Dear Mollie:

Surprised!?! Yes its
me. Violet, in Chicago. That's why I couldn't send you a Xmas Card. I packed my address book in freight,
which is coming today, but I received your card with address on it, so here I am writing to you.

I've been in Chicago
for two and a half weeks
and I'm just getting acquainted with the city. This place makes

L.A. look sick and small, but of course give me good old L.A. any day. Chicago is a very dirty City. The buildings are all dirty and black not like L.A. Papers fly all around the streets.

Mollie, I hope you had a very merry Xmas and a very Happy New Year.

You know, Junko Yoshigai, well shes here too and shes staying only building away from me. Shes rents one room, and shes here, in Chicago, all by herself. Her mother & father & sister are still in Camp, they plan to come out in the Spring. Do you know a girl by the name of Kazuko Masuda? She went to Roosevelt Hi, shes here too and I know, you know Suzie Hatori. Well, shes here too. She changed her name to Susan Irie, and Kazuko changed hers to Bonnie. Yes everyone is changing their ~~old~~ names.

Mollie! don't study too hard.
 Man! your good in Japanese.
 How do you like it?

Well, Mollie, my new address is:

908 W. Fullerton Ave.

Chicago 14, Illinois

When you find a little time
 please drop me a few lines, so until I hear from you I always remain —

always
 Walt.
