Dearest Kei: - The half of the Washington group just pulled off in a train for Wyoming, it's just 7:30 P.M. Minatayas gone, so are Hariharis, & our neighbors. Everybody shed many tears of good by. When the train got out of our sight, Kiyu came in the room and had a good cry, saying, "so many of my good play-mates gone! Minataya gone! Hariharis gone!" Kaku gave me five dollars as he left, he knows I have no money. Chiyoko is now mother of four children ~~now~~. She told me her father'll come back from Montana soon. Oh, how I wish you could come to us when we get to Idaho! This morning I saw a newspaper from Idaho and saw the pictures of our new home in Idaho, that part of the country does not look like Oreg. Love, Tom
