VETERAN OF TWO WARS: 70-YEAR-OLD RESIDENT WAR CORRESPONDENT RUSSO-JAPANESE' WAR

Frank B. Kumagai, 70 year-old humanitarian from Los Angeles, is a veteran of two wars.

Kurangai, born 70 years ago in Tokyo, Japan, came to this country in 1896. Two years later America became embroiled in a war with Spain and Kumagai, who was in New York City at the time, volunteered his services. He was sent to the Phillipines and saw considerable action there. After the war he remained in the Phillipines for five years.

Kumagai then returned to Japan where he became the Tokyo correspondent for the London Chronicle. From this position he covered the Russo-Japanese war that broke in 1905 and lested until 1906. Following the war Kumagai returned to America,

Having witnessed the ruthless destruction of two wars, Kumagai turned
