UN BEING HUMAN

I write this today, not as the author of THE TULEAN DISPATCH, but just as a plain resident of Tule Lake.

Ever since I've been evacuated from Sacramento on May 15, it has been my feeling that we are in the same boat and that we should do nothing to tip the balance of this boat; and that we must do the best we can under the circumstances to keep this boat going.

From that moment on, I've decided to discard all of my personal feeling, likes and dislikes. I've tried my best to educate myself and my wife and children to see everything in the light of the happiness of the community as a whole. In other words to make myself a rigid socialistic being.

It is true that I was bitter at times because we had to sell our thriving business for about 45 cents on a dollar and no further income from the operation of the business; because I had to sell my Chrysler, almost a family heirloom, for seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50), and because some newspaper columnists called us "skibbys" and "slant-eyed, pint-sized, jaundiced, low-logged Japs" and other late-creating derogatory names; and because I've seen my relative, who wouldn't even harm a fly, picked up by F.B.I. as a "potentially dangerous alien."

But after all is said and done, I cannot forget the fact that some of my Caucasian friends certainly did their utmost to ease the pain in our hearts. I cannot forget their "good wishes" and tears when we shook hands for the last time.

And after all is said and done, it has been my contention that our economic and social setup as we knew in the past has been uprooted from its foundation by the military order, and that therefore we must look forward to tomorrow for our security and a better life as human beings.

It is my personal observation that the War Relocation Authority, as an agent of the civil government of the United States, is sincerely interested in the welfare of the Japanese evacuees who have been relocated within its centers or those who intend to be resettled permanently outside of its centers. And it is also my profound belief that the majority of the personnel in the administrative capacity of the WRA are sincere in their efforts to further this WRA program. I'm not unmindful of the fact that the officials in charge of the administration are also human beings with complicated human emotions and human temptations.

Such being the case, I maintain it is well for us to go more than half way on our part to cooperate with the administration to iron out the difficult problems of feeding, sheltering, and educating nearly 15,000 persons of diverse ages, sex and social, economic, and educational backgrounds. The problems facing us in the Center are profoundly deep and gigantic, to say the least.

I, for one, am vitally concerned over the physical and mental well-being of my wife and three small children. I want them to be happy just as much as you would wish yours to be happy. I want my children to be fed properly and get the best possible education with what limited facilities we have on hand. I want my children to learn human decency: what is good and what is beautiful.

But on the other hand, I would do anything to see other men's wives and their children in a healthy frame of minds. I would not hesitate to work for them and fight for them.

Everyone of us must do his share of work to achieve this end in the kind of socialistic boat we are books. In case the family head should be away then other arrangements should be made with Kendall Smith at either #718 or #551.

The board will act as liaison between the administration and the colonists, on the formation and interpretation of the basic policies affecting the Tule Lake Project as a whole.

Script will be honored at this newly established canteen and cash purchases may also be made at this store. The script will be honored only for the purchase of clothing or clothing materials. With 120,000 dollars worth of goods due to arrive, Miyamoto stressed that there would be no need to swamp the store.

Scripts may be used for the payment of shoe repairs, the limitation being that they be brought to the shop in #7207. Merchandise purchased by scripts will be exchanged, but no refunds will be made in any store regardless of whether the original purchase was made in script or cash.

riding now. Let us not forget tomorrow will come. Let us not spoil what tomorrow will bring today.

This is the only human way of looking at the present predicament, I believe.

NYSSA RESOLUTION

Governor Chas. A. Clark of Idaho and Governor Charles A. Sprague of Oregon.

After narrating that there is an urgent need for labor in the seven counties represented at the meeting to harvest the vital crops and the desire of the Japanese evacuees to prove their loyalty to the Nation by working on the farms, it was resolved:

"That it is the sentiment of this meeting that immediate assurance be given to those Japanese evacuees who are still living in War Relocation Centers, and to those who have already volunteered for farm service or other essential work which is found to be in harmony with the spirit and letter of the aims of the relocation program, that they are needed and urged to accept employment among us; and

TWO SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS MADE BY YPCC

With 690 Christians registered for the first Young People's Christian Conference to be held in a WRA Center, The Tule Lake YPCC, theme-lined "Christ For the World", was held last Saturday and Sunday.

The offering collected amounted to $104.85. It was decided by the YPCC committee to tidge the $4.85 over to a similar cause during the next conference.

THANKS TO WALLER

We, the members of the Community Activities staff wish to take this opportunity to thank Ted Waller, our supervisor who will very shortly enter our country's armed service. Mr. Waller has been a most sincere friend and worker, and during his brief stay here has, in spite of all the handicaps, accomplished a great deal toward the betterment of our community.

His departure will be a loss, not only to our department but also to the project but our country's needs come foremost.

Someday we hope to renew our friendship, perhaps under a better circumstance. Looking forward to that day, we wish Ted and his wife, Lucynda good luck and success for the future.

MOUNTAINEERS CLASH WITH TACOMA BUSSEI

PLACER'S GEORGE GOTO GOES INTO SUNDAY GAME WITH GOOD RECORD

In one of the outstanding exhibition games of the post season series, the powerful Tacoma Busseis will cross bats with the up and coming Mountaineers.

Tacoma's pride and joy, the Busseis, have come through in grand style after the start of the Shaughnessy playoffs, which they copped.

Placer's surprise team, Mountaineers, has been undefeated this year, except for the setback in a practice game with the powerful Rec outfit. They easily copped the class B title and is classed as the outstanding younger boys' team.

With both teams having set back the Tule Lake champions, the Auburn AC, the game is expected to be a tightly fought, hard slugging affair. The Busseis will rely on their heavy sticking while the Mountain lads will rely on their star chucker George Goto, who has an average of 13 strikeouts per game in the regular league season. Last week he subdued 7 out of the 9 Rec batters to face him via the strikeout route.

The starting lineup has been disclosed as:

PING PONG MATCH

MARYSVILLE IN EASY WIN

Marysville paddle-pushers trounced Sacramento last Monday night by copping four out of five single matches.

Despite the fact that the match itself was one-sided, however, most of the games scores were very close with the points running into duces. A rematch will be played sometime next week.

Lawrence Nakao, Robert Nakajima, and James Osuga won their matches in two straight games over Jos Osuga, Yoshiya Igarashi, and Edward Yoshikawa, respectively, while P. A. Shibata was forced to a full two out of three win over Sam Koshiha. James Osuga took the only match for the Sacramentans when he defeated Harry Ota 2-1.

In an exhibition match, Lawrence Nakao, Marysville, crossed paddles with Ruth Hijikata, Tule Lake women's champ, with the former taking a close victory.
