

It Isn't News, But—

It isn't news, but President Franklin Delano Roosevelt is going to run against Governor Alfred Mossman of London to determine who is going to be the nation's chief executive from January, 1937 to January, 1941.

The President is a member of one of the nation's "aristocratic families," the Governor is a member of a "common American family."

Reports from all over the nation indicate that marriage license clerks were badly over-worked after the payment of the bonus.

We wonder how many husbands and wives in future years, in the course of a domestic quarrel, will shout, "I never would have married you if I (or you) hadn't gotten my bonus!"

Many Seattle citizens have wondered during the week who the trim little Orientals were who were seen in Seattle streets.

They had been following the newspapers, they would have known that these trim, uniformed figures were those of the Japanese midshipmen who were here on their training cruise.

Favorably impressed were those same Seattle citizens by the quiet, unassuming manners of these cadets. They have proved themselves to be not only "ambassadors of good will," but true gentlemen—and that is why they are such effective bearers of friendship and understanding.

Today is Independence Day. The day of fireworks, during the evening old and young alike will be treated to the spectacle of bursting bombs and roaring rockets and all the rest of the traditional fireworks display.

But all day from Washington to Florida and from California to Maine, politicians, both real and would-be, will be sounding off about the Fourth of July and what it means to the United States of America.

Unfortunately for their listeners, most of these speakers will be just as loud and just as full of meaning as the bombs of the fireworks displays.

Slipped into corners this week were stories concerning the apology, "understood to be conciliatory and apologetic," by the Japanese embassy to the American government.

Newspaper psychology has it that a threat to peace is of more interest to its readers than anything that might kill that threat to peace.

Employment Note One of the nation's biggest steel producers announced the opening this week of a practically automatic rolling mill, requiring no man-power except that necessary to pull a switch or adjust a control.

Embarrassing question: "How is private industry going to absorb the unemployed?"

Confab Cooperation Officers of the Northwest JACL chapters will leap off their marks this week for the final dash down to the national convention at the third annual Northwest officers conference which is to be held here today.

It is at this conference that all the cooperation that has been talked about in recent months will be made a reality. If a united Northwest means anything, this fourth Biennial national JACL convention is going to surpass all expectations.

Scrap Old Ideas In a discussion of this character it must be borne in mind that the United States is a "mature creditor" nation and we must cast aside many of the old ideas that have come down to us from past generations when this country was a "debtor" nation.

This discussion is particularly important in connection with our trade with Japan. Contrary to popular opinion we export more goods to Japan than we import from that country.

Our total exports to Japan in this particular year amounted to $268,059,330 and our imports totaled $138,999,300 based on exchange at the rate of 28 and seven-tenths cents per yen.

More Imports In order to maintain our relative position in the total trade of Japan we must increase our imports from that country. It is axiomatic that they must export

SENSEMEIER SEES IMPORTS AS AID TO U.S. LABORER

Attacks Fallacy that "Closed Door" Will Protect Jobs; Nation Must Buy

NATIONALISM HITS JOBS

By Laurence Sensemier

During recent years, especially during the economic depression through which we have been passing, we have heard a great deal of clamoring for the protection of American labor.

Unfortunately, in numerous instances these same well-meaning persons have lost sight of the fundamental economic factors involved. Perhaps they did not realize that they were overlooking these factors when they advocated their programs and panaceas.

The Pacific Northwest is peculiarly dependent upon foreign trade, for our major industries depend upon foreign markets to absorb their surplus products.

Labor is vitally interested in all of these industries and every time that we adopt some new nationalistic or restrictive policy we curtail the demand for labor instead of increasing it.

It has been estimated by Government experts that approximately 2,000,000 workers are dependent upon our export trade for their livelihood.

Imports Make Jobs Nationalistic programs attempt to expand exports and curtail imports, without the impression that such a procedure will increase the number of jobs for home laborers.

When the covered wagons were crossing the plains to the golden West, and Japan was awakening from a long dream of seclusion, Kabuki, the popular stage of Japan, had reached a high state of development.

It was then astonishing, she said, that the recognition of this cultural achievement, this rich accumulation of experience and craftsmanship, should have been so long delayed on this side of the Pacific.

Pennington stated, was that the task of translation and interpretation had been so difficult. But on the other hand there were other causes.

The triumph of the motion picture industry had almost put the American theatre out of existence, and it was said that two generations had not gone to the theatre and did not know what it was all about.

Mrs. Pennington spoke of Kabuki, the popular stage of Japan, as being in a remarkable degree a combination of all the arts—drama, acting, dancing, painting, architecture, music.

She rapidly outlined the dramas of everyday life and those that exploited the unreal, with heroes and heroines that were the pure product of the imagination.

Another very important factor to bear in mind is the fact that the United States is now entering what economists know as the "mature creditor" stage of economic development.

It is claimed by many persons that imports curtail the demand for labor in domestic industries that compete with the foreign enterprises.

It is at this conference that all the cooperation that has been talked about in recent months will be made a reality.

EXPERT LECTURES ON KABUKI DRAMA

Mrs. Pennington Sees Kabuki As Combination of All Types of Art

Mrs. Zoe Kincaid Pennington, lecturer, writer and authority on Japanese culture, recently delivered a lecture on the Japanese kabuki drama at Guggenheim hall on the University of Washington campus.

Mrs. Kincaid, a graduate of the University of Washington, has spent some twenty-five years in Japan.

Mrs. Pennington opened her lecture by stating that in comparison with the theatre centers—London, New York, Paris, Berlin and Moscow—the Tokio stage was one of the most active as well as the most characteristic in the world.

When the covered wagons were crossing the plains to the golden West, and Japan was awakening from a long dream of seclusion, Kabuki, the popular stage of Japan, had reached a high state of development.

The triple threat of foreign domination, economic disintegration and internal revolt is menacing the whole financial structure of the Nanking Government, charges the Far Eastern Survey of the American Council, Institute of Pacific Relations.

Analyzing the financial position of the Nanking Government, Kate Mitchell, research associate, points out that "in view of the loss of revenue from North China and the threatened collapse of the system of local taxation, it appears extremely doubtful whether even the payment on foreign loans secured by customs revenue can be met, unless effective measures can be devised for checking the extension of Japanese domination in North China."

"The Chinese Customs Administration is facing a drastic decline in revenue for 1936 as a result of the situation in North China, which ordinarily alone provides more than 20 per cent of the total customs revenue."

Inasmuch as 70 per cent of the net customs revenue in 1935 was needed for the service of foreign and domestic loans, the effect of this decline on the credit position of Nanking is serious.

"A majority of the provincial governments are operating with large current deficits, provincial subsidies constitute an increasing drain on the central treasury, and the system of local taxation is depriving the population of the purchasing power on which depends the Central Government's revenues from taxation on imports, salt sales and the manufacture of consumption goods."

"Since its inauguration in 1928, the Nanking Government has never been able to meet the current expenses of any fiscal year without resort to borrowing. The budget estimate for 1935-36, the deficit to be covered by borrowing is placed at $170,000,000 (Chinese), representing 19 per cent of net total payments."

"Military expenses and loans and indemnity service combined account for around 80 per cent of the total outlays. This leaves a sum which in view of the vast size of the country and the urgent need for large-scale reconstruction work is pitifully inadequate."

"The rate of large foreign trade and business interests in the struggle for the 'China market' the degree and rapidly with which Japan can hope to achieve complete supremacy in eastern Asia, depend alike upon the degree of the Nanking Government can maintain itself and combat foreign domination, economic disintegration and internal revolt."

"In view of the actions of the British, Japanese and American Governments in regard to Nanking's decision to nationalize silver and to establish a stable paper currency, it appears that a new phase of international manoeuvring to protect or acquire economic privileges in China is at hand."

"We feel, here in Seattle, that we have a decidedly clear understanding of the age-old culture of the Japanese. We rejoice in the fact that we have a stable paper currency, it appears that a new phase of international manoeuvring to protect or acquire economic privileges in China is at hand."

Japanese in Utah Shook Hands With Theodore Roosevelt

HELPER, Utah—In this city lives a Japanese-American, Harry Yoneo Eda, who prides himself on being one of the few Japanese who have had the rare experience of shaking hands with two presidents of the United States, more so because one of them was Theodore Roosevelt, the famous exponent of the strenuous life, according to Tamotsu Murayama. The other President was William McKinley.

It was nearly thirty years ago when Theodore Roosevelt called on him as he was working as a cook in a hotel in Seattle to compliment him on his ability to cook and also to suggest his becoming an American citizen. Eda did later become a citizen.

He served on the battleship Oregon for six years as a sailor.

JAPANESE MIDDIES TO MARCH; SEATTLE HOST TO SQUADRON

NAVY DIGNITARIES FETED AT DINNER BY LOCAL GROUPS

T. A. Davies, Chamber of Commerce Head, Welcomes Squadron

IS GRATEFUL FOR VISIT

Commercial relations through friendly contacts have reached an undreamed of limit since the time Commodore Matthew Calbraith Perry first visited Japan in July, 1853.

This morning at 8 a.m. Admiral Yoshida was to leave Portland and fly back to Seattle in order to be here in time for the Fourth of July parade. He will review the marchers with Rear Admiral T. T. Craven, commander of the 13th Naval District.

Admiral Yoshida was accompanied by his staff on his Portland flight.

Among other notables expressing their welcome were: A. A. Murphy, Japan Society president; Rear-Admiral T. T. Craven, commander of the 13th naval district; Col. Frank Bowen, commander of the 4th Cavalry; Brig. Gen. Maurice Thompson, Washington State national guard; Consul Isaku Okamoto.

Mr. Davies' address in welcome to vice-Admiral Yoshida was as follows: "It is a distinct privilege for us of the United States to have the opportunity tonight to break bread with our honored visitors from Nippon."

"There is special timeliness in the fact that Admiral Yoshida and the gallant men with him now are sojourning in our harbor. It is true to say that this is July, 1853, that four United States vessels sailed into the bay of Yedo, Japan, on the mission that proved of utmost importance in world affairs."

"Those ships that visited Yedo were two merchant vessels and two sloops of war. They bore a letter from President Millard Fillmore of the United States to the Emperor of Japan. The letter was entrusted to Commodore Matthew C. Perry of the United States Navy."

"That letter pointed out the desirability of a commercial treaty between Japan and the United States. Commodore Perry delivered the letter, and he remained 9 days in the Japanese port in conference with Japanese dignitaries."

"Out of that letter—out of those conferences—ultimately was to result a treaty challenging the attention of all peoples of the earth."

"A treaty that endeared Commodore Perry to all our nation. A treaty that has given his name an enduring place in our history for all time."

"It was a little that the United States sought under that treaty. Its prime purpose was to arrange that its ships in the Oriental trade might stop at Japanese ports for supplies. This treaty was accomplished. But it was destined to accomplish more."

"It was to result in the cementing of a friendship that has grown riper and warmer through the decades. It was to result in an ever clearer understanding of national ideas and national ideals."

"It was to bring about an exchange of commodities—a volume of international trade—beyond all conception. This trade between the United States and Japan has averaged far more than a hundred million dollars a year in recent years."

"As the major United States port nearest Japan, Seattle is peculiarly appreciative of the commerce that has been developed. But Seattle is especially appreciative of the warm friendships that have ensued."

"Seattle is distinctly honored at this time by the visit of Admiral Yoshida and his staff. And by the presence of all these fine young sons of Nippon who are destined to play so important a part in the future of the Japanese Empire."

"We feel, here in Seattle, that we have a decidedly clear understanding of the age-old culture of the Japanese. We rejoice in the fact that we have a stable paper currency, it appears that a new phase of international manoeuvring to protect or acquire economic privileges in China is at hand."

Vice-Admiral Zengo Yoshida Takes Air For Engagements

Vice Admiral Zengo Yoshida is deserting his usual element, water, for the air in order to meet two pressing engagements.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:15 Admiral Yoshida left Seattle in a chartered plane to fly to Portland. Last night he was guest of honor at a dinner given in the Rose City.

This morning at 8 a.m. Admiral Yoshida was to leave Portland and fly back to Seattle in order to be here in time for the Fourth of July parade. He will review the marchers with Rear Admiral T. T. Craven, commander of the 13th Naval District.

THE FOURTH OF JULY

For one hundred and sixty years the Fourth of July has been the American holiday which has meant more than any other.

Today, there are many voices that are shouting to the skies that no longer is the United States of America an independent nation.

Perhaps the best arguments that can be used against those who are asserting that American freedom has disappeared or is disappearing is the fact that they themselves are able to make such utterances.

The liberty to express one's personal opinions has long been one of the most jealously guarded rights of the American citizen.

The United States of America during the past twenty years has come to see more than ever what a precious gift liberty is—liberty not only at home but liberty in its relations with the rest of the world.

In accordance with the American love of freedom there is the American desire to insure fair play toward all.

Of the many groups that are growing up on American soil today the second generation is particularly aware of the great spirit of the American people and of American ideals in aiding them in becoming a part of the great American commonwealth.

It is for this reason that the members of the second generation are more than willing to help the United States celebrate Independence Day today.

GETTING READY

Today, the officers of all the chapters of the Japanese-American Citizens' league in the Northwest will meet here in Seattle for the third annual Northwest officers' conference.

This meeting today is fraught with even more significance than have been the other meetings. For today the officers will be receiving their final instructions for the drive down to the national convention which is to be held here September 4, 5, 6 and 7.

True, there will be other meetings of one kind or another before the conference, but this is the one big get-together that will put everyone's shoulder to the wheel for the final drive.

meetings at which the future welfare of the second generation is to be discussed will be of paramount importance.

But there are other considerations that will receive the attention of the delegates, both official and unofficial, to the great Northwest meet.

The meals served here are something to write home to the folks about—as a warning. They might be used as a sort of bogey for little children who won't eat their spinach, or finish up their milk.

A simple little threat such as the following should work wonders.

"Seibo, you must eat that spinach. It is good for you. It will make you a big husky man like your father isn't it. And when you grow up, you will have to go to Alaska during the summer and work in the canneries.

In the first place the delegates to the convention will pay homage to the members of the parent generation, both living and dead, who worked so unselfishly that their children might become good American citizens.

Then, too, the delegates to the convention will be able to express their gratitude to the leaders of the second generation who have worked so unselfishly to make the Citizens' league what it is today.

Carrots are a popular dish. But they are not of the dainty variety we get at home.

When a man labors, he wants huge quantities of food. He has a tremendous appetite, and anything tastes good.

ABOARD THE S.S. YUKON, somewhere off the Canadian Coast—Food during an ocean trip is something to look forward to.

The meals served here are something to write home to the folks about—as a warning. They might be used as a sort of bogey for little children who won't eat their spinach, or finish up their milk.

A simple little threat such as the following should work wonders.

"Seibo, you must eat that spinach. It is good for you. It will make you a big husky man like your father isn't it. And when you grow up, you will have to go to Alaska during the summer and work in the canneries.

Then, too, the delegates to the convention will pay homage to the members of the parent generation, both living and dead, who worked so unselfishly that their children might become good American citizens.

Carrots are a popular dish. But they are not of the dainty variety we get at home.

When a man labors, he wants huge quantities of food. He has a tremendous appetite, and anything tastes good.

THIS IS THE LAW

Any one of us can be arrested on a vagrancy charge.

Supposing you were out after 11 o'clock . . . perhaps coming home late from a "friend's" home.

Even if you did tell him the truth, the officer could arrest you for being drunk.

While we're on the subject of "vagrancy," let's look at a few others. Every time you speed down Main Street at 30 miles per hour, you're breaking the law.

You may come back at me with that "close fitting" clause, but I have yet to see a woman's hat that is not cluttered up with at least one piece of feather or flower or some such nick-knack.

Here is one that's going to stick some of you swains who will insist upon drawn out good nights with your girl friends.

Cardinals Defeat Waseda Maroons, 11-10 To Win Courier Class "A" Championship

N. Hayashi Homes With One On In Ninth

The Taiyo Cardinals became the crowned champs of the Courier A League when Nachi Hayashi sent a homer flying into left field with one man on in the ninth to give his team an 11-10 victory over the Waseda Maroons, Monday, at Garfield.

When the Taiyo Cardinals split a doubleheader last Sunday, the league title was thrown open to two parties, the Cards and Maroons, and the extra league title last Monday declared the winner for the A League.

At the end of the first half of the fifth inning the Cardinals were leading the Waseda team by the score of 9-4. The Maroons, after coming back in their half of the inning closed the gap to a 9-8 score.

Then Hiroshi Teshirogi with a man on board took one of Sat Miyahara's offerings and sent it flying for a four-base hit, putting the Maroons ahead of the Cards by a run, but Hayashi cut short Maroons' title hopes with his circuit blow with one on in the following frame.

CLASS AA WHITE RIVER WINS

White River moved into a contending position in the league race last Sunday when they defeated Fife, 6-5, at Orilla to move into second place, pushing the Taiyos down a notch.

At a 5-5 deadlock in the eighth inning, Guy Matsuoka got on base on an error made by Dyke Itami at third, and after Itami's sacrifice hit, Sadamori and Takeshita brought home the winning White River tally.

Ben Yoshida, who took the mound for Fife, slammed out a triple in the fourth to account for Fife's first run, and he came home on A. Hamanishi's single.

AUBURN LEADS LEAGUE

Again Toshi Yamanaka's big stick played a big part as Auburn downed Taiyos by the score of 6-3, to take undisputed leadership of the Courier Double A League at Auburn, Sunday.

With two men on bases Tosh cracked out a homer in the seventh to give Auburn the game. Sat Masuda led the Seattle team to a 1-0 victory over the Trojans, one of them accounting for a run.

BELLEVUE OVERCOMES LEAD

Although Green Lake had a 10-4 lead over Bellevue in the sixth inning, the Lakeside boys came back in the seventh and eighth to push over seven runs to win on the Bellevue high school grounds.

S. Abe's triple in the fifth with the bases loaded, exploded Bellevue's hopes for winning earlier in the game. Mafune was Green Lake's heavy slugger with two singles and a double. Shimozaki and Hirota grabbed six hits between themselves for Bellevue.

CLASS A MIYAHARA LOSES OUT

Although Sat Miyahara fanned ten Lotus batters, the stellar Cardinal hurler lost to Jackson Sonoda, as the Cardinals bowed to the Trojans, 9-5, at Garfield, Sunday.

A triple with two on and a homer by Jackson gave him a well earned victory. Jack Uchida accounted for two of the Cardinal runs when he batted out a triple in the ninth.

CARDS SWAMP FIFE

After being taken down by the Trojans, the Taiyo Cardinals did not delay in cleaning up on Fife by the score of 13-3, as Frank Kanemori chucked a seventh game. Fife was responsible for four errors.

MAROONS' EKE OUT WIN

The Waseda Maroons found the Tacoma Bussels a tough customer last Sunday, as the former won 8-7, at Tacoma. Nakao went the nine innings for the Bussels while Tad Kuranishi and Harry Yanagimachi were used by the Wasedans.

Tacoma tried to hurry the game through when they scored four runs in the first inning. But

CADETS WIN IN 12TH

Behind 12-7, in the last half of the twelfth inning, the Cadets went up to bats and pounded in six runs to beat the Taiyo Bears. Tom Kobayashi met the situation well in that inning when he pounded out a hit that scored the tying and winning runs.

The heavy sluggers for the Cadets were Kashino, who got four blows, Sakai and Kobayashi, who got three each. Yoshito Mizuta found the range for four bingles to lead the Bear ranks.

CLASS B BELLEVUE BEATS YMBA'S

Bellevue overpowered White River YMBA at Bellevue, Sunday, as Kitahara and Mizokawa each garnered a four-base hit with men on as the former beat the valley team, 8-4.

Market clung to their second place position in the B League when the Pike St. boys hit to effect to win, 11-5, from the Taiyo Tigers last Sunday at Garfield.

Morimatsu aided in the Market victory when he clouted out two homers, giving his team a total of four runs. He also knocked out a single that brought home another tally for Market.

KIBEI WINS

Although the final score stood 8-6 in the eighth inning in favor of the Hornets, the Kibei Nikkei team was granted a win by decision by League Director Kay Takayoshi, on grounds that the time limit had expired when Kibei had a 6-1 lead over the Waseda team at the end of the seventh.

CLASS C AUBURN BEATEN

Auburn's defeat at the hands of the White River Cubs last Sunday at Auburn gave the Lotus Lancers undisputed hold of third position in Class C standings.

Fujishin is credited with a victory in which Auburn was at the tail end of a 10-6 score. He struck out eleven Auburn players and retired Auburn on strikeouts in one inning. The two Auburn choppers, Watanabe and Hamakami, chalked up nine strike-outs between themselves.

As the two professional golfers from Japan, Torchy Toda and Chick Chin, toured the Jefferson golf links in 65 and 68 respectively last Sunday, four leading local golfers were given the opportunity to show their wares to the pros.

Only three strokes behind Chin, Frank Nakamura, who averaged better than the three other local golfers, shot a 39 for the first nine holes with a par of 36. Toda shot two under par. Dr. Uchida, who completed the foursome for the first nine, shot a 40.

The Toda-Nakamura combination beat the Chin-Uchida team by three strokes with the teams shooting a 73 and 76, respectively.

On the last nine holes, Tom Ogawa and George Shimizu both shot 39's, five over par. Toda bettered his first nine score with a 31 on the last nine, while his traveling mate was a stroke behind and two better than his score for the first nine holes.

On the seventh hole, Nakamura shot a better score than Toda. The local golfer shot a par 3, while the professional was a stroke over. Chin paired the same hole.

WASEDA WINS OVER KEIO IN SWIM MEET

TOKIO — In the annual dual swimming meet, Waseda University won its tenth straight victory over Keio University at the Meiji Shrine pool.

HE PRONOUNCED IT CORRECTLY!

Harry Yanagimachi Named In Broadcast

Even if Harry Yanagimachi does not hit the airwaves next fall via the broadcasts of the University of Washington's football games, he will have the satisfaction of knowing that his name, as a football player, has gone over a national broadcasting hook-up.

Members of the local community who happened to be tuned in on Clem McCarthy's "Sports Plane" broadcast last week-end heard McCarthy pronounce Harry's name (his last one, we mean) perfectly.

Said McCarthy, "Did you know that the Japanese in America are going in for football? Well, they are. Out at the University of Washington Harry Yana—er, I never was very good at these Japanese names — Yanagimachi (he pronounced it perfectly) may play center for the Huskies next fall. That's a pretty tough name, but it's no tougher than the names that some of those Carnegie Tech and Notre Dame football players have."

At that, McCarthy had the names of only fifty per cent of the Japanese members of the Huskies' football squad for he made no mention of the hefty Roy Nakagawa who is out for a guard berth on the Purple and Gold team.

GAMES, JULY 12

Auburn vs. Bellevue

Fife vs. Green Lake

Nippons vs. Taiyos

Tacoma vs. Cadets

Kibei vs. Bellevue

In a home affair, the White River Jrs. will meet the White River YMBA team, in a Class B engagement today. The Busset team stands a favorite.

Officially, Fourth of July will end as soon as the clock strikes twelve tonight, but as dawn comes, and the beginning of another day, guns will roar on the diamonds again.

Taiyo Faces Auburn

Columbia will be torn to shreds tomorrow when three Double A teams dig their spikes into familiar war grounds. Nippons have two games on their hands with chances of only winning one or them. The initial goal will be against Green Lake on which the Nippons have their eyes for a victory. Bellevue is the second opponent, and, although it didn't celebrate the Fourth with a game, they will see to it that they do so tomorrow.

But the trumpets will blow for the final Double A encounter on Columbia when Auburn and Taiyo parade out on the field in a feature encounter. And Okazaki is a little wiser on what kind of a ball he's going to pitch to Yamanaka.

Although the Class A title was carried off by the Taiyo Cardinals, two games are scheduled tomorrow on Columbia. Cadets will meet the Trojans, while Fife will come to town to meet the Bears.

Nippon Giants Share Lead in City Circuit

PORTLAND — The Portland Nippon Giants are now tied for first place in the Municipal league here when they downed Camas, 8-4, last Sunday.

Toke Hattori was nicked for nine hits but his teammates blasted out ten safeties. Hattori accounted for two of them. Moto Kobayashi and Turel Takemoto each pounded out a double and a single.

Nippons to Tangle With Portland Team Today at Columbia

The Portland Nippon Giants, who are now tied for first place in the Rose City municipal league, will ramble into town on the Fourth of July today to meet the Nippons of the Courier Double A League, at Columbia at 4 p.m.

Still stinging under the drubbing the Nippon team that traveled south gave to them in the second game of the two-game series last Memorial Day week-end, the Portland Giants will seek to revenge the defeat. The Nippons dropped the first game to the Giants on Memorial Day by the score of 9-5, but on the following day, behind the stellar chugging of Tom Sakai, veteran hurler, the Nippons ran the Portland team ragged by the score of 18-1.

Although the local Nippons will not field a team of equal strength as it did down in Portland, for the fact that Green Lake players will not be seen in the lineup today, the locals will depend upon Tom Sakai to stop them. Sakai will be remembered for his brilliant hurling against the Tokio Dai Nippon team that played in Seattle some time ago. He held them to a 2-0 score, the Tokio team winning.

The Portland outfit will see either Toke Hattori or Ted Tsuboi start off in the box for them. But the local Nippons will have to fear Moto Kobayashi and Turel Takemoto. The two have been hitting quite consistently for the Portland team.

Tomorrow, the Portland team will journey to Orilla to meet the second place White River team of the Double A League. The Giants will find the valley team a tough customer to handle.

PORTLAND MIKADOS TO FACE TIGERS

The Portland Mikados are scheduled to go against the Taiyo Tigers today at 4 p.m. The game will be played at Garfield.

North-South Tennis Tournament Today

SAN FRANCISCO — The Southern netmen were decided favorites as the fourteenth annual Northern and Southern California championship matches will be played off today on the Palace of Fine Arts indoor court here.

As the series stands, the Northerners have won seven matches from the Southern netters, while six have gone to the Southerners.

The Northern team is without the services of the Shimura brothers, Fred Nebo, and George Tanaka, University of California varsity net man. The Shimura brothers are at present visiting in Japan while Tanaka has gone to Colorado where he will defend his Denver city playground title which he won last year.

The only veteran on the Northern team will be Shuichi Mino. Those that will be on Northern team will be Takeo Hamamoto, Ned Ishii, and George Hayashi, and Miho.

Out to revenge last year's defeat, the invaders have gotten together a team that boasts all stars Roy Takenaka and Taueo Terada, both of whom will be seen in action in the singles as well as doubles tournament, are outstanding netmen. John Maeno is a letterman from Occidental College. The Sam Minami-Joe Kobata combination is rated as fast and smooth-working, with plenty of teamwork.

Japan Drives for Tokio Olympic Bid

TOKIO — Declaring that the International Olympics have never been held in the Far East and that it would be appropriate for them to be held in Tokio in 1940, the Olympics Organizing Committee of Japan are making a vigorous bid for the XII Olympiad.

In that year the committee declared that the 2600th anniversary of the founding of the Japanese Empire will be celebrated.

NORTHWEST C. L. CHAPTER HEADS TO HOLD CONFAB

Important Problems Relating To National Convention To Be Discussed

MEET SLATED TODAY

With second generation leaders from all coast sections reported ready to flock to this city for the national Japanese-American Citizens' League convention September 4, 5, 6 and 7, a Northwest JACL officers' conference is expected to be held at the Kin Ka Low this afternoon at 5 p.m.

Important problems relating to the coming convention will be taken up while the recent Northwest JACL board resolutions for a new national council setup and a vocational study program will also be discussed.

Another resolution for a civic program based upon the community activities of each chapter may be adopted for presentation in the national convention.

With all Northwest chapters designated as the official hosts the discussions will, however, center mainly around the convention.

To Ask Unity Thomas Isari, Northwest JACL board chairman and president of the White River chapter, will undoubtedly be in the chair. He is expected to sound a plea for unity in shaping the plans for the success of the coming convention.

Other board officers to be present and asking the cooperation of all chapters and their officials will be Takeo Nogaki, board secretary from Seattle, and Toru Kuramoto, board treasurer and president of the Puyallup Valley chapter.

Tax Initiative Gets 60 Thousand Names

OLYMPIA (Special)—Sixty thousand signatures to petitions for the 40-Mill Tax Limit Initiative 114 were filed with Secretary of State E. N. Hutchinson this week by J. W. Wheeler, chairman of the 40-Mill Tax Limit Committee, proponents of the bill.

Fifty thousand certified signatures are required to place an initiative on the ballot, and many names are disqualified during the checking in the Secretary of State's office, Wheeler warned.

This measure, twice ratified by the voters as placed on the statute books in 1932 as Initiative 64, again as Initiative 94 in 1934, reenacts the 40-Mill Tax Limit on real and personal property for another two years and prohibits legislators from amending or repealing the law.

NAKAMURA PLANS MANY FEATURES FOR 'JAPAN DAY'

Script Ready for Distribution; Plan American-Japanese Entertainments

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

When members of the local community gather at Playland on Sunday, July 12, for the third annual Japan Day, they will find no lack of entertainment, according to Tura Nakamura, master of ceremonies and chairman of the arrangements for the fete.

One of the features of the Japanese entertainment will be an 'ondo' which will be put on under the direction of K. Maki. Maki is now engaged in gathering together members of the community and training them.

Script Out Today The script which will entitle the holders to special rates at all concessions will be ready for distribution by local merchants and at the headquarters of the Seattle chapter of the Japanese-American Citizens' League today, according to Nakamura. All who are planning to attend the Japan Day outing are urged to get their script at the earliest possible date.

It is reported that a number of community organizations are planning special outings and picnics for Playland a week from Sunday. Playland officials declare that there will be plenty of room for all at the picnic grounds.

Plan Many Features Many features are being lined up by Nakamura, veteran Northwest second generation radio announcer. Ballet, vocal and instrumental numbers in English have been planned. There will also be Japanese dances and vocal numbers to supplement the 'ondo.'

For the athletically inclined there will be an all-day skating party as well as a relay race which will be open to any group wishing to enter. A special trophy will be put up which will go to the winning relay team.

Will Help Convention Officers of the Seattle chapter of the JACL urge all members of the community to attend the Playland affair because a percentage of the day's receipts will be contributed to the convention fund in order to defray the expenses of the fourth biennial national JACL convention which is to be held here next September.

Nakamura, who is also general convention committee chairman, said this week, "We should like to see every man, woman and child of the community at the Japan Day outing this year because there is every indication that everyone will enjoy himself to the fullest. Not only that, but by attending everyone will be doing his bit to help put the national convention over this fall. If we make the convention the success it should be, we'll help Seattle maintain her reputation as being one of the most hospitable and enthusiastic cities on the Coast."

Physician Cautions Wound Treatment If you must shoot firecrackers in celebration of the Fourth of July, remember that burns and wounds caused by firecrackers are dangerous and should be given immediate attention by a physician. Dr. Coffey, State Director of Health advises:

Each year there is a great number of persons injured who do not deem it advisable to seek medical attention. Many of these persons suffer a dangerous illness or continue through life with some form of injury because of their carelessness in this regard.

Last year Washington's record in Fourth of July accidents was quite favorable as compared with other states. Of a total of 6,940 accidents, only thirty-six persons in the state of Washington were seriously injured. Of this number twenty-three had burns of various degrees, one had an eye injury, five had lacerations, and five others were injured to degrees undetermined.
