Kito Flyers Warned by Chief Electrician

Boys who have been taking advantage of the stiff April wind for flying kites were warned today by Richard Bustood, chief electrician, to avoid high tension wires. Electrical power already has been disrupted several times when kites have struck the wires and blown out fuses, Bustood said. More serious consequences might result, Bustood pointed out, by short circuits electrocuting the kite flyers.

Information on Property Stored in Los Angeles

Residents with goods stored at the Nishi Hongwanji, 119 N. Central Ave., Los Angeles, may have them transferred here through the WRA, according to Noboru Ishitani. Forms for requesting transfer may be obtained from James H. Porter, evacuee property officer, or Ishitani at 25-11-F.

Evacuee property stored at Zenshyu Betsuin in Los Angeles has been transferred to a government warehouse in that area, according to the Rev. Daito Suzuki, 63-1-B, Rivers, Arizona. Residents wishing to have any part of their belongings sent here should contact the warehouse through Porter.

Give Clothing Allowance to Those Leaving Center

Residents leaving the center for outside employment or for student relocation should check with the social welfare department for their clothing allowance, announced Virgil Payne, director of the department. Timekeeper's statements of working hours should be presented for identification.
