JAPANESE SHOULD WORK FOR AMITY, DR. SATO STATES

Noted Scientist Gives Talk At Commercial Club Last Monday

NEW ERA PROPHESED

Declaring that the duty of each Japanese here in this country is to be a missionary of good will, Dr. Teitichi Sato, noted scientific and religious worker of Japan, emphasized the point that each Japanese should aid in smoothing the way for amity and closer harmony between the United States and Japan, in an address given at the Commercial club rooms last Monday evening.

In spite of the zero weather and heavy snow, a capacity crowd turned out. Mr. Fujihira, a member of the Education Board of the North American Japanese Association, introduced Dr. Sato.

Pointing out the passing of the Mediterranean Era, and the passing of the Atlantic Era, Doctor Sato stressed the fact that with the passing of those Eras, "we are on the stairways of time, watching the gentle unfolding of mightier, a greater era—the Pacific Era."

Actors In Drama

The United States, China and Japan in the Doctor's belief, are the principal actors in the new epic. He stressed the fact that as college students, the Japanese attending school here, were in an admirable position to pave the way for friendlier feelings between the United States and Japan by contacts with their fellow American students.

"The Japanese," Dr. Sato declared, "should furnish 'Yamato Damashi', the spirit of the 'Bushido' as interpreted by the Samurai of medieval Japan, as their contribution to the national characteristics of the United States."

Research Planned

Already Dr. Sato has spent two and a half years studying the trend of reaction of the Pacific Era upon 200,000 students in Japan. He next plans an extensive tour in the United States and then in China to learn the extent of the reactions towards the same problems among the college students in these countries.

Doctor Sato, who is a doctor of applied chemistry and a former professor of the Imperial University of Tokyo, holds a unique position in that he is the leading exponent of the reconciliation of science and religion. His theory is one of religion through scientific research.

BRITTEN SEEKS DIRIGIBLE BASE

WASHINGTON, D. C., — In order to speed up the building of a base for dirigibles on the Pacific Representative Britten, R. of Illinois, has filed his bill for a five million dollar appropriation for such a base.

The base, if the bill passes Congress, will undoubtedly be built in California. The Britten bill was filed in the House on Jan. 29, and a later report on the same day, however, has it that Portland, Ore., is making a bid for the base in an isle in the Columbia River near the city.

REVOLT PLANNED BY NICARAGUAN

According to a report from Honduras recently, General Augustine Sandino, rebel leader who threw down his arms once to make for peace and stability in Nicaragua, is again planning to overthrow the liberal government which was placed into power a short time ago.

What Sandino's efforts will accrue him is problematical but in many sources of opinion here, it is believed that if Sandino should try to revolt against the present government, he will be forced to fight against outside opposition, which is backing the liberal government.

Governmental Forces Quell Troops' Mutiny

MADRID, — A regiment of Spanish troops stationed at Ciudad Real, Hendaye on the Franco-Spanish frontier, was reported to have mutinied on January 29, but the rebellion was quelled by the Lostal government troops, it was reported.

Old Throne Sought By King Amanullah

Kings may come and kings may go, but the former king of Afghanistan who dedicated his throne will make a bid for his royal mantle again, news despatches declare.

King Amanullah feels that the kingdom of Afghanistan requires his services and as royal measure to his country, he will make a strong bid to take the sceptre of government into his own hands again.

The king who has been residing in his palace at Kandhar, has been broadcasting through the radio from his royal dwelling, a call to the loyal tribesmen of Afghan to flock to his standard. The king, it is reported, has seventeen bombing planes and the support of many of the Kandhar tribes to push his pretensions.

BORAH ASKS CODE ON NEUTRAL SHIPS

Law Stating Status Of Vessels In Wartime Sought

WASHINGTON, D. C., — Shaking the Senate chamber with the proposal to include an amendment in the pending Navy Bill, which shows the possibility of passing the upper house on Monday, Senator Borah, R. of Idaho, and chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, declared last week the necessity of establishing a maritime law which would definitely specify the status of neutral ships during wartime.

What Senator Borah is aiming at is a conference to be called by the President of the United States to codify the maritime laws as regards shipping and to settle definitely all doubts as to what may constitute contraband goods or merchandise when nations are at war. Though Senator Borah is against the Navy Bill, his amendment to the bill seemed possible of being attached to it.

The amendment does not especially state that the President must call the parley but declares instead that it is the opinion of the Senate that such a conference is essential and should be called not later than 1931.

At the present time, Senator Borah said, Great Britain is intending to assume the policy that almost everything imaginable is contraband, and that this naturally has a serious effect on neutral shipping.

COOLIDGE URGES NAVY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, — Emphasizing the need of new cruisers for the navy, President Coolidge has urged in a statement the passage of the navy bill which will come up for vote on Monday.

The White House message declares that the navy at the present time needs new ten thousand ton cruisers to replace the obsolete ships and that an arms conference, if it takes place, should not interfere with the American program of ship building.

This statement which the Nebraska senator had attached to the navy bill, saying that the plan for the construction of these ships should be delayed until the arms conference takes place.

The President feels however that the navy bill should go through and that the construction of new ten thousand ton cruisers should not be delayed.

Chang Orders Death For Military Rivals

MUKDEN, — Forcing a coup d'etat, which came to a successful finish, General Chang Hsueh-liang, son of the late Marshall Chang Tso-lin and potential dictator of the government here, ordered the arrest of General Yang Yu-ting and his aide General Chang Yen-tai, who were subjected to face the firing squad, recently.

This eliminates General Chang's closest military rival in Mukden, and as an explanation of his action the present leader states that the executed general was against the union of the Mukden government with that of the Nanking regime and that he also opposed the decrease in the manufacture of arms and ammunitions, which at the present time is seen as an important issue in the policy of the Mukden government.

HAWAII STATISTICS REVEAL DECREASE IN EXPATRIATION

266 Renounce Allegiance To Japan During Year Of 1928

RECORDS SHOW NUMBER

By Edgar Omura

HONOLULU, — Statics compiled at the Japanese Consulate's office in Honolulu revealed that fact that 266 American citizens of Japanese Ancestry expatriated from Japan in the year 1928 whereas 1,128 surrendered their allegiance in 1923 before the revised Nationality Law became effective in January 1924, making it easier for the citizens to capitulate their dual citizenship.

The number that expatriated in 1928 is small compared to the numbers in the previous years. In 1923 there were 1,128 citizens who turned their papers and were renounced; 856 in 1924; 875 in 1925; 799 in 1926; and 796 in 1927, making a total of 4,720 citizens of Japanese ancestry who expatriated to show their loyalty to one country with in six years, from 1923 to 1928.

Due to some vague phrases in the Nationality Law, the Japanese government in 1924 revised the law, making it possible for any Japanese subject born in the United States to surrender his or her Japanese allegiance at any time he wished, regardless of age, to become an American citizen.

The following show the number who surrendered their Japanese allegiance: January — 15, February — 47, April — 27, May — 19, June — 35, July — 12, August — 7, September — 50, October — 9, November — 33, and December — 13, a total of 266 for the year 1928.

WANG RENEWS OPIUM FIGHT

GENEVA, — Renewing his attack on the opium question which caused a furore in the January 25, session of the Opium Committee of the League, Wang King-Yi, Chinese delegate on the committee demanded the direct conveyance of China's five demands to the League Council for decision.

Wang also demanded that China be given the right to exercise her own authority, regardless of nationalities, over the users of narcotics within her own border. Siam speedily supported China on this stand stating that this was merely to exercise their own sovereignty in their own country.

M. Pottich, of Jugo-Slavia and chairman of the committee, declared in protest to China's demand that the committee had intended doing everything in their power to find a solution for the opium evil but that in reference to sending the demands made by China to the Council it felt that the question was political and that the committee felt itself incompetent to handle political questions.

Policemen Bar Duel Of Hungary Women

BUDAPEST, — That women with Amazon inclinations are still existing, was given proof the other day when two women almost came to a duel with each other. The challenge had already been given and Madame Kovach, wife of a rich industrialist, in Budapest, squared off with Mlle. Targo, an art teacher, but their attempt to carve each other was frustrated by the timely appearance of the police.

Both women after having been stopped by the police immediately took to fisticuffs but even this method of settlement was barred by the law and forthwith the women engaged in a linguistic demonstration of their indignation for each other.

DISTRICT TO MAKE BID FOR Y BRANCH

Sub-Groups In Various Communities Planned By Association

With a campaign on for funds to erect branch Y. M. C. A. buildings in this city, a movement is expected to originate in this community to make a bid for one of the branch buildings of the organization to be built in this community.

According to the present plan of the Y. M. C. A. a fund of $1,250,000 is the goal set for the drive and the previous reports show that some 25 thousand dollars have already been subscribed by some of the wealthy people of this city even before the campaign has been officially started. At the present time, Ballard, West Seattle and Woodland Park districts are clamoring for a Y. M. C. A. branch in their respective sections.

These sections are all in need of a branch building to facilitate the youngsters but according to the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Arn S. Allen, a need for such a branch building has also been in this community from some time back, owing to the reason that the Japanese youngsters did not take advantage of the home building at 4th and Madison Street.

If such a building were to be erected here, Secretary Allen believes the Japanese young people would take advantage of the privilege in greater number owing to the proximity of the building to their homes.

TRIO TO ATTEND LABOR CONCLAVE

TOKIO, — With the International Labor Conference to convene sometime in the Spring, the Department of Home Affairs has recently announced Japan's delegates who will participate in the conference.

The three representatives who will go to the parley, which is to be held under the auspices of the League of Nations, are: Seiichi Iwasaki, president of the Tokio Gas Company, representing the capitalist class; Michio Mizawa, chief of the labor department of the Social Research department in the Home Office and representing the Japanese Government and Komakichi Matsuoka, the outstanding labor leader representing the labor element of Japan.

Kalamazoo Students To Get Free Tuition

KALAMAZOO, Mich., — To heighten the development of American-Japanese friendship and understanding, the local university has taken a step as yet unequalled by any university in the country, in that the institution will allow any Japanese student of university standing to enter its portals without tuition.

This announcement was made on January 25, by the dean of the university and letters informing the Japanese students about it were sent out to the Japanese consulates all over the United States.

JAPAN IS WILLING TO AID NEIGHBOR, TANAKA DECLARES

Mutual Understanding Of Nippon, China Sought, Premier Avows

EXCLUSION DISCUSSED

Declaring that mutual understanding between China and Japan in regard to the Manchuria question was sought in the foreign policy of Japan, and touching upon the Exclusion issue, Premier Giichi Tanaka gave the annual message of the Premier to the Diet on January 21. The substance of his speech follows:

"It must be gratifying to you, as it is to me, to observe that the friendship between this Empire and the Treaty Powers is growing steadily in cordiality, and that this Empire is making in full measure its contribution to the peace of the world, the foundations of which are being strengthened year by year.

Treaty Important
"As an instrument of world peace, the importance of the treaty that was signed at Paris on August 27, last, can hardly be overestimated. Considering the important character of the matter, the Government deemed it fit to despatch a plenipotentiary to Paris for the signing of the treaty, and appointed Count Uchida for that purpose.

"In the matter of our friendly intercourse with individual nations, the Government have, since I last had the honour to speak before this House, concluded a commercial treaty and a commercial agreement, respectively, with Germany, New Zealand and Latvia, and the fishery convention with Russia was also ratified last year.

Exclusion Discussed
"It is a source for congratulation that the bond of friendship, economic and political, with the United States is being more than ever strengthened. Only I wish to add that the matter of immigration law which has been pending for the past few years, has not yet been composed. A satisfactory solution of a problem like this must, after all, depend upon mutual good understanding, which, I am fully confident, is growing year after year.

"Turning now to the situation in China, it is highly gratifying for this Empire, which always has at heart the welfare of the Chinese people, to note that the strife and warfare which have been prevalent in China more than fifteen long years are gradually subsiding and everything now appears to point to peace. This Government are sincerely desirous that the Chinese nation availing itself of this happy tendency in its affairs may speedily accomplish its great enterprise of peaceful unification.

"Deeply sympathizing as they do with the Chinese people, this Government are quite willing, in cooperation with other nations having close relations with China, to lend them assistance as far as possible in their task of reconstruction. It need hardly be pointed out that the path of China, both at home and abroad, is being beset with difficulties and the Chinese Government, in order to attain their aims should more than ever be guided by the counsel of self-restraint and moderation.

Tells Of Manchuria

"In speaking of our relationship with China, I feel bound to say a few words about our position in Manchuria as distinguished from the rest of China. In view of the political and strategic importance which it bears to Japan on account of its geographic contiguity to our territory, and considering the historic significance which it possesses in that region restored to China by Japan at the risk of her national existence from the aggressive grip of the Tsarist Russia, it is quite natural that the sentiment of the Japanese people toward Manchuria should be peculiarly keen and entirely different from that toward any other part of China. "Furthermore, more than one million Japanese subjects reside in that region today and Japan has many important rights and interests there. The interest and concern with which Japanese people have come to regard the affairs of Manchuria, should therefore not cause the least wonder.

"It goes without saying that the Japanese Government will respect the sovereignty of China over Manchuria and will do all in their power for the preservation of the principles of the open door and equal opportunity and desire that the region be made a safe abode for both natives and for-

HI-STARS BALKED BY WASEDA FIVE IN ROUGH BATTLE

Independents In Close
Game

LOTUS HOOPERS COP GAME

By a burst of speed and the accurate shooting of Arthur Sasaki, the Waseda five came up from behind in the second half of the Waseda-Hi-Star game and won by a margin of thirteen points, the final score being 29 to 16. In the other two games of the Japanese Community Basketball League, the Taiyo Jrs. upset the dope by downing the Independents 15 to 12 and the Lotus five won easily from the Pike A. C. 41 to 20.

The Hi-Stars looked as if they were going to win their tussle with the Waseda five by getting a head start and at the half were leading 13 to 5. In the second half the Baptist defense was not working effectively and it was not long before the Wasedas tied the score and soon took the lead.

Players Forced Out

When Okazaki and Beppu were forced out of the game during the third quarter by four personal fouls, the Waseda's took advantage of the break and during the fourth quarter, Sasaki and Yamaka hit the hoop continuously and added enough points to take the game by the wide margin.

The Taiyo Jrs. played a good brand of ball when they caught the Independents napping and won their game after a hard fight. The Tacs hit their stride early in the game and soon had a lead. Although small, it was enough to inspire them on and were repaid by a win which is the first victory credited to them.

Kimura and Ueyehara were the best for the Taiyos while Yoshida was the star for the losers.

Lotus Wins Easily

Lotus had things their way in the 41 to 20 victory over the Pike A. C. quintet. Matsuzaki who has hit his stride during the last few games again ran wild and scored 20 points, enough to tie the game alone. Helping him were Nakayama and Suzuki who found the hoop often enough to cause plenty of trouble to the Market boys. Hirota was the whole show for the losers by making 14 of their 20 points.

The Waseda five who traveled over to Winslow last Friday, returned the next morning with their tale of a 44 to 9 victory over the Islanders. Sasaki, Yamaka and Kiga were the scoring threats for the winners.

JACKSON SUPERS BOW TO OIL FIVE

Close Checking By Supers Is Feature
Of Hard Fought Game.

The Union Oil five was checked closely and found some stiff competition with the Jackson Street Service station last Monday when they tackled at the Broadway gym in the Commercial AA League. The oil men finally won their tussle 23 to 16. Cruickshank and Kincaid were the only two to find the basket regularly but they were enough to put the game under their belt with a victory. Wright also helped along by adding a few points.

The Jackson Five who put up a strong defense and held their opponents to a fairly low score, fought hard to take the lead but did not have the punch to succeed. Kaz Arai and Sakai Arai were the two stars for the service station, making five and seven points. Hing also added three points to help along the score.

STUDENTS' TEAM LOSE TO DELTAS

The Japanese Students' club's entry in the intramural indoor baseball league played its first game, losing by the score of 7-2 to the Delta Sigma Chis, a fraternity team.

The Japanese were decidedly off form while the fraternity men were on. The Deltas hit Kay Hamada's submarine delivery freely and often. Okada was Hamada's battery mate.

The intramural wrestling tourney has also started. It will be remembered that Frank Yabuki, the 115-pound midget who represented J. S. C. last year, won the championship for his weight. He is in training how to defend his title. The winner of the elimination tourney this year will meet Yabuki for the honors in the division.

REINHART UNDER FIRE

It is rumored that there is a movement under way at the University of Oregon to displace Bill Reinhart as the head basketball coach. It has been the pride and joy of the Oregonians to say that their basketball five has always been in the thick of the championship fight. However, Oregon has been eliminated from the race by losing four games on a recent road trip. It seems that the Oregon fans are not used to seeing their quinte defeated so regularly.

In justice to Coach Reihart, it may be pointed out that his entries have always shown a varied attack and clever floor work. In the past five years that he has been at Eugene, the Green wave has won 36 Conference games while dropping only 10 tilts for a percentage of .789. In the light of Reinhart excellent record, it would be well for the Oregonians to carefully consider the fatal step before they take action.

U. OF C. SPORTSMANSHIP

Although the 1928 football season has been relegated to the scrap books, there is still one trace of it left. The recent action of the University of California students in forwarding the Edgar B. Schwabacher football trophy, emblematic of Coast Conference championship, to the U. S. C. student body speaks well for the friendship between these two schools and the fine sportsmanship displayed by the Berkeley institution.

The trophy, which was awarded to Southern California and California for six months each, was turned over to the Trojans for the entire year by action of the California executive committee. The fact that the whole California student body should feel that the Trojans had a stronger claim to the trophy than themselves is indeed a great lesson of sportsmanship to all.

TAJIRI, KAWAZOE L. A. ALL STARS

Jimmy Tajiri and Tetsu Kawazoe, two local boys who are at present residing in Los Angeles, were mentioned on the All-Star Fives by the sports editor of the Los Angeles Japanese American.

The two form the forward combination of the Sumida quint. Tajiri was accorded a forward berth on the first team while Kawazoe was the forward choice on the second team.

Commenting on Tajiri, the Los Angeles paper said, "his long shots are well looped and accurate and at all times proves himself a dangerous man."

SEVEN STRAIGHT WON BY CHINESE

The China Club went into the undisputed leadership of the Class B League South Division by winning from the Phantoms last week in their contest at the Garfield floor, 26 to 15. It was the seventh straight victory for the Chinese team.

Up to their tussle last week the China Club was tied with the Beacon Hill Merchants for the leadership but the Hill boys got a setback and lost to the Cheasty five, thus giving the Chinese five the leadership. The Merchants and the China Club will meet in the last game of the season.

BERKELEY. — Definite confirmation arrangements for a tour of Japan by the University of California baseball team was announced by the Athletic Board. The team will be the guests of Keio University which is sponsoring the trip.

According to present arrangements, the squad will leave from San Francisco May 8. A squad of 18 men will be taken. Going over, it is planned to stop in Hawaii about three weeks, playing the local teams there. The trip will probably take about three months.

NIPPONS ROUTED BY ELKS; FROSH, ROTHSCHILDS WIN

Kaz Arai Sorenson And Sakai Arai
Hit Stride To Out-class
Elks 26 To 22

N. A. C. HAS HARD WEEK

In the three games played by the Nippon A. C. during the last week in the City League, one was turned into victory over the Seattle Elks and the other two were lost to the U. of W. Frosh and the Rothschilds.

The 26 to 19 victory over Elks was the second for the Japanese five over the same team. Kaz Arai hit his form and dropped four nice longs from his guard position and Sorenson came along next with three baskets. Clarence Marhing who played his last game for the Nippons because of his departure for China, put on a fine exhibition and aided the team greatly.

Sakai Arai, the spark plug for the Nippons, also did his bit by dropping in six points.

Lose To Frosh

Marhing was the whole show for the Nippons in their 41 to 22 game with the U. of W. Frosh which was played last Saturday. He not only stood out in his classy floor work but also was the high scorer with 10 points.

The Nippons showed the effects of their hard week of playing and were completely outclassed by the Husky yearlings.

Rothschilds Too Strong

With Alfie James, the Rothschilds captain, showing the way for his five, they downed the Nippons easily 47 to 22. James was nearly the whole show for the winners, running up the best scoring record in the City League to date. He scored almost half of his team's points, turning in a total of 23 for the evening's work.

Sakai Arai was the high point gatherer for the Nippons with ten. Helping him along for the tussle were Marhing and Takahashi who played a good game.

PEACE AND ECONOMIC ILLS

The blessings of peace may not always accrue to the benefit of any one nation or people visibly in the way of prosperity, but nevertheless the ends of peace serve to constitute the sustenance by which the roots of human good-will thrive to build the underlying structure of permanent world peace and harmony.

There is always the high mark and the ebb tide in the fortunes of nations as there are the capricious fancies of fate that insidiously govern the lives and fortunes of men. Because the economic condition of one nation is not in a flourishing or prosperous state, it is not sufficient reason to lay the complaint at the door of peace.

Genuine prosperity is founded upon peace and peace is the result of an intelligent civilization whose motives lead to the object of human progress. Wars may stimulate the financial condition so that it portrays a mirage of prosperity to the imaginative human mind but the antithesis of the last great world conflict has been the sobriety of economic thought, and a passing stimulation in the economic order of any one nation works to the evil sound and steady economic and financial situation.

The chief reason that the war cry is given a loud wail in some of the countries, is mostly through the dissatisfied state of economic conditions as developed through unemployment which implies a lack of production, the lack of resources and therefore the lack of a steady basis of money circulation. Unemployment is a big problem in any nation. It is the hot bed of dissatisfaction and what comes of it is the fearful machination of the human mind in desperate straits and following the thought channels of animalism.

Wars do not often result from prosperity, lest it can be fathomed that there is the element of imperialistic and capitalistic designs to be considered but as the history of world conflicts, heretofore, will note dissatisfaction in the economic order giving birth to selfishness has on most occasions been the direct cause of human conflicts.

In England, today, there is a serious unemployment situation which demands the attention of her leading statesmen and thinkers. This cannot be taken to imply that England will be the breeding pot of the next war, but the dissatisfaction with which her economic order is at present ruled and the imperialistic designs of her capitalistic interests in China and elsewhere on the globe does not speak for assurance that world peace is the uppermost sentiment of the nation.

In the United States the unemployment situation is comparatively speaking a negligible account upon the ledger books of American economic and financial conditions. Yet this cannot be taken to mean that the world is safe from another world conflagration. In 1914, the war was in Europe but it soon spread to this hemisphere. Europe today is none too prosperous and the burden of war debts its nations are shouldering to pay the United States is not favorable to the construction of a solid foundation for a permanent world peace.

Someday when diplomats turn economists or vice versa and the ills of the economic order are given greater attention the world will have come upon the first principle through which a permanent world peace may be established. The call of the day is not for a disarmament conference or conferences alone, but vastly more for the gathering of economists from every nation in the world to discuss the economic interests and conditions as they pertain to the nations and the world.

The seeds of war are in the dissatisfied state of economic conditions and by uprooting the causes through international cooperation and greater trade intercourse, the world will have taken the first sensible, intelligent and tangible step towards permanent world peace.

JAPAN FOR HARMONY

In spite of what the Japanese people sensitively feel as a stigma of inequality branded upon their race through the enactment of the Exclusion statute, the few words that the Japanese Premier carried in his message to the Imperial Diet a week ago last Tuesday is ample assurance of Japan's good faith and friendship toward the American nation.

Of course, the Exclusion statute has been of vital consequence to the cordial relations between these two countries but it is to be gained from the Premier's concise but well chosen words that the legislation is not to be paid the compliment of compromising a traditional friendship.

The conveyance of this meaning in the Premier's message comes as the refreshing light of dawn to pave the way for a greater era of understanding between Japan and the United States. It may not be possible for the new American administration to burden itself with the justifiable reasons for a repeal of the Exclusion statute, but if a consensus of opinion were to be taken at the present time or a few years hence, it can probably be confidently assumed that the Japanese Premier has had visions of an American revocation of the legislation, relying upon the strength of American justice.

Just as he says, the Exclusion statute should not be made a cause to blockade the path of good-will and cordial relations between Japan and the United States.

Understanding Sought

"In a word, what this Government desire in regard to China is that the two nations, mutually understanding position of the other, should be animated by a spirit of conciliation in their exchange of views and in their efforts for the settlement of various questions pending between them, so that a relationship may be restored between them that will really not only contribute to their mutual well-being, but will be conducive to the tranquility of the Far East and eventually to the progress of world civilization.

"I believe that I have sufficiently made clear the foreign policy of this Government in pursuance of which they expect to strengthen our friendly relations with other Powers, to protect fully our rights and interests and to contribute to the consolidation of world peace."

TOKIO. — In the foreign trade of Japan in 1928 the exports totalled 1,971,000,000 Yen and the excess of imports amounted to 224,000,000 Yen, which will reach to 334,000,000 Yen when those of Chosen and and Taiwan are added.

NEW GOVERNMENT OF CHINA DESIRES TREATIES REVISION

By T. SAKURAUCHI

(Contd. from Last Week)

Dr. Wu insisted the urgent necessity of abolition of inequitable treaties with foreign countries before the Chinese Republic put her house in order. Zumoto, after explaining Japan's experience when she was in the same situation as China today, inquired why China does not give her full attention toward internal affairs before appealing to foreign powers to remove existing treaties.

Dr. Wu's contention was that the internal political situation of China, which is entirely different from that of Japan in early Meiji demands the abolition of the unequal treaties.

China seems to intend to follow the plan of solving domestic difficulties by seeking to obtain treaty revision through diplomatic negotiation. It seems perfectly natural that China should demand this when her intelligencia, though small in number, has been decrying bitterly against foreign aggression. Under these circumstances we cannot but recollect similar struggles in Japan, and the untiring efforts on the part of our patriotic statesmen. I wish to picture some of the outstanding events and surrounding circumstances in regard to our own treaty revision, in this paper.

First Commerce Treaty

The first commercial treaty with a foreign power was concluded with the United States on July 29, 1825. Treaties of similar nature with Great Britain, Russia, Prussia, Holland and other powers were subsequently signed. These treaties were quite alike with those which are now in question in China. They provided for extraterritorial privileges of foreigners and a fixed tariff against foreign articles imported.

Before entering into the main topics, I will quote a few passages from Dr. Gowen's "Outline History of Japan", which I believe gives a fairly correct outline of our treaty revision.

On pages 330, under the subject of treaty revision, Dr. Gowen states: "This subject, as we have seen, had been from time to time postponed, but it had by no means been shelved. The delay had been due in part to Japan's own sense of unreadiness. In addition to the modification of the new laws, the Western powers required some assurance of Japan's ability to administer them.

They said: 'the law may be all right, but since judges and procurators are not accustomed to the required procedure we can not commit to them our own property interests and lives.' Nevertheless, the attitude of the powers, and of the United States in particular had encouraged Japanese statesmen to keep the matter before them.

Inouye Makes Attempt

Inouye, as Minister of Foreign affairs, made another brave attempt to revive the discussion in May 1886, but he failed and was in consequence compelled a year later to resign his portfolio. His successor Okuma took up the difficult negotiation in February 1888, and had made some progress when he too was forced to retire from office. In October, 1889, he was made the victim of an attempt at assassination and had the misfortune of losing a leg.

On page 335, Dr. Gowen further states on the same subject: "Before entering upon the story of Japan's first foreign war, it is fitting here to call attention to the success at length crowning the efforts of Japan to obtain the long coveted boon of treaty revision. The last negotiation conducted by Count Okuma in 1889 had failed because of opposition to the appointment of foreign judges in Japanese courts of first instances and Courts of Appeal in cases where foreigners were defendants."
