Dear Mrs. Whitney,

Hardly anything has happened since I last wrote you, so I'm afraid there's not much to write about. ~ However, I did want to say "Hello" and to ask how you are. We are all fine and hope you and Mr. Whitney are, too. How is Precious Primary?

I've been doing some knitting lately and have found a short-cut in making sleeves. Around these parts everyone knits the two sleeves at the same time on the same needles. They do the two fronts the same way - using two balls. You probably know the way it's done already, but it was something new to me and pretty speedy I've learned. ~ Next I am going to learn to make socks. I remember how we used to be forever bothering you for directions!

Fumiko and I haven't received instruction yet. We are still waiting and hope it will be soon that Father can find the time. We realize he is terribly busy. We won't give up the idea, that I assure you!

With lots of love,
Louise
