

Send-off Ceremony for Inductees to Be at 8 a.m. Friday

The send-off ceremony for the 24 inductees will start 8 a.m. Friday, instead of at 8:30 as previously announced; according to local draft officials, The change has been necessary due to change in the bus schedule, it was announced.

Virgil Payne, social welfare director, is scheduled to speak on behalf of the administrative staff, while Howard Otamura, block manager, will represent the evacuees. George Nakaki, councilman, will be chairman.

No Ice Cream to Be Served in Centers July 4th

Several requests made by other centers to serve ice cream on July 4, was denied due to the policy of the WRA which will not make such purchases unless ice cream is readily obtainable to the civilian population, according to word received from Dillon S. Myer, national WRA director, Lundgren T. Main, supply officer, announced.

The supply section has canvassed the entire territory to find a vendor to furnish ice cream for the project without success, Main said.

However, Heart Mountain has been fortunate enough to secure a source of ice during the summer months which will be delivered in 100 pound cakes to each mess hall three times a week, Main added.

Draft Trial Concluded; No Decision Announced Yet

The trial of the 63 Heart Mountain residents charged with failure to report for their preinduction physical examination concluded Monday afternoon in the United States district court in Cheyenne, according to the latest reports received here. United States District Judge T. Blake Kennedy has taken the case under advisement and will announce his decision later, it was said.

In final arguments, defense attorneys asserted that the defendants were unwilling to report for the examinations until constitutional rights which they considered had been violated were cleared up. Assistant United States District Attorney John C. Pickett contended that the accused were sent notices to report for preinduction examinations and had failed to do so with willful intent.
