NINETY PERSONS HAD BEEN KILLED IN KING COUNTY

THE WAR HAS COST THE PACIFIC COAST HEAVILY

in the way of foreign trade, it is announced by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Only $41,718,000 in business was reported for September from the five customs districts. That was a $14,000,000 less than the same month the previous year. Looks like the disturbed relations with Japan is rather expensive.

BIG RUSH FOR THE JOB OF HOSTESS AT THE ARMY CAMPS

will be created soon, and the commanding officer in each corps area will do the selecting. So we'll find out if the generals prefer blondes, or otherwise. But if the rookies think they are going to have any "sweet young things" for hostesses they are due to be fooled. One requirement in a hostess is that of maturity. Age limits are from 25 to 50 years. Consequently if a woman applies for a hostess job she admits maturity, which may keep a lot of the girls from seeking the position.

DEMOCRACY NEEDS FORWARD ACTION

Mere Tolerance, Which Is Negative, Fails To Produce Solution, Thinks Louis Adamic; Everyone Must Join

DIVERSITY CAN PROVE BLESSING

Real democracy needs more than mere tolerance, declares Louis Adamic, noted author, in an article in Common Ground. It needs positive action. Diverse elements in this country must accept each other, and all join together for working out a better way of life, wherein all may benefit.

In this third installment of Mr. Adamic's article he brings out the fact that diversity may contribute to a richer culture. He calls for real Americanization, not the hysterical action so common during the dark days of the World War. He reiterates his belief that foreign-born can appreciate democracy. Following is another section of the Adamic article:

BOARDS LAUNCHED FOR AXIS POWERS

Three Commissions Will Be Named To Study Actions In Their Fields

TOKIO.—One of the major results of the tripartite pact between Japan, Italy and Germany is the Joint Technical Commissions which are created under Article 4 of that instrument.

Will Be Historic Step

The new pact concluded has indicated its aims as having historic significance, making it known that a new international structure will be established by construction of regional new orders.

Democracy, if it is to be a positive way of life, requires something more than tolerance. The diverse elements of the U. S. population will have to try to accept one another. We need to look at each other, closely objectively, critically, but without fear and with active effort toward understanding. The central educational or cultural effort, both with youth and adults, should be not toward uniformity and conformity to the prevalent, it is in the "Americanization" drives of twenty years ago, and as it still is to an entirely too great extent, but toward accepting and welcoming and exploiting diversity, variety, and differences which do not, and cannot conceivably ever, come into conflict with our national ideals and safety. The Fifth Column has to be eliminated, but, in doing that, we must not imitate, however mildly, Hitler's own and his fellow dictators' frenzy for uniformity and regimentation, and for stamping out diversity; and we must not succumb to their idea of the superiority of one group of humanity over the others. If we were uniformity and conformity, and create superiority on the one hand inferiority on the other, we shall likely swamp the U. S. with general fear—the hidden mediocrity and democratic disability, and thereby play directly into the hands of Hitler and Goebbels, who expect us to do just that. The Anglo-Saxon Americans worked out the practical basis of the political and cultural setup of the U. S., with the Chase and aid, as Mary Felt and Shakespeare; and also of the thirteenth-century Scholastic philosophers, who were Spaniards, Italians, and Frenchmen; of Rousseau, another Frenchman; of the Old Testament, a Jewish book, and of Jesus Christ, a Jew; and—again, as Professor Schlesinger points out—with the tangible help and on the insistence of the Irish and German elements that were here early in the land within them powerful urges toward liberty. . . . Then, what is Americanism? To me, it is not the patent or monopoly of any group, but, rather, a concentrate of the aspirations and tendencies of humanity at its best nearly everywhere at one time or another. It is a movement away from primitive racism, fear, and defensive nationalism, and herd instincts and mentality; a movement toward freedom, creativeness, a universal or pan-human culture. The American Dream is not restricted to old-stock Americans. The recent immigrants from all over Europe had it within them before they ever saw or experienced America. It caused tears to well from their eyes as they glimpsed the Statue of Liberty. (I have an idea that Europe is crashing into ruin partly because too many "Americans," people addicted to liberty, left there and came here during the last hundred years.) We need to work toward a synthesis of the old-stock and the new-immigrant America, of the Mayflower and the steerage, of Plymouth Rock and Jamestown and Ellis Island, of the Liberty Bell and the Statue of Liberty, of the New England wilderness and the slums of modern industrial cities, of the American Revolution and the Industrial Revolution. As a country, and as individuals, we need to get into a mood in which we will accept, not merely tolerate, one another. When I say "accept," I don't mean that one's decisions to like or dislike or be indifferent to a man should be made on the basis of his essential qualities as a person, not because he was born in a country, or an Armenian or a Yankee, or that he came over in the steerage or can sport a Mayflower blossom on his family tree. MARMOTS SEEK 3RD STRAIGHT WIN; MEET GREEN LAKE TEAM TOMORROW

Victory No. 3 will be the goal of the Marmots as the Japanese eleven meets Green Lake team tomorrow afternoon at Broadway field.

MARMOTS, after losing the first three games, finally got started two Sundays ago. The Japanese team defeated Cleveland, 8 to 0, while Rainier eleven fell before the charging Marmots to the tune of 13 to 6.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 3.—After trimming Cleveland A. C. 8 to 0, Marmots came through with a 13 to 0 win over Rainier eleven last Sunday at Rainier field to register their second win of the season.

The two teams battled through the first quarter on even terms. Just before the end of the first canto, however, with George Hirai carrying the ball, the Japanese eleven moved from their 38-yard line to the opponent's 45.

On an exchange of punts, Marmots found themselves in possession of the pigskin deep in the Rainier territory. Two line plays by Hirai and Yoshida moved the ball up to the 15.

Blocked Punt Paves Way A pass in the end zones fell incomplete and the Japanese machine lost the ball to the Rainiers. Few plays later, George Mukai, Japanese center, broke through the line to block the punt. Bill Nakamura, tackle, scooped the ball up and crossed the goal line to score. Yoshida added 2 points on a line play.

The second Japanese tally came in the third quarter. With Jim Yoshida carrying the brunt of the attack, Marmots moved from their 40 to the Rainier 45. On an exchange of punts, the Japanese team gained possession of the pigskin on the 35.

A pass from George Hirai to Jim Yoshida was completed on the 20 and Yoshida galloped the rest of the way into the pay dirt. Conversion failed.

What takes place around the kitchen table when a delicious menu is being prepared under newest methods will be the eye-ringing, mouth-watering demonstration by attractive Mrs. Edith Rauch, popular Northwest cookery expert from the Puget Sound Power & Light Company, at the Fourth Free Courier Cooking School at Washington Hall next Wednesday and Thursday, starting both evenings at 7:30 o'clock promptly.

Mrs. Rauch will be assisted by Martha Inouye, secretary of The Courier Public Service Bureau, sponsoring the project.

While attractive and appetizing dishes will be prepared by Mrs. Rauch, another feature will be a brief lecture and demonstration on the newest form of home-lighting effect by Betty Hall, also of the Puget Sound Power & Light Company.

Following the demonstration on each night, Tura Nakamura, Courier radio announcer, will take over during the gift period.

Next week's two-night school is planned on the largest scale yet, with innovations. The public is extended a cordial welcome to this free affair, where interesting exhibits will also be on display.

BASKETBALL DANCE

New Consignment Of Adamic's Book Arrives This Week

Finding favor with local book-lovers, from Many Lands, by Louis Adamic, was sold out in record time by The Courier last week.

The second lot personally autographed by Adamic, arrived Thursday to fill late orders. The special offer of the book and one-year Courier subscription for $3.50, the cost of the book, still prevails. A third lot under this special offer is expected to be here next week.

PEACE THEME FOR CHRISTIAN YOUNG

As the world situation is made conspicuous by the absence of a solution for peace, "We Would Seek Christ's Way" will be the theme of the Eleventh Annual Young People's Christian Conference of the Northwest which opens here for three days on November 22.

Next Wednesday evening over The Courier broadcast on KOL from 8:15 to 8:30 o'clock, something about the significance of the conference at this time; its four hundred and more delegates to attend from all sections of the Northwest and British Columbia, and the way young American-born Japanese Christians think, will be discussed by Arthur Sasaki, president of the Northwest Federation, Chikiro Kikuchi, general chairman of the coming conference, and Miss Waka Mochizuki, a local delegate.

This will be the first time the conference is to be held at the First Baptist Church, and on the final morning the young delegates will take part in the Sunday services.

Vermont has a greater average snowfall than many parts of the Arctic regions.

SEATTLE CHAPTER PLANS FOR DANCE ON THANKSGIVING

Annual Social Affair Will Be At Faurot's Hall, As Formerly; All Asked

GOOD MUSIC PROVIDED

After a quiet period socially, due to the election and other activities, the local chapter of the JAACL is now concentrating on plans for the annual Thanksgiving Dance, Wednesday evening, November 20. It will be at Faurot's Ballroom, 9 p. m. until 1 a. m.

Gay Jones' Orchestra will furnish music, and there will be a vocal quartette. The admission is the usual minimum, $1 per couple. A discount of 25 cents is allowed paid-up members buying tickets at the League office.

A long list of distinguished patrons and patronesses has been provided. In addition a number of honor guests have been invited, including public officials and civic workers.

The next meeting of the chapter is set for November 15, says President Takeo Nogaki. At this meeting the Fall calendar will be discussed, and other projects considered.

A new method of measuring ultra-violet in solar and sky radiation by use of photosensitive glass rods was recently reported.
