go to colleges in the East and the Mid-West. The War Department has indicated approval of this plan.

A meeting was held in Chicago on Friday, May 29th at which time representatives of Universities, Y. W. and Y. M., National Church groups, student organizations, W.R.A., and U.S. Office of Education met and established the National Students' Relocation Council.

The Council is divided into two divisions, the Eastern and Western. The job of the Eastern division is to find universities and colleges which students may attend, to prepare the student body and the community for their infiltration, and to raise the necessary funds. These funds will be available to students in forms of transportation and scholarships, while additional tuition scholarships will be granted by the universities to those who are qualified. The Western division will send out questionnaires to all assembly and relocation centers and will send out interviewers to each camp. It is hoped that these questionnaires will be sent out by the end of this month. Each student will be examined individually by the Federal government and given an individual certification.

The Western division is composed of Bob O'Brien, Seattle; Joe Conard, San Francisco; and Marion Reith, U.S.C.

The work opportunities for those who want to work their way through school will be provided. The National Students' Relocation Council estimates that this plan will cover 2500 students composing of high school graduates, college students, and graduates.

Those students who are planning to attend summer schools and have the available funds for tuition, transportation, and living expenses, are asked to contact Mr. Shirroll for an immediate release from this center.
