

A Sharp Rebuke

In Los Angeles a resolution by the Japanese-American Citizens League called for the organization to act as an individual unit without being itself up with any so-called nationalistic Japanese organization, community project, or enterprise.

In another column this week, Tooru Kanazawa points out the question at hand and the essentialities of the situation regarding Japanese-American Citizens League chapters and the second generation in general. The second generation, who are American citizens by birth, have, indeed, a responsible role to play in American life that cannot be given a hyphenated interpretation as is so easily wont to be given.

There is nothing against Japanese Association and other organizations of a Japanese character, in spite of charges laid at their doors by biased and bigoted Americans. But in facing reality the second generation must conduct themselves as good citizens in order to offset any charges of hyphenation. The Los Angeles chapter is American in character and loyalty.

While their resolution may not sound just right to their parent generation, the resolution is a sharp rebuke to the jingoes of America.

More Truth Than Poetry

The other day at the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, Captain Kichitaro Miyamoto of the training vessel Kaiwo Maru, remarked that just as the arms and legs of a man were useless if they could not perform their physical functions, nations must discharge their proper obligations if the world is to be made a better place in which to live.

There is more truth than poetry in this. If the former allies lived up to their debt obligations to Uncle Sam, if communism contented itself with Soviet Russia, and if real law and order were to be established in China, there would be much for which the world can be thankful.

There are certain fundamental truths upon which real idealism is based.

A Friendly Gesture

A proper appreciation of each other's qualities is oftimes the basis of genuine friendship even between peoples of different races and nations.

This was exemplified by a well known local businessman, T. A. Davies, to whom the officers of the training vessel, Kaiwo Maru, specially extended their greetings yesterday aboard their ship. It so happened that Mr. Davies was visiting in Japan several years ago and while returning from Nikko a modestly dressed Japanese woman on the same train had fathomed his desire to eat something more substantial than fruits. She bought a box of dainty sandwiches for him at a station where the train made a stop.

Mr. Davies desired to repay the woman but she refused and upon his return to Seattle he sent her a gold ornament dresspiece inlaid with ivory. The story got into the press of Japan with the Kaiwo Maru officers specially requested to call on him.

Shelved Again

Once more the world court issue has been shelved for the next session in January by the Senate foreign relations committee.

American entry into the world court has been an issue handled with kid gloves by Sen. Borah and is now by Sen. Pittman, foreign relations committee chairman. To take up the issue at this time would undoubtedly retard necessary action on the present recovery program as Sen. Johnson of Calif., declares and is shelving at this session seems to be justified.

KAIWO MARU TO SET SAIL TODAY ON RETURN TRIP

Graduate Students Received Key To City During Stay Here

BIG RECEPTION GIVEN

Officers, students and crew of the Kaiwo Maru, Japanese nautical training ship, who were given the key to the City of Seattle for the past ten days were, scheduled to sail this morning at 10:30 o'clock on their return voyage to Japan.

The ship will not touch at any other port, but sail directly across the Big Circle. It is departing five days ahead of schedule. Captain Kichitaro Miyamoto is expecting to take about 50 days to the Yokohama breakwater.

On the eve of their departure yesterday, the graduate students were "A Home" to visitors of the city. Leading Americans and Japanese were invited to visit the ship.

Show Lore

Wednesday the future captains of the sea displayed their sea lore, as they went through routine duties, such as loosing and furling sail. Rides on Captain Stanley Griffiths' launch, receptions by the prefecture associations on Sunday, tours of the city, all kept the graduates busy.

On Saturday the whole second generation community turned out to welcome the nautical students, with Tura Nakamura, widely known radio announcer and kabuki actor, acting as master of ceremonies. The reception opened with the singing of "America," and then "Kimigayo," as Mrs. Theodore Takahashi played at the piano.

Speak For Youth

President Takeo Nogaki, representing the Seattle Progressive Citizens League, and Terumitsu Kano, president of Kibei Nikkei, welcomed the student-cadets on behalf of the second generation Japanese, while Chuzaburo Ito, president of the Japanese Association, spoke for the first generation.

Fumiko Morita, accompanied by her sister, Michiko, gave a violin solo. Kazuo Nakamura presented a dance number, with Sachiko Ochi rendering a piano selection. Songs were sung by the Seattle Aeolian Chorus and by the students of the Kaiwo Maru, who sang their ship's song.

MUTUAL HELP IS NEED FOR PEACE

Captain Miyamoto Points Out U.S., Japan Sea-Faring Nations

"So long as we observe the truth of the principle of 'mutual help', there will be everlasting peace all over the world. This belief, this truth must be the first consideration in time of difficulties."

Comparing the "mutual help" that is needed on a sailing vessel, not only during storms but also in calm, with that necessary for the international ship of state if peace and brotherhood are to be maintained, Captain Kichitaro Miyamoto, commanding officer of the Kaiwo Maru, spoke at the Japan Society luncheon Tuesday at the Seattle Chamber of Commerce banquet hall. He said:

Received Help

Now then, who belong to the Japanese nation, have learned much from America and therefore it is our duty to keep in mind the motto of "mutual help". Your ancestors came over to this lovely land in sailing ships which cruised the North Atlantic Ocean. Thus it can be said that you are a race of sea-faring people and the salt tang of the sea is in your blood. We, too, are a race of sea-faring men.

Therefore, for both of us, the Pacific Ocean must be, as it is now in name and in actual fact, the ocean of peace. We are two strong nations on each side of the Pacific. We are bound together by ties of commercial prosperity. We must preserve this friendship and prosperity across the Pacific, and I believe we shall continue to do so by observing the motto of "mutual help".

Welcome Is Example

The luncheon this afternoon is an example of this principle of cooperation and mutual help, for we see Japanese and Americans working together to extend us such a hospitable welcome. I wish to express to both your organizations, the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and the Japan Society, my best hopes for your success both as separate groups as well as cooperating organizations for Japanese-American friendship.

With these few words, I shall like in closing to express to you all, on behalf of the officers and cadets of the Kaiwo Maru, my deepest appreciation and sincerest thanks for your kind invitation and warm welcome not only at this luncheon but throughout our stay in Seattle."

Memorial Day

By Frank Yoshitake

Friends, tomorrow is Memorial Day, a day set aside to honor those who offered their lives to protect our nation and homes. From some the supreme sacrifice was accepted on the great battlefield. From others we have accepted the blessings of their efforts to strengthen the welfare of our homes.

All our flowers should be for their grave; all our loving tributes should be for them, for tomorrow is their day.

To us they have passed the flaming torch and it is our duty to keep it burning to so enlighten the world that never again shall a man be called upon to bear arms against his fellow men, that never again shall man be cast into the depth of gloom and depression. Then will the silent know that their efforts were not in vain.

Let us therefore honor these brave ones today; let us pay tribute to their willing sacrifices; and let us see to it that their resting place will never be shaken by the roaring of the guns; nor be forgotten in the travails of depression.

Then henceforth the whole world will live in peace and brotherly love. Then will the silent victors smile in their heavenly home, and feel triumphant.

Welcomed by leading business men and civic heads of the city, the graduating Japanese seniors of the University of Washington and Captain Kichitaro Miyamoto and officers of the Kaiwo Maru, were welcomed at a luncheon sponsored by the Japan Society in the Chamber of Commerce banquet hall Tuesday noon.

KAIWO GRADUATE REALIZES DREAM

Haruo Sugimura Delights In Training Voyage To Seattle

At the Japan Society banquet held Tuesday, Haruo Sugimura, speaking on behalf of the graduating students aboard the nautical training ship Kaiwo Maru, made the following talk, expressing his appreciation of the welcome he and his fellow students received here.

"It is impossible for me to express to you how happy we are to be invited here. This visit to America on our training ship Kaiwo Maru was a wonderful opportunity for us and we are overjoyed at the warm welcome extended to us by the citizens of Seattle.

During our school days we often dreamed of crossing the Pacific to visit your country. Now our dreams have come true; but we are so delighted by the cordial reception given us that we have to pinch ourselves from time to time to see if we are not dreaming again.

I shall never forget the day we first sighted your Pacific shores. It was on May 21, exactly 38 days after our ship left Yokohama. Then I found out that we, who for the sake of our career intended to live on the seas, look for the same romantic attraction and adventure on land that you look for on the high seas.

As we sailed through the Straits of Juan de Fuca and entered the beautiful Puget Sound, we knew our adventures were close at hand. We forgot the long days of hard training. We actually danced with joy when we heard of the wonderful program of sight-seeing, yachting, luncheons and banquets prepared for us.

Seattle will always be a beautiful, happy land for us—an utopia for tired seamen. Our visit here has been both enjoyable and instructive. Moreover, it has inspired us to work harder for the cause of Japanese-American friendship. We sincerely hope that in the future we may be able to visit your city many times, for you have been very kind to us.

Therefore, on behalf of my fellow students of the Kaiwo Maru, I wish to thank the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and the Japan Society of Seattle for this welcome luncheon. And I am very grateful to them for this opportunity to thank the City of Seattle and its kind citizens for their hospitality.

He then introduced the graduating students from the university. These were:

Captain Kichitaro Miyamoto of the Kaiwo Maru responded. Chairman Shank then called upon Mrs. Clarence T. Arai for whistling solos. She was accompanied by Mrs. George Ishihara.

Shigeru Abe, cornetist, one of the nautical students aboard the Kaiwo Maru, gave two selections, "Cherry Blossom Dance" from the Tokugawa era, and "Komori Uta," a cradle song.
Teroo Nakamura was then presented, speaking on behalf of the U. of W. graduates, and thanking the Japan Society for its annual luncheon honoring the students.

With these few words, I shall like in closing to express to you all, on behalf of the officers and cadets of the Kaiwo Maru, my deepest appreciation and sincerest thanks for your kind invitation and warm welcome not only at this luncheon but throughout our stay in Seattle."

DERN PRESENTS 3 REASONS FOR INCREASED ARMY

At Same Time, Davis At Geneva, Urges Disarmament

BRITAIN WANTS TO PAY

WASHINGTON—As American Ambassador-at-large Norman H. Davis came out for world disarmament at Geneva this week, Secretary of War Dorn told the House military affairs committee that the army was not large enough to perform its duties of national defense.

Dorn outlining the duties of the army said that they were three-fold: to protect outlying possessions, to train civilians for military services, and to repel invaders in the event of an unexpected invasion.

Did Not Speak For E.R.

In making his statement Secretary Dorn made it clear that he was not speaking for President Roosevelt. He was speaking for the Thompson bill which provides for increase of enlisted men from 125,000 to 165,000 and officers from 12,000 to 14,063. He said he estimated the additional cost to be about $85,000,000 a year. Newton D. Baker, secretary of war during the war, also spoke in support of the Thompson bill.

War Debts Up

Word reaching here from London said that the British government would be willing to pay something on its June 13 installment if it could be assured that the United States would agree to a conference at which the whole matter could be settled.

It was revealed that if President Roosevelt refused to agree that a token payment would not be considered as placing Great Britain in default, Parliament would undoubtedly put its foot down so emphatically that no payment of any kind would be made. It is believed that negotiations are still going on between Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay and American officials.

O.K. Communications

The House interstate commerce committee approved the administration's proposed bill to regulate communication systems. The senate has already passed a similar measure. The Senate bill sponsored by Secretary of War Dorn provides for a new method for allocating radio channels. This is opposed by the House.

The Senate mining committee this week approved the Thomas-Denney bill which provides for an even closer regulation of oil production by the states. The bill would allow him to set production figures not only for states, but also for units within states.

No Johnson Resignation

The administration denied this week a new crop of rumors to the effect that Administrator Hugh S. Johnson was considering resigning from the NRA. The administration made it clear that they considered his work as yet not sufficiently advanced to be turned over to a successor.

Although the president notified the so-called "service" codes of the national religion will be presaged any break-up of the NRA. General Johnson revealed that he thought that these codes required time and expense out of all proportion to the benefits that came from them.

300 EXPECTED AT BUDDHIST MEET

Siam, India, China, U. S., Will Send Delegates To Japan

By Welly Shibata

OSAKA—With Japan scheduled to be host to the second Pan-Pacific Buddhist conference, to be held July 17 to 25, the Kanto and Kansai executive committees, under the general chairmanship of Rev. Soryu Otani, are busy making preparations to welcome the 300 delegates from many lands to the forthcoming parley.

The conference will open July 17 at the newly-built auditorium of the Honganji temple, Tsukiji, Tokyo. On July 22, the conference will shift to Kyoto for a continuation of the sessions. July 24 will be devoted to sightseeing in Osaka and a visit to Mt. Takano is planned on July 25.

The first Pan-Pacific Buddhist conference was held in Honolulu. The forthcoming parley will have an added significance for Buddhist followers, in that this year is the 2600th anniversary of the birth of Gautama Siddhartha, the founder of the religion.

Siam To Attend

From the Buddhist land of Siam will come ten delegates, under the leadership of the chief of the government electric bureau, who is also president of the Bangkok Y.B.A. and a prominent figure in that country's business world. Three will come from Singapore, including Rev. Nalada, author of several works on Buddhism.

Ceylon's delegation of 20, including two women, will sail from

LOCAL YOUTHS MET TOGO

Five local youths, members of the Taiyo Educational Tour party to Japan in 1930-31, led by the Rev. Ryushin Okihara, are pictured here as they visited Japan's hero at his home, in the course of their travels.

HONORS HEAPED ON ADMIRAL TOGO

Death Takes "Nelson Of Japan"; Nation Mourns Hero

TOKIO—Exactly, almost to the minute, twenty-nine years after his triumphant return to Tokei after crushing the Russian fleet, death came to Admiral Heihachiro Togo.

Sorrow weighed heavily on the naval officers and cadets who had taken up their vigil outside his modest little home on Togo Hill several days before, when his death was announced to them. Even as the "Nelson of Japan" lay dying, his aged wife was near death in an adjoining room.

Honored In Death

Although heaped with honors during his life-time for the part he played in bringing Japan its first major victory in the modern world, Admiral Togo was accorded even more honors as death came nearer for him. Just before his death word was brought to him that Emperor Hirohito had raised his rank from count to marquis. The emperor had also sent several bottles of wine, while a bouquet of carnations was also in the room. They had been ordered sent from the imperial gardens by Empress Nagako.

There is little danger that Admiral Togo's fame will be fleeting. Many here believe that he will be canonized under Shinto rites. If such is the case, a shrine of the national religion will be erected to his memory and there future generations will gather to worship his soul. Already his modest little Japanese style residence has become a veritable shrine for patriotic pilgrimages.

Legends Cluster

As is the case with every national hero, legends are already beginning to cluster around his name. Probably the most famous is that he won his decisive victory over the Russian fleet by caring to overlook the order of the day issued by the emperor, the great Meiji, and to carry out his own plan of battle. At any rate he outmaneuvered, surrounded, and utterly crushed the Russian fleet. By his victory he swept the Russian flag from the Pacific and ended the czar's dream of domination in Manchuria. It was shortly after his great victory that Port Arthur fell and the Russian-Japanese peace treaty was signed at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in the United States.

Played Korea Role

His Russian victory was not Admiral Togo's first appearance on the field of international politics. In 1894, at the age of forty-seven, he had risen in rank to the command of the cruiser Niwaka. He was shortly after his great victory that Port Arthur fell and the Russian-Japanese peace treaty was signed at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in the United States.

100 From U.S.

One hundred young Japanese Buddhists of the United States mainland and Canada will visit their mother country for the conference. One hundred more are expected to attend from Hawaii, under the leadership of Rev. Hant, who is pastor of the Honolulu Buddhist church. Several Buddhist scholars of England and other European countries have also signified their intention of attending.

These delegates will join the same 300 Buddhist representatives of Japan, including those from Chosen and Taiwan, to meet in universal brotherhood at the religious conference. The budget for the parley is set at 108,000 Yen.

CITIZENS LEAGUE CLEAVES TO LINE OF AMERICANISM

Charges Of Affiliation With Japanese Associations Untrue

PRINCIPLE IS LOYALTY

By Tooru Kanazawa

The acts of some second generation youths who have affiliated themselves with Japanese Associations and similar bodies, considered nationalistic (Japanese) by Americans, have drawn the attack of American factions to the whole group of American citizens of Japanese ancestry.

The charges imply that these young Americans are not loyal to the United States, to her Constitution, to her institutions; that they are hyphenated beings, drawn between Japan and the United States; that they are not true Americans, at heart.

Such an attitude, unfortunate as it may be, exists. The Los Angeles chapter of the Japanese-American Citizens League faced such an attitude on the part of certain American factions. It called for a change in its plans. The situation, briefly stated, was this:

The Los Angeles Japanese community planned what it called a "Second Generation Week", a business enterprise on the order of "Buy in your own community". The idea itself has been used countless times by other American communities throughout the nation, and copied by the Japanese.

In this case the sponsorship was unknown. Endorsement by the league seemed assured. On second thought, however, the league leaders reflected that if it were a Japanese Association affair, and were to be endorsed by the Citizens League, it would place the league in an awkward position. It would throw the league open to the charge from these American factions that the league was affiliated with the Japanese Association.

The charge, of course, would not be true, and is not true anywhere on the Pacific Coast or in the United States. But to escape such a possible charge, the Los Angeles chapter, under the leadership of President Kay Sugahara, who is a Northwest product by the way, withheld its endorsement. Citizens League leaders in other parts of the Coast have lauded the step taken by President Sugahara.

At this time the Los Angeles league states that it took this action in order to preserve the individuality and identity of the Japanese-American Citizens League as a truly American organization. Its leaders did not wish it to be painted with the tar-brush of Japanism.

American Citizens League was established for the purpose of developing the character of the American citizens of Japanese ancestry to become better citizens of the American Commonwealth. This meant and means today a love of the flag, loyalty to the Constitution, a belief that this is their one and only country. It is by birthright. It is by training. And the Citizens League is based on this principle.

Because of their ancestry, all American citizens of Japanese lineage are open to suspicion, particularly to that of those Caucasians who believe that the Orientals are unassimilable to citizenship. Acts and words can be misinterpreted, even distorted, into unfavorable light by those so disposed.

For this reason, the Japanese press should use discretion and care that its news reports are not such as can be misunderstood or misinterpreted. For after all the printed word is unassailable evidence. Furthermore, every newspaper receives news it does not print by reason of its consideration for the general welfare.

And not only words, but acts must be made with foresight, and not blindly, in reaction to an immediate cause. Such acts as may be regarded as affiliations with Japanese "nationalistic" bodies.

Now these bodies have done good work for Japanese communities and are doing good work now, but they are regarded with suspicion in some quarters. Whether or not they should be allowed to die with senility is not pertinent to the issue now under discussion. What is pertinent is that American citizens of Japanese ancestry should not give cause to draw attacks of un-Americanism.

Dr. L. P. Sieg Named U. of W. President

More peaceful and more progressive years were seen in store for the University of Washington on the announcement that Dr. Lee Paul Sieg, 5-year old dean at the University of Pittsburgh had accepted the presidency of the state institution.

"The regents are going to give Dr. Sieg complete charge of the University," said Lewis B. Schwilke, president of the University board of regents.

Clarence T. Arai, local second generation lawyer, was named one of the 23 delegates from the 37th district, the second largest in the state, who will attend the State Republican convention slated in Yakima on Saturday, June 9.

The announcement was made Saturday at the King County Republican convention, which was held at the Olympic hotel. The 23 delegates were chosen from the 102 who attended this caucus from the 37th district.

He won recognition from the Republican party when he was named precinct committee chairman by George E. Flood, From Precinct 368 he was sent to the Republican senatorial caucus held at the Epiphany church, and then to the King County caucus.

This was the first time that he was recognized by one of the major parties. On a former occasion he ran for delegate to the State repeal convention, but was defeated.

Arai has served three terms as president of the Seattle Progressive Citizens League, and been active in the Citizens' movement.

Hang-Overs

By Bill Hosokawa

He had it coming! Kubo failed to heed my warning. Little Kaz Kubo who drives a Chandler blew out a tire going down to Portland two weeks ago if you remember. He didn't have a spare but managed to get a tire and drive back to town. But the lesson didn't do any good, so it seems.

Anyway, Kaz elected to drive out to Tacoma last Sunday, still without an extra rubber doughnut hanging on the rear of his sedan. And it happened.

It was another blowout without a new tire within miles. Unable to move, and with half of the Taiyo Cardinal players aboard, Kubo had to have somebody able after a new pneumatic while the passengers waited with ill-concealed anxiety.

As a result, the Cards were left short-handed and could not arrive on the scene on time with a full lineup. It's probably the aggressive Kubo underplay that leads him to make long drives without even thinking of a spare.

But to prevent the anxiety that Kaz and his spare-less car is causing us, let's start a collection and buy him another tire. I for one will start the ball rolling. Here's a Canadian penny. All contributions welcome. Solicitation is being undertaken by the federated long shoremen's union.

Eyes Forward

Just to prove you can't win a ball game without keeping your mind on it, the Taiyo A. C. took it on the beeper, 18 to 1, Sunday. The point is, the boys were having a picnic.

More Poor Judgment

There has been more than our quota of mix-ups in baseball this year. Cue to poor judgment on the part of the umpires. The latest snarl happened out at Tacoma when the game was called because a Seattle team failed to arrive on time. With over an hour and a half time to play, the game was declared forfeited.

Whatever the reason, it was poor judgment calling the contest, thus making it just that much harder to keep things going smoothly in the administration of the league. Our troubles are plentiful enough without such incidents.

Sailors Play?

I wonder if those Japanese naval students can play ball. It might be lots of fun to get a gang of them together and match them against some local fellows. But it is reported from good sources that each and every mother's son of them is an expert judo and kendo artist. And they must be acrobats of note from climbing around in the rigging.

Prato Gone

They spelled "finis" early this week for Al Prato. In an unfortunate truck accident, the well-known Western Avenue figure went over the divide.

The Japanese knew Al not only from business contacts, but also through baseball and basketball experiences. Al played ball quite a few years ago and of recent, sponsored a powerful basketball team in the City League.

Maybe He's Hungry

Here's what the Seattle Times had to say about the Nippons' victory over Lake Burien last week.

"Takayoshi stared at the plate as the Nippons won." What's the matter, Taiji, don't they feed you enough at home? Patronize Courier Advertisers.

Wapato Ballplayers Tackle Brownstown; Lose 5-3 To Zillah

WAPATO—After taking it on the beam, 5 to 3, from Zillah last Sunday, the Wapato Nippons are set to take on the powerful Brownstown nine, present league leaders, this coming Sunday. A tough fight is anticipated as the Nippons took a white-washing from the Brownstowners on the tune of 8 to 0 in the first round.

Showing a complete reversal of both hitting and fielding form as compared to their previous meeting, the Nippons looked ragged in taking their beating from Zillah. After administering a Zillah 14 to 3 drubbing in their first meeting, the Nippons could not seem to get going.

Eight locals were caught flat-footed as the stellar Eastham pushed them by for a good strike-out showing. Jimmy Umemoto led the hitters with two singles, Herb Iseri, newly arrived from Hawaii, and Ichiro Yama were the only players to connect with one single each.

Harry Honda started on the mound and carried out the chores until the fifth. With conditions becoming bad and his mates not giving him runs to work on, Harry retired in favor of brother George who went the rest of the distance. Art Kikuchi held up the back-stopping end.

Nippons Take 2nd Straight, Downing Lake Burien Nine

Led by the big bat wielding of Taiji, the last of the Takayoshi horsehiders, the rejuvenated Nippons proved that their first victory was no fluke by downing the Lake Burien nine, 6 to 4, at Garfield last Sunday.

The Nippons started right off in the first inning when with two out, Sasaki and Takayoshi singled to be driven in by Kaz Arai's double. In the meanwhile, Lefty Yamaguchi was hurling good ball, shutting out the Lakers until the fourth inning when one run went over.

The Nips scored three more in the sixth. Kaz Arai and Nobuo Tanagi singled in succession. Then Yamaguchi got a hold of one that went flying for three bases. Yamaguchi scored when Kiga gained life on an infield error.

If the combination with Tad Ogami at short filling in can spark as it did in the last game against South Park, a happy showing can be expected. Although taking it badly on the chin, 18 to 3 from Puyallup at the berry city last Sunday, Taiyo came back in great style to down the co-league leader, South Park, 10 to 4 at South Park on Memorial Day. Taiyo just couldn't keep their minds on the game Sunday while taking the licking.

But things were different on Wednesday. The bats had the range and the defense was what it should be. Tad Kuniyuki went the whole route as a hurler and let South Park down with seven hits.

Sao kept up his good hitting, coming through this time with 2 singles and a double in six attempts. Ogami slashed a single and double in four and Hashimoto boomed 2 doubles in six. Sad Masuda, up from the Cubs showed steady defensive play at third and also bolstered the offense with a single and double in five. Sad Saitoh also connected for a two-bagger.

In the arena

By Arthur Suzuki

A good many days ago, the tabloids from Japan informed us that our esteemed citizen, Young Tommy, who rates ace high among the "little fellers" in the flistic world, received a nasty headache from Tsuneo Hiroguchi's indefatigable, two-fisted attack and in desperation fouled himself out of their rematch bout in Tokio.

But with Young Tommy's return from his six months' tour of the Orient, his manager Johnny Sampson gives us another version of the fight. According to Sampson, Tommy was ahead when he accidentally fouled Horiguchi but he diplomatically admits that the Japanese champion was not far behind.

The Nipponese sport scribes may have been over-enthusiastic in their stories but then Sampson can also be accused of protecting his meal-ticket. Somehow we are inclined to lean toward the newspaper reports and give Horiguchi due credit for his draw and win verdict over the Filipino flash who in this neck of the woods is highly respected as a mit-slinger of no mean ability.

Fighting Doctor "Piston" as the ring addicts have labeled Horiguchi because of his piston-like offense, is still 19 years old and has two years yet to complete his medical course at Waseda. Fighting being just a means to an education, it is doubtful if he will ever travel to these shores for pugilistic honors. Although rumors are current that Jack Doyle, Los Angeles promoter, has offered Horiguchi considerable remuneration for his appearance this summer against Speedy Dado or Freddie Miller, National Boxing Association feather-weight champion.

Some 20,000 fans turned out for their second encounter and with the tickets pricing at one to five yen, the gate receipts totaled 25,000 yen, of which Tommy received $1,500 for his pains.

Jack Dempsey was offered $25,000 in good old American dollars to referee a bout in Tokio and for what simple reason he didn't gobble up the proposition is beyond us. Assuming that Dempsey still rates 50 per cent of the gate for his appearances as a referee in the fight clubs around the country, it would take a great deal of hustling to collect that sum.

Jo Tei Ken, the diminutive Korean gamester, who has been cleaning up on the bantamweights in Northern California was scheduled to fight at the Hollywood Legion Stadium but a suitable opponent could not be found and the bout was postponed. But with Young Tommy back they are signed to sweat gloves on the night of June 15.

B Pennant Chase Open Race Again As Cougars Lose

With the unexpected shelling that the league-leading Waseda Cougars took last week, the pennant chase took an altogether different aspect with the Cougars, Lotus Trojans and Cardinals still definitely in the running.

However, it will be either one or the other when the Trojans and the Cards meet this Sunday in the feature contest of the week. The Trojans have been off form in their hitting for the last few weeks but the Cards have been running in stride.

Another good game should develop between the Waseda Cougars, stinging from a defeat at the hands of Market, and the rising Fire Juniors who are dangerous if on. There will be fireworks when two of the youngest but snappiest teams, Hornets and Cardinals, meet at Garfield in a morning contest.

COUGARS TAKE FIRST LICKING OF YEAR

In the biggest upset of the year, the lowly Market A. C. rose to the heights to trounce the hitherto undefeated Waseda Cougars by a 3 to 2 score at Garfield last Sunday. Hada, right-handed curving star for the Venable Vendors led the Cougars down with four hits, coming through in the pinches to strike out or force Cougar batters when a hit would have meant runs.

The Cougars made Tamaki on the mound but he didn't last long, Hirahara going in for relief. Market scored in the second and fourth innings, both splurges being started with rousing triples by Morimatsu, slugger catcher. The Cougars had many chances to count but could not capitalize in the pinches.

Morimatsu led the sluggers with 2 triples and a single in four while Ishigami followed with 2 singles in three.

Tanabe, Kashima Win Golf Matches

Shooting one down on his par, Tanabe copped the A flight of Sunday's tournament, sponsored by the Nippon Golf Club at Jefferson. His score was 88-17-71, for the 18 holes played, in the monthly match.

Ishikawa placed second, being three down, with an 85-12-73, while Okamura natted 74, four down. He shot a 98-24-74.

Mrs. Kashima shot one up, 101-32-69 to take first place in B flight. Kanazawa was second with a 100-30-70, while Nakano was third with a 99-27-72. Arai and Arase tied for fourth at 75.

The best gross score was made by Dr. Uchida, who shot an 81.

wielders with a triple and single, followed by Yoshihara with a double and single and Ishioaka with 2 singles. For Ginsei, Ogata got a double and single and Kurokawa came through with a pair of hits.

FIVE JUNIORS TROUCE CADETS Unleashing their big bats in approved big-time style, the Five Juniors made short work of the young Cadets, swamping the Maryknoll nine 20 to 8 in the most lop-sided score of recent.

Hamanishi paced the Five hitters with a double and a pair of singles in six tries. K. Sugami had a double and single in five while Ohashi, W. Sagami, and Tamura got 2 singles each. Sakai and Momi were best for the Cadets with two hits each.

The Cadets were badly handicapped without the services of Fred Kosaka, the only reliable chucker on the squad.

Director Kay Takayoshi disallowed the forfeit victory of the Tacoma Bussei nine over the Taiyo Cardinals and declared the game would be played over only in the case it would affect final standings.

Due to transportation difficulties, the traveling Taiyo nine could not field a team within the required time limit.

Who's Gonna Take Champs, Now After 4th Straight Title? Bellevue Has Chance

White River W L Pct. 7 0 1.000 Bellevue 5 2 .714 Auburn 4 3 .571 Fife 4 3 .571

Eliminated Taiyo Cubs 2 4 .333 Lotus 1 5 .167 Green Lake 0 6 .000

Who's gonna take these White River boys? The Class A circuit would be a nice league if the champions were elevated to some league loop all by their jonesome. So would the Coast league be a nice one if Los Angeles were to play back East somewhere.

As it is the White River lads, with an undecide- slate, seemed destined to take the title for the fourth straight time. The least they can get at present, even if they broke down and lost their next two scheduled games, would be a tie with Bellevue, providing the Lakeside tossers won both theirs.

But having defeated Auburn in the postponed game Wednesday, 14 to 7, White River is favored to defeat the Auburn lads again tomorrow at Auburn, in which case they would clinch the championship.

In the other game, Bellevue plays at Fife. This turf looms as a toss-up, for on the former occasion, the Lakesiders won on their home grounds, 4 to 3.

If, however, Bellevue should beat Fife, an Auburn take White River, then the game in Seattle on June 10 between Bellevue and White River would give the former a chance to tie for the crown. A win then would give them a chance for the championship.

But, of course, it all depends upon what White River feels about it.

White River Tops Auburn Pounding out 21 hits off Hori's hurling, the Champion White River tossers clinched at least a tie for the Class A title Wednesday in a postponed game, as they took Auburn, 14 to 7.

Sadamori only gave the Auburn boys nine hits, keeping them scattered except in the ninth when Auburn collected five runs.

For the winners, Fred Okimoto socked four singles, Kato a double and two singles, Nakanishi and Saamori three singles each, Takeshita a triple and single, and Kay Okimoto a triple.

For Auburn, Sakagami slashed out a double, with Hirai and Hori each netting two bingles.

Getting their hits when they were needed, Auburn defeated Bellevue 7 to 5 at Bellevue last Sunday to take the first game of the Class A play-off, and avenged a 10-inning loss suffered earlier in the season.

Here was the difference: FIRST INNING—Bellevue singled four times but netted but one run.

SECOND—Bases full after four walks, and Ito filed to the pitcher for the third out. SIXTH—Sakaguchi and Matsushita singled to start the inning, but the next three all filed out.

On the other hand, this is what Auburn did. THIRD—Yamaguchi singled, Hori tripled and Yamanaaka walked. Three runs scored, the last two on a fielder's choice and an infield out. SIXTH—A single and an error after two outs scored another run. EIGHTH—Three singles after two outs pushed over another center.

Takao Yamaguchi, stocky Bellevue catcher led all sluggers with 3 singles and a double in five trips. Aramaki and Hiro-taka each bagged two singles. Another Yamaguchi, this one for Auburn, slashed out 2 singles and a homer in six. Terada and Sakaguchi hit 2 singles apiece while Hori got a triple.

FIFE BASEHITS GO FOR NAUGHT The mighty clouting of the Fife batsmen went for naught as the seeming title-bound White River nine edged out a 4 to 3 victory over their visitors at White River last Sunday.

Errors proved to be the difference as Fife mis-played six chances to three by the River boys. White River pushed over two runs in the second inning after two outs when Marutani singled. An error, deadball, and two more errors accounted for the scoring.

Going into the tenth inning, it looked like Fife's day when Itami led off with a double only to be tossed out, Frank Okimoto to Takeshita. In their half of the inning, White River accounted for the winning tally on two consecutive errors.

Daizo Itami led all hitters with two doubles and a single in five, followed by Kishita and Yamashita with two singles each in four attempts. Tad Yoshida had 2 singles in five. Reliable Kay Okimoto was the only winner to get more than one hit, knocking out 2 singles in five.

OPEN HOUSE SET AS DINNER HELD; ITO NAMED PREXY

Steiner, Okuda Slated Speakers At J. S. C. Graduates Banquet

HOUSECLEANING BEGUN

With an Open House planned for high school students before the end of school, members of the Japanese Students' Club at the University of Washington were preparing to end up the school year as they were slated to hold their annual banquet for graduate members last night at 6:30 o'clock at the clubhouse. The charge was 40 cents.

Dr. Jesse F. Steiner, H. H. Okuda and James Y. Sakamoto were invited to speak, as were two officers from the Kaiwo Maru. An impromptu entertainment was also planned.

Dick Nomura was in charge of general arrangements, with Kenji Ito handling speaking arrangements, and Jimmie Ueyeda, the new house manager, taking care of the dinner.

The "Open House" has been definitely slated for Saturday, June 9, at the clubhouse. While invitations have been sent out to high school graduates for this year, some may have been overlooked. For that reason, an open invitation is extended by the J.S.C. to all graduating seniors to attend. The Fuyukai is to cooperate.

Registration is to take place at 1 p. m. Discussions by speakers will follow from 2 to 4 o'clock, with a tour of the campus to be made from 4 to 6 o'clock. In the evening a dinner and mixer is to be held.

Mr. E. B. Stevens, registrar, is to be a guest speaker. A 35 cents charge to cover the banquet is to be made.

Miyaco Sato, president of the Fuyukai, is to appoint a committee to assist with the "Open House". Bill Takahashi and Saburo Hisayasu are handling correspondence, while James Ueyeda is to handle the banquet, and Kenji Ito the speakers.

At the election held Friday at the house, Kenji Ito, the most widely known member of the organization, was elected president for 1934-5, succeeding Edwin Natani.

On his cabinet are: Saburo Hisayasu, corr. sec.; Bill Takahashi, sec.; Edgie Shimomura, treas.; Yomeo Hirade and Kenji Ito, auditors; and Bain Chiba, athletic chairman.

As a part of the general spring housecleaning, a new boiler was installed at the clubhouse recently, while painters started this week to apply a new coat to the house.

GREEN LAKE SHOW SET FOR SUNDAY

19 Acts Set By Kanno For Annual Benefit Affair At Hall

All primed after weeks and weeks of diligent practice, the Green Lake Young People will go on their annual benefit program this Sunday evening at the clubhouse located at 100th and Cortez starting at 8:00 p. m. Prices have been set at 25 and 15 cents.

With sum total of nineteen acts on tap the bill has taken shape under the direction of Torao Kanno. The evening will be started with a vocal solo by Nobuo Tanagi. Following in order are: Tsuchi no Chusai, His First Client, Tokio Kenbutsu, Oka wo Koete, vocal solo by Toshiko Suzuki, The Man in the Bowler Hat, Rikoo Mono, Gion Odori, Address by Akira Kumasaka, Ningyo, Injitsu to Kaji, vocal solo by Nahoshi Kumagai, Boys Odori, First Dress Suit, Monologue by Kazuko Sasaki, Miscellaneous, Tokio Ono, solo and ballet number.

Those taking part in the program are Noboru Yamada, Sumiko Mochizuki, Toshiko Fukano, Yukiko Suzuki, Kiyoshi Tada, Makoto Sasaki, Sayo Tanagi, Nahoshi Kumagai, Takeo Nakawatase, Mayko Kumasaka, Toshiko Suzuki, Takako Kumagai, Tadashi Kumagai, Akira Kumasaka, Kaneo Abe, Teruo Tada, Torao Kanno, Shuichi Abe, Kazuko Sasaki, Kimiko Taguchi, Nobuo Tanagi.

ICE CREAM, HO! Big Day Tomorrow!

Yes, sir! It sure will be a day, the gay day for the entire Japanese community. In what is to be the largest picnic of the year for the local Japanese, everybody and his kid sister is expected to be at the annual picnic of the Japanese Language School to be held this Sunday at Jefferson Park.

Hundreds of youngsters dressed in their holiday best will vie for prizes in contests of all sorts starting from about 11 a. m. and lasting until nearly 6 p. m. Ice cream is not as plentiful as it used to be, and will be dished out only on the presentation of tickets but iced drinks will be free as long as they last.

Follow the course of progress of the youngsters as the day passes, from the clear, bright-eyed, and spry and span kids to dusty, tired and sleepy little fellows when the day of days is over again for another year.

LONG URGES MEMBERSHIP IN RED CROSS

"Join the Red Cross. It is a privilege and an honor." With these words of Superior Judge William G. Long, Roll Call chairman ringing in their ears, scores of volunteer workers entered the field late this week with instructions to enroll every man and woman in the district as members of this most noble movement.

Solicitation of the Japanese citizens is under the direction of Seichi Hara. Shiyu Yamada and Tom Masuda are to handle work in the Japanese portions of Seattle markets. Women of the Japanese colony head an impressive list of captains to direct the general canvass.

Be ready when the volunteer worker calls to sign up for another year of unduplicated services to the community.

Local Community Pays Dead Tribute

On Memorial Day the first and second generation of the local community paused in their business affairs to pay a brief tribute to the memory of the pioneers who contributed materially to the development of Seattle and of the Northwest at Capitol Hill cemetery.

Approximately a hundred, including a group of Kaiwo Maru students, gathered to pay their respects. There were a large number of second generation present, indicative of their interest and appreciation of the hardships and privations suffered by their early fathers.

The occasion was greatly honored by the presence of Captain Kichitaro Miyamoto, who made a brief speech, and part of his crew. Other speakers were Consul Kiyoshi Uchiyama, Japanese consul here, and Chuzaburo Ito, president of the Japanese association here.

Ministers, representing three religions, also spoke. They were: Mitsuro Funo, Shinto; Sensui Murano Buddhist; and Yasaburo Tsuda, Christian.

Handicraft Slated During Bible School

Commencing June 18 Vacation Bible School will afford opportunity for boys and girls between 5 and 15 years of age to acquire knowledge in the different phases of learning, including songs, stories, handicraft, sewing, and woodwork of which the program is composed, it has been announced.

The class starts every morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.

BUSINESSMEN TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Last Session Before Summer Adjournment Set At Kinka Low

The final monthly meeting of the Associated Businessmen before the members adjourn for the summer, has been slated for Wednesday, June 6, at 6:30 p. m., at the Kinka Low, according to an announcement by President Ralph Ochi.

There will be no sessions in July or August, so that members are expected to take advantage of this opportunity to get together for a final discussion.

G. S. G. Group Elects Yokoyama President

Tamiko Yokoyama, popular M. E. Church character, was chosen to lead the destinies of the Girls' Service Guild for the year starting this coming fall at an election held Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected at that time were Etsu Miyagawa, vice president; Masako Kawahara, secretary-treasurer; and Haru Hirade, historian. Miss Kawahara won her post by a slim margin over Miss Hirade after two ballots had been taken.

Retiring officers are Masako Obayama, president; Tamiko Yokoyama, vice president; Mary Okamura, secretary-treasurer; and Etsu Miyagawa, historian.

The formal installation of the new cabinet is to take place in the fall when the club will resume its activities after disbanding during the summer.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS FORMED TO USE LEISURE PERIODS

Learn Meaning Of Democracy Through Citizenship Program

WORLD PEACE IS VIEW

By Doris Bishop

(Executive field secretary of the Camp Fire Girls in the Northwest.)

To provide a program of creative, purposeful, leisure-time activities for all girls is the purpose of the Camp Fire Girls organization. The program is built on the natural interests of the girls, affording them an outlet for their enthusiasms and an opportunity to discover and develop their particular skills.

Activities are carried out which will stimulate girls to take an interest in their homes, give them an opportunity to discover and develop their skill in hand crafts, encourage them to form good health habits, enable them to become at home out of doors, to be appreciative of nature, develop habits of punctuality and thrift, and help them to realize their responsibility towards their community.

Learning Democracy Through their citizenship program girls are learning the meaning of true democracy. In groups they are placed in contact with friends from various classes, religions, and nationalities where they may engage in common activities and interests. The foreign-born girl is regarded as a friend and a co-worker in a common national destiny.

Each year the organization selects one of the crafts for special emphasis. In 1931, because of the keen interest felt by groups all over the country, citizenship was the chosen craft, with special emphasis placed on "International Friendship". Interest was further aroused at that time, and has been maintained since then. There are listed in the Camp Fire Girls manual 126 honors in citizenship and patriotism which a girl may earn. The earning of several of these honors is one requirement for the Wood Gatherer's, Fire Maker's, and Torch Bearer's ranks. These are the three ranks for which Camp Fire Girls work.

Organized Everywhere Camp Fire groups are organized in twenty-two different countries throughout the world. Since its beginning in 1912, the membership has grown to 200,000 with 10,000 groups and leaders. With "Camp Fire Girls around the world" as one of their slogans, these girls are developing those attitudes of sympathy, cooperation, and fair-mindedness which make for better understanding and friendship between nations.

Valedictory Made By Bessie Ohashi

By Shigeo Wakamatsu

FIFE—Stating that education was the most important factor in gaining a successful life, through its ability to give the individual an opportunity to grasp the right perspective or attitude toward the position each one fills, and through the doctrine of cooperation, Bessie Ohashi gave her valedictory address at the commencement exercises held Monday evening at the local high school.

Speaking in a clear voice, Miss Ohashi delivered her speech well, talking on "Education in Life". Having maintained an average grade of 96.11, she graduated at the head of the largest class ever to leave the school.

Capable speeches by Mildred Mielkey, salutatorian, Edna Harris, faculty choice and Lawrence Grotz, student choice, marked the exercises. Of the 60 graduates, the following were Japanese:

Bessie Ohashi, Tadako Tamura, Masao Ohmoto, Natsumi Iida, Hiroshi Tamura, Hiroko Kajikawa, Mary Fukushima, Toru Sakahara, Dorothy Sakamoto, Rose Yamamoto, Toshiko Kurimoto, Michi Sagami, Masao Kibe, Masao Yaguchi, Kuni Kawasaki, Sungi Dogen, Yaeko Fujita, Martha Takemura, Norma Norisada, Ben Yoshida.

Those receiving their diplomas are: Kenko Natori, Kazuko Kariya, Karli Yamamoto, Frank Nakayama, and Masao Hasegawa.

In an annual affair the Kumanoto Prefecture association is to honor the graduates with a dinner at the Tacoma Hotel June 5. The guests of honor are Frank Nakayama and Masao Hasegawa of Sumner, Rose Yamamoto of Fife, and others from Tacoma. Frank Nakayama is in charge of the affair.

The results of the Junior Epworth League voting were as follows: Lily Yonago, president; Miyoko Miyaki, vice-president; Michi Hirata, Secretary; and Jean Oshima, Treasurer.

The local young people sponsored a "splash" at Liberty Lake on Wednesday afternoon. Swimming, boating, and hiking were enjoyed.
