other forms of musical extravaganza.

SCOUTS, RESERVES TO HAVE XMAS TOY DRIVE

In an effort to make this year's Christmas a happy occasion for all, the Boy Scouts and the Girl Reserves of the City are asking for the cooperation of all project residents next week.

TWO COLONISTS VIOLATE LAW

The military police picked-up two colonists from the farm on the charges of having possession of wild ducks and geese, and returned them to the project from the farm.

Their actions violated the Wild Life Regulations, which is a federal offense and are subject to be tried by the Federal Courts. Already 15 others are subject to arrest on the same charge.

"Again warning to not interfere with any form of wild life are made as it has created bad talk about the colonists among northern Californians as well as it is a federal offense," Harold Jacoby, chief of internal security, reiterated.

FALSE FIRE ALARM

RINGING IS DANGEROUS

False alarms have been rung by irresponsible pranksters frequently in the past week. It is admonished that false alarms affords heavy unnecessary expense on the part of the fire department and injuries, or death could result.

With the aid of the Social welfare department, the plan of the youth organizations is to tour the project from Monday, Nov. 2 to Friday, Nov. 6 to collect broken or discarded toys, materials from which toys can be made and old books and magazines.

The Scouts and Reserves will repair and mend the toys and distribute them to the needy children on Christmas. After November 6 the toys may be brought in the Social welfare office, #1608.

VOL. III NO. 90

Fri. Oct. 30, 1942

readers...

To allow full divergent opinions of our readers, THE DISPATCH is opening this column as a vent. Letters may be on any decent subject relevant to Colony life but will be used only with the final discretion of the editor. Signatures will be withheld from print if requested, but all letters must be signed by the contributors. THE DISPATCH will not assume any responsibility for the sentiments expressed therein. --ED.

STAR DUSTING

YOUR FESTIVAL

Colony will not be normal tomorrow and no one wants to be normal. Thousands of residents, will emerge from their hidings to witness and participate in the finest pageantry to be staged yet. Recreation center has labored arduously for weeks to make the Harvest Festival a mammoth success; something to cherish in our memories for years to come. Parade, carnival, game and food concessions, will chiefly mark the day-long hilarity ringing the curtain down with a fabulous masquerade ball.

Harvest Festival will be something short of earthquake with not a dull moment prevailing. There'll be something to do and see all day long.

Main thing to remember, however, is that the festival is for your benefit and enjoyment and without your enthusiastic support, all efforts will be meaningless.

AND YOUR "DAILY"

With the departure of erstwhile Editor Howard Imazeki to the beet field last week, we inherited a battle-scarred copy desk, a handsome dictionary, innumerable headaches, and a harem of nice-looking secretaries.

It was a subtle irony of fate that put us here but we aim to make the best of it.

Now THE DISPATCH is not a big newspaper. Column spaces are painfully limited and can't be stretched. We like to reserve a small portion of these pages for our meandering drivel to satisfy our colossal ego but we heartily encourage your contributions with due consideration for space. This is your paper just as much as it is ours.

THE DISPATCH is not a big newspaper in the sense of a metropolitan paper crusading to reform the world. We are not politically ambitious and make no claim of party affiliation.

However, we would like to see the Project develop into a good place to live in. Our job here is to inform you on what's going on, to have you sit back and read and enjoy. If we make you laugh a little, cry a little, or jolt you a bit from complacency, we feel that we have accomplished a great deal. G.J.N.

CHILD TRAINING

TO THE EDITOR: We are living here as a big family of 15,000, and need lots of common sense. We have to think of other people just as much as ourselves. But the children have little common sense, and the parents are responsible for their own children. Young people are mostly indifferent of others.

In such an unusual war time condition, especially in such a big family of 15,000, children have got to be taught how to behave themselves. We need the co-operation of the whole community for child training. Let all the parents have the right to correct and teach all young and older children whoever they are, and if they don't obey the discipline, notify their own parents and let them punish such children.

I suggest that the school directors adopt a plan to teach the children 10 minutes a day, or an hour a week, how to live in a family of 15,000. Teachers may say, "That's none of our business", but this line of education is more important than that of any other line here.

Let's learn how to satisfy ourselves all the time. Satisfaction is the key to happiness.

PREVENTION OF DISEASES OUTLINED

By Yuri Kobukata
The Health Department is undertaking an intensive campaign to prevent the spread of communicable diseases.

There are now thirty-four cases of chicken pox; two cases of measles; sixteen of German measles; four of whooping cough and one mumps case. In addition, there are thirty-six cases under observation which may or may not be communicable diseases.

The cooperation of everyone in the project, particularly parents, is urgently requested.

Observation of the following simple rules will aid considerably in the control of epidemic.

1. When a child is sent home from school, be sure that he is seen by a Public Health Nurse.
2. Keep all children who are ill, even with an ordinary cold, at home, preferably at bed rest.

3. Do not let other children come into the home of a sick child.

4. Meals to sick children should be served in their homes, being brought by a member of the family from the mess hall.

5. Consult block managers, wardens or Public Health Nurses for specific rules of quarantine.
