ECONOMY POLICY MAY BE MODIFIED ON 5 CONDITIONS

Japan's Business Leaders Favor Government Aid To Industries; Premier, Finance Head Reconsider Rigid Policy

CHANGE MAY LIFT SLUMP

TOKIO — The financial depression which has struck this country is now making itself felt upon the economic structure of society and industry and the question uppermost in the minds of economists is whether government relief would be the advantage of the nation at this time.

The rigid economy and thrift program laid down by the Hamaguchi government is intended to be a far-sighted policy to hold the lid down while the depressing state of finance is at its ebb to blossom out when necessary capital is needed for profitable production by industry.

Must Act Now

The retrenchment program is generally approved but there seems to be some experts on the problem who opine that the present is the propitious period to loosen the hold on the government purse strings and to allow financial assistance to industry to help its present status as well as to solve, in a degree, the employment question.

One of the ardent supporters for a modification of the economy program is M. Koizumi, Minister of Communications, who feels that the time has come for the government to act in helping industry.

Minister Koizumi is of the mind that the close economy program of the government has been well for the country but that the time has arrived now to embark on a campaign to help industry. In this, Minister Koizumi has the backing of Baron Takuma Dan of the Mitsui interest, and Baron Seinosuke Co., of the Tokio Electric Co., as well as other captains of industry.

May Modify Program

It is understood, from a recent cabinet conference that Premier Hamaguchi and Finance Minister Inouye are not fully willing to support a change of the rigid economy policy but that they have given the question a thorough study which has pointed toward modification. At this time no one can predict when this modification will take place but it is almost certain that action will come soon.

The change from the rigid economy policy, however, will be based upon five points and these the Premier will, undoubtedly, ask to be observed.

These five points will be first, that thrift must be observed generally; second, that productions must be made as cheap as possible to assure foreign markets; third, reduction in operating costs; fourth, reduction of living costs by using more home made goods; fifth, to adopt a policy of industry as to establish a greater international financial credit.

Under these reforms the modification of the present rigid economy program may come to help the depression condition of industry.

ENGLAND SECOND TO RATIFY PACT; JAPAN WILL ACT

LONDON — The London naval treaty, to effect the reduction of naval armament of the United States, Great Britain and Japan, was ratified here on Thursday when King George approved by placing his signature on the document.

This makes the second nation to sign the treaty and when Japan ratifies the covenant it becomes a working agreement between the three nations.

Announcement of Britain's ratification of the pact was made in the House of Commons by Chancellor of the Exchequer, Philip Snowden, and it was received with loud huzzas, especially from the laborites section. The ratification has meant victory for labor and it is being accepted with much favor.

At the time the pact was signed it was believed in many circles, from the criticisms aroused over the treaty agreement, that it would be made a political issue serious enough to push the Labor government out of its present power. Admiral Jellicoe and Winston Churchill, conservatives, have been the chief opponents of the pact here.

Reports from Japan have it that the Japanese government will follow suit with the Emperor's approval soon.

China Trade Down Half

TOKIO — The excess of exports amounting to 5,000,000 Yen, Japan's export trade to China for June amounted to 20,000,000 Yen. The total favorable trade balance with China for the first six months totaled 24,000,000 Yen, 23,000,000 Yen less than the figures given for last year.

Teiko Kashiwagi Will Enter City's General Hospital

As one of the pioneers in the field of nursing among American girls of Japanese ancestry, a local second generation maiden is to enter the Seattle General Hospital nurses training school, starting Monday, it has been learned from the hospital authorities. The young lady is Teiko Kashiwagi, a product of a Seattle high school. Since childhood days it has been the ambition of this girl to become a nurse and her interest in the matter being such the local General Hospital extended a hand to enter her in the training school. The young lady is, probably, the first American girl of Japanese ancestry to be entered in a nurses training school here by any hospital. Dr. Ralph Magee and Dr. L. G. Reynolds took personal interest in this case.

PACIFIC INSTITUTE TO MEET AUG. 8-15

Authorities Will Discuss Outlawry Of War, Disarmament And World Peace

BERKELEY, Calif. — The Institute of International Relations is expected to bring out the significance of international understanding in making for permanent world peace when it meets from August 8 to August 15, on the University of California campus here.

One of the main topics slated for discussion is the question of disarmament and coming at the time it will, undoubtedly, assume a conservative attitude on the world court issue. If candidates standing for a wet plank will stand for the administration policy to participate in the world court, under the Hurst-Root reservation, the policies become clearly defined, but as matters stand today, the conflicting issues will have no regard for political affiliations and a hot battle is bound to be waged with many a candidate having to stand on his own feet on one or the other of the issues.

The interesting point so far as the issues are concerned is that if one candidate should take a liberal policy and stand on a wet plank he will, undoubtedly, assume a conservative attitude on the world court issue. If candidates standing for a wet plank will stand for the administration policy to participate in the world court, under the Hurst-Root reservation, the policies become clearly defined, but as matters stand today, the conflicting issues will have no regard for political affiliations and a hot battle is bound to be waged with many a candidate having to stand on his own feet on one or the other of the issues.

Out of the present hodge podge of political issues and creeds one candidate for the Senate seems to have a clearly defined view on the issues. He is Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey who will run for the Senate in the place of Ambassador Edge, former Senator from New Jersey. Mr. Morrow was a delegate to the London conference and he will undoubtedly stand for the world court and on a wet plank.

In spite of the fact that the country has been hearing many expressions of late, the dry forces are emphasizing their strength and from this angle it is possible to see that those who will be against American entry into the world court are not few in number. If anything, the conservatives are more inclined to tread a consistent path, and liberals such as Mr. Morrow are few. However, in comparison to yesterday when it might be said that the liberal element is growing strong and a broader viewpoint on prohibition, especially, and on international relations is coming to be the enlightening aspect of American politics.

Hodge Podge Situation
In spite of this indication, the present political situation is tangled. If one candidate is a wet and liberal on that issue he is likely to be against world court entrance and thus becomes a conservative, as noted before. On other issues he is likely to be drawn into the same inconsistent policy of political action. He may be power man and then fight for government control of all monopolies as well as for states right.

This is the situation as it presents itself now and the voters will be forced to either vote for the man himself and his creeds, or be forced to submit to the policies of this tangled situation.

2,000 Intelligentsia Unemployed In Kobe

KOBE. — The present unemployment situation is hard on the intelligentsia and at the latest count more than 2,000 are reported as out of work.

Of this number some 1,500 have registered with the Municipal Social Bureau for positions of any nature. Forty-five per cent of the entire number are middle school graduates between the ages of 20 to 25 with a large percentage having been unable to find work in three years.

CHINESE STUDY POLICE SYSTEM

TOKIO. — The police stations and system of Japan were studied here by 160 Chinese students who came here for that purpose recently. The Chinese students were taken to every station, here, and shown the system under which the police of Japan and this city were trained.

MEXICAN URGES U. S. ALIGNMENT

MEXICO CITY — An alignment with the United States to pit the strength of Mexico against any enemy of her northern neighbor was urged on Wednesday in a memorandum by Minister of Communications General Juan Andreu Almazan.

Such an alliance, it was pointed out in the message to the President, is necessary and would safeguard the interests of Mexico as well. In the same memorandum the minister, however, asked that counter measures be adopted by the country against the American tariff law.

PROHIBITION ISSUE AND WORLD COURT FALL VOTE PLANKS

Senators on Vacation Prepare For Fall Elections; Must Stand Squarely On Issues; Liberals, Conservatives To Fight

2 MAIN ISSUES OPPOSED

WASHINGTON — Weary senators have now trekked back to their home states to enjoy a short period of relaxation from a heavy legislative season, but in less than a month hence the signs point to an intensive fall election campaign.

It is possible to note at this time, that the one outcome of the coming fall elections may be that party lines will be split asunder, and that the country will experience one of the most intense Congressional campaigns to be witnessed in some years.

Two Major Issues

The two major issues up before the country now will show a tendency to force contradiction of party principles, political creeds and what not. These issues are, of course, prohibition and the world court questions. Now that the London naval treaty has been dispensed with through its ratification, it is not possible that it will take any leading part in the campaigns as an issue.

The battle to be waged on these issues will take on the light of a political fight between internationalism and nationalism, or of liberalism and conservatism, and it should provide an interesting angle to American politics.

The interesting point so far as the issues are concerned is that if one candidate should take a liberal policy and stand on a wet plank he will, undoubtedly, assume a conservative attitude on the world court issue. If candidates standing for a wet plank will stand for the administration policy to participate in the world court, under the Hurst-Root reservation, the policies become clearly defined, but as matters stand today, the conflicting issues will have no regard for political affiliations and a hot battle is bound to be waged with many a candidate having to stand on his own feet on one or the other of the issues.

Morrow Real Liberal

Out of the present hodge podge of political issues and creeds one candidate for the Senate seems to have a clearly defined view on the issues. He is Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey who will run for the Senate in the place of Ambassador Edge, former Senator from New Jersey. Mr. Morrow was a delegate to the London conference and he will undoubtedly stand for the world court and on a wet plank.

He may be power man and then fight for government control of all monopolies as well as for states right.

Tokio Planning Subway

TOKIO — The matter of transportation is now coming to be a serious subject for the people of this metropolis. It has been announced that the city is planning to construct a new subway soon. It has a one-mile subway in operation at the present time.

Japan's Import And Export Trade Down

TOKIO — Showing an export decrease of 284,000,000 Yen and an import excess decrease of 58,000,000 Yen over a corresponding period last year, the total merchandise exports for the first six months of this year amounted to 732,000,000 Yen, while the import excess amounted to 223,000,000 Yen. The value of raw silk exports was half that of the first six months of last year. The decline in import trade was caused mainly by the decrease in importation of raw materials.

GOVERNOR YOUNG OF CALIFORNIA ADDRESSES L. A. CITIZENS BODY

Stressing the facts that the interest and eagerness shown by the American voters of Japanese ancestry in exercising their voting rights is to be praised, and that the citizens have taken a big step forward in organizing that they might get the full value of their powers, Governor Young of California addressed an audience of 100 young people at the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. hall last Friday night.

He asserted that the young citizens, by working hard to gain their ends, whatever the goal might be, would gain a full satisfaction when their task was accomplished. Many problems faced them, he stated, but at the same time he expressed his confidence in their ability to overcome all tasks.

CITIZENS IN SOUTH SELECT DELEGATES

San Francisco To Sent 10 Members;
Fresno, Brawley, Newcastle, Other
Cities Announce Delegations

SAN FRANCISCO — The convention of American citizens of Japanese ancestry to be held in Seattle this summer has stimulated interest and activity in the various citizens' organizations of California and a large delegation from this state is expected to visit the Northwest City, it is learned from reports current here.

The two citizens to represent the New American Citizens League of this city have been chosen and they will lead a delegation of nearly eight or ten to Seattle, according to present indications. The leaders selected by the local league are Saburo Kido and Akira Horikoshi.

Other members to make up the delegation are: Lloyd Enomoto, Munio Salki and Tohiko Takao, besides several others who will definitely announce their plans to go with the delegation later on.

Fresno Has Four
Fresno is also to send a delegation of four or more and according to recent information, Nobuo Kawasaki, Masaru Kuwada, Yoshio Nishimoto and Norman Ouye have been selected to attend the Seattle conference.

The Newcastle organization is to send Thomas M. Yego and at the present time other members of the delegation are being selected to represent this new chapter of the National Council.

One of the most active citizens league along the coast this year has been the Brawley organization and two representatives were selected to be sent North with the first announcement of the convention date. These two delegates are Lyle Kurisaki and Ernest Fujimoto. The Brawley organization is taking no chances that last minute developments will hold these two from attending the convention and two alternates, W. Kawasaki and C. Akita, have been chosen to be in readiness to go as delegates.

Besides these delegates from the various chapters, Fresno's American Loyalty League, Santa Barbara and Salinas are to send up delegates whose names have not been announced.

From Portland reports have been received that a large delegation will be sent to Seattle from the league there and with the delegates from the Northwest sections near the convention city a large gathering of citizens are expected to make it one of the largest second generation projects ever to be held on the Coast, as yet.

HOOVER APPOINTS THREE TO ALASKA HIGHWAY GROUP

President Hoover early this week announced his appointments of three Americans to serve on the joint Seattle-Alaska road commission, which body will investigate the feasibility of constructing a highway through Canada with Canadian members to be selected for the commission.

The three Americans appointed were: Herbert Rice, former president of the Cadillac Motors, Inc., and present director of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce; Major Malcolm Elliott of the United States Engineering Corps and head of the Alaska road commission; Ernest Walker Sawyer, acting assistant Secretary of the Interior.

At the local Chamber of Commerce the three choices are lauded, especially by A. Curtis, manager of the Alaskan department, who has heralded the appointment of Mr. Rice as a leading automotive industry magnate now to support the Seattle-Alaska road project.

After the present election returns in Canada are known it is felt that three Canadian members to this joint commission will be chosen. The road from Seattle to Dawson and Fairbanks will be around 500 miles in length and will cost approximately $5,000,000, it was learned.

COMMITTEES GIVE REPORTS TONIGHT

Citizens Draft Tentative Agenda At Last Meeting; Despatch Copies To Other Chapters

The detailed work concerned with the coming convention of the National Council is to be expedited when the focal Citizens League comes together again this evening at the Japanese Chamber of Commerce from 8 p. m., to discuss the work of the respective committees, whose chairmen will be selected at this time.

At last Saturday's meeting the general draft of the conference agenda was submitted for the League's approval and it is to be sent down to the rest of the chapters for their sanction.

According to the agenda as roughly drafted, Mayor Edwards will be invited to open the convention on Friday morning, August 29, from 10 a. m., followed by addresses from J. J. Donovan and Clarence Arai, president of the National Council, who will act as the chairman.

Discussions Slated

In the afternoon four round table discussions are to take place with Ashley E. Holden, local Japan Society secretary, making the keynote speech before the social contacts gathering; Dean Martin, of the Political Science department of the University of Washington, taking the lead in the politics round table; Miya Sannomiya, California's second generation girl agriculturist, taking the platform in the economics circles; and Saburo Kido, one of the leading second generation lawyers on the Coast, making the leading address in the legal discussions which will include the immigration question of Japanese.

On the following Saturday morning the general assembly is to take place at 9 a. m., with Ralph Horr, King County Republican chairman, addressing the group. From 10 a. m. to 12 M. S. Sakurachi, manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank, and S. Yamanaka, manager of the Mitsui Co., will give talks before the big international relations round table. From the afternoon the four round tables are to go into session again.

This agenda is tentative and is subject to the approval of the other chapters in the National Council, to whom it is to be submitted for their approval.

At tonight's meeting the chairman of the reception, housing, transportation and information committees are to be selected, besides a report of the financial drive now being made to finance the convention.

Tokio Taxi Fare 10 Sen

TOKIO — Taxi rides in this metropolis are getting cheaper now.

Recently the scale of prices was reduced considerably owing to the financial depression which has struck this country. Formerly, it would have taken at least one Yen for a passenger to ride on a cab from one city limit to the other. These days if a cab driver gets 50 to 60 sen for such a ride he is doing well. The average fare is now 10 sen in this city.

CAPITAL TURNOVER THREE TIMES YEAR HALF POSSIBILITIES

1000 Stores Turn Over $8,000, 000 Three Times A Year; Should Do Double $24,000,000 Business For Normal Average

SPECIALIZATION REMEDY

By JAY ESSE

The business condition of this community is the economic spark of life upon which the whole structure of society here is dependent, and the reason that the present depression weighs so heavily upon the merchants of this district is due primarily to the lack of specialization, which has caused stocks to turn over at least two months behind the time it should.

That there is a necessity to reorganize the present system of business here is shown by figures which would prove the business condition to be below normal.

The main reason that the business condition is not as good as it should be is primarily due to the lack of specialization which has made for a slow stock turnover. It is noted that there are some 1000 stores doing business here, generally speaking, the capital investment being on an average of $8,000 per store. An investigation has shown that these stores transact a business of some $24,000,000 a year and this means that the capital revolves but three times a year, therefore with little profit.

Half the Business
From this it is possible to see that there is only half the business being done on the capital invested.

The average stock in the stores should at least be turned over within a maximum limit of 60 days, but as conditions are the stock turnover would be seen to be made in twice that length of time. This, of course, would mean that the necessary volume of trade is not being done and only the resulting 50 percent of the whole trade that should be done.

The average store, thus, does a volume of business below the minimum that specialization might better.

The average store, then, would do a business of about $24,000 a year, which under normal circumstances should be doing double the present volume.

Due to this condition it can be seen that the money circulation is below normal. Of course, during this period of depression it cannot be thought that the circulation of currency can reach its normal level, but if conditions were different there is no doubt but the flow of finances would be much bettered.

Behind Seasonal Business

Considering that there are four seasons during the year, it is easy enough to see that the stocks in these stores should be regulated to turn over at least once in sixty days instead of the present four months. Although goods out of season might be sold eventually, it must not be forgotten that the majority of the stock left over after the season, or at a time near its end, say during the last month of a season, cannot be sold at value, reducing the margin of profit considerably, if not altogether.

In order to carry on what one might term an up-to-date business it becomes essential to turn over stocks seasonally and at a profit.

It can be clearly seen then that in order to regulate business here on that standard it becomes necessary to specialize and carry fewer lines but a complete stock, with grades and qualities in all of them.

Every store cannot cater to all the elements of the buying public, but the stores can cater to the entire buying public here, without forcing an outflow of finance, if they will specialize and amalgamate their capitals if necessary to purchase stock at a lower rate which is only possible with specialization.

U. S. Customs Halt Russian Pulp Export

NEW YORK CITY — The first move has now been made against convict-made goods sent here from Soviet Russia in accordance with Treasury Department orders of last Friday, when two ships carrying Russian pulp exports were halted in this harbor.

The two ships were the Grelisle, British, and the Christian Brothers, Norwegian. It is understood that if the importers desire to appeal the case against the customs officials, they are privileged to do so, otherwise the ships are expected to take the exports to some foreign country.

A step is being urged in the Treasury Department to send an American representative to Russia to investigate the convict labor situation.

WASHINGTON — It has been announced that the new dirigible of the American navy now under construction will have eight German motors installed soon. The German motors are said to be more serviceable for the use. The ship is to be nearly twice the size of the Graf Zeppelin.

REDS HAVE POWER AT BAT; WILL GIVE FIGHT TO SHINKOS

Japanese Nine One Of Fastest In Empire; Toji And Nakabayashi To Pitch

ISAO NIIMI BOLSTERS TEAM

A bit of diamond classic is on tap for local baseball fans when the middle school champions of All-Japan, the Shinko Shogyo nine, invades the Civic Auditorium to do battle against the Taiyo Reds from 9:45 a. m., tomorrow.

The game is interesting in that the Taiyo Reds finished near the top of the Courier Class A Baseball League and since its playing strength has been improved and added to considerably, soon after the league season was concluded. The Shinko commercial school nine won its second straight championship this year, and they are rated as one of the fastest teams in Japan, regardless of classifications.

The Shinko nine arrived here yesterday aboard the O. S. K. liner Paris Maru. The Reds are in good trim, says Manager Sugiyama, and tomorrow when they clash the Japanese champs will be given a run for their title.

Reds Practice
All this week, it is understood, the local nine has been in strict training and everything from food to sleep has been carefully watched by the captain and coaches.

According to local observers a fast game is expected if the indications are correct. Fans here have already witnessed the Shinko boys perform when they met the Courier All-Star nine at the Coast league park last year.

The Reds, also, have been under close observation for the past several weeks during which time they were working more or less under wraps, contemplating a game with the Japanese champs. Their form as exhibited last Sunday, when they were put on the field against the opponents of the Taiyo regulars in their contest at the Woodland Heights nine, showed much promise.

Hitters On Reds
The Reds infield is intact and moves in almost perfect coordination, say observers, but the high interest is placed chiefly on the hitters of the team. Nearly all are fairly good with the strict work but George Kambe, Tad Ogami, Saburo and Shiro Iwana are looked upon as the sluggers who will drive in scores.

The team batting eye as a whole was proved when they were placed against the strong Heights nine and drove in four runs.

There may be no Bambinos but they will all hit, says Sugiyama, and observers substantiate his declaration.

Pitching Staff Good

In spite of the reason that the Shinko nine is a heavy hitting bunch, it is reported here that Keiichi Toji and Kai Nakabayashi will be able to hold their own. Toji, especially, has been pitching good ball all season and if he is hit too hard, undoubtedly, Nakabayashi, who received his first pitching tryout last Sunday, may take the mound. Nakabayashi on that occasion showed he had plenty of stuff. Isao Niimi, who was placed on the Courier All-Star nine, will be behind the bat and his presence is believed to be a big help to the team.

Players Invisible! Night Game Slated

How you going to see them in the dark?
That was question that occurred when it was learned that the Nippons are to tackle the Royal Colored Giants in a three game series of night baseball. Negotiations are being made, is was learned, to get the Seattle Coast League Park Saturday evening, August 9, for the first tilt.

FUJIS DROP GAME TO BUCKAROO NINE

Costly Errors Pave Way For Bucks' Win; M. Kato, Sub, Shines At Bat

The Portland Buckaroos defeated the Fuji nine at Sellwood Park, 10 to 5, Sunday. With the score 5 up in the eighth inning, the Fuji infield got big-hearted and filled the bases by way of errors, and outfielder Yoshida misjudged a fly that went for a home run, putting the game on ice for the Buckaroos.

Masa Saruwatari, the one and only shortstop in these parts, booted three costly chances during the battle.

M. Kato, recruit from the second team, was the shining star of the Fuji nine, smashing out a triple early in the encounter. Two of the Fuji's runs were scored on W. Shioji's sacrifice hit. Only one of the 10 markers scored by the Bucks was earned.

The Fujis collected 8 bingles, while the Buckaroos made 15, with two errors to four for the Fujis.

Batteries were: Fujis—Okuda and Kobayashi; Buckaroos—Besson, Roberts, Worthley and Simkins.

CHICAGO U. NINE TO TOUR JAPAN

Playing games in Spokane, Yakima, Seattle and Everett, four of 14 to be played by them along the Northern Pacific route, the University of Chicago baseball squad is scheduled to leave Seattle on August 20 for Japan where they will make a tour of the country, playing tilts with University nines, reports Nels Norgren, coach of the team.

The tossers were slated to leave Chicago Monday for St. Paul, where a game has been scheduled on Tuesday.

The Chicago nine is making the tour at the invitation of the Waseda University. Waseda, Meiji and Keio are slated to tackle the touring tossers at the Meiji Shrine grounds, while Waseda may play five games on the Kansai grounds with them. The Chicago team is expected at Yokohama aboard the Hikawa Maru on September 2.

TOKIO — Japan's outflow of gold and silver for June amounted to 4,000, 000 Yen, the total since January aggregating 226,000,000 Yen.

NIPPONS SHELLACK BALLARD FOR FIRST TIME THIS SEASON

Put Second Place Team Out Of Running; Veteran Nagamine Hurls Nine Frames

STAGE 4 RUN RALLY IN THIRD

Before the enthusiastic rooting of a stand of Japanese fans and a section of rooters from the Madrona district, and filled with the same pepper that saw them hand the University tatters a trimming, the Nippons gave a shellacking to the second place Ballard nine for the first time this season at the Civic Stadium Sunday, 7 to 3. The victory practically assured Madrona the pennant of the north section, while tightening the Nippon's hold on third place.

The warm sun made it veteran's day on the field, and Nagamine took the mound. He breezed along like a Cadillac motor, and when he missed Yamamura and Kuniyuki came up with a pair of fast double plays to tide him over until he was hitting on all eight again. Sam Aoki looked snappy at first as he gobbled up several from the dust.

After the first inning, when Frisk connected for a double, Nagamine was able to still the Ballard star's bat, and to scatter eleven hits over the nine cantos, three of them appropriated by Lobogh. He was backed up by some sparkling plays. George Okada snagged a long liner that got him a hand. Except that Yukio Kuniyuki made a bobble on a hard try, the Nippons played perfect ball.

Third Big Inning
Although they got only seven hits, they bunched four socks in the third inning to score four, the margin of victory. Nagamine was safe on second's error. Kaz Arai grounded out, Nagamine advancing a base.

Yamamura dumped a perfect bunt and was safe. He reached second on the shortstop's bobble. With the Ballard infield drawn in expecting a squeeze play, Kuniyuki used his cranium and placed a perfect hit over the first basemen's head, scoring both runners. Ballard was up in the air and he stole two pillows to come home as Yasui singled.

With two out Bud Davis relieved Weaver for Ballard. Sammy Takahashi smashed out a screaming liner that scored Yasui. Sam Aoki was deadballed, and Saki Arai made the third out to end the frame.

The Nippons scored one and two in the fifth and seventh. Kuniyuki scored in the fifth when he went around on infield outs, after getting aboard on a lifer. Kaz Arai started the eighth by walking, and advanced on Yamamura's sacrifice bunt. Kuniyuki singled to score Kaz, and counted himself when the shortstop bungled Takahashi's scorcher.

Diamond Hits

By TANGE
This Sunday means that I must forsake my dear bed about two hours earlier than the usual time in order to see the Taiyo Reds tackle the championship Shinko Shogyo team at the Civic Auditorium. I think the game is going to be an eye-opener for the Sunday morning fans.

The Nippons downed the Ballard nine with Nagamine doing the hurling, but there was one pitcher on the Nippons who pitched nine innings and did not get into the line-up. Jimmy Koyama started warming up in the bull pen from the first inning and kept it up for the full length of the game.

The way "General" Arai socks the ball on the fairways at Jefferson Park the Citizen's League Convention ought to be a real success.

Kuniyuki's place hit over the first basemen's head was a feature of the Nippon four-run rally.

And now they have even invaded baseball. The Japanese girls take no back seat for their boy friends who cavort on the sport field. Tennis, baseball, basketball, golf, and swimming are no longer sacred to the male. I hope that they don't take up wrestling, football and boxing.

Tomie Takayoshi does not like golf. He hits them so far he doesn't know where the ball goes.

SASAMURA SHOOTS 165 TO WIN JOUST

Wins Sonoda Cup; Hashiguchi Second In Yokohama Specie Bank Golf Handicap Tournament

By shooting a gross total of 165 strokes for 36 holes, or a net of 127, deducting his handicap of 38, S. Sasamura won the golf handicap tournament held for the employees of the Yokohama Specie Bank Sunday at the Jefferson Golf Course. He received the silver loving cup offered by Mr. Sonoda to the champion of the tournament.

Shiro Hashiguchi, by making a score of 206, minus a 78 handicap, giving him a net of 128, won second prize and a fountain pen desk set contributed by Mr. E. Ishihara, an official of the bank. He came within one point of tying Mr. Sasamura, and two of winning the cup.

Mr. Ishihara almost won his own second prize when he came in third with a net score of 137. His handicap was 44. Mr. Yamaguma, who is one of the best players in the bank, was fourth with a net 145. His handicap was 22.

8 Players Entered
Eight players were entered in the tournament, making two foursomes who went around the links Sunday. A dinner party was held for the contestants at Briar Crest Lodge in the evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Sasamura shot one of the best scores in his playing career, 8 to 10 strokes better than his usual average. Mr. Hamaguma and he each shot an 82 for the par 71 course of 18 holes.

The young beginners of the bank, Shiro Hashiguchi and Teruji Umino are planning to give the more experienced and older players a run for their money when the bank holds its next tournament sometime early in September.

George Kambe, Hitting At .400 Clip, Team Star

George Kambe, young Japanese diamond star, is fielding and hitting brilliantly for the Rainier Noble Post nine, which trimmed Bremerton Sunday for the Northwest Washington championship in the Junior World Series being sponsored throughout the nation by the American Legion.

George, who was a member of the Latona Grammar School nine, was to be cavorting around the second sack yesterday and today when his team met the First National Bank of Tacoma for the Western Washington championship. At last reports he was hitting over .400, and is lead-off man.

3 LEADING TACOMA TEAMS WIN TILTS

Buddhists Remain In Lead By Trimming Nationals; Fife and Eatonville Win Games

The three upper division teams won from the second division nines in the Tacoma league Sunday, the Buddhists remaining in the lead. The church boys trimmed the Nationals in a close, fast game, 6 to 1, in one hour and 27 minutes.

The Fife tossers won from the lowly Giants, 12 to 3, after dropping successive tilts to the two leading teams. Kuramoto led the heavy Fife bat attack with three timely bingles and a long single out of five trips to the platter. Higashi on the mound for Fife hurled a steady game, and was helped out of trouble by two snappy double plays.

The Seinenkai nine journeyed to Eatonville and dropped a close game, 12 to 10. Hamamoto, loggers' pitcher, dished up a nice game and pulled himself out of tight spots via the whiff route, depending mainly on his slow curves.

Batteries were: Nationals—Mukai and Sakano; Buddhists—Nomura and Kubo; Fife—Higashi and Ohashi, Yoshida, Giants—Fukuhara, Maeda and Kurotsu; Seinen—Tsuboi, Nakamura, Hayashi and Teraoka, Eatonville—Hamamoto and Uyeda.

MITSUBISHI COPS FLAG AS O. S. K. UPSETS N. Y. K.

Upsetting the old dope bucket, the O. S. K. tossers slashed out a 20 to 10 victory over the N. Y. K. team to put the Nippons out of the running for the championship and giving the Mitsubishi nine the pennant of the Japanese Commercial playground ball league, Tuesday at Colman Playfield.

A victory for the N. Y. K. tossers would have placed them in a tie with Mitsubishi for the league flag. They are now in second place.

Mitsui and O. S. K. are to tangle, the loser to be the cellar champ and the winner to tie with N. Y. K. for second place.

The standings to date are:

	W	L	Pct.
Mitsubishi	4	2	.666
N. Y. K.	3	3	.500
Mitsui	2	3	.400
O. S. K.	2	3	.400

TAIYOS LOSE HARD TILT TO WOODLAND NINE AT BROADWAY

Red Team Players Used To Prepare Them For Shinko Shogyo Game

NAKABAYASHI SHOWS PROMISE

Before a large crowd of fans and on-lookers, the Taiyo nine went down to defeat before a strong Woodland Heights team at Broadway Field last Sunday.

In spite of what the score of 9-4 might indicate the game was a thriller. When Roy Sakamoto was rushed in to stem the Woodland tide, the game was too far gone for the Taiyos to make an even start.

Kai Nakabayashi, third baseman, was given the chance of doing mound duty for the Taiyos and it seemed that with a little more experience the sturdy infielder would blossom out into a regular slab artist. He allowed but few scattered hits during the first part of the game but in the sixth timely hits bunched told against the Japanese. Until that frame the score had been even and when Sakamoto was rushed in to dam up the rush of Woodland hits and scores, the regular slabman could do little to avert the result.

However, in the succeeding innings Roy was warmed to his task and retired his opponents in quick style.

Regulars Rest

The stick work of the Japanese was slightly weak to make things hot for the Woodlanders, but nevertheless plays were made interesting. In spite of the fact that many second string players were used to give the regulars a chance to rest after a rather strenuous season which started when the Taiyos entered the Inter-City League on short notice several weeks ago, the Japanese got on bases often but the final punch was lacking to drive them in. Kawaguchi, catcher and Aoki, leftfielder, were about the only regulars who played throughout the game.

The second string men were from the Taiyo Reds who were being prepared for their encounter tomorrow against the Shinko Shogyo middle school champs of all Japan. No game has been scheduled for the Taiyo first nine tomorrow.

Japanese Stars Win Honors At Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, Norway — In the international meet held here on Tuesday, the field and track athletes of Japan placed four first place winners as well as to capture other second and third place honors.

Kimura of Japan entering the field against strong competition in the running high jump event took first place by making a jump of 1 and 90-100th meter. In the pole vault event Nishida won first place with a high mark of 4 meters while Mochizuki, also of Japan, captured second honors with a jump of 3 and 70-100th meters.

Yoshioka, Japan's ace in the 100 meter run ran off with the honors in this event by negotiating the distance in 11.1 seconds. Close on his heels came Nakajima who made the distance just one-tenth of a second behind Yoshioka.

In a thrilling display of team work and coordination the All-Japan relay team captured the 800 meter distance by negotiating it in 1 min. 59.8 seconds.

REGULATION OF BUSINESS

The necessity of specialization becomes all the more essential in the stores of this community when it is considered that there is need of a better regulation of stocks to cater to the seasonal buying publics.

We have in this community business with a capital investment of some Eight Million Dollars, from a general viewpoint, doing a business which brings in a gross income of some Twenty-four Million Dollars a year. That the scale of business being done is below normal is emphatically expressed by the figures themselves.

Of course all the money is not invested in stores, but generally speaking the business of this community is in the merchandise and various other stores which cater to the every day needs of the buying public, and assuming it from that viewpoint it means that the capital investment made in stocks revolves but three times a year. From a normal condition of business it is easily perceivable that this is doing only fifty percent of what the capital should allow the stores of the community to do in a year.

If there are four seasons to a year, namely, winter, spring, summer, and autumn, it simply means that there are only three months or ninety days in seasonal stocks that can be turned over. In making the turnover the trade figures of this community would show that the stock turnover is only three times a year and that it takes four months before a seasonal line of goods is turned into cash.

Ordinarily stocks must be turned over in a maximum of sixty days if a normal condition of business is to be the lot of this community.

If say a merchant here could stock his store with spring goods to be ready for the season when it comes and turns it into cash at the maximum of sixty days this would mean that the capital would revolve six times during the year or twice the number of times as at present to accrue a sufficient margin of profit.

In order to realize this it becomes necessary, then, for the merchants to specialize in the stocks they carry instead of carrying a little of everything and not enough of anything. It means that there is a necessity to cater to certain needs of the buying public and not to all needs which possibly cannot be accomplished. It means that there is the essentiality of carrying a full line of a certain or few lines of stock that the buying public desiring to purchase these goods may find all grades desired.

Furthermore, it can be seen that purchasing in a few lines of stock a greater volume can be bought and at lesser rates than at a minor quantity, and the different grades shown to the buying public might be made all the cheaper.

Unless the community's business condition cannot be bettered it must be understood that this district will not be making its proper contribution in the growth and development of the city. If business in this district is so bad that we cannot support our stores, the individual resident here will not be able to go outside to spend his money in the things which the community stores do not have.

Therefore, it is necessary that the buying public here, exercise their judgment in regard to the stores of the district as must the stores in regulating their business that the needs may fit the want of the season and the desire. There is evident need for a regulation of business in the stock to be bought and to make a better check on the volume of consumption. This will make for economy and profit.

"CONFERENCE MADNESS"?

The pot seems to be boiling, down in San Francisco on what is termed the "Conference Madness" but it is possible to note, in this day of progressive thought, that if such a craze had begun since the beginning of time much of the ills of the world and of the society of mankind might have been eliminated ere this day has come to pass.

In a larger sense conferences have been instrumental in starting a thought movement through the dissemination of information and no one can gainsay the fact that thought is the seed of action.

In May of 1929, a conference of citizens of Japanese ancestry was held in San Francisco and it not only conceived the New American Citizens League of that city but it paved the way for the coast-wide convention of the National Council of Japanese-American Citizens Leagues to be held in this city the latter part of this summer. There was nothing mad about that conference nor was it the result of a "conference madness."

About three or four years prior to that time the American Loyalty League of Fresno held a coast-wide conference in San Francisco which heralded the day of the second generation citizens and it began a coast-wide movement of political participation and interest among Americans of Japanese ancestry. If this is a result of the "conference madness," it is obvious that the craze would prove beneficial to the second generation as well as it would do credit to the progenitor race.

The coming National Council convention is the product of the San Francisco conference. The convention has a practical end to attain and if that objective is to be recognized as being the result of a "conference madness," then the solidarity of second generation votes, the unification of the Americans of Japanese ancestry to play a rightful part in American political life and the progressive concepts held by voters of Japanese ancestry must all come under the blanket term of "madness."

Of course, it is understood that every American of Japanese ancestry must stand on his own feet. He must be sturdy as were his parents. He must realize that all his time cannot be taken up by idle talks and social events. But must the coming convention necessarily be construed in advance as a big social event and constitute an idle discussion of things which may not be worthwhile?

Every American of Japanese ancestry must stand on his own feet but that does not imply that he must not cooperate and no cooperation is genuinely possible without getting the necessary information such as a conference or a convention is able to disseminate.

In this country, today, we have two powerful political machines which practically control the destinies of millions as well as the fate of our country. The American voters of Japanese ancestry are rightfully privileged to have a voice in government. Do they have it? They do in a theoretical sense but not in the manner that they should, which could be accomplished through a greater recognition of their voting power. This power is impossible without a political participation through the stimulation of a political interest among the second generation voters. The coming convention intends to bring about a unified thought among the Japanese-American citizens on this point and it should not be discouraged if the good of the country as well as the well-being of the second generation is to be considered.

There is no necessity for one to keep his nose too close to the ground if he can attain progress by looking above on occasions. The coming convention is intended to lead the voters of Japanese ancestry to look ahead toward progressing their aims. There is nothing of the "conference madness" in this.

ENGLAND RATIFIES

England has now ratified the London naval treaty and as soon as Tokio sees fit to do likewise it will become a working agreement with the United States, Great Britain and Japan as a measure to attain proportionate parity among them as well as to practically begin the reduction of naval armament from a given point.

Japan, today, is deeply engrossed in the consideration of the London agreement, but with the approval by the British government of the treaty it would seem that she, too, will fall in line with a program which cannot but mean the strengthening of international accord through a clear understanding that each one possesses the means to assure her own security from any untoward aggression. The United States took the lead in ratifying the pact and England, in spite of the bitter criticisms of it, ratified. Now, it is only up to Japan to make this convention what the Washington conference treaty for the limitation of capital ships is today, and in this it cannot be doubted that Japan will respect the motive and the purpose the pact seeks to attain.

England's ratification of the London treaty has been to patent the truth that war must be outlawed and that world peace must be made permanent at the slightest expense to the peoples and nations of the world.

KNOW YOUR POLICY

When the fall elections come about and the two major issues of the campaign are harped on by candidates of the upper and lower houses of Congress, it evidently will seem that every voter in the country will be forced to know his political policy lest contradictions occur through following the dictates of issues as they may be.

A voter with a liberal viewpoint, undoubtedly, would vote for a candidate who stands for modification of the prohibition law, and the entrance of this nation into the world court. A conservative would vote just the opposite while a radical, as that element is controlled by political passions, would be indifferent to the principles and cater to the particular prejudices of the voting public.

Know your policy and be consistent would seem more in line with the principles of a respectable voter, at least. But the political hodge podge will brew with many undesirable inconsistencies.

The monkey gland craze seems to have simmered down but the jazz stimulant keeps.

The social celebrities of Main Street often emulate the elites of Broadway but fail to remember the real aristocrat of Park Avenue.

It's a queer selfish world we live in. The man who can pay can run-up a bill. For the poor man it is cash and carry.

TALK ABOUT A DUMB GOOF..... HE THOUGHT "WINNIPEG OF MANITOBA" WAS A JAPANESE BEAUTY WITH A WOODEN LEG. Current Events: "Gotta cigarette?"

HEARD IN THE TRAM.

"I sent my husband to the grocery yesterday to get some food, and can you imagine as to what he returned home with . . . he had three dozens of one kind of cookies and a dozen each of two other kinds and three cans of fish, cheese, a box of crackers and a head of lettuce."

"My husband is the same way whenever I send him to the store."

"All men are alike in that respect."

"Good morning Mrs. Brown, how is your husband?"

"He's still in bed, thank you."

"I think 'a leg of lamb' is the best for dinner."

"That's the hind-quarter, is it not?"

"Well, I don't know, anyway I ask the butcher for a leg of lamb to roast."

"Garlic is the thing to flavor it so nicely?"

"How many buttons do you use?"

"Oh, generally use one to two, which way it's more convenient."

"Another good thing for dinner is pork chops filled with dressing."

"How interesting, it does sound delicious."

"Wait, you haven't tasted it yet; but the first thing to do is to tell the butcher to cut your chops double with two ribs attached and to run his knife into the fleshy part opposite the bone. Then mix up some tasty dressing and fill into the pockets using toothpicks to seal the opening. Then place into a slow oven, no . . . broil it first, and then let it bake slowly for an hour or so."

"I'll have to try it the next time."

"Do, and be sure to follow my directions correctly or it is apt to spoil."

"Good-bye, I'll have to get off."

"Good-bye."

"Oh, isn't this weather beastly?"

"No, its raining a downpour, my dear."

"Who is it, that women over yonder with a fur collar?"

"I don't know, but I think its disgraceful, don't you?"

"Keep your feet where they belong, young man."

"Pardon me lady, I thought it was the heater."

"Oh Rose, its nice to see you again after all these days?"

"My, but you are looking nice."

"What brand of powder do you use?"

"The same kind that I've always been using."

"No, but it looks so different!"

"Really?"

"Yes."

"My, but this car is slow; we'll be late for dinner."

"I do hope we'll get there on time for I haven't had anything since last night and have been counting on this dinner."

"Oh, isn't he stunning?"

"Who?"

"The man standing up near the exit."

"The motorman?"

"Don't be so dumb!"

"How are the folks, Mary?"

"Fine, and how is your foot, Mr. Jones?"

"Oh, isn't it so disgusting the way the young folks are carrying on these days?"

"It certainly is terrible; I have just heard from Mrs. C. that the girl next door was seen to be going to a movie with another man besides Elmer. And Elmer is such a nice boy, so innocent and thoughtful and besides he's so wonderful to his mother, for he always come home for dinner but the sad part of it is . . . he's out of work."

"How is your baby Myrtle?"

"He still enjoys spinach and everything that's green."

"How lovely."

"He certainly knows what is good for him."

"I wish my husband was as bright as your baby to know just what is good for him!"

"Well, how's everybody?"

"Don't know about the rest of 'em, but as for myself, I am doubtful to cast an opinion even to my credit."

"Why, what's wrong?"

"My bills are due tomorrow and since the Wall Street Crash, the newspapers at home are coming down. We can't extend our credit any longer."

"The success of my pies are due to the simple fact that I use sundried grapes."

"Perhaps its just a miracle that I have equal luck, but I use raisins."

"No sir, mother hasn't been the same since sister ran away with that 'good-for-nothing beau of her's."

"How's that?"

"She took along her new Sunday coat."

"Hush Jimmy hush, not so loud, mother will soon get off with you."

"But, oh ma . . ."

WEENIES WIN TILT

By SATOSHI HOSHI

A picnic was sponsored by the Associated Business Men's Club at Seward Park Wednesday.

There were many cars to bring the business men over to Seward Park to picnic.

Ralph Ochi rented a row boat to ride in. The boat house was quite far from where we were picnicking. It is lots of fun to ride in a boat and it's lots of fun to row a boat.

I bet it is fun riding in a canoe. If you lean on one side of the canoe the canoe will tip over. I guess you have to be careful when you are riding a canoe.

Choose Sides

Taki Arai and Rio Kashiwagi chose sides. Names were given to both sides. They were named the Weenies and the Boloneys. Aren't those names funny?

Taki Arai was the captain of the Weenies and Rio Kashiwagi was captain of the Boloneys.

In the first the Boloneys were ahead by the score of 5-0. They held the score 5-0 until the end.

Mr. Hoshide was up for the Weenies with bases full and knocked a homer that brought in three runs.

Toshio Hoshide of the Boloney's knocked a homer.

Then they made three more runs in order to take the victory over the Boloneys in the indoor tilt. The score was 6-5.

Thomas Ogawa of the Boloneys knocked a double for his side. There were only three bases, first, second and home so that would be counted as a triple I guess in four bases.

Some of the best players on both sides came from the Mitsubishi team. There were two, one Thomas Ogawa and the other Toshio Hoshide.

Taki Arai took the mound for the Weenies. Rio Kashiwagi took the mound for the Boloneys.

Life-Savers Save

If any of the players knocked the ball into the water they were out so they put life-savers there to save the ball from going into the water, and to save the batter from being out.

After the game Rio Kashiwagi and I went swimming. I guess we were the only ones in this bunch that went swimming. Some went boating in Ochi's row boat which he rented. Before we went swimming we had watermelon to eat. The water was sure cold when I first went in. It is lots of fun to swim or play in the water. My teeth were chattering all the time.

The only thing that bothered us were the mosquitoes. Piles of those mosquitoes were flying around us. Maybe some people went home with mosquito bites on them. I think I did anyway. Did you folks that went have any mosquito bites on you?

"MI AI" BRINGS BOY AND GIRL TOGETHER BEFORE MARRIAGE

Parents And "Nakaudo" Hold Ceremony With Young Couple In Shrine Or Hotel

BRIDES-TO-BE OBEY PARENTS

By SATO KAWAGUCHI

How do the young people in Japan get acquainted?

I was curious for here schools were not coeducational and seldom did I see young people in couples enjoying the casual or intimate friendships in public or at home.

The eligible girl and boy, at the consultation of the respective parents and the "nakaudo" or third party, are brought together for the first time at a "mi ai" or secret meeting which may occur at the home of the "nakaudo" or in a temple garden.

Glimpse Charms

I become so enraptured with my first glimpse of the "mi ai" that they must have found me most guilty of intruding upon their private affair.

After the successful culmination of the "mi ai" the wedding ceremony may also be held at the hotel, though usually it is held at the shrine. The ceremony is often a small affair in which only the most important members participate.

The ceremony usually begin about 4 p. m. when guests numbering at the most from 300 to about 20 for the small affairs, begin arriving.

Bride Remains In Room

In the meantime, the bride will remain in her room until the time of the banquet arrives when she will stand with the groom at the doorway, bowing to each guest as he enters.

While friends of the youthful pair in America will predominate, at their banquet in Japan it is the friends of the parents in their somber black kimonos.

There is a deeper significance and formality in the various proceedings of the marriage even as the bride and groom remain till the last guest has left, each receiving a neatly wrapped gift of some elaborate patterned cake or candy.

After observing several weddings in Kyoto where parents still take such a high hand in the marriages of young people, I could not help admire the marvelous respect and obedience the girls hold towards their parents.

Hear Ye! Yakima

By MARY SAKIMURA

Yakima residents need not expect opportunity at the door for about five of the following weeks. Yakima girls have become sales agents, selling perfume to obtain a portable phonograph for their club.

Five things Yakimans are noted for are:

- 1. Having a craze for antiques and bric-a-brac, especially old Fords.
2. Having a coat of tan all year round.
3. Everybody can play "Peter, Peter pumpkin eater" on the piano, regardless of the tempo.
4. Nobody's afraid of water. Come on with a water fight!
5. Having the so-called "cutest boy in Yakima Valley"—"Toss" Hagiya.

MOSQUITOS ENJOY PICNIC AT SEWARD

Young Men Turn Cooks For Evening; Weenies Beat Boloneys In Indoor Tilt

By MUR REAL

God bless the mosquitos! Slap! Slap!

It was a grand and glorious outing that the Associated Business Men's Club held at Seward Park Wednesday evening. Ya betcha life! Slap! And them was some mosquitos. Ya betcha.

Four Fords, a Packard and a Hudson, transported a crowd of 14 people to the grounds, including Satoshi Hoshi, who takes up only half the space adults take.

At the hour the chef was in demand, as was Rainier Special, so near to beer. Dr. Tetsuji Nakamura qualified for a job with a delicatessen store, while Toshi Hoshide showed no mean ability at slicing pickles and boloney.

Later, Clarence Arai, the great mound artist, took the hill for the Weenies, who scored a decisive victory over the Boloneys, 6 to 5, proving that a good little sausage is as good as a big good sausage.

The hardy spent some pleasant hours aboard the yacht borrowed by Ralph Ochi from the boathouse at four bits the hour.

PORTLAND PLAYS HOST TO CADETS OF Taisei Maru

Japanese Training Ship Makes Rose City Week's Visit; Large Crowd Welcomes Men

CONSUL ASINO GIVES TEA

PORTLAND — Hundreds of city officials and Japanese of the Rose City were on deck to greet the Taisei Maru of the Navigation College of Tokio, which trains officers for the Japanese merchant marine, when the ship made fast at the local pier Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on a week's official visit.

The hospitality committee of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, city officials, both American and Japanese, and many people made them welcome to the city. Sunday afternoon the crew and the cadets were invited to the Lotus Isle Amusement Park.

The Junior Girls of Portland served tea to the cadets at the home of Consul Asino on Monday evening. An informal talk was held.

Inspect Terminals

On Tuesday the cadets inspected the terminals and the public docks. The Crown flour mill and the paper mills were visited during the tour.

The Clark and Wilson lumber mill and the logging camp of some company were visited on Wednesday. An auto trip along the Columbia Highway was made the following day. The cadets were free to do as they pleased on Friday. Today the cadets presented various exhibitions and drills on the ship.

The Taisei Maru is to leave for Japan tomorrow. The ship will not visit Seattle.

Miss Asino Arriving Aboard Hikawa Maru

The passenger list of the new N. Y. K. motor ship, Hikawa Maru, which arrives here on Wednesday, August 6, will include three notable persons well known in this city.

Mr. H. H. Okuda, president of the Oriental Trading Co., will be returning here after a nearly five months sojourn in Japan while Dr. H. Takashima, well known child specialist of Japan, is to come here to begin a coast-wide study and lecture tour. This will be the latter's second trip here in two years.

The third party is Miss Kimiko Asino, sister of the Japanese consul at Portland and who was here as a member of the good-will delegation sent by Japan in April on a wide tour of the United States to thank the American people for their aid during the quake of 1923.

Later, Clarence Arai, the great mound artist, took the hill for the Weenies, who scored a decisive victory over the Boloneys, 6 to 5, proving that a good little sausage is as good as a big good sausage.

SALMAGUNDI

WAPATO, WASH. According to the letters I've been receiving, the weather in Seattle must be swell.

In Wapato, the weather is more than swell. It is swel-ter-ing.

Dave Yamaka says he likes Toppish. Both positively and Taz-atively.

Dear Kaoru Sakai: With pouting lips and pleading eyes, You say, "Don't call me 'Kow,' I've always termed you in that wise, Why should I change it now? Besides, you play such MOO-sic, nice, To me, you're "Kow" an' How!

Seattle's second generation fashion plate, Howard Kakudo, cut short his summer vacation in Wapato and returned to the Coast last Sunday. Our Beau Brummel said that Yakima Valley would be O. K. if it weren't for the heat and the flies and mosquitoes.

RIDDLE: If the Jack of Clubs gets a crush on the Queen of Hearts, does four of a kind beat a pair?

Art and Dave, Art and Dave, Pretty soon they'll need a shave.

We think that Martha Suzuki ought to be nicknamed "Honey Dew" because she is both smooth-skinned and sweet.

And since Masato Yamamoto is popularly known as "Spud," why not add to the list:

Cara Matsushita.....Carrot Minoru Omori.....Watermelon George Honda.....String Bean Jimmy Umemoto.....Eggplant

Green Peppers are full of pep and so is Queenie Sagara. Only she isn't a green pepper any more. She passed that stage long ago. Now she's a Chilean pepper, the red kind, and hots hots.

Bookkeeping in Wapato is no cinch. With eight Yamamotos, three Sakamotos, and three Inouyes raising kids and canteloupes, it is a gigantic task to keep their accounts from getting all mixed up.

In order that we may distinguish them, we know the various Yamamotos as Garage Yama, Toppish Yama, Peter Yama, Tacoma Yama, Straw Hat Yama, Harry Yama, etc. Johnson Shimizu suggests another one: Bow-legged Yama. Johnson would.

RUTH FRENCH IS GIVEN WELCOME

A number of the older of the second generation people who had at one time or another attended the Japanese Baptist Church lived in memories of yesterday, when a large gathering of friends met to welcome Ruth D. French, formerly of the Baptist Church here, and now of Milford, N. H., on Tuesday evening at a reception tendered her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Andrews of Maple Leaf.

Miss French arrived here late Sunday evening, accompanied by her friend, Miss Wadley, after visiting the Yellowstone National Park. In the party which gathered to welcome the well known visitor here were many old faces. Among them were: Masuo Hoshide, Toshi Hoshide, Yoshi Yorita, John Minami, Amy Okazaki, Henry Tatsumi and Mine Yoshida.

Others were: Kenneth Hideo Amano, who was there with his wife and baby, and Earle Akira, a notable guest in that it was his first introduction to his father's former teacher. Other first generation guests were also present, among them being the Reverend Okazaki and Mrs. F. Okazaki, Miss Herd, Miss Romsey and Mrs. Amano.

JAPANESE MAIDS LEARN MEANING OF FLOWER ART

Mrs. Otani Teaches Theory Of Heaven, Earth And People Underlying Flower Arrangement

GIRLS' CLUB SPONSORS TALK

The interest which is growing in Japan's old culture that has played an important role in the life of the Japanese people since the Empire first began, is now being manifested in a flower arrangement class organized by the local Girls' Club and held at the Japanese Presbyterian Church every Thursday evening from 8 o'clock.

The dainty misses who attend, with but one or two exceptions, are American-born, employed by local firms as stenographers, book-keepers and sales ladies. On Thursday evenings they change into artists, culturally inclined, to learn the how and wherefore of flower arrangement which to many might mean nothing but the artistic placing of cut flowers in a vase, but which to the Japanese woman means, a clearly defined meaning of heaven, earth and people, or father, mother and children.

These girls, 11 of them, are under the instruction of Mrs. Otani a well-known flower arrangement expert and artist. Three lessons have already been given and experts who have witnessed the young ladies arrange flowers contend that the second generation will not be without their exponents of the art.

Follow Theory

The eleven girls are taught to follow the theory of heaven, earth and people depicting the universe in arranging the flowers, and a theory which in a smaller way has been fitted to the family institution as it is composed of the father, mother, and children.

The girls learning the art are: Yurino and Kimiko Takayoshi, Motoyo and Mina Kimura, Miko Matsuda, Jackie Shizuko Nakagawa, Sada Seki, Ruth Ite, Sunako Teramai, Masako Hotta, and Chizu Shigemura. Other Girls' Club members have been urged to attend the classes.

Girls' Club Will Hold Outing Over Tonight

The annual outing of the Girls' Club is to take place when the 15 to 20 members of the organization leave for Whidby Island today to remain overnight at Dr. Strong's Professional Point camp.

The girls will leave this afternoon at 2 o'clock and arrive back here sometime tomorrow afternoon. The chairman of the party is Sada Seki, in whose hands have been left the details of the outing.
