

JAPAN IS WILLING TO JOIN PARLEYS FOR DISARMAMENT

Premier Hamaguchi Declares Nippon Ready To Aid Other Nations In Making For Permanent World Peace.

OBJECTIONS RAISED

TOKIO. — Japan will be willing to join any conference for the reduction of naval armaments which will lessen the burdens of taxation on the peoples of the world and make for a permanent peace, was the gist of the address made by Premier Hamaguchi in Nagoya Sunday.

The disarmament conference to be held in London January and to which this country has already received an official invitation, was not referred to in the Premier's address but it was significant through his address that Japan is willing to attend as a participating power to work for a greater reduction of naval armaments.

Reduction Necessary

A greater reduction, the Premier said, is necessary to lessen the burdens of taxation for the peoples of the world and to make for a permanent peace, but it was added that disarmament must be proportionate so as to safeguard the security of every nation and people.

The rumors are going the rounds here to the effect that Japan has already decided upon her delegates to the conference and that Admiral Hyo Takarabe, Minister of the Navy will be one of the representatives while the name of Reijiro Wakatsuki, former Premier, is being mentioned to lead the delegation.

France's Objections

Incoming reports from France have won some wide attention in this country, in regard to that nation's objections to being placed on a parity with Italy. France, it is known, makes the claim that an equal navy with Italy means her inferiority in that she has two sea fronts to consider.

With the Atlantic seaboard and the Mediterranean to consider in her naval defenses France feels that a parity with Italy will weaken her sea defense in the Mediterranean. However, she contends that if a sea power, not stronger but equal to that of Italy, be given her in the southern sea front together with a sufficient naval ratio in the Atlantic, she will be satisfied.

Proposal Is Objected

The submarine elimination as has been proposed by the United States and Great Britain, seems to be causing some comments here, due to the objections of France as well as by the small powers. Jugo Slavia, Holland, Spain, Greece, Norway, Sweden and Denmark are reported as being dissatisfied with the proposed conference's view towards eliminating the submarines. These nations feel that they are their only weapons of naval defense.

Whatever this proposed conference will do in regard to it will get a hearing at the preparatory disarmament conference to be held by the League of Nations after the London parley.

GERMANY FACES POLITICAL CLASH

BERLIN. — Day by day the sentiment here is growing tense and politically this country is expected to witness one of the most hectic periods in her history through the fight which impends against Republicanism.

The monarchists are making a bid to restore the throne by making an issue out of the Young plan and other international agreements which have forced Germany to fulfill obligations. The Steel Helmets and the Fascists, under Count Hitler, are assembling under the banner of Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, the Lord Northcliffe of this country. He is a strong imperialist and seems to have succeeded in confederating these two rival elements.

If the present republic successfully liberates the Rhineland and makes the reductions in debt payments, it will mean the success of the present form of government, but the monarchists are endeavoring to forestall this by immediate action now.

Former Afghan King Restored To Power

LONDON. — The deposition of Habibullah, throne usurper of Afghanistan, by Nadir Khan, is now giving rise to speculation here, whether King Amanullah will be restored to his throne by his former chieftain.

Earlier in the revolution which ended last week, Amanullah had been sent to Rome and his chieftain Nadir Khan had taken it upon himself to vanquish the usurper. It is said that Amanullah has wired Kahn from Rome and the outlook is that he will return to Afghanistan once more.

ARAI GIVES TALK TO BUSINESS MEN

Associated Businessmen Sponsor Good Will Program Thursday

Bringing a bit of Japan and the principle of a mutual understanding between the Japanese and American peoples into the midst of the Seattle Young Men's Business Club luncheon, the Associated Businessmen's Club sponsored a program of good-will at the Japan Day luncheon held at the New Washington Hotel, Thursday noon.

More than one hundred fifty members of the Seattle Young Men's Business Club, together with the representatives of the Associated Businessmen's Club and the guests of honor, were given the opportunity of hearing Clarence Arai, attorney and president of the Japanese organization, make the principal address of the day.

Potential Timbre Told

In his address Mr. Arai emphasized the Americanization of the American-born Japanese and painted their potential timbre as citizens of this country. The speaker implied that the second generation is an important link in the chain of understanding between this country and Japan and brought forth a round of applause when the Americans of Japanese ancestry were portrayed as working for everlasting world peace.

The other speaker of the Japan Day program was James Y. Sakamoto, editor of The Japanese-American Courier, who recorded his appreciation of the luncheon tendered the Japanese and emphasized the necessity of understanding and cooperation between the Japanese and American peoples. "We of the Japanese community," he said, "are also, an inseparable part, as the district we live in is an integral part of the City."

Both speakers were introduced to the diners by Ray Huff, a former officer of the American club. The luncheon was presided over by Lon Staude, president of the organization.

Entertainers Score

On the entertainment program, Mrs. K. Nakamura with her pupil Fumiko scored a hit in a Japanese dancing number, while Tomoe Takayoshi singing two numbers, accompanied by his sister Kimiko, was enthusiastically applauded for an encore. The guests of honor present at the invitation of the Seattle Young Men's Business Club, were: the Hon. Suemasa Okamoto, local Japanese Consul, S. Yamanaka, manager of the Mitsui Co.; S. Ono, manager of the Sumitomo Bank; C. Ono, manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank; T. Okuno, vice-manager of the N. Y. K. Line; R. Hagino, representing the O. S. K. Line; T. Inouye, representing the Mitsubishi Co.; H. H. Okuda, president of the Oriental Trading Co. and pioneer resident of the city.

The entire program was broadcast over K. X. A.

de Rivera Is Placed In Peculiar Position

MADRID. — Dr. Sanchez Guerra, self confessed revolutionist, who sought to overthrow the throne and who is now in the hands of the Federals, stalks Premier de Rivera with notes requesting him with an early trial at which he will be found guilty of high treason and shot. This is the fate he deserves, says Dr. Guerra himself.

The Premier, it seems, is unwilling to put this man to death since the sympathy of the public seems to be swayed to the side of the prisoner. Three other military officers charged with conspiracy and sentenced to death have not as yet faced the firing squad.

The Premier declares it is not his responsibility to force the revolutionist to trial and possible death.

SPLIT IS AVERTED AS INUKAI COMES TO HEAD SEIYUKAI

Former Minister of Communications Under Tanaka Selected To Lead Party As Compromise Measure.

PROBLEM STILL EXISTS

TOKIO. — How the Old Guards will now stick by their guns with Tsuyoshi Inukai, former Minister of Communications under the Tanaka cabinet, heading the Seiyukai conservatives, is a difficult question to fathom, but it is known that at least for the time being the threatened split in the party ranks has been avoided.

Through the selection of Inukai, a compromise has been effected to keep the two factional elements of the party in its fold. One of the factions is being led by Takejiro Tokonami, the Satsuma conservative leader who has for a long time, aspired to the leadership of the party. The other, since the death of Baron Giichi Tanaka, has been controlled by Kisaburo Suzuki, home Minister under the Tanaka cabinet.

Split Threatened

The problem was treated at the time Baron Tanaka passed away recently, that should Suzuki, who was much preferred, be given the scepter of the party, it would mean that Tokonami would bolt from the ranks with a sufficient number of the members to cripple the conservative organization. On the other hand, if Tokonami were to have been given the leadership of the party, it was seemingly possible that the reorganization of the party might have been made impossible.

The selection of Inukai has therefore come as the natural result of the political strife in the party and though this is seen to have averted any serious trouble in its administration, there are many who feel that the complications are merely being offset and prolonged to a future date.

Leadership Temporary

Inukai's leadership is not being looked upon to be a long one but for the time being, it is hoped, that his presence in the seat held by Baron Tanaka will substantially strengthen the unity of the party.

The first trial of this reorganization under the Inukai leadership will come, many believe, when the Imperial Diet opens in December and which will be followed by a possible dissolution in January. At that time the Seiyukai will endeavor to show a united front, but under the new leadership it is doubted whether sufficient time is being had to set the conservative political machine into coordinated and stimulated action.

Australian Premier To Resign Position

MELBOURNE, Australia. — Owing to the decisive defeat of the Nationalist party of which he has been the leader in the last election here, Premier Stanley Bruce is scheduled to make his resignation to the Governor General of Australia today.

'Land of Soviet' Arrives in City

Sailing out of the dawn into the clear autumnal skies over Lake Washington, the Russian plane "The Land of the Soviet" arrived here from Alaska, at the Sand Point hangar on Sunday morning, 5:30 a. m.

The four Russian birdmen, Semeon A. Shestakov, Philip E. Bolotov, Boris V. Sterligov and Dimitry V. Fufaev, were given an enthusiastic greeting by the Russian residents of this city who gathered from early dawn to witness the landing of the Soviet plane.

William O. McKay of the local Chamber of Commerce extended the official welcome of the city and the local businessmen.

The Russian plane left here on Thursday for San Francisco, on the third leg of their Moscow to New York flight.

ENVOY TO CANADA PROPHESIES PEACE

Hon. Iyemasa Tokugawa Honored By Vancouver Japan Society

VANCOUVER, B. C. — Impressed with the day which is dawning upon the Pacific Basin, an enthusiastic note of a better understanding and good-will was sounded by the Hon. Iyemasa Tokugawa, first Japanese Minister to Canada, who was the guest of honor at the banquet tendered him by the local Japan Society at Hotel Georgia on Monday evening.

The first Japanese Minister to Ottawa speaking in the clear tones of say an English diplomat, reminded his audience that British Columbia is the nearest province to Japan and that its proximity, in tying the bonds of friendship with his country made that section of Canada important.

Japan Society Lauded

In the course of his address the local Japan Society was measured as the good-will organization of British Columbia and that because of the fact that more Japanese residents are dwelling in the province than anywhere else in Canada, the work of the Japan Society possesses the high prestige that comes with the heavy responsibility of working for the amicable relations between two countries.

The Minister implied the coming of the Pacific Era and the contributions which would be made then to the peace of the world. On the shoulders of Japan and Canada, he said, rests a heavy burden in assuming the tasks to that end.

Minister Introduced

The new Minister was introduced to the Society by K. A. McLenan. Other speakers of the evening were K. J. Middleton, director of the Japan Society of Seattle, and General Victor W. Odlun.

The guests seated at the head table were: The Hon. T. Fukuma, Japanese Consul in Vancouver; H. Baird; Justice M. A. MacDonald; A. E. Holden, Japan Society Secretary of Seattle; Mayne D. Hamilton; Ald. J. H. De Graves; T. W. B. Lonson; George Kidd and Major W. R. Motherwell.

Two Japanese girls, Misses Saito and Washimoto, furnished a musical program which was capped by "Love's Old Sweet Song", which won the hearts of the listeners.

Noted Doctor Tells Hospitalization Cost

CHICAGO. — The cost of hospitalization was the subject of discourse made by Dr. William J. Mayo, famous surgeon and founder of the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn., at a recent meeting before the American College of Surgeons here, in regard to which he said that there is too much salesmanship in the hospitals and not enough sacrifice and feeling for humanity.

If over half of the population of this country were to go to the hospitals today, he said, a considerable sacrifice would be asked of them. In regard to nurses' training, Dr. Mayo implied that student nurses are forced to give too much time to scrubbing floors and making beds which time, it was said, should be used to train themselves in taking care of the patients.

CITIZENS TO FORM PLANS FOR COMING COAST CONVENTION

League Will Hold Meeting November 2 To Discuss Campaign For Funds; Committees To Be Selected.

BUSINESS MEN INVITED

The first national convention of American citizens of Japanese racial stock, scheduled to make its inaugural bow here next August, is the particular subject of interest to local Citizens' League heads and in order to begin preparations for it, the members of the local organization are to meet for a preliminary discussion of the coming event, at the Japanese Chamber of Commerce on Saturday, Nov. 2, from 8 p. m.

Already one general discussion has been held in the latter part of Spring, at which time a convention fund of one thousand dollars was decided upon. This figure will undoubtedly be retained to finance the convention through to success as well as the original proposal to invite as many delegates as possible from the various cities on the Coast and from Hawaii.

Will Discuss Plans

This coming meeting of the League will without a doubt discuss the ways and means to carry on the campaign for the funds in which various entertainments, dances and other social events will be sponsored. Also a general committee and the executive committee will be selected to start the League machinery working.

So far as present information goes, Los Angeles, Fresno, Oakland, Stockton, San Francisco, together with the citizens' leagues of other Coast cities and Hawaii will be represented at the convention. All told, the definite number of delegates from each city is not known as yet, but the local organization is confident that it will be able to take care of any number that might be sent here.

Since this is the first convention of the kind, as well as for the National Council of Japanese-American Citizens' League organized this year at San Francisco, the local Citizens' League has been impressed by the honor of holding the first of such bi-annual conferences.

Appeals For Success

Clarence Arai, who was elected first president of the National Council, has already made an appeal to the local citizens of Japanese ancestry to make for the success of this convention, feeling, he says, that it will not only redound to the credit of the Seattle Progressive Citizens' League but also to the community, as well as to the city. Local leaders of the organizations feel likewise, as do many of the old residents of the community who have even been inspired to volunteer their assistance in making for the success of the convention.

Last year the record of the local League spoke for itself in winning to it the recognition and distinction it deserves by the number of influential political leaders who addressed the organization prior to the mayoralty and presidential campaigns, as well as this year when the League instrumentally gave its support to Charles Hill who was elected to a councilmanic office here.

League Influential

This has all redounded to the credit of the local League and its influence now as the Northwest Council of the national organization provides the necessary prestige of success for the convention next year.

Besides the League members, other influential local businessmen from this district as well as from the outer sections in the city, will be asked to sit in at the coming meeting to discuss the program of preparation for the convention. Although the discussions will be of a preliminary nature, the activities of the League being crowded hereon will force some definite decisions to be made in regard to the preparations to be made.

Armed Men Destroy Building in Ireland

DUBLIN. — In a report received here early this week, three hundred armed men marched silently at early dawn to a town near Loughgal in North Ireland and bombed a new structure constructed for the Hibernian Brotherhood.

Twenty charges of gelignite destroyed the new building almost completely.

LEAGUE'S LEADERS WILL VIE FOR TOP PLACE IN LADDER

Taiyo Juniors Will Tackle Powerful Cougars In Football Tilt At Garfield

BELLEVUE TO PLAY LOTUS

In what will be the stellar attraction of The Courier Football League schedule, the two elevens now tied for first place honors will thrash it out, when the Taiyo Juniors and the Cougars clash at Garfield tomorrow from 12 p. m.

In the second attraction from 2 p. m., the Bellevue eleven will contest for third honors in the League for the first half season against the Lotus team. Tomorrow's game are all tell-tale tilts and the outcome will decide the team ratings for the first half of the six game season.

Taiyos Win Second

Playing a rugged, offensive game for three quarters, the Taiyo Juniors copped their second victory of the season from the Lotus congregation, by score of 13 to 0, last Sunday at Garfield. Neither team had a smooth running machine and numerous fumbles marred the game. The Juniors' lines showed improvement over the last game and it did creditable work in taking on the brunt of the Buddhist attack.

The Juniors started off with an offensive drive which brought the ball deep into Lotus territory. From this vantage point Ogami scored on pass. During the second and third quarters, the Juniors worked the ball repeatedly into the opposition's ground but lost the ball on incompleting passes over the goal line.

Jrs. Charge Tactics

Late in the third quarter the Juniors changed tactics and Shiraishi tallied on a neatly executed lateral pass. Matsuda bucked the line for the extra counter.

The last quarter found Lotus opening up with an aerial attack in a desperate attempt to overcome the lead. Several heaves to Iwamura were completed but their offensive was checked by frequent interception. Sonoda and Shinoda were the main stays of the Lotus line and were consistently breaking up the plays.

Cougars Win, 26-0

In the second game, in spite of the weight of the Bellevue boys, the Cougars won their second victory, by a count of 26-0.

Kambe and Yanagimachi, with their constant plunging wide gaps in the line, accounted for a touchdown apiece. The other two scores were made by Okamura. The try for point was made by a pass from Yamaka to Iki and Kambe plunging for the necessary two yards.

Others who starred were Beppu brothers and Art Sasaki. On the Bellevue eleven Tokiyo Hirota and "Biff" Koura starred.

Japan Title Won By Waseda Nine

TOKIO. — Taking their traditional rivals of the diamond down the line by a count of 6-3, Waseda University players were acclaimed the champions of all Japan in the final contest of a three game series, played here at the Meiji Shrine Stadium on Tuesday.

The series started on Sunday with Waseda scalping the Keio nine to the tune of 4-2. On the next day the Keio came back to trounce the Waseda by a score of 7-2. In the final encounter the Wasedas took the championship by accounting for a 6-3 victory.

In the three day series, more than 120,000 fans witnessed the games with a like number being turned away from the gate. On an average this seem to be larger than the attendance of the series held in America.

MACK'S ATHLETES COP WORLD SERIES

Quaker City Goes Wild As Team Takes Championship

PHILADELPHIA. — For the first time in eighteen years, the old Quaker Fathers of this city will be given a chance to witness the emblem of World Series championship flying from the mast at Connie Mack's Athletic grounds.

After Connie Mack's million dollar infield, with such redoubtable names as Home-Run Baker, Eddie Collins associated with it, was scattered by the winds of Big League fate, the downfall of the Athletics was fast and prolonged. Only until two years ago, the Athletics were forced to occupy cellar positions.

Wild Enthusiasm

The city is manifesting a wild enthusiasm for the team members but the outstanding hero of its acclaim is undoubtedly Ehmke, the lanky giant pitcher who tallied the first game for the Athletics in Chicago. This has been his last year in baseball, but if ever he should need his crullers and coffee, the indications are that he would be made an honorary mayor of this town.

The score and batteries for the series were: At Chicago, Oct. 8, — Athletics 3, Cubs 1; batteries: Ehmke and Cochrane; Root, Bush, Taylor, Gonzales; Oct. 9, — Athletics 9, Cubs 3; batteries: Earnshaw, Grove; Cochrane; Malone, Blake, Carlson, Nehf, and Taylor.

NIPPON GRIDSTERS BOW TO BALLARD IN THRILLER, 15-0

Handicapped by Injuries And Lack of Reserves, N. A. C. Outplays Foes

HAMADA STAR OF GAME

by "Chops" Umemoto

Although handicapped by injuries and lack of reserves, the Nippons gave Ballard, last year's Community League champions, a scare of their lives Sunday. Holding them to two touchdowns and a safety, the Nippons although beaten, 15-0, actually outplayed their opponents.

The Ballard team scored all their touchdowns in the first half by a series of line plunges and wide end runs. The safety was a result of a bad pass from Yoshimura, scrappy little Nippon center, that Miyagawa could not get hold of and before he had time to run or pass the ball, one of the Ballard players downed him.

Threatens Ballard

In the second half the Nippons came back strong and threatened the Ballard eleven continually with line plunges and passes. But because of lack of reserves they could not get the punch necessary to put the ball over. Watanabe missed a beautiful thirty yard pass from Hamada which should have counted. He had it in his hand but he could not hold it.

Hamada was the star of the game. His passing was a sight for sore eyes; he threw passes to left and right, first to Aoki, then to Watanabe and then to the halves over the center of the line or long ones along the sides with rare accuracy. His field generalship was excellent and he was the sparkplug of the backfield.

Backfield Crippled

The backfield was crippled with Takahashi playing with a sprained ankle, and without Kick Natori. Saki Arai was taken out in the second quarter with a sprained ankle. In the second half with a second string backfield but with fight, the Nippons outplayed Ballard.

On the line, Aoki, although injured, played a good game, snaring in passes and breaking up interference. Aside from missing the pass, Watanabe played a good game too. Paul Muraoka played a whale of a game at tackle.

The starting line-up: center, Yoshimura; guards, Kenji Hamada and S. Suzuki; tackles, Muraoka and Kaz Arai; ends, Watanabe and Watson Ihashi; backfield; Kay Hamada, quarter; Saki Arai and Shinnie Miyagawa at halves; Takahashi, full back. Substitutes, — Nakayama, guard; Seki, half and Okubo, end.

The next game will be played Sun-with Atlantic Street Merchants at the Civic Auditorium, 1 p. m.

FRESNO. — Tetsu Domoto of Sanger was recently voted as the best player on the Fresno State College football squad. He was highly praised by the Fresno Republican.

Two Net Titles Won By Sisters

Two winners with a Helen Wills' proclivities is the distinction which now falls upon a local Japanese family.

Yoshiko Funai of Garfield High School blossomed out to be a tennis star last year and this year she won the Japanese girls' tennis tournament on September 22.

Word now comes that on September 22 in Japan, Umeko Funai, younger sister of Yoshiko won the championship of Kansai at Hiroshima City when she represented the Kenritsu Girls' School.

September 22 will long be remembered by the two sisters.

JAPANESE FENCERS DEFEAT L. A. TRIO

Nippon Champions Best L. A. A. C. Experts In Exhibition Matches

LOS ANGELES. — With a special set of rules arranged for the matches, the three champion fencers from Japan, Tokichi Nakamura, Minoru Nakahara, and Hideo Akita, now visiting this country, defeated the Los Angeles Athletic Club experts in a macaronic exhibition recently.

The Japanese fencers wore their regular "gekken" regalia and used the bamboo swords, while the American fencers wore their regular outfit and used foils.

Tokichi Nakamura is the "gekken" champion of Japan and is the director of the Chosen Fencing Institute. His two companions are instructors at the same institute and are among the leading fencers of Japan.

The trio are now learning to fence with foils at the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Japanese Boy Plays On Toppenish Team

TAIYOS DEFEATED 25-0 IN TILT WITH ATLANTIC ST. MEN

Injuries Cripple Team As Tacs Bow To Atlantic Merchants At Columbia

FUNAI, ARAI, ISERI SHINE

Playing a loose and ragged game, the Taiyo football aggregation fell before the onslaught of the Atlantic St. Merchants at Columbia last Sunday, and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the Tacs found themselves at the short end of a 25-0 score.

Considerably outweighed by their heavier opponents, the Taiyos could not use their line plays to advantage, but made several long gains via the aerial route.

Several of the team's best bets were injured during the fracas, among them: Aoki, Funai, Hirose, Nishitani, and Shigeno, which further crippled the eleven.

Funai starred in the backfield. Fred Arai, tackle, and Mike Iseri, end, played bang-up ball on the line, but Coach Leo Burke was still dissatisfied with the general showing of the team.

This coming Sunday the Taiyos will face the strong University Athletic Club warriors at Broadway at 12 M. Henry ("Sparky") Kono is scheduled to don his football togs for this game, and his appearance will greatly strengthen the backfield for the Tacs.

BILLIARD BATTLE SCHEDULED SOON

THE COURIER, established January 1, 1928, shall be published with a close regard to the general principle of Truth, Justice and Tolerance, for: in the associations between nations as among mankind, truth is the compelling force of justice, the administration of which shall respond to a just call of tolerance. THE TRUMP CARD

When the London conference for the reduction of armaments holds forth in January it is not inconceivable that a greater stride toward the practical ends of world peace will be made for the abortion of any plan or agency of war which might be instrumental to policies of aggression.

It is fitting that the London conference should begin with the Kellogg-Briand anti war treaty for the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy. The conference will start with that as the basic principle as well as the mother policy to guide the parley and which will bring to the policy of reduction to prevail over the proceedings and conversations of the discussion board.

In its essence, the Kellogg-Briand multi-lateral pact not merely forms a basis for the development of the plan to make war impractical through the reduction of naval armaments, but it is, indeed, the trump card for world peace.

Of course, it is understood, that no policy for the permanent maintenance of world peace can merely rely upon the good-will of nations, if human nature today, is to be taken for what it is worth. There must be a basis for national security and which in turn is only to be solved through the establishment of a principle and definition of parity.

It cannot be questioned that the conference will face not just the usual difficulties in reaching its end but its final success cannot be measured without eradicating the suspicions which may be forced through the general discussions on the problem of parity. For example, it is possible to take the instances of the French and Italian attitudes as they are known today. Neither of the two nations object to a general reduction of armaments but in the eyes of each the proportionate ratio allowed them many not satisfy their reasons and judgment of parity.

It is the French contention that with two sea fronts a naval ratio equal to that of Italy is not sufficient. Yet if France were to be allowed a greater ratio than Italy, which might possibly allow France to retain an equal navy in the Mediterranean to that of Italy, it is understood that the latter nation will not be indifferent to the greater development of her navy.

This is but just one of the issues which might arise. There is yet the question of eliminating the submarines for uses of warfare to be linked to the problem of parity, the solution of which must be dependent upon a well defined principle of parity as to force the elimination of suspicions.

If the London conference will be able to establish a principle of parity which should found a basis for national security and eradicate the suspicions, it will not merely have successfully arrived at a just solution of the reduction of navies but will have reached the first step toward establishing the fundamental basis for a permanent world peace. The treaty for the outlawry of war, is in itself, a nourishing factor of that foundation and its binding force is the moral pressure for world peace as it should be the reason why naval armaments have outgrown their necessity, for the purpose of settling any international differences. The London parley should make good use of the trump card.

WHEN THE Seattle Young Men's Business Club invited the Associated Businessmen's Club to participate in their weekly luncheon on Thursday at the New Washington Hotel, it was a graceful gesture of friendship and a compliment paid the Japanese organization by sponsoring the Japan Day program. It is often possible that one is wont to feel prejudiced against another because of a lack of knowledge of each others feelings and power. Here is a large and powerful organization which invites another smaller club of another race to come and break bread with them at a common table of understanding. That is indicative of its desire to seek the knowledge which would make for a better understanding between two races of mankind. That spirit, is, indeed, broad which forces admiration. If all the businessmen of this city and community would adopt the spirit of the Seattle Young Men's Business Club, it is positively certain that much of the racial misunderstandings could be eradicated. That organization bespeaks the true American spirit.

THAT JAPAN is turning to liberalism may not mean that it will be the downfall of conservatism but it is significant that the democratization of the country is coming about. There is nothing to say that she is not democratized, now only for its form of government, but it is reasonably certain that it will come about in a more widespread and understood manner than heretofore. Even the fact that Tsuyoshi Inukai heads the present conservative Seiyukai, indicates the trend. The former minister of communications is what they term the liberal conservative of the party and in him the conservatives found the man to head their party. The democratization of Japan is not just a passing trend but the popular will.

A man's pride will stand just so much and no more but vanity is so weak it cannot stand any test at all.

The true greatness of a man does not lie in his ability but in the strength of his character to discriminate against injustice.

Cynicism is, usually, an outburst of concealed dissatisfaction, not an expression of constructive criticism.

UP WITH THE CURTAIN

Fates of Persons Born Between October 23 to November 22.

These Scorpio heirs generally attain to a reasonable number of years; but the close of their life is apt to be consistently tragic with its beginning. Marie Antoinette, Frigidaire, and many dark figures in the world's history of blood and crime, drew inheritance from the violent sign of Scorpio, and all proteges of the period invariably drift toward places of fire, blood, tragedy, and Chicago.

January and July should prove the most fortunate months for the advancement of all Scorpio enterprises, and these reckless people are advised to confine their palate to WAFFLES instead of PANCAKES; the former being of the NON-SKID type of food.

JUDGE-----MY CAR!

I bought a brand new second-hand car,
And it certainly behaved so kind;
For everywhere the front wheels went,
The rear ones tagged along behind.

You know, my car is the cutest thing,
Like a creation of famous Delf;
You try to make her loosen up,
And it backfires all by itself.

Like others she has her "ins and outs",
And some may think it's a bluff;
Feed her all the gas you can,
But she'll crave some stronger stuff.

On wintry morn she misbehaves,
To my chagrin and all;
But she's an easy one to satisfy,
As long as I give her wood alcohol.

She's not a bad thing to look at,
Her body is, oh so, divine;
And from an artist's conception,
She's a "find" in a long lifetime.

Try to abuse her in a snobbish way,
Scratch matches on her paint to mar;
She'll tell you where to get off at,
For she's not that kind of a car.

She's modest when it comes to speed,
And seldom do others overtake;
And to me she's like a dear sister,
For she has confidence in "4 wheel brakes".

When spring days come she's wild to go,
On the roads of the open wild;
Just take your lunch and skoot with her,
She'll act like an over-grown child.

The other day while out for a spin,
A speed cop pinched my ears;
With a slip as a formal invitation,
Beckoned me to to court appear.

The day was bright outside of court,
But within it seemed so dark;
I felt my transmission in overhaul need,
When the judge began to speak.

He roared out like a 12 cylinder car,
"How many times you have been before me!";
Says I, "I only tried to pass you on the road twice,"
But my can only do forty-three."

TALK ABOUT A DUMB GOOF--- HE THOUGHT "UKRAINIAN" WAS AN UKULELE PLAYER IN THE RAIN.

Senior: "What's meant by "FUR-FUR"?"
Frosh: "I'll bite, what?"
Senior: "DANDRUFF, you sap!"

MAN ABOUT TOWN: "SURE YOU'RE RIGHT, LITTLE GIRL, GIRLS ARE ALL BOTHERS, BUT YOU'RE AN EXCEPTION, KID."

A Scotchman after eating three peanuts before retiring, dreamt that he was on a visit to Scotland. Next day he sacrificed a nickle for a bag to see the world.

Tiny: "You know, I never argue with a fool, that's one of my virtues."
Big: "I notice one thing, you never talk back to me."

Postal Telegraph Office Is Opened

Never before in the fifty years of its existence has this community shown such rapid progress as has been observed during the past one year. One of the greatest advances made in this community toward progress has been the Second Avenue extension.

In truth, this extension has paved the way for modern business conditions in this community and the first sign of a greater day is the new Postal Telegraph Company office now located at Second and Main St.

With large and comfortable quarters equipped with the modern necessities for sending out business communications and with a fleet of messenger boys, this community can now claim a telegraph office. This is but one of the marks of progress with others following.

CANDY WEEK

By SATOSHI HOSHI

Wake up folks, last Sunday was the starting of the National Candy week which lasts till today.

Boy, you better get some candy for the Candy week, don't eat too much for you'll get a stomach ache. I'd like to get some myself, but not too much, if I do I'd get a tooth ache and go to the dentist and get it pulled out, beside it should cost too much.

Some people don't know it's the National Candy week, but I know, it was in the morning P. I.

This is the first time I ever did know that they had any National Candy week. Maybe it was for the two teams that played in the world series. I bet that was good and I was betting for the Athletics and they won.

Candies are all right but not too much. It's too bad for the little children for they can't get no money unless they ask their pa or ma for it.

What kind of candy do you like? Maybe your papa will buy some Box of chocolate candy would be good to eat for Candy week.

SELFISH AMBITION CONTRASTED WITH NOBLE SACRIFICES

Youth League Members Hear Napoleon, Livingston Compared In Sermon

CLASSES TO BE LAUNCHED

Selfish ambition and unselfish sacrifice as they have been characterized by two great men, was the essence of the sermon preached by the Rev. Paul J. Gates, when the members of the Youth League gathered for their service at the Japanese Chamber of Commerce building last Sunday evening.

The second service of the Youth League brought out a number unexpected by the officers of the League, and tomorrow when the Youth League services go into its third week, appropriate accommodations will be prepared to welcome all.

Classes Will Begin

Incidentally, at the last meeting it was announced that the League's Educational Department will begin functioning from next week when English and French classes will be held under the instructorship of Tadao Kimura, M. A., chairman pro tempore of the Department.

A sewing department for girls over the age of ten years was also announced to begin in the near future under the direction of Mrs. T. Takahashi. All applicants were asked to ask for information at The Courier office. No charges, it was said, are to be made for these instructions.

Napoleon Ambitious

In portraying a character of selfish ambition, Napoleon Bonaparte was depicted as an imperialist who sacrificed human lives and cared little for human destiny to gain his own selfish end. On the other hand David Livingston, the great Christian of England who went into the jungles of Africa to teach the gospel and to civilize the jungle natives, was brought out to recount the tale of an unselfish sacrifice to make for the happiness of mankind.

Tomorrow the League services will again start from 6:15 p. m., at the Chamber of Commerce building and everybody is welcomed by the League which will again hold a social after the service.
