

Between the Lines

THIS DAY IN HISTORY: Henry W. Longfellow, the famous New England poet was born in 1807. Fifteenth Constitutional amendment was proposed.

JAPANESE brain specialist in Fresno has been barred from the County Hospital by the board of supervisors. We presume this is another war casualty.

CANDIDATES have been nominated to make the final race in the city election March 20. It is now the duty of every voter to exercise his best judgment at the polls.

MOTORIST who picked up a hitch-hiking blonde wearing a mink coat lost his car and $70 to the lady and her companion. Any driver who knows no better than to trifle with that combination deserves to be robbed.

NEARLY EVERY DAY we see in the newspapers a story about some young chap from Seattle being prominently mentioned as a war hero. Boys from Seattle have been doing their duty, and will continue to do so.

HEADLINE reads "Sun Over Singapore" in announcing that the Japanese had raised their flag over that great British bastion. Perhaps they may "Sing Over Singapore" now, but later on someone else may furnish the ditty.

IGOROTS in the Philippines are praised by General MacArthur for their bravery and service in the fight against the Japanese. If they are still as tough as those the Bettler saw at the World's Fair in St. Louis some years ago, the Japanese have had good luck.

ALLEN PROPERTY confiscated by the nation will not be sold, but will be operated for the good of the nation, Secretary Morgenthau has announced. The government is taking a lesson from the difficulty that followed the first World War in this field.

G-MAN HOOVER declared last Sunday that "up to this time there has been no concerted foreign-directed Axis sabotage" but that there have been sporadic instances. This is well to keep in mind. It seems to be a fair statement, and probably the public generally will be surprised that we do not lessen the need for vigilance now, however.

JAPANESE in Alameda, California, who were affected by the evacuation order showed a splendid spirit. In two paid advertisements addressed to the people they thanked the residents who had left their homes, and expressed their sympathy without protest. The hope is to be able to return to the present conditions have passed away.

VIOLENCE against Japanese people flared up in California in several instances. In Washington of this kind, although none can say what may happen later. We think it is generally conceded that Japanese in the Puget Sound area have until now maintained pleasant relations with other people, and trust this happy state of affairs may continue.

FARMERS are coming to be recognized as essential as the war progresses. The director of the Selective Service Act is anxious about this, as he well should. It must be stressed that the arms and munitions are vital in the battlefield, they could not be used unless the men and women are clothed. Further, it should be said that not only must this country feed its own people, but some of our allies. Farm labor should be given wide consideration.

CHARACTER is one of the greater attributes of any man, and we may well remember this as we observe this week the birthday of George Washington. There were some to dispute his military ability back in the days of the Revolution, and there were others later. But he was the one figure around whom all could rally, because of his character. There was a deciding factor in the Revolution, and the same thing may be said to have been true in the Civil War when men turned to the leadership of Abraham Lincoln. Let us all remember this in these dark days, especially the younger folks.

ARMY HITS STRIDE IN HUGE EXPANSION

Personnel And Modern Arms Have Leaped Beyond Belief; Tanks, Planes, Heavy Ordnance Now Ready to Fight

POSSIBLE FORCE SEVEN MILLIONS

WASHINGTON.—Uncle Sam's Army has hit its expansion stride and is still going strong, according to reports rendered President Roosevelt. The President called for a general report on production and expansion, and it was rendered from official sources as of the date of December 31, 1941.

This expansion began with the fall of France, and by Autumn of last year the Army had a strength of more than a million and a half men under training and being rapidly equipped, says the report. Since then expansion and production has increased rapidly. Special stress is laid on the Army Air Corps, which is declared efficient.

Details on the Army expansion for the Spring of 1940 the United States Army has undergone a sixfold expansion in man-power and has made remarkable progress toward its thirty-two million man goal.

By the autumn of 1941, the Army of the United States had reached a strength of over a million and a half men, equipped with modern weapons of warfare despite supplies sent to other nations warring the aggressors.

Large Expansion Begins On January 15, 1942, the Secretary of War announced the largest expansion plan of all—doubling the size of the armored units, adding 22,000 largely motorized troops, doubling the size of the infantry divisions of some 15,000 men each, and doubling the constant units of the Air Force—providing, in all, for an American Army of 3,600,000 men by the end of 1942.

To speed this great new Army, and provide air bases and new fortifications, the Army has already completed on schedule 450 construction projects—over 50,000 separate buildings—in 250 areas.

One Great Advantage A great part of the billions allotted to the Army since the fall of France has gone into building new tanks, arsenals, ammunition, factories, aircraft plants to make these weapons and the shells and bombs they will carry. More plants will be built as needed to meet the President's goal for 1942 and 1943.

Modern war calls for tanks with heavy fire power, anti-aircraft guns, improved anti-aircraft batteries, searchlight and air-craft detectors; vast quantities of machine guns of heavier calibers. It also calls for such weapons as the Garand rifle, which has three times the range of the M1 rifle of the Springfield, and the new 155-millimeter gun which, mounted on a 95-mile-an-hour carrier, can place a 95-pound shell on a machine-gun nest 10 miles away. It calls for tens of thousands of fighter and bomber planes—well armored, carrying ever greater fire power, ever heavier bomb loads.

As the Army's offensive against the Axis with one great advantage. The Army has benefitted by the reports of hundreds of Army observers on the fields of battle throughout the world. Actual battle tests have been given our new equipment by the fighting men of friendly nations.

Despite all handicaps, production of tanks and combat vehicles is more than three times that of a year ago, giving the Army the mobility needed for offensive action.

Superiority of Our Planes In performance, our Army Air Corps can be credited with spectacular progress. We now have four types of combat planes better than anything yet produced abroad, so far as is known.

American aircraft for some time have been flying in the altitude range necessary to modern bombing tactics—that is, 30,000 to 40,000 feet. Credit for this goes to a supersonic developed by American industry. American bomber types now in mass production are superior to those built anywhere else in the world. Still better models are on the way.

The manning of these warplanes has required an immense training program for pilots, bombardiers, navigators, gunners, observers and mechanics. In 1940, flying officers were being trained at the rate of 7,000 a year. For 1941, this was raised to 12,000 a year—and this rate was passed in November with the graduation of 1,200 aviation cadets.

At present, the Air Forces form the second largest branch of the Army. Current plans for 1942 call for the addition of 20,000 men to the addition of 20,000.

WASHINGTON.—Following is the text of President Roosevelt's proclamation regarding removal of persons from designated areas in the interest of national defense:

"Whereas the successful prosecution of the war requires every possible protection against espionage and against sabotage to national defense material, national defense premises, and national defense utilities as defined in Section 4, act of April 20, 1918, 40 Stat. 533, as amended by the act of November 30, 1940, 54 Stat. 1220, and the act of August 21, 1941, 55 Stat. 655 (U. S. C., Title 50, Sec. 104):

"Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States, and commander in chief of the Army and Navy, I hereby authorize and direct the secretary of war, and the military commanders whom he may from time to time designate, whenever he or any designated commander deems such action necessary or desirable to prescribe military areas in such places and of such extent as he or the appropriate military commander may determine, from which any or all persons may be excluded, and with respect to which the right of any person to enter, remain in, or leave shall be subject to whatever restrictions the secretary of war or the appropriate military commander may impose in his discretion.

"The secretary of war is authorized to provide for residents of any such area who are excluded therefrom, such transportation, food, shelter, and other accommodations as may be necessary, in the judgment of the secretary of war or the said military commander, and until other arrangements are made, to accomplish the purpose of this order.

"Designation of military areas in any region or locality shall supersede designations of prohibited areas in the proclamations of December 7 and 8, 1941, and shall supersede the responsibility and authority of the attorney general under the said proclamations in respect of such prohibited and restricted areas.

"I hereby further authorize and direct the secretary of war and the said military commanders to take such other steps as he or the appropriate military commander may deem advisable to enforce compliance with the restrictions applicable to each military area hereinabove authorized to be established.

"I hereby further authorize and direct the secretary of war and the said military commanders to take such other steps as he or the appropriate military commander may deem advisable to enforce compliance with the restrictions applicable to each military area hereinabove authorized to be established.

Criticism Advocated By Republican Chief

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—An indication of what courses the Republican party will follow in the coming congressional elections this Fall, was given by Joseph W. Martin, Jr., speaking to the Indiana Republican Editorial Association here.

The chairman declared that constructive criticism, fairly offered, will prove a far greater contribution to victory than blind patriotism.

At the same time the chairman indicated that in his opinion the administration would not strengthen itself by referring to criticism of the conduct of the war as "petty politics."

The Republican chairman called for rigid economy in even the smallest of government expenditures.

"America is invincible, Martin said, but must not be blinded to its peril. Americans must work and fight 'as though we could be defeated' as though we could not be organized on the basis of requirements 'as deadly serious as those on the battle lines.' And finally, small business and a fearless press must be preserved.

Second only to the danger of military defeat, Martin asserted, is the danger of inflation and disproportionate spending.

"This war is being fought to keep our way of government and our life," he declared. "To lose our way of government would be to lose the war regardless of the outcome of military operations."

CHANGES SEEN IN SOUTH CALIFORNIA

Political Expediency Held Reason Officials Switch From Former Views

LOS ANGELES.—Local Japanese aliens were apprehensive when metropolitan newspapers blared forth with "Jap Sub Attacks Southland."

Buffeted about as a political football by election-conscious politicians have found themselves confronted by a massive wave of persecution by petty officialdom.

To date, the majority of officials have come from municipal officials with an eye on the coming election.

Consensus here seems to indicate that Mayor Fletcher Bowron, reform candidate who had the backing of the second group of voters and who had assured them of no discrimination, has changed his coat. He has been charged, by certain quarters known to be well-informed, to have instigated the evacuation movement.

A clash between legislative and executive officials is due over the proposal of a national sales tax, it was disclosed. Otherwise it was said they agreed on the main plans for a 7-billion dollar tax bill. The treasury experts favor stiff increases in excise taxes.

Next Draft Drawing On St. Patrick's Day

WASHINGTON.—The date of the new draft lottery has been set by Selective Service headquarters for March 17, St. Patrick's Day, it was announced this week.

The numbers determining the order of liability of service of some nine million men will be determined in green capsules, quite appropriate, considering the date.

The lottery itself will follow the procedure of the two previous drawings under the selective service law. Capsules containing numbers will be mixed, then drawn by blind-folded government officials. The goldfish bowl first used in the 1917 World War drawings will again hold the numbers.

The men whose numbers will be drawn are those who registered on February 16, when all aged 20 to 44, inclusive, and not previously registered, signed up with their local draft boards.

Between now and the lottery, draft boards will shuffle the new registration cards, and number them T-1, T-2, T-3, etc. The "T" standing for third registration. Similar sets of numbers will be in the lottery capsules.

Those holding the first number drawn will be the first of the new group of registrants to be considered for military service.

All the new registrants, however, will be placed behind those already registered on draft board lists. As a mechanical device to this end, the first number drawn—suppose it is T-142—will be listed as order number 10,001. The next number drawn will be order 10,002, etc. All present order numbers are below 10,000.

"As announced over the radio, this rule is to apply to all nationalities and to all peoples, regardless of their racial origin or citizenship. If this is correct, it is not a matter of discrimination as much as it is a matter of military expediency. The final test is, of course, in its application.

ROOSEVELT TELLS WORLD, ALLIES TO WIN LAST BATTLE

President Declares Effort Bringing Results; Scores Unfounded Criticism

WASHINGTON.—The spotlight was turned this week on President Roosevelt's fireside chat Monday night to the nation and the world, in which he pledged absolute war effort, answered critics, and declared that America's armed forces were more prominent in the Southwest Pacific than had been supposed. He said the allies would win the last battle.

California Studies Alien Relief Plans

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—An exhaustive study of the problem of evacuated aliens, and the effect on unemployment and relief is being made by the State and County Co-ordinating Committee. The question was referred to a sub-committee.

Several persons questioned the jurisdiction of the group in the matter, and it was agreed that any conclusion of the sub-committee should be presented to the members before transmittal to the federal authorities.

Ralph J. Wakefield, Tom Brooks of San Francisco, State Labor Commissioner H. C. Carrasco, and State Finance Commissioner George Killian were named to the sub-committee.

Paul E. Carrioco of the general federal social security office in San Francisco, told the committee the problem of financial aid for the problem of financial aid for acute within the next two or three weeks.

Evacuated aliens are using their savings but will be forced to seek relief when they are exhausted, Carrasco said.

YOUNG AMERICANS IN CITY SCHOOLS RESIGN POSITIONS

Large Group Educated Here Hope To Build Up Unity By Their Example

PRAISE FROM FLEMING

A group of more than a score of young American women of Japanese ancestry, who have been employed as clerks in the schools of Seattle, have tendered their resignations to the School Board. They said they did this in the interest of national unity and to contribute to the national defense.

The resignations were tendered to S. E. Fleming, acting superintendent of schools, to be transmitted to the School Board for consideration.

Letter of Resignation

Following is the letter of resignation presented to Superintendent Fleming:

"We, the undersigned American citizens of Japanese ancestry have learned that our presence as employees in the Seattle School system has been protested by certain persons and organizations.

"Most of us have received our education in the local schools, and have been proud of the fact as we have been proud of our positions as employees.

"However, it may be deemed in the best interest of the Seattle School system that under present conditions we should no longer occupy such positions.

"Therefore, we respectfully request the Seattle School Board to accept our resignations immediately.

"We do not take this action in any spirit of defeat, but believe we can by our resignation demonstrate beyond dispute that we have the best interests of the school system at heart. We take this step to prove our loyalty to the schools and to the United States, by not becoming a contributing factor to dissension and disunity, when national unity in spirit and deed is vitally necessary to the defense of and complete victory for America.

"We have no ill-will toward those who have protested our employment in the school system. We feel that it is their privilege.

"We only hope that the welfare of the schools will be served by our action in resigning from the positions we now occupy.

"Finally, we wish to express our heartfelt appreciation to the School Board, the superintendents, the principals and teachers for the kind treatment accorded us."

In Praise
Supt. Fleming, acting superintendent of the Seattle School System, issued the following statement:

"The letter of resignation of our Japanese clerks speaks for itself. I am sure that our principals and teachers would want to join me in the courtesy, appreciation, efficiency and loyalty of the girls. Their statement, supported by the voluntary withdrawal from school employment, makes us feel that our good opinion and confidence have not been misplaced.

Chairman Makes Comment
James Y. Sakamoto, general chairman of the Emergency Defense Council of the Japanese American Citizens League made the following comment:

"The action taken by these young women in voluntarily stepping aside in the interest of harmony, in the interest of education, and the welfare of the nation, should be appreciated by the community and everyone else. The action will contribute greatly to harmony and national unity."

Japanese Turn Over Some More Articles
Complying with an order issued as the result of the entire state being declared a protective defense area, some Japanese aliens and some citizens this week turned in an assortment of articles to the State Patrol at 325 Westlake Ave., N. The deadline was Thursday. Those living in the White River Valley turned in articles at Renton City Jail.

Articles called for included all firearms, ammunition, explosives or other materials or instruments which might be used to injure property or life.

DIRECTOR HOOVER AND EDITOR GIVE VIEWS ON REPORT

No Concerted Sabotage Act Yet Developed Here From Axis, FBI Asserts

DEFENSE OF HAWAIIANS

Two comment of interest on reports of subversive activities on the part of Axis and Japanese people were of particular interest in the local Community this week.

An Associated Press report from Washington said that Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said that "up to this time there has been no concerted foreign-directed Axis sabotage."

Hoover said there had been some sabotage, however, and recalled the case of a youth of German descent who damaged members at a Baltimore piano factory last year. He indicated that there had been only such isolated instances uncovered thus far.

From a Honolulu Editor
The following letter was published in The Chicago Times, from Riley H. Allen, editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. Mr. Allen is a former Seattle newspaper man, being connected with Post-Intelligencer some years ago. He is widely known here, having assisted Seattle a number of times.

An Editor's Viewpoint
I hope that The Times will not fail to point out that the findings of the Roberts board of inquiry did not contain any evidence of subversive activities by defense of Hawaii against the defenses here. Undoubtedly there was some expert espionage done in preparation for the attack on Pearl Harbor—but neither Secretary Knox nor the Roberts board has any evidence of disloyalty among the United States citizens of many races which make up this cosmopolitan population.

There have been many stories about that American citizen of Japanese ancestry had a part in the attack, either as units of the attacking force or in giving information and assistance from the ground. I believe that every citizen of Hawaii as a whole come out of investigation with an excellent record of loyalty, of poise and of stability.

It seems to me that The Times could do a great service for the country as a whole by pointing this out.

RILEY H. ALLEN,
Editor, Honolulu Star Bulletin.

Two Oregon Organizations Will Have Large Exhibit At Big Local Affair

Thousands of women throughout the Northwest who are affiliated with the Washington and Oregon State Federations of Garden Clubs will be represented in the finest of amateur exhibits at the biggest flower show ever held in this part of the nation.

The great floral spectacle is the Pacific Northwest Spring Flower and Garden Show which will open March 15 for an 8-day run, overflowing both levels of Seattle's huge Civic Auditorium. And all who have seen advance plans, and heard about the fine exhibits entered, believe it will surpass in beauty and interest the splendid National Flower Show, which came to Seattle last spring.

Club Section Is Larger
The Garden Club section of the Pacific Northwest show will be far bigger and in better location than at the National show last year. Dr. John H. Hanley, director of the University of Washington Arboretum and general chairman for the show, announced.

Mrs. Emma Haag Gorman, co-publisher of Northwest Gardens, is general chairman of the garden club section. And among new features will be an amateur camellia exhibit in which everyone with a pet camellia bush or blossom is invited to enter!

Oregon Clubs Will Aid
The shadowboxes, or niches which drew such throngs last year, have a fine new location this year, and also in this amateur decorative division will be table and wall arrangements.

The Oregon State Federation of Garden Clubs, Mrs. Daniel Heffner of Portland, chairman, with the co-operation of the famous Men's Garden Club of Portland, will exhibit an Oregon Spring Garden, occupying 600 square feet on the main floor. Mrs. Lincoln Wheeler of Scappoose, is coordinator.

WASHINGTON HITS RED CROSS GOAL; KING COUNTY AIDS

Chairman Arnold Announces $779,925 In Hand, With More Still Needed

AN INCREASED DEMAND

Washington has made and has passed its original quota of $714,000 for the American Red Cross war fund, "Contributed to date is $799,925," Lawrence M. Arnold, state advisory chairman, announced.

"Virtually all of the forty Red Cross chapters in this state not only have raised their original quotas but have far exceeded them, and the few remaining are closing up their drives and will make their quotas. We have had fine response from the patriotic citizens who led this great cause in their communities, and from the generous people who contributed," Arnold said.

Quotas Were Increased
The "original quotas" were the goals assigned every Red Cross chapter in this country when President Roosevelt called for a minimum of $50,000,000 for an American Red Cross war fund just after war was declared. Then his needs increased tremendously for fighting forces being sent throughout the world, the national goal was upped to $65,000,000 and chapters were asked to over-subscribe their quotas to meet that increase.

So far, the national Red Cross goal has not been reached, and Arnold appealed to all who have not yet given, to make their contributions at once to their local Red Cross headquarters.

Fund For War Services
"This is a war fund for war services, and the national goal must be raised to keep the Red Cross with our fighting forces and protecting our home front," Arnold said.

Here in King County when the drive closed Saturday night February 21 the amount raised was $311,095.71 with more outstanding coming in.

"This order shall not be construed as modifying or limiting in any way the authority heretofore granted by Executive Order No. 8972, dated December 12, 1941, nor shall it be construed as limiting or modifying the duty and responsibility of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with respect to the investigation of alleged acts of sabotage or other acts of disloyalty and the designation of military areas hereunder.

OUT-OF-TOWN NEWS

CHANGES SEEN IN SOUTH CALIFORNIA

Political Expediency Is Held Reason Officials Switch From Former Views

zons Federation, similar to Seattle's Emergency Defense Council, urged second generation units to make all recommendations and reports to the officer in charge of their area in order not to conflict with similar reports turned in by those officers to their superiors.

Quakers Are Big Help
The other bright light was the encouraging and cheery presence of George Knox Roth of the American Friends Society in the office of the JACL here.

This week the morning after the submarine shelling, Roth breezed into the JACL office, ready for a good day's work. The shelling was breezily cast off by Roth as merely an enemy submarine indulging in some practical gunnery with excess shells before heading for its home base. He pointed to General DeWitt's observations on a possible attack earlier in the month.

The Quaker representative is apparently doing yeoman work here with contacts and missionary work. Tuesday, for example, his schedule called for a visit to the Board of Supervisors asking for their signatures on a resolution reaffirming their backing of the President's policies which bore the signatures of several hundred second generation veterans, wary of any indiscreet travel to Long Beach to arrange for the reopening of a market which had been closed by the war.

All his labors did not bear instant fruit. The county supervisor, wary of any indiscreet move connected with anything Japanese or sounding like Japanese, refused to, or did not, sign.
