National Party To Hold Conference Early Next Month To Further Principles of Modern Republic

COUNCIL HEAD RESIGNS

SHANGHAI—The strenuous effort China is making to establish a modern republic will be manifested at the coming people's national convention to be held in Nanking from May 5.

This conference is convening three years after the commencement of the five-year period of political tutelage which Dr. Sun Yat-sen planned for his country. Although dead for six years, his ideals still dominate republican China.

His plans for China's reconstruction are the moving principles behind the government at Nanking, and it is to pay a tribute to his memory as well as to follow his principles that the convention has been called.

Test For China

This conference may prove to be the test of the success of the first three years of political tutelage under Dr. Sun's plans. At the completion of the five years, however, another greater conference will be held in order to insure China's stability and permanence as a constitutional democracy.

A provisional constitution will be presented at the May conference despite the opposition among the members of the Kuomintang, the National party now in power. This is one of the outstanding points to be considered at the conference and its importance has forced its consideration, although it threatens to break up the National party.

Leaders Resign

The president of the Legislative Yuan, or council, Hu Han-min, resigned his position after his opposition to the provisional constitution proved unsuccessful.

The leader of this convention will not be the present National party heads, but the spirit of the Doctor, in the shadows of whose magnificent mausoleum the representatives from all the districts of China will gather to hasten the day when the Chinese republic will be firmly rooted in the soil and the national reconstruction will have been accomplished.

GROUP EXPLAINED HOTEL BUSINESS

In one of the most comprehensive talks ever given at the noon luncheon, Tsuru Nakamura spoke to the Associated Business Men about the different phases of the hotel business last Wednesday noon.

Declaring that investments in hotels proved a profitable enterprise, he pointed out this line as a favorable business for second generation individuals or groups.

The selection of the hotel clerk, he informed the group, was one of the most important phases of the business. Business acumen, salesmanship, courtesy and keen judgment were some of the factors that combined to make an efficient hotel clerk, according to Mr. Nakamura.

Fred Hamada is scheduled to give a talk on oil at the next meeting of the club.

The tunnel is 31,831 feet in length.

PRIZE ANNOUNCED FOR 1st TO SPAN PACIFIC IN PLANE

TOKIO—Augmenting the number of prizes that have already been offered for the first nonstop trans-Pacific flight, the Asahi Shimbun, one of Japan's leading newspapers, has announced a substantial monetary award for the success of such an enterprise.

The Asahi prize is for $50,000 in case it is a Japanese aviator who first spans the Pacific in a nonstop flight, or $25,000 in case the successful adventurers are foreigners.

In announcing the prize, it was declared that "By the project, the Asahi newspapers hope to encourage the spanning of the Pacific by airplane, thereby furthering civilization as well as bettering the friendly relations of the nations bordering the Pacific."

Thomas Ash, Jr., who intends to attempt the hop late in May, was the first to sign up for this $25,000 award.

LEAGUE PROTESTS SEGREGATION BILL

Separate Schools For Indians, Orientals Proposed In California Legislature

LOS ANGELES—The local citizens league is now making an active campaign to fight the segregation bill at present before the Senate Educational Committee of the California state legislature.

This segregation bill proposed by Assemblyman Bliss was amended last week by the author. The amendment reads as follows:

Bill Amended

"The governing body of the school district shall have power by a two-thirds vote thereof, to establish, or by a majority vote, to discontinue, separate schools for Indian children or Chinese, Japanese or Mongolian children, such schools to comprise one or more kindergarten or elementary grades, but not to include any grade higher than the eighth grade.

"When separate schools are established for Indian children or Chinese, Japanese or Mongolian children, such children must not be admitted into any other school. Such separate schools must possess substantially the same educational facilities and offer substantially the same educational courses, as any other school in the district, provided that there may be differences in administration and instruction as are advisable by reason of race or language or pre-school environment."

Progress Hindered

The league feels that such a move will greatly impede the Americanization work among the Japanese children as well as hinder their progress in schools and in later life. Therefore, a strong movement has been launched to prevent the passage of such a measure.

The league has issued a call for concrete data concerning the scholastic and deportment records of the Japanese students that the presidents of the Japanese students' clubs in various California schools may be able to furnish.

Development Seen In China Air Routes

TOKIO—All the important points in China will be soon linked with air routes, due to both the keen competition among the powers for leadership in air service in that country and the increasing investments China is making in aeronautic developments, says the Osaka Mainichi.

New Stimson Policy Toward Nicaragua Arouses Criticisms

WASHINGTON—An ever increasing storm of criticism is being hurled at the state department and the Hoover administration for their alleged reversal of Nicaraguan policies.

Secretary of State Stimson announced last week-end that Americans who remain in the interior of Nicaragua do so at their own risk and no protection will be offered them by the U. S. Marines. The Coastal ports, however, will be patrolled until danger from attacks by the bandits and the insurgents is over, he declared.

Policy Denounced

Two Democrats senators, William King, Utah, and Duncan Fletcher, Florida, denounced this new administration policy as a vacillating one. Senator King, in criticizing the move, declared that the United States should not have gone into Nicaragua in the first place, but once having done so, the government should have seen to the full protection of all Americans in the country.

Senator Hiram Johnson, California, denounced the new policy, stating that the United States government should devote more time to safeguarding American interests instead of becoming entangled in European affairs. He made an especial attack on the naval limitations treaty as an example of foreign entanglements.

Stimson's Defense

Despite the vigorous protests from many sources, Secretary of State Stimson with the approval of President Hoover is determined to pursue this policy. He declared in defense against the criticisms that there has been no change in the Nicaragua policies.

"By assisting the government of Nicaragua in organizing and training competent guards, we are furnishing the most practical and effective methods of meeting the bandit problem," he stated. "It is the primarily the right and duty of the government of Nicaragua to solve this problem."

In Republican senatorial circles it was thought that this administration policy was formed because of the belief that trade with Latin American was being injured by the presence of American Marines in Nicaragua.

INTEREST GROWS IN NONSTOP HOP ACROSS PACIFIC

With considerable prize money awaiting the aviator who successfully spans the Pacific in a nonstop flight, keen interest is shown in the enterprise among the Northwest aviators.

A mystery pilot is contemplating a Seattle-Tokio flight, it was learned, when the Boeing Field received a request that the runway be extended another 2,000 feet so that the pilot may take off with a heavily loaded ship.

$30,000 Prize

Two other men, said to be prominent aviators, were rumored as planning the flight, but due to insufficiently developed plans, no announcement could be made.

Prize money for a Seattle-Tokio nonstop flight has now reached almost $30,000, including additional subscriptions to the fund and the accumulated interest in order to win the award, the aviator must complete a Seattle-Tokio nonstop flight across the Pacific with either city as the starting point.

Plan World Flights

While Northwest aviators are planning to win the award, several round-the-world air flights have been announced, some of which intend to win the Seattle award as an incidental plan in their globe-circling flights. These aviators are: Mears and Breese, who are out to lower the world record for circling the globe; Post and Gatty; Herndon and Pangborn, who plan to win the Seattle award as well as win the round-the-world race; Zabora and Burgin; and Bert Balchen, who flew across the Atlantic and around the South Pole with Byrd.

SPANISH REPUBLIC STRENGTHENED AS RECOGNITION WON

AMBASSADOR APPOINTED

MADRID—With the entire royal family in exile, the second week of the Spanish republic finds the provisional government headed by Niceto Alcalá Zamora gaining confidence among its people as well as among the other nations of the world.

Alfonso XIII, the dethroned king, is now in London to look after his financial affairs, which are not as well off as was first reported. The former monarch is reported to have lost a huge fortune in the recent world slump.

Face Trouble

The exiled ruler is facing a financial crisis in order to provide for his family and he is said to be making strong efforts to recover private property and possessions in Spain. Reports from London also state that Alfonso will be forced to sell some of his investments in order to raise ready money.

While the royal family is facing unforeseen troubles, the provisional government is having a comparatively smooth sailing. The early recognition of several nations has helped to strengthen confidence among the leaders of the new government.

U. S. Recognizes

The United States government through its ambassador here has recognized the new republic. Some of the other countries which have preceded the United States in recognizing the new government of Spain are: France, Portugal, Norway and Great Britain.

Announcement was made that the Spanish republic's ambassador to the United States will be Salvador de Madariaga, author and lecturer well-known to the English speaking public. Other diplomatic representatives appointed are: Dr. Gregorio Maranon to Paris; Ramon Perez Ayala, London; Dr. Miguel Unamuno, Lisbon.

This order was construed by the newspaper Red Star as applicable to the United States also, unless a favorable attitude is shown toward the Soviets by the state department.

SAN FRANCISCO—"America is gradually becoming a tea-drinking nation," declared C. R. Woolverton, a leading tea-merchant of Japan, who sailed from San Francisco on the Tatsuta Maru last week on another of his many trans-Pacific voyages.

"The quality of Japan teas have improved in recent years, to create a rising demand for the special brands throughout the United States. Iced tea has become a feature summer thirst-quencher, providing a year-around market for the leaf," continued Woolverton.

The tea merchant is returning to his headquarters in Formosa, the tea-producing center of the Island Empire.

LOS ANGELES—At the request of Their Imperial Highnesses, the elaborate welcome reception and programs which were being prepared for Prince and Princess Takamatsu have been cancelled.

During the imperial couple's sojourn in California, prior to embarking for Japan, Prince and Princess Takamatsu intended to include in their visits an inspection tour of Japanese farms in Southern California. LOS ANGELES—Favorable reports are coming in concerning the speaking tour now being made through California league centers by Suma Sugi, Los Angeles Citizens League representative at Washington, D. C. during the time the Cable amendment was under consideration by Congress.

A Stockton American newspaper commenting upon Miss Sugi's talk says the following: "Miss Sugi is an excellent speaker with a delightful personality, and the portrait she painted of official Washington was keenly appreciated by her attentive audience, made up largely of young people."

Business Leaders Predict Prosperity

NEW YORK—Backing other leaders of business who predict a speedy return to prosperity, Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the directors of the Bethlehem Steel Co., in an address to the Pennsylvania Society, declared recently that "greater prosperity is coming."

His contention was that the present situation was caused by the business extravagances of the former years and that it was only a leavening period.

Leading publishers gathered for the American Newspaper Publishers Association convention, also were quoted as saying that the worst of the economic depression was over and the trend will now be upward.

HAMAGUCHI POLICY TO BE FOLLOWED BY NEW PREMIER

Baron Wakatsuki Replaces Entire List Of Assistant Ministerships With Men From Party Ranks

OPPOSITION IMMINENT

TOKIO—The succession of Baron Reijiro Wakatsuki to the premiership of Japan left vacant by the resignation of Yuko Hamaguchi will signify no drastic changes in the policies of the new ministry and the government party.

Premier Wakatsuki, himself, announced just recently that the new ministry will follow the fundamental policies of the Hamaguchi cabinet and that these policies will be carried to their logical conclusion.

Lull In Politics

At the present time, there is a lull in the political life of the nation, caused by the recent adjournment of the Imperial Diet and the change of ministries. However, the opposition party has enough strength to handicap seriously the proper functioning of the government party and political observers here believe that the fight will be greater than ever for government control when it does break out.

While facing the concentrated attack of the Seiyukai party, the Menseito leaders are well cognizant of the imminent breach in their own ranks, unless some measures are effected to strengthen the unity of the party and to satisfy the discontented younger members.

Wise Moves Made

The recent action of the Premier in scrapping the entire list of assistant ministerships is seen as a definite move toward party union and strength. Premier Wakatsuki promoted to these posts left vacant, men from the party ranks. The granting of such coveted positions to members of the Menseito party as well as the few changes made in the personnel of the cabinet leaders are seen as wise moves on the part of the new Premier to gain the support and confidence of his party to carry through the desired measures.

One of these measures will be a much more aggressive economic policy, according to the statement given by Baron Wakatsuki to the press.

California Women Regain Citizenship

Naturalization offices of San Francisco and Los Angeles are now accepting applications for resumption of citizenship as prescribed in the Cable amendment which became a law last month, it was learned here. The Seattle naturalization officer, however, has not as yet received instructions from Washington, D. C. The new law regarding citizenship of women who marry or have married aliens ineligible to citizenship provides:

Citizenship Restored

1. A woman citizen of the United States does not now lose her citizenship by marriage unless she makes a formal renunciation of her citizenship before a court having jurisdiction over naturalization of aliens.

2. Any woman who has heretofore lost her citizenship by marriage to an alien ineligible to citizenship, may, if she has not acquired any other nationality by affirmative act, be naturalized.

3. Any woman who was a citizen of the United States at birth shall not be denied naturalization on account of her race.

Among the important qualifications necessary for a woman to regain her citizenship as reported by the California correspondents are: proof of birth in the United States, proof of marriage by certificates, ability to speak English, swearing of oath of allegiance in open court and the passing of an examination on American government.

Several applications have already been made in the federal courts of California, says the report.

Full details of the procedure necessary for women who have lost their citizenship in order to regain it will be published as soon as the local offices are ready to handle applications.

TAIYO SQUAD TIES WITH MERCHANTS

4-4 Draw Results as Taes Tackle Beacon Hill Aggregation

In the opening game of the Inter-City Baseball League, the Taiyo Seniors tied with the strong Beacon Hill Merchants, 4-4, at Broadway Playfield last Sunday. Although out-hit by their opponents 8 to 6, stellar hurling and fielding in the pinch es kept the Merchants from scoring.

The Taiyos started strong and garnered one run in each of the first four innings while errorless fielding behind Oyama's pitching held the merchants scoreless. In the fifth inning the hilltoppers started their scoring by bringing in two runs and repeated in the sixth to tie the count. In the final two frames the Taiyos tightened and did not allow a runner to reach first base.

In the Taiyo half of the last inning, after two were out, Ogami got a life on a base on balls, his third of the day. Manager Isao Niimi, pinch-hitting for Kawaguchi, hit a liner over the first base for a single, sending Ogami to third. Niimi then proceeded to steal second, but with two men on bases, Mochizuki hitting for Sugiyama took a called third strike to end the game.

Kay Nakabayashi, third sacker, led the Taiyos' attack with two hits, one a double, while Hashimoto, Yoshino, Shirashi and Niimi each got a bingle. Roe, right fielder of the Merchants hit three for four to top their batting while Brewer, shortstop, hit a homer in the fifth with one on base.

This coming Sunday the Taiyos will travel to Snohomish to average the 7-6 defeat which they suffered at the hands of the strong Snohomish nine last year.

FORMER CHAMPS DOWNED BY TAIYO IN A CLASS GAME

Victors Making Strong Bid For Championship; Heavy Stick Work Feature

KIMURA LEADS SLUGGING

Making strong bid for the Courier championship, the Taiyo Reds took into camp the former champs Ginseis to the score of 8-6, last Sunday in an A Class game.

The Reds took an early lead in the game and the score at the beginning of the eighth inning was 7-0 in favor of them. The runs in the early innings were mostly due to the heavy stick-work of the following trio, Kimura, Ichihara, and Kumiyuki.

Reds Score

The Reds scored two in the third inning with Kuniyuki's double with two on. Kimura's triple in the fourth inning made the scoring a little bigger. Ichihara's double in the fifth cinched the game.

The Ginseis with a champion-like finish made six runs in the last two innings to give the Reds a scare, but a double play after Nakano and Kurosaka had made hits and scored on an error cut off the rally and ended the game.

Niimi's Bat Works

The Taiyo Reds big-stick work came off the bat of first-baseman, Kimura, who got a single and a three-bagger for the five efforts at the plate.

Batteries: Shiro Iwana, Toji and Sao for Taiyos. Kaz Nishimura and K. Tanaka for Ginseis.

Diamond Hits

By TANGE

If you ever wake up at 5 o'clock in the morning, take a walk over to the Walla Walla playfield and you will hear the Collegians yelling, "Oh Boy, oh Boy, oh Boy."

Believe it or not, just about everyone in the squad is out there tossing the ball. The Waseda's motto seems to be, "An early bird catches a big worm."

Spokane wants the championship Courier B class team to visit them before school lets out. Pay the fare and they will feed you and find a place to park your bodies. According to a letter that I've dropped upon, the Spokane boys are already practicing.

I stand corrected. H. Tominaga is still in Bellevue. M. and A., his brothers are in Japan. It's all in the family anyway. Just the same Bellevue has a man on their roster who is in Japan.

A girls' baseball meeting was held last Tuesday at the Courier office and Waseda, Lotus, Ginsei and Taiyos were represented.

In the early days of our community baseball the mention of a girls' name in connection with baseball was taboo. Now they wear their girl friend's initials on their sweat shirt; carve initials on their bats; kill the ball for extra bases and a smile. The old-timers say that baseball isn't what it used to be.

Fukui of the Taiyo Cubs is quite a hitter. His records show that he has hit a three-bagger and two doubles in two games.

Ginsei have bolstered up their team with the addition of John Hayashi and Hiromichi Miyagawa. If I am not mistaken John is a former player of the Tacoma Seinenkai team.

Lotus has signed up "Eleven" Mukai to do some chucking. There is a big story connected with the nickname, "Eleven."

PORTLAND FUJIS SUFFER SHUTOUT

PORTLAND—Inability to connect with the sizzling offerings of Elwell, Vancouver pitcher, caused the Fujis nine to lose to the Vancouver Merchants last Sunday.

Mas Saruwatari started things in the first inning with a double play. Kory Saruwatari led the team with three hits in as many times at bat, one of the hits being a double.

Dink Kobayashi was showered with hits in the sixth and Jimmy Onishi relieved him. Later Onishi was knocked out of the box and Kobayashi relieved him, finishing the game in good style.

PORTLAND ACES WIN GAME, 9-6

PORTLAND—Nippon Aces, consisting of many "comeback" players, won a decisive game last Sunday on the Benson field by a 9-6 score. Paul Abe went the whole route with Fred Takeuchi receiving, his initial performance behind the bat. He handled Abe's ball like a veteran.

Doc Kayama was stationed at center field for the first time in several years. Thomas Takeuchi performed brilliantly at short and also by squeezing in a few runners. George Ochiikubo had his day in a walk single, double and a home run over the left center.

Portland Nippon Aces held their spring football practice last Sunday at Benson field. About twenty odd players are signed up for this fall. Many more are expected to sign up.

Huskies May Make Japan Trip in Fall

Following a meeting of the Hosi manager-coach with the A. S. U. W. representatives, announcement was made last week that the University of Washington Huskies may play Japan next Spring.

"Washington's baseball nine has a very good chance of going to the Orient on a Japanese invasion next spring or fall," declared Earl Campbell, A. S. U. W. graduate manager. "Hosei and every other large university in Japan looks upon Kansai University's failure to meet its financial contract with us and the consequent calling off of our trip at the last minute as almost a national disgrace."

Campbell revealed that it is within the realm of possibilities that Washington will be invited by one of the members of the Canto circuit to make the Japan trip.

Golf insurance is the latest type of insurance to be provided by the Frank Y. Okada Insurance Company, 211 Fifth So. This insures the bearer against accidents from flying balls and golf clubs on the links.

"It does not protect mashie wielders from collapses occasioned by accidental holes-in-one, however," Okada declares.

HOSEI BALL SQUAD LEAVES FOR EAST TO START SERIES

Local Organizations Fete Visitors During Brief Stay Of Team in Seattle

EIGHTEEN PLAYERS ARRIVE

Spending three days in Seattle, members of the Hosi University team of Tokyo left last Saturday evening on the Northern Pacific North Coast limited for Minneapolis, where they are scheduled to play their first games on the American continent.

During their brief stay in the city, sight-seeing tours and receptions were arranged by various local organizations, including the A. S. U. W., Nippons, Taiyos, Japanese Student Club, and the Consulate.

No Games Here

Games with the local university had not been listed on the Hosesi's schedule, due to the intention of the Washington Huskies to leave for Japan on April 18, which trip was cancelled on account of the failure of Kansai University to meet its financial obligations.

Eighteen strong, the Hosi squad is captained by Y. Nakasawa, center-fielder. The team boasts as its star pitcher Henry T. Wakabayashi of Honolulu, rated among the five leading hurlers of the Island Empire. N. Kura catcher, and T. Nishigaki, pitcher, are visiting America for the second time since they appeared here two years ago with the Shinko Shogyo team that defeated the Courier All-Stars 6-3.

Personnel of Team

The personnel of the team follows: T. Nishigaki, N. Kura, H. Karita, K. Yoshida, H. Morioka, K. Takeda, R. Koyama, S. Suzuki, N. Ohtaki, T. Matsui, H. Shima, H. Suzuki, Y. Nakasawa, H. Kubo, H. Yano, Henry T. Wakabayashi, Nobuo Fujita.

The games scheduled for the invading squad in their barnstorming tour of America bring them against the leading universities of the nation in an itinerary of more than 25 games.

WORK FOR THE LEAGUE

With the date of the first district convention of the Northwest Citizens leagues decided upon and the executive board already working on the program, the citizens movement seems to be advancing rapidly toward its goal of recognition and its aims of enthusiastic participation in the political life of the nation.

There can be no doubt that the coming convention on Labor Day will be a great asset toward facilitating the work of the leagues as well as promoting a feeling of unity and cooperation among the members of the different leagues that will be represented at the conference. Certainly, this will lead toward increased interest and enthusiasm for the national convention to be held at Los Angeles next year.

The need of a district convention has been recognized for a long time and plans had been initiated long ago for the sponsorship of such an assembly. Now that the plans have matured and the actual work of determining the program has been begun, the citizens can look forward toward great achievements to be accomplished by the league on Labor Day. The organization and the first executive meeting of the District Council Board at the time of the Labor Day assembly will give to the Northwest leagues a central body that can guide and manage the affairs of the district in a superior manner impossible to any one chapter. Undoubtedly plans for attendance at the national convention will be encouraged while means of supporting that Los Angeles conference will be brought forth.

With the cooperation of all the members of the different chapters, the success of the Labor Day convention is practically assured. However, the crying need at the present time is the encouragement of the citizens league movement in every locality where citizens of Japanese ancestry reside. Granted that the convention will be able to adopt a campaign for such an endeavor, Labor Day is too far off. What the aims of the already organized chapters should be, is to establish as many chapters as possible during the time that remains until the conference convenes.

The deputation work that the San Francisco chapter has been conducting so successfully should be an incentive for the Northwest chapters to undertake similar work. After the convention, this deputation work would be simple enough. It is now when there is not as yet any central organization to aid in these efforts, that the individual chapters should devote their time and energy in organizing league bodies in the many communities of this state.

Such efforts would not only make possible the greatest amount of success at the Labor Day convention, but would in turn facilitate the District Council Board in any work they might undertake after the adjournment of the first Northwest District Convention.

SITTING ON THE FENCE

It was an instantaneous-explosion bombshell that Secretary Stimson hurled into the American political camps when he announced that the Marines would no longer be able to protect American nationals in the interior of Nicaragua. Protests have been raining upon the State Department and upon the President after his approval of the new policy.

While criticisms are being thrown wrecklessly from all sides, from all camps including those that advocate withdrawal from Nicaragua, the administration remains as cool as possible under such circumstances and adheres to its original policy as expressed by the Secretary of State last week end. The Hoover administration may have made a "vacillating" move but at least it seems to be quite stubborn once it "vacillated."

Secretary Stimson's statements clearly indicate that the administration is planning eventually to withdraw from Nicaragua. This at least is a hopeful sign. One wonders how much Senator Borah's influence is working in this new administration policy? Is Hoover facing the scathing criticisms he knew would follow after the adoption of such a policy in order to win the Idaho senators support? It so, withdrawal will follow sooner than expected. If not, the "vacillating" attitude may continue for some time.

It is useless to criticize. Knowing the Hoover administration by now, people should see in this new Nicaraguan policy a faint, but hopeful sign that American Marines will no longer be sent to risk their lives in a "bandit" infested country. Should the United States withdraw completely from Nicaragua, the insurgents will have little legitimate cause for their banditry.

When there's a sign, one might as well accept it in a favorable light. Hoover is sitting on the fence and one might as well wait until he steps down on one side or the other before criticizing that he's on the wrong side, that is, of course, unless he continue sitting indefinitely.

THE STRONG AND RIGHTEOUS

The Nanking government plans to make strenuous efforts to establish a stable republic in China. The conference to be held from May 5 has this aim as its outstanding motive. While there are considerable difficulties foreseen for this conference and its principles, the world cannot help but hope for the establishment of a stable government in China today.

The Soviets have their eye on China. They still have their hands in that rich country. While the Communist retreat of General Borodin was greeted with cheers by the rest of the world, such rejoicing merely proved the truth of that age-old saying, "he who laughs last." The Communists must have been laughing up their sleeves all the time.

At no time than the present is the communist threat in China more dangerous. The Nanking government is struggling sincerely for the welfare of millions of people in her domain. Any unwise move, any mistakes will be another triumph for the Communists. The only way China can shake off this dreaded influence is through a strong government providing for the welfare of her people, fostering the prosperity of her citizens and promoting the cooperation and friendship of her sister nations. One could almost improvise a modern proverb, "Where dissatisfaction rules, there enters communism."

The splendid principles of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, if followed religiously, would lead China toward the true paths of democracy and stability. However, it is not such an easy task as an outsider might believe. It is unfortunate that Mrs. Sun Yat-sen, a cultured lady and a great woman, it still "gone communist", as some people claim, because of the betrayal of her husbands principles in the earlier days of the Nanking government.

But victory is to the strong and righteous. Now, more than ever, China must buckle down to strengthen her government, the government which would be to the best interests of her people. May the leaders of the new movement be strong and righteous.

A NECESSARY BODY

The necessity of a citizens league is clearly seen in the recent move made by the Los Angeles chapter to fight the segregation bill introduced in the state legislature whereby segregation of Oriental and Indian children in the California schools would be permitted. The campaign initiated by Los Angeles will undoubtedly be seconded and supported by the other California chapters.

While the citizens of Japanese-ancestry are uniting to gain recognition as full-fledged Americans, which they are, disastrous consequences would result if such an educational segregation were made possible. The folly of such a measure should be evident to its supporters when they consider the future welfare of this nation. Americanism could never be fostered by segregation.

Especially during childhood when race consciousness is still faint, the children should be allowed to intermingle with each other in order to make them realize their common birthright. The taint of segregation would harm children more than adults who in the meantime have learned enough about life to adjust themselves according to their environment and the circumstances which rule their lives. Children feel more keenly the discrimination that they are subjected to, whether it may be a vital matter as segregation in schools, unintentional slurs or thoughtless preferences between two persons or objects.

To prevent any possibility of starting youngsters with the wrong environment, unwarranted brooding natures or inferiority complexes, the citizens league should combat this segregation bill or any other measure that would prove detrimental to the fostering of true Americanism among the American-born Japanese children. It is fortunate that there is such a body to lead the campaign.

The leagues are here to stay as an organization to foster true Americanism among its present, potential or future members.

The ugliness of artificial complexities becomes at once apparent when the simplicity of real beauty breathes a pure soul unadulterated by superficialities.

The real purpose of life is no joke. He who would make a joke of life lacks a purpose.

We live today and pass on but what we accomplish and put into the present the soul of our enterprising adventure will live on and on.

The wind may storm and vent its wrath upon the cliff but the cliff will prevail. The whims of a fate may play havoc with the fortunes of men but against character it cannot prevail.

QUOTATIONS WE KNOW

Words without thoughts never to heaven go, but words with plenty of meaning gave me a berth in jail.
Dead, for a ducat, dead! and the sausage simmered over the fire.
Blurring the grace and blush of modesty, dropping your cigarette in your neighbors soup; he with a soup diet.
False as dicers' oaths . . . painless dentistry.
A rhapsody of words, as a prelude, before she says, "yes."
See, what a grace was seated on this brow . . . blackheads.
To give the world assurance of a man, while there is women, there is none.
Oh shame! where is thy blush, you need a shave!
A king of shreds and patches, buckwheat, corn flakes and shredded wheat.
Conceit in weakest bodies strongest works, and soap ads are so convincing.
Mother, for love of grace, lay not that flattering unction to your soul, just a price for a show, for me and my gal.
Repent what's past; avoid what is to come, my, but you have fascinating eyes.

Excitement

By SATOSHI HOSHI

It's at a basketball game and five minutes to go before the game is over. Queen Anne is losing by one point to Broadway and time is flying fast. The Tigers are stalling for a win and also to win the high school league title.
What can they do, but to try and take the ball and go for a basket. They have to work fast. Hurray! they got it and they are dribbling it down and he shoots but fails. The referee calls a foul on a Broadway player and the center for the other side takes the ball and aims, then shoots. Did he make it or not? I just wonder.

Some comics in the paper are very similar to the basketball game if the game is an exciting one and if the comics are also exciting. If one comic strip turns out to be a good one you will be wanting to know what's going to be up next. Just like in the foul shot that the center took before you wonder if he's going to make it.

In Buck Rogers during the last week in the Times you was wondering if the Atlanteans would find the gold aboard his ship and if they do what's going to happen to him and also to Wilma. Who could those strangers be whose face are familiar to Buck and Wilma. Could they be Kane and Ardala and could they pull that trick on Buck and Wilma, which may mean harm to Buck and Wilma?

SALMAGUNDI

By W. T. S.

WHY, OH WHY this sudden exodus to Chicago?

Sus Watanabe left for the Windy City last week, and now we hear that Sam Amano and Hiko Setsuda are likewise going too.

Has Al Capone suddenly But no, it couldn't be that!

AT FRANKLIN HI recently, an election of officers for the Girls Club was held.

On the roll of junior girls eligible for nomination were listed Takeo Horuchi, Minoru Masuda, and Hiroshi Shimahara, all of whom are boys.

HOSEI did you see the Hosei boys last week?

RATED AS AMONG the five best hurriers in Japan, Henry T. (Bozo) Wakabayashi is a feature attraction with the travelling invaders.

Graduate of the McKinley High School of Honolulu, the athlete is as tall as his name is long. Naturally he speaks English well, and since he likes to talk, he'll doubtless be "it" when it comes to making speeches at the various banquets along their itinerary.

Another interesting thing about him is that he's cousin to the Yamauchis of Pasco.

KURA AND Nishigaki, now of Hosei, formed the battery of the Shinko Shogyo team when it invaded the Pacific coast two years ago and defeated the Courier All-Stars 6-3.

The All-Stars put out Nishigaki between second and third in an attempted steal in the '29 game and he, as well as Kura, remembered Art Sasaki, Porgie Okada, and others of the All-Stars squad perfectly.

CAPTAIN Y. Nakasawa of the Hoses proved to be a humorous chap. You should have heard him at the J. S. C. welcome banquet, giving a superb imitation of a husky-voiced Japanese movie "benshi."

His benshi-ing of "Manon Lescaut" was a scream, while "Beau Geste" was there in all detail, even to the trumpet call.

"You know," she writes, "one boy calls me Cosmopolitan, and the others Cow Soup, Kachoo, Kajooks, and Kazu. Gee it sure burns me up. I think I ought to change my name to some easy to pronounce English name."

EVER NOTICE that Mine Yoshida looks like Yurino Takayoshi at times?

LAST FRIDAY Sadami Orii and I went up to the Egyptian Theater to see "Melodie des Herzens," an all-German talkie made by the U. F. A. studios, and featuring that popular

Continental actor Willy Fritsch.

Teru Watanabe Jr., Art Sasaki, and Vic Nakashima were also at the movie, listening to the gutturals. But otherwise, the majority of the audience seemed to be Germans, with Ja-Ja's and Wie geht's filling the air plentifully.

"I feel as if I were walking down Unter der Linden in Berlin," remarked Orii musingly.

AS THE Girls Club members would say, "I want to go on a nice hike, not a bus ride."

IT SEEMS rather silly to have passed the winter safely and then to catch a cold, just as the days are becoming glorious and the weather heralds the approach of Summer.

But my voice has been husky during the past week and I've been sniffing and sneezing something fierce.

"Well," said Jack Chikata of the Main Drug Co., "Someone has to have a cold all the time or the drug stores would go out of business."

IF THE Vashon Islander who won the sack of flour at the recent Courier Hoop Mixer, doesn't come pretty soon to claim his prize, the Courier staff is going to have a blowout and use the flour in making muffins.

Maybe Mary Nak and Beulah Kimura will drop in to make some cute waffles for us.

Plum Pudding

By Jimmy Hirai

As the days grow longer and the sun shines brighter, the birds begin singing their song of summer and the flowers begin tinting the landscape with their summer colors. Then it is that young man's fancy turns to . . . etc., while fishermen bring out their trusty rod and reel and begin swishing a few practice strokes in their parlors while friend wife busily orders him into the back yard while she prepares for the spring cleaning.

Weather-beaten tops are taken down from roadsters and touring cars. Wind-blown thatches of yellow, red, brown and black hair flash by as care-free youngsters speed by. Why not, isn't it spring?

The tennis fan tries out a few new fancy back hands and serves, as he prepares for the coming season. A few hardy souls exhibit wet bathing suits as proof to admiring friends that the old swimming hole has been formally opened.

Several adventurous souls feel the call of spring, the inevitable wanderlust and call to travel, and away they go, leaving friends and home. Oh, spring, you're welcome, but sometimes thy ways are hard.

SAVINGS SOCIETY AIDS TRAVELLERS

Non-Profit Organization Will Arrange Study-Tour Details

Seeking to stimulate interest among the second generation for study-tours of Japan and outlining a method of saving whereby such trips may be realized, the Travellers Savings Association (Kengakudan Chochiku Kyokai) has recently been formed in the community.

At a meeting held Wednesday evening at the Japanese Chamber of Commerce, Sato Kawaguchi, secretary of the new association, declared that the movement has the enthusiastic sanction and support of the leading first generation members of the community.

Designed as a non-profitable service society, the organization will provide competent conductors, arrange itineraries and take care of the details of study-tour parties. A regular sum set aside each month, banked and drawing interest at the Pacific Commercial Bank, will provide the necessary funds at the end of two years, four years, or ten years, according to the time intended by the individual for his or her trip.

The first study-tour will be made two years from now, according to the plans of the organization. At the meeting last Wednesday, Mr. Fujihira and Mr. Y. Nakagawa spoke, commending the plan and showing how a visit to Japan may prove beneficial to the second generation.

Echoes of the boys' holiday may be found in the community, with dolls, representing popular scenes of history and folklore, on display in many of the Japanese store windows. In addition, a huge cloth carp, the symbolical of the festival, flutters on the corner of sixth and Main.

Broadcast to Mark Emperor's Birthday

A special half-hour broadcast will be sponsored by the M. Furuya Co. on Wednesday, April 29, over station KXA in observance of "Tenchosetsu," birthday of the reigning Emperor of Japan.

College Education for Girls Urged By Local Dentist

OLDER FOLKS SCORED

The fact that Dr. T. T. Nakamura, young local dentist, was not born in America, does not keep him from having a few of his own ideas about our second generation.

One of the most interesting ideas expressed by Dr. Nakamura when he was interviewed was his advice to the girls.

"All second generation girls who can afford to, should acquire a college education," said Dr. Nakamura. "Higher education enables a girl to produce a fairly nice job if she must work, thus aiding her financially as well as socially for she can meet many men in the higher walks of life and she also learns to estimate their true worth."

Dr. Nakamura is a round-faced jolly young man, who was born in Nagano-Ken Japan. He came to this country when still a boy of 13 and became a resident of Seattle. He is a graduate of West Seattle High School and also the Pacific College at Portland, Oregon.

Dr. Nakamura expressed himself as not believing in those older folks, the so-called first generation, who criticize the second generation on every excuse and instead of offering them aid by constructive advice, their objections tend rather to tear down all the good done by the younger people.

When asked what advice he would give to young men about to choose a profession he said, "This is an age of specialization when a successful person must choose one line of work, learn all he can about it and often his troubles only begin there, but generally the one who can stick it out is the one who succeeds."

Girls Club Notes

After a short business meeting last night, the girls played bridge—dumbly or otherwise. Mary Nakamura was in charge of the bridge party.

Harue Teramaye is chairman of the Junior Girls' Declaration Contest and Chiye Horiuchi has charge of the Senior Group.

Tennis is all the rage again. "Toots" Shigemura goes to sleep at sunset and rises at sunrise (opposite from "Dracula," you notice) to play tennis . . . not to catch the early bug and eat it.

Seeing Tacoma With Mollie Nishioka

Last Sunday, April nineteen, the Buddhist Church celebrated the Buddha's birthday. On the program were several plays presented by the members of the church, which were all well received by the audience.

There's a saying that goes, "Like father like son," but in this case it's "Like father like daughter," for Takako Tomita proved to be a "chip of the old block" with her wonderful acting in "Kamakura Sandaigi." It runs in the family.

Hisako Takeda, in a difficult role of Miura-no-suke, a young samurai, showed that she well deserves the title as "One of the best amateur actresses in town" and that she certainly could handle any difficult role with ease. Oh yes! And she was dangerously handsome!

WAPATO WISPS

By Sono Kikuchi

One of the most elaborate events ever witnessed by Valley folk was the Takayama-Mihara wedding reception held April 18 at the Wapato Japanese Hall.

Over two hundred people attended the banquet-reception in the hall which was tastefully decorated with pale blue and white streamers and shaded lights that cast pretty shadows on the snowy linens, spring flowers and people below.

Kay Morinaga presided as toastmaster after the banquet, and the following spoke as representatives of various organizations and as friends of the couple: Haruko Sagara, Minoru Omori, Joe Honda, K. Ono, Mr. Nagoya, Mr. Hirata, H. Tateoka, Mr. Ajisaka and Mr. Tensaka of Seattle, Mr. Sakimura, Frank Iseri and S. Inaba.

An informal program of songs and musical numbers was also included in the evening's program. Among the numbers that received hearty applause was a guitar duet of Hawaiian melodies by Albert Masuda and Frank Iseri.

Out of town guests included Kinue Okamura, Annie Ayako and Mary Ohashi, Ruth Sugawara, Martha Fujioka, Jane Sugawara, Mr. Ajisaka, Mr. Tensaka, Mr. Kiyoshi and Minoru Mihara, Shizuo Hashimoto, I. Saiki and Mr. Oishi.
