DELEGATES TO THE convention of the musicians are having a rootin', tootin' time of it.

Portland Bakers who struck for more "dough," got it in the shape of a 10 per cent wage increase.

LAUNDRY WORKERS get a wage boost, and now housewives need not worry about how their "clean" the customers.

RECIPE FOR an unbaked cheese cake is printed in a local newspaper, and now housewives need not worry about how their baking comes out.

POLICE arrested a man on Washington Street who was picketing a speakeasy, and booked him for being drunk. How about the operator of the speakeasy?

WAR FANS who are following events in the Near East are informed that they will find some background about this area in a book called the Bible. Available at the library.

CASSIUS GATES has accepted a generalship in the Community Fund Drive, and now so far as contributors are concerned it'll be "gates ajar!"

ITALIAN CLUB has invested part of its funds in defense bonds. Apparently the officers don't expect the U. S. to lose it there should be war.

AL SMITH called at the White House to see the President, and a reporter asked him if the hatchet was buried. He said there never was any hatchet. Correct, Al! It was a brocade you wielded.

LOWER LIVING standard faces people in the lower salary brackets, says an eastern financial expert visiting Seattle. Yes, they will be caught between the upper and nether mill-stones of rising prices and higher taxes.

ATTORNEY said he could have a feigned heart attack in order to get a continuance in a law suit, and now the court is going to give him a real one by referring the matter to the state bar association.

WORK-OR-DRILL is said to be the new policy of the government toward strikers. Old saying was, work or starve, but at least these men will eat if they go into the Army.

ROSE SHOW will be held at the Olympic Hotel next Monday and Tuesday. Although we are partial to the rhododendron, we'll admit the rose is a very nice posey, and has had a lot of write-ups in times past.

MAYOR MILLIKIN has proclaimed June as Dairy Month, and noted that the state revenue from milk last year was 30-million dollars. That was before the price boost this week, too.

BARBER asserts that a man gets more for his money in a barber shop than any place. Perhaps he's counting the conversation. Has that been shaved in free, previously?

SEATTLE WOMAN who violated a Superior Court rule by appearing as a witness in slacks said she meant no disrespect, and explained that she always wore slacks at work. That's right. Working clothes should be good enough for any court.

CANNERS filling war department orders have been exempted from labor standards of the Walsh-Healey public contracts act. The canners can now fill government contracts without paying time and a half overtime. If this isn't true in private contracts it should be.

FEDERAL government cracked down on oil companies for raising the price of gasoline 1 cent on the Pacific Coast, but in Seattle the price of milk goes up 1 cent. Still, we wouldn't hardly say the government is more concerned about the automobile owners than the children.

FIREWORKS are banned in rural King County by order of the Board of County Commissioners. Wish they would have our back alley included in the rural area. Crackers have been outlawed in the city for years, but the din goes on every Fourth of July in our neighborhood.

TRADE SHOULD BE FREE

NEW YORK.—Conditions now existing with regard to Japan amount virtually to an economic blockade against her exports, declared Gen. John F. O'Ryan, World War veteran, and distinguished figure, speaking at a banquet tendered June 4 to Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura.

Long Term of Trade

General O'Ryan recalled the long period of profitable and mutual trade between the two nations. He said, in part: "Your Excellency, it cannot be expected in a country with a population so great as ours that the people generally can come to know you as you are in a matter of a few months' time and through you, to learn more of the Japanese people."

Report In Russia

In his syndicated column published in many newspapers, Mackenzie says: "What might have been the big news of the day, but didn't develop, was the report published in the Russian press to the effect that the United States had taken the initiative in seeking a Far Eastern accord with Japan, this to include American mediation of the Sino-Japanese war."

QUIET IN PACIFIC DECLARED AIM BY ENVOY AT DINNER

Conflict Raging Elsewhere Must Not Spread To That Ocean, His Theory

TRADITION GOOD ASSET

NEW YORK.—Buttressed by a friendship that lasted for 86 years between the United States and Japan, there is every reason to hope that a peaceable solution of the present problem can be worked out. That was the declaration of Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura before a notable gathering of business men and statesmen at a dinner tendered the admiral by the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of New York, Inc., June 4, in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Situation Now Troubled

Ambassador Nomura summed up the situation as follows: "No one can pretend that American-Japanese relations are free from difficult problems at the present moment. All of you are aware of these problems, and there is no need for me to describe them. And yet, it is still my firm conviction that the Pacific must remain peaceful and that the conflagration now raging elsewhere must not spread to that ocean. It is quite clear that both our countries have nothing to gain and everything to lose by armed conflict."

Traditions Are Asset

"The traditions of peace, cooperation and mutual respect, which we have built up ever since the day of Commodore Perry are a valuable asset, particularly at a time like this. "Difficulties and disagreements have cropped up from time to time in the past between the two countries, but they have been only the exceptions that prove the rule. Some issues have been serious. But the statesmen of both countries, supported by their peoples, have always found a way to steer clear of danger. And now, even if our present problems overshadow those of the past, there is no reason to lose faith in our ability to work out a peaceful solution."

Can Weather The Storm

"The members of this Chamber of Commerce and their associates are primarily interested in the promotion of trade between America and Japan—a trade that has contributed so much toward the common welfare, prosperity and progress of the two countries. Although it is inevitable that this trade should suffer from the present abnormal circumstances, I believe it is strong enough to weather the storm. I confidentially hope and trust that it will be kept moving so that when peace comes back to the world it will be in a position to take an active and important part in the universal economic recovery and rehabilitation."

DEFENSE UP TO PEOPLE

In these days when national defense is the major project in this nation it is but natural that many persons advance some idea that they consider as contributing toward that end.

After all, the one great need is for a united people. Every material machine and organization is useless without the people behind it.

One instance right to the point is the issuance of a little booklet entitled "You Can Defend America."

No man is more competent to speak on this subject than Gen. John J. Pershing who led 2 million American soldiers over seas some years ago.

In our own state Governor Langlie used the publication as the basis for a stirring address on You Can Defend America Day.

LET'S ALL HONOR FATHER

Tomorrow in tens of thousands of homes all over this broad land there will be special recognition of the character who is sometimes referred to as the head of the household.

In other words, it's Father's Day. In this connection it is of interest to recall that this observance is a State of Washington product.

There is high authority for this, also. In the Bible we find it was commanded of the young people to "Honor thy father and thy mother."

PEACE EFFORTS AFLOAT

In recent months there have been developments to indicate that there exists in this country a sentiment looking toward an improvement in relations between the United States and Japan.

Within the past two weeks this sentiment seems to have been expressed quite generally. As we say, influential publications and men in high places, both public and private, have voiced opinion.

A highlight in this development was the gathering in New York when the Japanese Chamber of Commerce there tendered a dinner to Admiral Nomura, the Japanese ambassador to this country.

The powerful New York Daily News has for some months urged that the two-coupling peace period between the United States and Japan, and said that peace is the only way.

tries seek a peaceful settlement. Now a few recent expressions may be mentioned. Senator Vandenburg, an isolationist, who has not been by any means an advocate of Japan, this week said that the two countries should sign a new trade treaty.

Of course, there is an offset to this movement. Secretary of State Hull is quoted recently as saying that Japan must change her policy before there can be an undertaking for better relations.

Also, on the debit side is the fact that Japan and Russia this week signed a new trade treaty, which has been hanging in the balance for months.

NEW ELEMENT IN STRIKE

Seizure of a large airplane factory in California by a detachment of the United States regular Army easily constitutes the outstanding event of the week.

This action may bring to a climax the program of strikes which has been in effect in plants where defense products were being turned out.

Many persons have insistently inquired what is the cause of these strikes, and to this query there have been at least two answers.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox is quoted by the Associated Press as saying in connection with the action in California that: "The challenge of subversive and Communist elements that has been flung in our teeth for months has been accepted."

That is an authoritative statement from a high source. Another view is expressed by Senator Tydings who opposed the troop use as being just what the Communists want.

It is pointed out in Washington dispatches that the government has many times used troops to intervene in labor disputes. The most important event was when President Cleveland sent soldiers to Chicago at the time of a railroad strike.

The men have returned to work, and have been assured that they will lose none of their rights in the negotiations that are to follow.

OUR LIVING STANDARD

The living standards for families in salary brackets ranging above $3,000 a year are due to be drastically lowered, a distinguished economist told a gathering of bankers here this week.

The economist gave what seems to be a sound reason for his forecast. He said this end will come about because of heavy defense taxation, and the rising cost of commodities and consumer goods generally.

There seems to be no doubt that if taxation takes a larger share of the family income, and the merchant takes more for groceries, food, clothing and other necessities, there will be less for what is usually known as the standard of living.

As for the item of taxation there seems to be no way of avoiding that. The nation is already committed to the expenditure of many billions of dollars on national defense and aid to the democracies.

Thus, about the only way it seems possible to protect the present standard of living is to curb rising prices of necessities, and to see to it that non-defense projects be limited.

PROGRAM HONORS GIRL RESERVES

(Cont. from p. 1, col. 2) Our members also take part in the general city Girl Reserve programs at the Y.W.C.A., co-operating in arranging and holding the worship services.

This month from June 23 to 30 our members will do their best to attend the Y.W.C.A. conference at Seabeck, Washington, where they will be trained in leadership.

Eight Clubs in City Miss Yasumura said there are eight clubs in the city. They are the Household Members League, Business Girls Club, Industrial Girls Club, Coed Club, Club En Avant, Wednesday Night Club, Japanese Club, and Fourth Nighters Club.

YASUMURA—Girl Reserves are this year celebrating their 60th Anniversary as younger members of the Young Women's Christian Association. In cities, towns and rural areas over 315,000 junior and senior high school girls belong to Girl Reserve clubs that meet in schools, churches, community centers and Y.W.C.A. buildings.

Club programs grow out of the immediate and long-time needs of the girls, and include such areas as religion, personal and family relations, work problems, social problems, health and the arts. Volunteer advisers trained by professional staff members help girls to plan their activities around these interests.

In the organization younger girls are having real practice in democracy. Because we believe that people learn to understand and appreciate others by actually working together, Girl Reserve clubs include girls of different social and economic background: Indian girls, Negro girls, Chinese, Japanese, Mexican, and old-stock Americans are all found in our membership.

Today more than ever before girls are saying to us "we are tired of talking about democracy, we want to 'be' democratic!" To Girl Reserves, democracy means taking responsibility for making their own club plans and carrying out their decisions.

WESTERN GIANTS TO MEET JOINT COUNCIL OF TEAMSTERS TOMORROW NOON A LOWER WOODLAND GROUND

George Okamura Pitches Five-Hit Ball As Japanese Nine Loses Again In 7 To 5 Tussle

Western Avenue Giants spotted Ballard Boosters 5 runs in the first inning and were not able to overcome them in 8 innings to drop another game in the Puget Sound League. Giants lost by a 7 to 5 score at Lower Woodland field.

The win pushed Boosters a half game behind league leading Aero Mechanics, while Giants dropped into a two-way tie for fifth spot.

To Meet Teamsters
Joint Council of Teamsters will be the next opponents for the Japanese nine. The game will be played at Lower Woodland from 12 noon in another time-limit affair. Giants lost to Teamsters, 10 to 4, in the first round.

Coach Tommy Sakai will probably start George Kimura on the mound, with Taiji Takayoshi, Hiro Nishimura and Yosh Tsuji ready for the relief duties. Kimura has won a game in two starts for a 5.82 earned runs per nine inning game. He has struck out 9 batters and walked 4 in 16 innings.

Rally Falls Short
Behind 7 to 2 in the eighth, Giants staged a hitting attack to chase Griffith, the starting pitcher, off the mound. George Okamura opened the inning with a single into left, stole second, and scored on Frank Yoshitake's single into center.

Shoichi followed with another base hit into left, while George Kimura scored the two runners with a line drive into centerfield. With the tying runners on the bases, relief pitcher Brown forced Johnny Kusakabe to ground out to the third sacker to stop the 3-run rally.

Giants scored in the first inning when the Ballard left-fielder juggled Su Taguchi's single long enough to enable Tosh Nishimura to scamper over the home plate. A fly ball which went over the outfielder's head in the sixth inning was good for a circuit trip for Su Taguchi.

Frank Yoshitake and Shoichi Suyama moved up in the batting list, while Su Taguchi collected a single and a homer in 4 trips to raise his average to .387. Suyama had a perfect day at bat with three straight singles and a walk in 3 times at the plate.

LONGACRES

They can open Longacres anytime now. Ernie White, the little man who makes the parimutuel machines say "Uncle" when you win a bet, is back in town.

Ernie arrived yesterday from Churchill Downs in old Kentucky. He is the first member of the official Longacres family on the scene of Northwest summer racing. The track opens June 28.

Ernie looks for a big season at Longacres. "Racing attendance is up 25 to 30 per cent all over the country. It should boom here too," he thinks.

In the racing game since 1910 and a native Kentuckian to boot, Ernie White is a pretty shrewd judge of horses and folks that play them. It's his opinion that the betting public is a lot smarter today.

"I can remember," he says, "when the general racing public regarded a race chart in the Form as something Mister Einstein must have thought up after a heavy lunch."

"Today the average player would no more think of playing a horse without looking up his breeding, his racing record and all the other pertinent information that goes with it than they would think of trying to dig clams with the tide in."

Asked about the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, where he acted as assistant manager of mutuels, Ernie says, "It's pretty hard to doubt now that the best horse didn't win—Whirlaway the whirlwind!"

EAY WATANABE WINS BAT HONORS WITH .576; SECOND STILL OPEN

Frank Hori Hits Safely Four Straight Times To Aid Valley Champs Down Lions 5-3

CLASS C STANDINGS
Team	W.	L.	Pct.
W. R. Jrs.	9	1	.900
Auburn	6	4	.600
South Park	5	5	.500
Lions	4	5	.444
W. R. Hawks	3	6	.333
Tigers	2	8	.200

White River Juniors became the first club to win the Courier League championship for this season. The Valley nine galloped three full games ahead of second place Auburn to capture the C crown.

Mainly responsible for the championship was the terrific batting clip of Eay Watanabe, the outfielder. Watanabe, who tops the C batters, has 19 base hits in 33 trips to the plate for an average of .576. At no time in the season has the White River flychaser fallen below the .400 mark.

Final C. Title
Lotus Lions will meet White River Hawks this Sunday in the final C tussle. With the title securely in the hands of the Juniors, the Seattle Buddhists will attempt to climb into a tie for third spot with South Park with a win over the Valley nine.

White River Juniors clinched the C pennant by taking a 5 to 3 count over Lotus Lions last Sunday at Orilla. Linsy Tamura, ace righthander, kept the Seattle batters away from the home plate except in the fifth inning when 3 runs came over on 5 hits.

After scoring 3 runs in the initial inning, the White River nine pushed over another tally in the second frame on an error. Lions got back in the ball game in the fifth by scoring 3 times on singles by Edo Sasaki and George Nakagawa. Eay Watanabe doubled and later scored in the seventh inning for the fifth Valley tally.

Seek Bat Honors
Although the Juniors have captured the title and first place in the batting race, George Nakagawa and George

Fumio Kasai held the Seattle nine scoreless until the eighth inning when George Mihara scored Ashida ahead of him with a circuit blow.

In an important encounter this Sunday, Taiyo A's and Fife Juniors will battle in a twin bill at Franklin High. A defeat for the Puyallup Valley team will put White River Tigers in a tie for the league lead, while a double win for Taiyos will find the Seattle team in second spot.

With Min Uchimura pitching a 5-hit ball, Taiyos defeated Tacoma Cubs, 7 to 3 in seven innings. Taiyos had a big inning in the second when singles by Kuroiwa, Osawa, Hayakawa and Horuchi pushed over 4 runs.

White River Tigers added another game in their win column by trimming Kibel Glnseis, 5 to 3 at Orilla. Although the Seattle team outdid the Valley nine, the final score stood in favor of the home town club.

Lotus Ashuras pounced on Bet Hara and Toru Ogasawara for 13 base hits to humiliate the winless Koshows, 14 to 2 at Garfield. Nobi Shimizu, ace, Lotus righthander, held the Koshows hitless throughout the contest in the first no-hit feat this season.

GOV. ARTHUR B. LANGLIE

GOVERNOR POINTS 3 DEFENSE LINES

Langlie Stresses Needs In Broadcast; Sound Homes, And United Nation

Based on a new handbook entitled "You Can Defend America," a number of cities throughout the state of Washington on June 4, carried out exercises of a joyous nature. The booklet was prepared by the Moral Re-Armament Movement.

The foreword of this remarkable little document was written by Gen. John J. Pershing, general of the United States Armies. It has been commended by Jas. A. Taylor, president of the Washington State Federation of Labor, by Worth McClure, superintendent of schools in Seattle, and other leading citizens.

Governor Langlie Speaks

The climax of the observance was a broadcast by Gov. Arthur B. Langlie. His Excellency pointed out that defense begins at home in the hearts of the people. Without a sound and patriotic citizenry there can be no safety.

Human nature, said the Governor, is the bottleneck in the production of national morale. We need a new spirit in this country. The booklet is available at the news stands.

BAPTIST SERVICES

Services at the Japanese Baptist Church tomorrow will be as follows: 9:30 a. m., Teachers Prayer Circle; 9:45 a. m., Sunday School; 8 p. m., evening worship. The church vacation school begins Monday, and will run for two weeks.

Consul Sato Declares That Young People Owe Fealty To Land Of Birth

BURKLAND WINS HONOR

The loyalty of the American-born Japanese belongs to the land of their birth. This was the statement of Consul Yuki Sato at a luncheon honoring second generation graduates of the University of Washington by the Japan Society and its Auxiliary at the Washington Hotel last Tuesday.

Congratulating the graduates, the Consul said it was the duty of the second generation to be good, intelligent and respectful American citizens.

Can Make Contributions

Acting as chairman, George H. Greenwood, vice president of the society, viewed the second generation as being able to make three notable contributions to American life, namely, innate courtesy, sense of beauty and industry.

Responding for the graduates was George Eguchi. Marjorie Severens responded for the American Japan Student Conference delegates who were also guests.

Will Hold Conference

William Root, revealed that the America-Japan Student Conference will be held as scheduled, with students from Japan now in the United States to be representatives of their country.

The Auxiliary scholarship on Far Eastern studies was awarded to Herman Burkland by Dr. Frances Earle.

Sam Hara Stationed At San Antonio, Tex.

Sam Hara, formerly of Seattle, who was recently inducted at Los Angeles is now stationed at San Antonio, Texas, according to word received here by his brother, George Hara.

His transfer to Texas took place from Fort Warren, in Wyoming. Sam is the son of Thomas L. Hara, who was active in local Japanese Baptist Church circles, and who at present is residing in Los Angeles.

Yamaguchi Juniors Plan Outing Sunday

Portland Girls Pay Respect To Adviser With Buffet Supper

Members of the Girls Cultural Guild honored one of its advisers, Mrs. Clarence Oliver, with a surprise party at her home. The affair was planned to coincide with the Oliver's 13th wedding anniversary and a beautiful lace banquet cloth was presented as a gift from the club.

Games filled the evening's merriment, and a delicious and artistically served buffet supper brought unanimous praise to Miss Hideo Kokubu, who prepared the refreshments alone. Other girls assisting in the evening's preparation were: Masa Kobayoshi, gift; Mary Marumoto, general arrangements; Constance Yamada, games.

Congratulations and best wishes are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Tsu Niguma, newly-weds, who are now residing at the Ito's apartments. The couple were married at a quiet rite on May 29th. The bride is the former Miss Lillie Sakamoto.

Miss Mary Kiyomura and Mr. Henry Fukui were among the 43 all "A" students honored by the Oregon Journal at its semi-annual party feting all the honor graduates of Portland high schools.

Shigeo Takayama and George Azumano have been called to the training camps.

Portland Guild Has Tea For New People

Members of the Young Women's Guild were hostesses at a tea held in honor of new members at the Y.W.C.A. Those who have been admitted into the club are Emi Somekawa, Dorothy Shimomura, Misue Yamaya, Mary Ito, and Asako Matsubu.

Delightful refreshments prepared by Nobu Hayakawa and Hana Okada were enjoyed by those present, following several interesting games arranged by Emi Nomura and Masa Kobayashi.

Two West-Side Boys Win Pullman Honor

Two western Washington boys have been honored at Washington State College. One of them is William Shimasaki, of Auburn, who was given the Josie Constock Shadle scholarship for 1941-42, worth $50. The recipient must have junior standing in civil engineering.

Two boys were graduated at Pullman. They are George Ogawa of Sumner from electrical engineering course. He was a member of Sigma Pau and Tau Beta Pi. He was president of Rho Gamma, national radio honorary. He ranked cum laude.

Hiroshi Furukawa, of Sunny-side, graduated as chemical engineer. He was a Phi Delta Upsilon.
