PARLEY EXPECTED SOON TO ARRANGE RUSS-CHINA PEACE

One Report States Baron Shidehara Has Fixed Preliminary Trouble To Prepare For Conference For Settlement.

SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

SHANGHAI. — Though it has not been confirmed, it is understood here, that a conference between the Chinese and Soviet representatives will take place soon to discuss the Chinese Far Eastern Railway issue, which has been hanging fire since last July.

One report states that Baron Kijuro Shidehara, Japan's Foreign Minister, has induced Moscow to give up her demand that China replace the Russia director-manager of the Chinese Far Eastern, as a preliminary to holding a conference with China on the issue. The Japanese Minister, states the report, was in conference with the Soviet ambassador to Japan, M. Troyanovski, and that the latter had cabled the Minister's request to Moscow.

Situation Is Unchanged

However, the situation along the Manchurian border does not seem to have changed and occasional raiding and firing are said to be taking place. The blame for these are being laid to the Russians. The Chinese on the other hand, it is said, have massed a large number of troops on their side of the border for defensive purposes and to discourage raiding parties from entering Manchurian soil. In some sections the Chinese, say reports, have built trenches to be prepared against any offensive measures the Soviet troops on the other side of the border, just a short distance away, might take.

Soviet airplanes also are flying above the borderline but no bombing or shelling has been reported. Evidently the planes were being used for observation purposes and the Chinese have taken care to hide their defenses as well as to install anti-aircraft guns, in case of an emergency.

Await Intervention

So far both China and Soviet Russia seem inclined to discuss the matter between themselves, but the opinion here among observers is to the effect that Moscow is waiting the intervention of either Great Britain or the United States. However, it is known here, that since the United States has not as yet recognized Moscow and England and is probing the matter of recognition some time will lapse before actual negotiations for a settlement of the issue will start.

The indications, are, however, on the other hand, that China and Soviet Russia will take the matter into their own hands and reach some sort of an agreement satisfactory to both countries.

NEW EMBASSY IN TOKIO FOR U. S.

New Building Will Be Constructed Replacing Old

TOKIO. — It has been definitely decided that the new American Embassy building, to replace the old structure made untenable by the quake of 1923, will begin construction soon, according to advices received here from Washington.

2,500,000 Yen, it is reported, is to be spent on the building which, besides the main edifice, will have the residences of the naval, military, commercial attaches and the consul general.

Two squash courts, also, are to be built for the embassy members besides an apartment house for the staff members and their families. The White and Green Construction Co., of New York City, it is learned, will do the construction work.

Thrift Edict Causes Quiet Money Market

Commercial Cable News

TOKIO. — The money market is quiet as the seasonal demands were fulfilled generally and the a/c loan transaction was decreased sharply.

After the proclamation of the policies of thrift and lifting of the fold embargo of the new cabinet, all the stocks temporarily showed a great drop, but along with the abatement of the public anxiety, the prices of stocks are holding quiet.

SABURI IS MADE ENVOY TO CHINA

TOKIO. — As a step to harmonize the views of the new Minseito government in the negotiations to resume trade relations with China, Sadao Saburi, former Chief of the Treaties Bureau, has been appointed as Minister to China, late last Thursday.

M. Saburi was Councillor at the Japanese Embassy at Washington, and during the interim when Ambassador Hanihara resigned from his post there in 1924, he assumed the office until the arrival of Tsuneo Matsu-daira as envoy.

After that he became the Chief of the Treaties Bureau in the Japanese Foreign Office from where he went as Councillor to the London Embassy. He will now replace Kenkichi Yoshizawa as Minister to Nanking.

MOSS WILL SPEAK AT BUSINESS CLUB

Lawyer To Give Discourse On Solidifying Orient And Occident; In Authority

In what is to be considered as one of the year's best addresses on Oriental and Occidental questions, Sidney A. Moss, lawyer, connected with the legal firm of Bogle, Bogle and Gates of this city, will render a talk on the subject of "Solidifying the Orient and the Occident", at the Associated Businessmen's Club luncheon to be held at the Bush hotel on next Wednesday noon.

Moss, who recently made a study tour of the Orient and made special notes of conditions and affairs in China and Japan, is looked upon in this city as one of the leading authorities on Oriental problems. He will render his speech more in line with unifying the Orient and Occident through understanding by touching upon the chief points of interest in business and social affairs between the two great continents overlapping the Pacific Basin.

Opinion Rated Highly

Of late Mr. Moss has been receiving prominent mention and space in the local papers in regard to his opinions on Oriental and Occidental relations through his addresses before various local organizations and his appearance before the Associated Businessmen's Club has attached much importance to the luncheon to be held next Wednesday. Heretofore the talks before the Club has been of a varied nature but nothing, as yet, has been remarked upon what could, probably, be done to solidify the Orient and the Occident.

According to Ralph Ochi, secretary, the address by Mr. Moss will help to bring the realization of a closer cooperation and harmony between the Orient and the Occident, especially, between Japan and America.

Opinions, Advices Given

On Wednesday, Sept. 4, the Club held its weekly luncheon featured by the opinions and advices of the local businessmen members and together with the introductions of Rev. Paul J. Gates, former young people's pastor at the Japanese Baptist Church, and Retsu Kiyosawa, noted Japanese journalist from Tokio.

Speaking for the benefit of the second generation S. Moro, of the Golden Shoe Co., emphasized the necessity of saving and investing their money

ANGLO-U. S. ACCORD BRIGHTEN OUTLOOK FOR NAVAL PARLEY

British Premier Addressing League Of Nations, Declares Many Points At Issue Have Been Settled Satisfactorily

MACDONALD TO VISIT U. S.

GENEVA. — Firing the initial shot for another world conference for the reduction of naval armaments, Premier Ramsey MacDonald spoke of an accord between England and America on the important issues toward calling another armaments parley, before the opening session of the League of Nations, here on Tuesday.

Only the minor points of the naval programs of the two nations need now be settled, said the English Premier, in reaching a full accord with the United States to issue another call to the nations to attend the parley. It seems, nothing stands in the way, now, for another disarmament conference, and England, he said, is willing to take an important part in cooperating with the United States in asking the nations of world to join in the conference.

Seventeen Issues Settled

Seventeen of the twenty points at issue between the United States and England, it was made known by the Premier, have already been settled in regard to the question of disarmament, and a full accord should be reached in the near future to call the conference of nations.

Rumors which have been prevailing here since Premier MacDonald's address before the opening session of the League have been to the effect that some difficult point of issue has again been brought up and that the English Premier has again indefinitely postponed his proposed visit to the United States.

Rumors Reliable

These rumors, however, are not being given an attentive ear since the words of Premier MacDonald has painted a bright picture of another naval disarmament conference and it has not been easy to perceive what difficult point has been raised for issue in regard to holding another naval parley.

Premier MacDonald, it is understood here, is to leave for the United States on Sept. 27, for the special purpose of reaching a genuine understanding with the United States to call another naval disarmament conference.

HENDERSON SEES NAVAL PARLEY

PARIS. — Arriving here on Sunday on his way to Geneva to attend the opening session of the League of Nations, Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, looks for another naval disarmament conference to take place in the near future.

Although, it was not stated by him, it was gathered that negotiations between Premier MacDonald and President Hoover are going on through Ambassador Dawes in London, and the intricacies are that both governments have come on a common basis of action for another parley.

The prediction by the Foreign Secretary, is looked upon here, as certain maturing, coming as it does from the responsible source that it does.

Scientist Talks On Decrement

Just as Columbus had proved the world as being round, in medical science the credit goes to a Japanese doctor and scientist for disproving a basic theory of physiology. Speaking on the subject of "Non Decrement of Conduction", Dr. G. Kato informed a special gathering at the Japanese Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening, that heretofore the theory of the basic study on the nerves of the human body had been a decrement condition. This, however, he said, he proved to be wrong at Stockholm before the medical conference of 1926.

Only recently Dr. Kato and Dr. T. Hayashi, were delegates from Japan to the Thirteenth Medical Conference held in Boston, Mass. Next week The Courier will give a detailed report of this great revolutionary theory which has astounded the medical world, as it was given by Dr. Kato.

MACDONALD'S VISIT TO DECIDE PARLEY

British Premier Decides To Make Trip To This Country Latter Part Of This Month

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The outlook for another world disarmament conference for the reduction of naval armaments was given sanguine enthusiasm here, when it was learned that Premier MacDonald has finally decided to make his trip to this country the latter part of this month.

According to the advance reports Premier Ramsey MacDonald will leave England with his daughter Isabel for this country on a Cunard liner leaving there on Sept. 26, and arriving here early in Oct.

Visit Will Decide

This visit to be made by the British Premier is expected not only to strengthen the bonds of Anglo-American relations but also to definitely decide the date of the next disarmament conference. Already, it is manifested here that England temporarily stopped building her two new light cruisers and a submarine tender as a measure to bring her naval armaments up to the ratio decided at the Washington Conference in 1921.

This has been due to Premier MacDonald's faith in the negotiations which have been going on between himself and President Hoover, through Ambassador Dawes, for another naval disarmament conference to take place either the latter part of this year or early next year.

Definite Date Expected

The coming of the British Premier, is being looked upon with sanguine hopes for the naval parley and the opinion here is inclined to the belief that ere the Premier leaves for his home shores a date will be definitely decided for the next parley to reduce naval armaments.

Although it is known here that President Hoover wishes to invite the British Premier to abide at the White House during the latter's stay in Washington, Mr. MacDonald will, it is believed, accept the invitation of British Ambassador Howard and Lady Isabel Howard to stay at the Embassy owing to the large number of attaches he will bring with him.

Ex-Kaiser's Son Participate In Demonstration

BRANDENBURG. — Taking the One Thousand year of this old Germany opportunity for the celebration of the man city for a demonstration against the Young Reparations plan, the nationalist party with two sons of the ex-Kaiser participating, gathered in a force here on Monday.

The nationalists were restored by the magistrate of this town from using the public square during the celebration and the party met outside of the city limits to hold their demonstration. Eitel Frederick and Augustus Wilhelm, the two sons of the ex-Kaiser were active participants in the meeting which strongly opposed the Young plan.

ALL YOUNG PEOPLE DECLARE INTENTION OF RESIDING HERE

Retsu Kiyosawa Learns Attitude Of Japanese Americans; Declares They Should Make Homes In This Country

MISUNDERSTANDING GONE

By JAY ESSE

Manifesting the hope that the trials the Japanese are going through, now, on the Pacific will pave the way towards speeding up the coming day of a greater mutual understanding between the two great nations bordering the Pacific, Retsu Kiyosawa, one Japan's foremost writers pleaded the cause of Americanism by asking the citizens of Japanese ancestry and other members of the younger generation to make their home in this country, at a representative meeting of young people sponsored by The Japanese-American Courier, at the Japanese Chamber of Commerce, on Wednesday evening.

For one thing, Mr. Kiyosawa's address proved impressive in that it supported the general decision of the gathering that the younger generation of Japanese would remain in this country to work out their proper niches in life. It was the Japanese writer's opinion, that though of the Japanese race the younger generation should live in this country of their birth or adoption and pave the way to a greater understanding between the Japanese and American peoples through their various enterprises in the business, social and political world.

Make Homes Here

"Nothing, that I can say at this time, is of greater importance," he declared, "than that the younger generation should make their homes here, even though they might be able to cut out a mark for themselves in the land of their fathers by pursuing one special line of enterprise or activity. It is preferable, that they remain here since what little opportunities there are in Japan are not to be compared with the advantages presented here."

"Furthermore, the great number of you are American citizens and the real pioneers in founding an institution of peace and friendship on the Pacific between the Japanese and American people. Your American education and training are your credentials to pave the way into the political, social and economic life of this great nation. The one desire of the people of Japan is that you will take your rightful part in the life of the country and be the true representatives of the Yamato race by becoming the connecting link of understanding and good-will between the two peoples."

"In days gone by there did exist misunderstandings between our two peoples but these are being smoothed away today and the benefits of what we have sown are now coming to the surface to promote a mutual and closer understanding between the two great nations overlapping the Pacific Ocean. Your work is cut out for you and what you will do will have a great bearing upon the good relations existing now between the two countries."

There were twenty nine younger generation members present besides the speaker of the evening and several first generation people, out of whom twenty seven gave explicit opinions as to their views and activities. Excepting for one girl all the rest declared their intention to make their homes in this country. One other girl a full fledged nurse in a hospital gave it as her intention to study in a hospital in Japan, for the purpose of learning the language that she might be enabled to understand her work more thoroughly when she takes up her work among the Japanese people, in this country.

Intend To Reside Here

An interesting sidelight provided by several girls who were born and educated in Japan, was that it was their intention to reside in this country and that they hoped to share in the burdens of welfare and responsibilities in whatever community they reside.

There were some who remarked that they would like to visit Japan to make a closer study of the institutions and historical backgrounds of their parents' native land but these, too, gave it as their decision to make their homes in America. The young men were all chiefly inclined to give

NIPPONS WINNERS TWICE IN GAMES AT VANCOUVER, B. C.

N. A. C. Pitchers, Nagamine And Sakai, In Form As They Turn In Double Victory On Labor Day

SAM TAKAHASHI STARS AGAIN

VANCOUVER, B. C., — As a fitting preliminary to closing their baseball season when the Nippons will meet the strong local Asahis at the Coast League grounds in Seattle next week, the former nine from the Puget Sound city soundly trounced the local Japanese diamond stars in a double header encounter, at the Vancouver Athletic grounds here on Labor Day.

Once more the Seattle Japanese have regained the crown of baseball supremacy over the Vancouver Asahis which they lost last year when the local nine took the measure of the Puget Sound team in two games out of three. The Seattle victory on Labor Day, if anything, was accounted for by the sterling slab work of Frank Nagamine and Tom Sakai together with the incomparable playing of Sam Takahashi, the greatest Japanese short stop seen in the Northwest since the days of Ikeda Johnson and Mac Yasuda.

Nagamine In Form

In the first game Nagamine allowed but one scratch hit which came in the seventh inning and the Nippons won the struggle by a 7 to 2 tally. Until the eighth, however, the game was as tell-tale as the flip of fortune's coin, but with two men on and one down against the Seattle nine Sam Takahashi rose to the moment and crashed out a neat double which placed the Nippons ahead by a 5 to 2 count. The game was sewed up then and in the ninth the Nippons like the avenging angel of last year's defeat scored two more runs for good measure.

Suga pitching for the locals allowed but one hit until the eighth when the Nippon batters found him for a fare thee well. Suga's slab work found many admirers.

Sakai Pitches Second

In the second game the Nippons lead off with a four run lead in the first frame. In the second frame the locals accounted for their first and last tally of this game since Tom Sakai was at his peak in pitching form and allowed but four scattered hits during the entire game. This diamond struggle also went to the Seattle Japanese by a 9 to 1 score.

Tanaka started the game but Suga replaced him in the fifth frame. Yasui caught both games for the locals while Hito Okada was behind the bat for the visitors in both encounters.

Next week the Asahis will visit Seattle to play the Nippons at the Coast League grounds on Sept. 15.

WASEDAS LOSE TOUGH CONTEST

The Grand Union Waseda nine, champions of The Courier League, journeyed to Vancouver to play the Asahi second team, losing by the score of 10 to 9, last Monday.

The game was a see-saw affair, each team trying its best to keep the lead. At the beginning of the ninth the Seattle team was winning by the score of 9 to 6 but the Vancouver nine started a last inning rally scoring four runs to cinch the game.

The heavy bat work of Mac Kaneko and Tosh Hoshide stood out for the Wasedas. Kaneko had a perfect batting record for the day, and included a long home run among his bingles. Yanagimachi pitched for the Grand Union team while Henry Kiga caught him in good style.

Nippon Ball Teams Win Double Victory

TOKIO, — The Japanese University baseball teams scored a couple of victories over the American college teams in recent games here.

The University of Michigan met defeat at the hands of the Waseda team by the score of 4-2; while the University of Chicago lost to the Meiji team by the score of 7-3.

TENNIS CHAMPIONS FIGHT FOR TITLES

Matches To Be Played This Sunday At Nippon Tennis Court

The three tennis tournaments sponsored by the Seattle Japanese Girls' club are rapidly coming to a close, with the finals for two of them scheduled for this Sunday at the Nippon Tennis Club court.

In the Girls Club tournament only four girls are left now to fight it out for the title. These four are: Mary Koitabashi and Masako Hotta, who will meet each other in the semi-finals; and Shizuko Nakagawa and Shizuko Tashiro, who are paired for the other semi-finals. The matches will be played Sunday morning at the Walla Walla courts.

Finals On Sunday

The winners of the two matches will play off for the title at the Nippon Tennis Club court at Eighth and Washington on the same day, Sunday, from 1 p. m. The president has requested all Girls Club members to turn out to witness this contest and cheer for the two finalists who are sure to exert every effort to win the championship.

The Junior Girls tournament has already reached the finals with Mary Morio and Rose Hamada waiting anxiously for the matches which will decide the title holder in the Junior section. The games will be played immediately following the Senior Girls finals on the same court.

Rose Hamada won her semi-finals match after a strenuous struggle with Tamiko Yoshida, just as the scores, 9-7, 7-5, indicate.

Koitabashi In Semi-Finals

The general tournament for Seattle Japanese girls have quite a few more games to be played yet, owing to the larger number of participants. Mary Koitabashi is the only one who has already reached the semi-finals.

The others who are in the running are: Funai and Morio, matched together; S. Gondo who will meet the winner of the Teramaye-Murakami contest; Shizuko Tashiro who will face the victor of the Kurokawa-Takahara encounter.

The semi-finals of this tournament will not be played until September 15; while the titular match will be played the following Sunday, Sept. 22.

FIFE TEAM LOSES TO PORTLAND NINE IN THRILLING GAME

Fuji Lose To Tacoma Lotus Club In Game Marred By Indigestion Of Visiting Players

GEORGE OKUDA PITCHING STAR

FIFE, — In what was their final game of the season, the Portland Fuji nine brought here by Frank Fukuda, took the measure of the strong local Japanese baseball team by a 6 to 1 score, after one of the most exciting exhibitions of diamond performances seen here for sometime, on Labor Day.

The local Japanese nine who had pretty much their own way with the teams of this locality bumped up against a hard hitting squad of diamond artists from the Rose City who played exceedingly tight ball all the way through their nine innings of play.

Fukuda Is Coach

The Fife nine exhibited some fine brand of ball on occasions but in the pinches when fortune would have helped them the Portland nine played tightly enough not to give them the breaks. The coaching of Frank Fukuda plainly showed in the playing of the Portland team and it worked to the disadvantage of the local team. However, the rest was expected. The Fuji had almost defeated the Shinko Shogyo middle school baseball champions of all-Japan and it was a fair enough showing that the locals made against such a team of known ability.

Okuda's Pitching Good

Th pitching of George Okuda showed up exceptionally well as did the catching of Minoru Kobayashi. On the day before the Portland boys were reported as having been ill from some food they had eaten in Tacoma and the showing that they made was not expected.

Coach Fukuda after the game commented upon the playing ability of the locals and declared that there was more than the makings of a champion nine in them.

TACOMA, — Handicapped by players who were too ill to perform in good style, the Portland Fuji nine was defeated here by the local Lotus Club nine in a slow game.

Roy Sakamoto pitching for the locals had the game pretty well in hand and allowed but few scattered hits. The Fuji players were tired sick and lacking in enthusiasm in their playing and after the second inning the fact was revealed that six of the players were suffering from indigestion. George Okuda pitching for the visitors showed lines of grimace from pain every time he heaved over the ball and the stands soon saw something was the matter with the Rose City Japanese nine.

However, the game was a thrilling one, and the local Lotus team under ordinary circumstances could not have played as well as they did. The final score was 6 to 3 in favor of the Lotus team.

SUMO TOURNAY IN CALIFORNIA

SAN JOSE, — Japan's national sport, known as Sumo, will again be given popular exhibition when Japanese wrestling champions from all Santa Clara valley and the various sections of California, meet here in a grand tournament on Sept. 14, 15.

The large number of known Japanese wrestling artists are in training for this coming meet, in every locality of Santa Clara Valley and the indications point to a popular meet such as the one last year turned out to be. Besides Santa Clara aspirants many Southern California Sumo champs are expected to join the meet.

Last year a Southern California product of the sand-mat won the highest honors in the meet and this year the best choices of the Valley are training strenuously to urge their claims to the laurels instead of having to export the crown.

S. HASHIGUCHI WINS JUNIOR NET TITLE

Yoshito Fujii Advances To Quarter Finals To Lose To Champion

The Seattle tennis stars who invaded Vancouver, B. C., to play in the tournament there on Sept. 1 and 2, returned with one championship in their bag when Shugo Hashiguchi, Broadway High School tennis letterman, won the Junior Title.

Yoshito Fujii, winner of the Class A championship here, was a favorite to win the title from the Canadians, breezing along with easy victories from the Canadians, until he came to the quarter finals when he met his match in Matsubayashi, who won the club championship for this year. Fujii lost by the score of 7-5, 6-2.

Hashiguchi besides capturing the Junior championship, advanced to the third round in the senior contests, before he met defeat in the hands of Iwasaki, sixth ranking man, by the close score of 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Enomoto, another Seattle favorite lost in the second round to Katsukawa by the score of 6-4, 6-4. Nakamura was defeated by Takenaga in the third round by the score of 6-2, 6-4. Sawa met defeat at the hands of Iwasaki in the second round by the score of 6-1, 9-7.

The Vancouver net players are planning an invasion to Seattle soon, it was reported, and if they do come, a hot contest is promised.

Lotus Nine To Meet Tacoma In Last Game

The Lotus baseball team will play its final game of the season when they meet the Tacoma Buddhist team from 12 M. at Columbia Playfield.

This is return game for the Lotus nine, having travelled over to Tacoma to meet them earlier in the season.

The America's Cup, international yatching trophy, has caused the spending of about $14,000,000 it is estimated.

TAIYOS NOSED OUT OF CLOSE CONTEST BY BELLEVUE NINE

Locals Lose Game At End Of Seventh And Final Inning; Win By Forfeit

TACS END BASEBALL SEASON

RENTON, — Playing a brand of fast and high class baseball the Taiyos lost their encounter to the strong Bellevue nine, in the playoff of a postponed game, by a two to one score last Sunday, here.

Once before the Taiyos met the Bellevue nine but were vanquished easily by the suburban nine.

Taiyos Go Strong

However, the encounter last Sunday showed up the Japanese nine in a different and improved light and the Americans had all they could to take the Taiyos into camp.

It seemed, that if the Taiyos could have played the rest of the two innings of the seven inning encounter they might have won this game but owing to the time limit of the field on which they were playing the game was called at the end of the seventh, when the Bellevue nine scored their winning run. Tanaka showed to advantage in this struggle by pitching one of the best games of the season.

Kenji Stars Again

Kawaguchi as usual showed up well as did Tatsue Aoki in center field. The infield again worked in clock-like fashion as they did the Sunday before when the Taiyo defeated the Italian Society nine at Broadway.

This has been the final game of the season for the Taiyos and in the early afternoon of the day they were to have played the Gibsons but the American nine forfeited the game and the Japanese are credited with one win and one loss for their last showing in the Independent League.

SECOND GENERATION DUTY

It is significantly apparent that the younger generation of Japanese in America have most naturally come to conclude that their homes are here to found and to cherish. That is as it should be.

What with their American education and training, it cannot be conceived that their niche in life to groove and to cultivate is ordained on foreign shores. The process of nature works a miracle regardless of race, color or creed. The Japanese have proven no exception to the rule and what do we see, today, but the first beginning towards amalgamation and the indication of assimilation of Japanese to the customs and principles of this country.

Within the powers of the present generation of Japanese there is vided the expressive potency of an "Open Sesame" to American associations, commercial and political worlds and to an estate of social recognition. There is no reason whereof this hopeful generation, which serves as the one important linking chain of understanding between the two great nations on the Pacific, should shift their fortunes to a land foreign to them to eke out their existence. The necessary means peculiarly adjusted toward working out their salvation in this country have been and are being provided them to blaze the trail into the forest of political, social, and economic difficulties. To admit defeat here is to admit the lack of character in their makeup.

Already the citizens of Japanese ancestry and others of the younger generation who are often termed the second generation for the sake of expediency, have begun to take an active part in the political and commercial life of the country and the signs point a favorable impression of the rest who will follow as Americans of unqualified status and characteristics, regardless of their apparent racial difference. It is obvious that their tendencies as shown by their inclinations are truly American. That, probably, is the reason why the second generation are standing firm and very naturally so to live the life which fate has gracefully decreed upon them.

The first trail toward recognition and a better understanding of the Japanese people is now being blazed and the younger generation are well adapted to be the forerunners of bringing the Japanese and American-peoples into closer contact and friendship. This duty, if such it can be called in living the life of an American and to become an important factor of understanding between two great peoples, should indeed, be a pleasant one.

THERE IS MORE truth than poetry in what Mr. H. H. Okuda, president of the Oriental Trading Co., says, that education is something that all young people should not miss. This fact strikes home all the more impressively, today, when the structures of politics, economics and society are being laid along the most intelligent and progressive lines of organization. The self-made man is to be lauded, especially, if he has turned the trick without an education, but such an example is very few in these days of chain stores, machine politics and a society founded upon education and intelligence. Education is not the only thing required in human existence, today, but it is a prime essential in getting all the requirements. Education, in another sense, is not everything; but it is a means to get all that signifies something. Mr. Okuda's words are wise and if the young people of this community are to rise to a height of achievement, the foundation must be laid in education. Education is, truly, a key to success.

TWO YEARS HENCE the naval vacation on capital ship building decided by the powers at the Washington Conference, by treaty, will end. In the meantime negotiations are proceeding, between England and the United States to call the powers into conference again for another disarmament parley. The last conference was primarily to establish a ratio of parity and to eliminate a burdensome naval competition. This time if the conference should take place either the latter part of this year or early next year, the motive will be to work for a genuine reduction of naval armaments and not merely to limit the potency of navies. However, just as the question of parity between England and this country has been more or less an issue in the present negotiations for another naval parley, the subject will undoubtedly cause much thought for solution, in the next conference. Parity is something that cannot be left to imagination but to reason and reason says the only time parity can be reached is when a permanent naval moratorium is declared on all naval ship building and disarmament is completed. Nothing against nothing is real parity.

NEXT MONTH the Institute of Pacific Relations will meet in Kyoto, Japan to hold a round table discussions meeting. These days Japan is certainly coming to be a real conference nation of the world. Only recently the Rotarian organizations of the world nations held their conference in Tokio. Starting almost together with the Pacific Conference, an Engineers conference of the world is to be held in Tokio this year, also. It is probably, the natural beauty of the Island Empire which inspires these conferences to take place in Japan but, at bottom, there is more than mere sentiment which makes of Japan a conference nation. The Japanese people have always been open to and heedful of suggestion and it is their inclination to "Sodan" with other people on whatever they intend to do. This spirit to discuss matters of importance has probably, been an unconscious impulse to select Japan for a conference nation. Let us hope all the nations of the Pacific and the world, in their turn will become conference nations for the sake of a better understanding.

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

The rain came down in torrents,
And the sky above was gray;
Wifey did her best at home,
While Hubby at work was away.

Hubby worked in an office,
But Wifey at home got the dough;
And how this, ever can happen,
Ask the married men, they know;

Pride of the family was their babe,
With cris of lovely hue;
They both though a lot of it,
Like most any parents do.

The baby drinks, drank and drunk,
The way it drank was a sin;
But my dear readers, don't worry,
For it wasn't Scotch nor Gin!

As I was saying in the first place,
Of the weather being bad;
In fact it wasn't good at all,
So Wifey indeed was sad.

The hour was nearly "chow" time,
For the little babe at home;
So Wifey hustled and ran about,
Like the old time Casey Jones.

Approaching the precious little thing,
With a "bottle" in her hand;
It stuck out its little tongue at her,
But Wifey didn't understand.

Wifey gazed at the "Bottle",
And consternation reigned;
Realizing her predicament,
She wasn't a bit ashamed.

Frightened to fear with horror,
Like a ship in distress at night;
She ran for the telephone,
For succor in her plight.

"Oh Hubby dear," she hollered,
With a gasping breath she said;
"Come home at once my darling,
Its a matter of life or death!"

Before he had a chance to answer,
The line at the other end was dead;
"My god," he murmured,
And mirages filled his head.

Hubby dashed for the doorway,
With the boss's hat on his dome;
Stenographer's coat under his arms,
Started to navigate for home.

Intending to take the elevator "down"
Disayed, he was going "up";
To calm himself he tried to smoke,
But he ate the darn thing up!

The crowd gazed at him with rapture,
His embarrassment was rather sad;
But just to be "nonchalant",
No "Murad" was to be had!

Emerging from the building,
He hailed a taxi from afar;
And when he neared his home site,
He alighted from a street car.

Up the stairway he did dash,
Like the gallant knights of yore;
Wifey met him with open arms,
But in his hand he held a door.

"What is it Wifey", he panted,
As Wifey started to cry;
"Oh dear, you are a life-saver,"
And then she began to sigh.

"Oh Hubby dear, I'm glad you're here,
But it maybe pro and con;
You see, I have bay's bottle,
So please put the NIPPLE on!"

JUNIOR GIRLS CLUB ELECTS OGAWA AS LEADER FOR YEAR

Busily Engaged In Preparing For Vodvil To Be Given By Senior Organization

A group of 18 girls of high school age met together to organize definitely and elect officers for the Junior Girls' Club at the Girls' Club rooms at the Seinenkai Hall last Friday, August 31.

The election was closely contested with a large list of nominees for each office. For the presidency, Ethel Ogawa was elected from a group of five nominees; while the office of vice-president was hotly contested. Hatsue Aoki and Mary Takayoshi tied for the position and an extra ballot was necessary. As a result Mary Takayoshi became vice-president winning by a slight margin.

Aoki Recording Secretary

Six names were proposed for the Recording Secretary which was won by Hatsue Aoki; while another tie resulted when the girls tried to choose a Corresponding Secretary. Mary Yoshijima and Ruth Harada were the two who polled an even number of votes. The extra ballot decided in favor of Ruth Harada.

Shigeko Sese was elected Treasurer of the organization. A cabinet meeting is to be held soon to select the committee members, after which the club will be ready for their many activities.

Busy With Tennis

At present, the girls are busy with the tennis tournament which will end this Sunday. Rose Hamada and Mary Morio are the finalists who will battle for the title.

The Junior Girls are also busy preparing an act for the Vodvil to be given by the Seattle Girls' Club. Advance reports say that the Junior girls' act is a sure fire hit.

The president has announced that a cordial invitation is extended to all girls of high school age to join the club. Meetings are held on the first and third Fridays from 7:30 p. m. in the Girls Club rooms at Seinenkai Hall, Ninth and Yesler Way.

Mrs. F. Fukuda Is Winner In Contest

PORTLAND, Ore. — That Japanese artistry does not all come from Japan, was recently learned, when a Japanese woman of this city was returned the winner of an embroidery contest in the State wide fair being held at Gresham now.

Mrs. Frank T. Fukuda, wife of a local Japanese language school teacher and teacher herself, was returned the winner among the professionals with her embroidery work of a famous oil painting. The work is reported as one of the most magnificent ever to be shown here and is being exhibited, at present, in the fair at Gresham which ends tonight.

Mrs. Fukuda's pupil, Kameo Yagawa, was returned the winner in the amateur embroidery contest in the state-wide fair.

BACK TO SCHOOL

By Satoshi Hoshi

Last Tuesday I went to school. The school I went was the Pacific school. When I went to school that morning I had nothing to do. I waited sort of long before I got to go in. When the bell rang I went in.

When I was in the building I could not find the fifth grade room. So I started to go up stairs with another boy. When we were at the top I saw the principal. I was going to ask him where was the fifth grade room but I did not feel like to. As I was walking down the hall I met one of the teacher and asked her where was the fifth A class and she pointed across the hall to room 15.

When I went in we did not have nothing to do but to get ready. The time we were dismissed was 3 o'clock and I went home and change my clothes and went to work.

SALMAGUNDI

By W. T. S.

Wapato, Wash. SCHOOL has started for the Wapato youngs, and wearily the kids, both big and small, trudge back to face their books again.

To the returning ones, it seems to mean an exchange of freedom for bondage. But to those wide-eyed six-year-olds who are entering school for the first time. It means the beginning of a great adventure, with unknown thrills ahead.

Thirteen years ago Emile Masatomi, now prominent on the Osaka Mainichi in Japan, led a little youngster to the Hawthorne School, Spokane, and enrolled him in the 1B grade.

It seems so long and so long ago, but that little kid was me!

LET'S HOPE that none of the teachers will be getting notes like the one this dotting parent sent:

"Dear Teacher: Kindly excuse Jimmy for being absent from school yesterday. He fell in the mud. By doing the same you will greatly oblige his mother. Very truly yours. . ."

HAD BEEN sneezing all day Saturday and didn't know what was wrong, until Jerry came up and diagnosed it as a case of mild Hay Fever.

Vick's Vapor Rub gave me no relief and I was wondering what to do.

But Ruth Ite appeared on Sunday on a visit to Yakima Valley with her folks, and my Hay Fever disappeared pronto.

"WHO IS SHE?" they all were asking, when Ruth first appeared at a dance at Washington Hall.

Fair skin, eyes that twinkle merrily, a bewitching smile, all belonged to this "new girl from Bellevue" who came and set masculine hearts somehow to misbehaving.

A golden band about her hair, a dress of lightest soothing blue . . . Diana, goddess of the moon . . . my first impression of Ruth of the Ites, a lovely, lovable girl.

in secure projects. H. H. Okuda, president of the Oriental Trading Co., was also a speaker and advised the Club that the young people of the community should take education more seriously, since it held for them the key note to success.

Mr. Okuda declared that, if the first generation had an American education besides their Japanese, their business would have progressed much quicker. Shuichi Watanabe, interpreter, remarked that the road to business success was not in idle talk and arguments but in getting down to work. The best way to establish a business, he said, is not to make enemies but to win cooperation.
