FATHER FLANAGAN OF BOY'S TOWN MAKES 3 JOB OFFERS

Three offers for outside employment have been received by the Placement office from Father Flanagan of Boy's Town, Nebraska.

In his letter he stated that: "...I understand that many ...are rather fearful of going outside the camps, because of the fact that they might be embarrassed and might suffer too much inconvenience. All of the positions which I have to offer are with very fine people, who will appreciate the services of these American Japanese and will pay well for them..."

These positions included: a couple for domestic work, $25 a month with room and board; single girls going to high school or college, board, room, and some money for service in home; and gardeners, about $60 a month with room and board. He noted that 18 or 19 Japanese, including children, were already residing there. Two families are from this Project.

VOLUNTEER COAL WORKERS COMMENDED BY COVERLEY

Since last Friday, May 7, volunteer workers, representative of all blocks, have unloaded 42 cars of coal or 7 cars daily for 5 days. This is a noteworthy achievement, and it gives me considerable pleasure to commend those having participated in the work. It points out quite clearly, I believe, that a large number of our people do recognize community problems and are, therefore, quite willing to do their share in helping to avert later sufferings such as would, no doubt, have occurred this coming winter had not this coal been unloaded. Again, let me offer to those having volunteered those services my thanks and sincere appreciation.

Sergeant Booth of the Military Police apprehended four young boys half a mile north of the area limits of this colony. They were Toyoshi Yebuk, Seiji Arima, Ben Kosai and Tadashi Fujita. The penalty issued upon them are ten days without pay and to report at Internal Security every week for forty days by order of H. M. Coverley, director of this Project.

STRICTLY FEMININE

Many Outstanding Creations Unveiled At Fashion Show

By Rose Serizawa

To the strains of soft music and commenting by Chiyo Sato and Alice Kurimoto, the Spring Fashion Show, held last week-end, was a huge success.

Just to mention a few of the clothes showing originality, as well as winning the most "ohs" and "ahs" were:

Spitfire red suit designed by Mary Sakai, well-known for her intricate designing. On the practical side was the brown and white, candy striped two-piece seersucker suit dress.

Refreshing was Pat Nitta in a two-piece white sharkskin suit with the ever popular pleated all-around skirt and fitted jacket, as well as Phyllis Fujii modeling a dress of low torso and dirndl skirt.

The slack suit in canary red and beige was smart looking.

On the conservative side was the navy blue dress with white eyelet, lace cuffs and collar. Appropriate for traveling were the three-piece suits. Frances Itabashi in a misty brown gaberdine suit had a very neat and smart appearance.

The chiffon brown print housecoat modeled by Toyo Kishi was very luxurious looking. On the cute side were the little tots' clothes--the sailor suit of light navy wool with a hat to match and tie, too. The tiny Yoshioka sisters in red were simply adorable.

Last, but not least, something in which a young girl likes to be seen wearing on her first date was the white formal with a full gathered skirt and on top of that a red velveteen jacket.

And so we had a peek at the clothes which are to be seen around camp.

Credit goes also to Alice Kaya and her committee for the capacity crowd and success of the show.

BUSINESS GIRLS MEET SATURDAY

With an election of officers and plans for the Tule Lake servicemen's organization to be discussed, an important meeting of the Business & Professional Girls will be held on Saturday, May 15 from 4:30 p.m. at 154-3.

The election will follow the dinner which the girls will prepare at the Carter's residence.

A daily exercise hour is now being conducted by the B & P Girls at #2108 from 5 p.m.

EUGENE OKADA

LITTLE THEATER

...drew a surprisingly large crowd on its opening night last Monday. At 7:30, half an hour before curtain time, there were no longer any seats left.

The performances were hailed as one of the most outstanding thus far, and, without doubt, it was. Performing under adverse and limited conditions the Little Theater and its actors most certainly deserve high commendations.

Jiro Shimoda, manager of the theater, has proven himself to be a real actor. After playing old men roles he did a magnificent turn-about in "Elmery" playing the role of a high school kid. Bonnie Nekamura showed much promise in the same play. In due time she should become a starlet in her own right.

Garrett Starmer, with his Broadway background, easily stole the show in Wilder's "Our Town". Always distinguished and well dressed in daily life, his appearance as a youthful high school boy drew a round of laughter. Jeanette Smoyer handled her part well despite the fact that her role was that of a high school girl.

"The Valiant" went over better than anticipated. Natural-born Thespian Hiroshi Kashiwagi was at his best and was very instrumental in putting the show over. Mei Yamasaki put on one of her best performances also. Substitutes Stan Sugiyama and Shiro Tokuno did comparatively well.

RILEY O'SUGA,

...documentarian, departed from the Project last Tuesday. Well-known for his ability to write, Riley will be missed by the magazine readers. He left for Chicago where he hopes to take up his neglected hobby of photography, and possibly go to a photography school.

George Masuda, who was on a furlough visiting his folks at 916-C.

Refreshments de-luxe were served by a committee headed by Mieko Ikenoyama. Hilarious games and a block talent parade rounded out the program. Big hit of the evening was made by Yukio Ozaki, recent winner of the Tule Lake Talent Show, who sang several numbers by popular requests.
