1960 Holiday Issue begins to take form

In the remaining days of November (and there aren't too many of them to speak of), the 1960 PC Holiday Issue will take shape with stories from our chapter reporters and contributors. The flow of display advertising and one-line greetings from members has started to quicken, although the tempo is expected to accelerate at Thanksgiving weekend.

-for which the PC staff is truly thankful. We trust our loyal chapters will be able to repeat the amount of advertising submitted last year and then some to bolster our operating fund. It goes without saying that by helping PC with Holiday greetings, the chapter treasuries also benefit from the 15 per cent commissions being granted on all advertising except for the chapter's turned in photographs in recent weeks, presumably for the regular editions, but we're reserving them for the Holiday Issue by which to illustrate their chapter reports. We urge chapters that have pictures to add to their reports turn them in.

Our first chapter report comes from Cortez JACL. Salt Lake, which celebrated its 25th anniversary this year, suggests reprinting their 25year story and includes a picture of past presidents who gathered that evening for the Holiday Issue -and the Holiday Issue is a choice edition in which to feature this type of material.

The recommendation that chapters assist the JACL History Project Committee by submitting Issei stories and pictures for the Holiday Issue is most welcome.

Meanwhile, we'd like to remind our chapters that the listing of oneline greetings should be sent in duplicate. We've l hairman. found it the easiest way for JACLers to extend their Season's Greetings to other JACLers in their own official publication.

Let's hope our '60 Holiday Issue will be among dena. our most successful edilions .- H.H.

AN EYE ON ANOTHER ELECTION

This Sunday, millions of Japanese will elect members to the Diet, which was dissolved Oct. 31 following rioting and leftist opposition to the Hayato Ikeda government.

At stake is the constitutional government in Japan and the U.S.-Japan Mutual Security Treaty, as noted by Mike Masaoka in his recent Washington Newsletter. He adds that if the Liberal-Democratic Party of the present Ikeda regime is not returned by an overwhelming majority, we can begin to look for more "tyrrany of the minority" of both the Communist left and ultranationalistic right with democracy and liberalism fading away in Japan.

Undoubtedly, many have read other reports that while the signing of the U.S.-Japan mutual security treaty started the current political turmoil in Japan, that issue may not play the prominent part expected. A majority of the Japanese are reported to be more concerned over economic questions and are, therefore, more likely to vote for candidates of the pro-American incumbent party.

Other prominent issues being debated by the leaders of the three principal political parties have been neutralism and Japan's relations with the Communist nations, especially Red China.

We kept an eye on the elections in Okinawa last Sunday. And it will be interesting to keep an eye on the outcome of this Japanese election, especially in view of the Red-inspired riots and the increasing political activities of the leftists in Japan.

Nisei who have an immediate stake in the Japanese elections by virtue of their business or even owning Japanese stocks will keep close watch, but Nisei in general should be interested from the simple stand that what may happen in Japan would affect us directlyas it has in the past.

If it doesn't happen, we would commend the political maturity of Americans in general. But with the shocking news that the measure to repeal the Washington alien land law was substantially defeated, some doubts come to mind. Here was a proposition that was recommended by the entire congressional delegation of the State of Washington, its governor and leading citizens-but the majority of the million voters in the Evergreen State didn't buy it.

We have seen anti-Japanese discrimination in subtle forms, but there is nothing subtle about 446,000 yeas over 382,000 nays to keep the alien land law on the State of Washington statutes—even though this law is unenforceable in courts.

PC WITH MEMBERSHIP

"PC with Membership"—the mandate of the last National Council to have the Pacific Citizen go to each JACL household from the first week of January on the basis of membership in JACL-is beginning to roll . . . The PC Circulation Office this past weekend received its first membership list from National Headquarters and Sonoma County JACL has the distinction of being the first chapter in the 1961 campaign to turn in memberships.

Chapters which have started their campaigns are reminded to turn in what they have to Headquarters by Dec. 15 so that these members can be placed on the PC mailing list by the first week of January . . . The 1961 campaign will continue in the ensuing weeks, to be sure, and we fervently hope that Bill Matsumoto's goal of 20,000 members is achieved by the end of March.

Next week, we shall present in more detailed fashion the mechanics of "PC with Membership" since most of the chapters should have their 1961 cards now.

ELECTION POST-MORTEMS—Just to keep the record straight, Seiji Horiuchi's bid for a seat in the Colorado state senat efailed by less than 3,000 votes in a race in which more than 36,000 vallots were cast. Horiuchi, a Republican, polled 16,863 in Adams county to the Democratic incumbent's 19,813.

Going into the election, Democratic registrations in Adams county outnumbered Republican registrations by about 13,000. But none of the Democratic victory margins came anywhere near this figure. For example, the Kennedy-Johnson ticket took the county by less than 3,000 votes.

The Democrats captured the lion's share of offices in Adams County, but the Republicans are claiming a moral victory. Horiuchi, making his first political race, led through tabulation of ballots from 30 of the county's 53 precincts but weakened as the night progressed. It's a certainty that his voice will carry much weight in Adams County Republican councils in coming years.

SWINGING PENDULUM—In the last ten years Japanese manufacturers paid approximately $200,000,000 to the United States for royalties and technical license fees. This was brought about when Japanese factories - paid fees to American patent holders for the right to manufacture certain products or use certain manufacturing techniques.

Now the pendulum is beginning to swing the other way. U.S. News & World Report says American business "is cashing in on a flow of scientific discoveries from Japanese laboratories." According to this magazine, Bristol-Myers is producing mytomycin, an anti-cancer drug, under license from a Japanese firm. Air Reduction has bought patent rights for Japanese-developed plastics. American Cyanamid is working out technical information exchanges with Japanese drug labs. Indiana General is benefiting from Japanese development of permanent magnets. RCA, the magazine goes on, is building a research lab in Tokyo to be staffed with Japanese scientists, and General Electric is also sponsoring Japanese research activities.

Any people who can cook such delightful food from seaweed, soybeans, fish and radishes are certainly to be reckoned with.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT—The president of the Albuguerque (N.M.) Association for the United Nations is a Nisei woman, Mrs. Ruth Hashimoto, formerly of San Jose, Calif., and Seattle. Writing in the Association's publication recently on the occasion of U.N. Week, she said:

"As an American citizen who during World War II almost lost the rights of citizenship, I feel very strongly that unless we are ready to fight for peace and freedom we will be fighting in another war . . . Because the United States is home for peoples of many cultures, races, creeds and religions, we are in a manner of speaking a United Nations within our own country . . . If we here in the United States can show the rest of the world that we can live together in peace as good neighbors, the United States would be making an outstanding contribution towards the goal of the United Nationsthe maintenance of international peace and security."

Mrs. Hashimoto is no stranger to the president's chair. She is a past president of both the Santa Clara County (Calif.) and Albuquerque JACL chapters, and of Dist. 9, American Legion Auxiliary. She has been in federal civil service the past ten years, working as a management analyst at Kirtland Air Force Base. Under her leadership the Albuquerque Association for the UN more than doubled its membership.

UNNECESSARY QUESTION: And how much did you lose on the election?

1947-1960: Thousand Club History

By Frank H. Hattori, Nat'l 1000 Club Chmn.

Seattle At Idaho Falls in November, 1947, a band of loyal JACLers with the idea of sustaining National Headquarters above and beyond the normal membership dues was born. They came to the rescue by creating the JACL 1000 Club. A few years later, a revolving fund was created from Life Memberships in the 1000 Club. The 1000 Club was organized with the idea that if 1,000 JACLers would contribute $25 each year, the burdens of supporting the operations of National Headquarters would be eased at a time when funds were needed to sustain the national legislative program for equality and justice.

Two genial "Irishmen", Hito O'Kada and Callahan O'Nagaki, organized the 1000 Club because they felt that there were at least a thousand others like them who believed enough in JACL and its work to be willing to kick in twenty-five bucks a year to keep the National on a going basis as well as secure those corrective and remedial measures in Congress to insure the future of persons of Japanese ancestry in America.

In the initial years, the figure of 1,000 belonged to the "outer space" age since memberships hovered between 200 and 250 annually. Then as JACLers matured financially and in outlook, the membership began to grow so fast that 1956 almost saw the realization of the dream of 1,000 paid-up mem-

At the 16th Biennial convention at Sacramento, "Shoot for Two" echoed from old faithful Bill Matsumoto, the past national 1000 Club chairman, for 2,000 paid-up 1000ers.

MEDAL OF HONOR-We tip our derby to the George J. Inagaki family for service above and beyond the call of 1000. Club membership. His family is the first 100 per cent Thousand Club family. The late Kuniji Inagaki, his father, is a Life Member by memorial; George and his wife Yuki are Life Members, and his mother, Mrs. Yaeko Inagaki, is a 3rd Year member, and their children Chris and Pattie were signed last month as 1st Year members.

ORDER OF THE TIE AND GARTER-The other title for the 1000 Club started in Salt Lake City in 1948 when Callahan O'Nagaki's tie and Joe Grant Masa O'kas garters were auctioned to the highest bidder. Thereafter bowties became mandatory at all 1000 Club functions . . . The other emblem in the 1000 Club, the Knight in Shiming Armor, goes back to 1950 when former National 1000 Club Chairman Tokuzo Gordon clanked around the hotel lobby at the Chicago convention.

Our whing-dings are for good fellowship and high spiritsa legend at each convention, national or regional. Cigars, derby hats and tie clipping were added to the trademarks of whingdings. There are also goof-ball golf tournaments, skits, barbershop quartet contests, Sweet Queen Adeline and just plain fun enjoyed in the fellowship of 1000ers.

ON THE SERIOUS SIDE-Highlights of the 1000 Club function on the serious side briefly are these:

-That the 1960 national JACL budget will be supported by 1000ers by almost half.

-That 1000 Club memberships are credited to the chapter's quota to National.

-That 1000 Club membership includes a full year's subscription to the Pacific Citizen as a token of appreciation from Headquarters.

-That 1000 Club membership will help JACL maintain a strong national and representative organization, furnish a higher standard of services nationally and insure our future welfare.

We can all join the JACL 1000 Club to support the only national group dedicated to protect and promote the welfare and well-being of persons of Japanese ancestry in America.

HOLIDAY ISSUE 'HONOR ROLL'-All paid-up 1000 Clubbers as of Nov. 30 will be listed in the PC Holiday Issue "Honor Roll"—the annual custom which recognizes currently active 1000 Club members.

Remember, our aim is still "Shoot for 2,000" paid-up members. It can be attained if each chapter 1000 Club chairman can pack up just two former members for renewal and two new members. The $25 may be paid in installments of $10 the first quarter and $5 per quarter thereafter. Make the checks payable to JACL and remember it's federal tax deductible.

Our National JACL shall have strength-only if we back it up with volunteer interest in our 1000 Club program.

MIDWEST D.C. ACCEPTS HIGHER 1000 CLUB GOALS

CHICAGO. - Twenty-three representatives from the eight chapters comprising the Midwest District set their course to the North Park Hotel in Chicago Nov. 5 to tackle the many problems confronting them. Following their usual pattern, Chairman Joe Kadowaki and representatives labored through the gruelling day.

The notable accomplishment of this meeting was the unanimous acceptance of the fair share plan. In doing so the District accepted 1000 Club goals beyond the 8.2 per cent of membership set by the National, Chicago accepting the largest increase. The MDC's reasoning for this decision lies in their conviction that an organization requires the support of its members to progress.

Like all growing organizations, the Midwest District Council suffers the pains of insufficient or ganizational funds. To cope with this domestic problem, the Council revised their district head tax from 20 cents to 50 cents, thus eliminating the special assessments the chapters were taxed during the past years.

'61 Convention Plans

Reports indicate another great event at the Radisson Hotel on Labor Day-1961 in Minneapolis. The EDC-MDC Convention committee is laboriously working with the City Convention Planning Board in setting the scene.

Highlighted is the convention family plan featuring the many beautiful resorts located in the Twin Cities area. Special attention is being given towards the youth activities and youth programs of the MDC. Workshops will concentrate on leadership clinics on various organizational functions and implementing recommendations given by the 1960-70 Planning Commission using the Decade bi Decision manual. Under co-chairmen James Miyano, Edwin Ohki, cent of the members in one weekend. The 173 members turned in represent 95 households for PC subscriptions.

According to Shurei Matsumoto, chairman of the Marysville membership drive, the chapter's membership kick off was a pot luck dinner, admission for which was the 1961 membership

Meanwhile, additional chapters have reported in their 1961 membership chairmen: Alameda-George Ushijima, Eden Township-Kee Kitayama, Florin-Percy Fukushima, Livingston-Merced-Tets Morimoto, Milwaukee-Lily Kataoka, Mt. Olympus-Tak Iwamoto, New York-John Iwatsu, Omaha-Ronald Neyt, and Reno-Bud Fujii.

25,000 National membership leaflets are now on press and should be ready for distribution to the chapters the end of this week. The leaflets were prepared under the direction of National Membership Committee Chairman Bill Matsumoto.

YOUTH MEMBERSHIPS Several inquiries have been received about national youth memberships. These are for members of organized youth groups sponsored by the chapters with an age limit of 21 years and a token National dues of 25 cents. The cards are the regular National cards stamped with "Youth Membership."

National Youth Work Chairman Jerry Enomoto urges chapters to return the blanks recording and describing their sponsored youth groups. This complete listing of all such youth groups will be helpful to the National Youth Work Committee in setting up program suggestions and guides.

ADDITION TO NATIONAL BOARD-We welcome Henry Kato, the newly elected Chairman of the Northern California-Western Nevada District Council, to the National Board in that capacity, succeeding Yone Satoda. This long time JACLer was recently awarded the JACL silver pin as the outstanding JACLer of the Fremont Chapter. He was president of his chapter in 1957, is currently the president of the Chamber of Commerce of Warm Springs. Henry is an exhibitor and committee member of the Alameda County Fair and also a committee member of the California State Fair. As NC-WNDC Chairman he represents 37 per cent of our total national membership.

PARLEY WITH PRESIDENT-National President Frank .Chuman wandered up this way last weekend on private legal business, so we waylaid Mike Masaoka en route home from Seattle to confer on various national matters. We had a first hand report from Mike on the Washington Alien Land Law campaign, discussed the next immediate steps in working out the Issei Story project, reviewed the 1000 Club brochure proposed by National 1000 Club Chairman Frank Hattori, and considered some of the problems in connections with the PC with Membership deal. We decided JACL should seek administrative relief to resolve the new problem that has arisen with respect to the income tax status of evacuation claims awards. In view of the many matters requiring thorough discussion and deliberation, the interim National Board meeting for 1961 was tentatively set for the latter part of March instead of June.

At least we were considerate enough to convince Frank Chuman to by-pass the NC-WNDC meeting to which he had | chairman on NC-WNDC Committee | been committed since his attendance would require driving all night back to Los Angeles for a Monday morning court case.

ON COCKTAILS AND DEPORTMENT

New York

An item listed as "Social arts: barbecue, cocktails, deportment" in the Detroit chapter's program questionnaire caught my eye.

How "barbecue" qualifies as a social art, I am not sure. But then I have not attended many barbecues, artistic or otherwise.

"Cocktails," however, is another matter. This is a subject I have some familiarity with. (Actually I have two good reasons to be a teetotaler, aesthetics and taste. From the standpoint of aesthetics - who likes to go around looking like a boiled lobster, which is precisely the impression I make when I drink. As for taste, I don't much care for the stuff. Why, despite these perfectly valid reasons, I drink is something else.)

But back to cocktails—there is very little art connected with their preparation regardless of what some drinkers may tell you. For the beginning bartender, I have one word of advice: Use a heavy hand with the booze and you'll be all right. There is one drink you may have trouble with and that is the martini. My feeling about the martini is, forget it. You're not going to satisfy anybody anyway. However, if you insist on venturing into this patch of olives and twisted lemon peels, here is something you should remember: The fad now is for the dry martini. Mix a fifth of gin to a jigger of vermouth and if anyone complains, just say, with a touch of the ice cube in your tone, "I see you're not really a martini drinker."

That "deportment" is listed directly after "cocktails" leads me to believe that these two items were Jinked in the mind of the person preparing the questionnaire. Therefore, on this presumption, I will deal with deportment as meaning deportment at a cocktail party.

First of all, let me say that the average cocktail party is a jungle. Beyond the minimal courtesy of having your hand shook by the hostess as you enter the door, no one is going to bother making you feel at home. A cocktail party is the only social function I know of where everyone is on his own. And physically, there is no such thing as a "comfortable" cocktail party. As a rule you'll have to stand or lean most of the time. This makes it mandatory that you wear comfortable shoes. The reason you can't sit at a cocktail party is that there is always only one-fifth as many chairs as there are people; the average hostess feels uneasy if a room with an air supply enough for ten people is not jammed with five times that number. I would say five is the multiple of discomfort by which the hostess arrives at the number to invite but a desperate or an insecure hostess will up that figure.

Congestion is a necessary ingredient of a cocktail party. By definition, a cocktail party that is uncongested is not a cocktail party. Also, wear dark clothes when attending one. Par for the course is to have two drinks poured down your back. To avoid this hazard, try always to have a wall at your back; also you can lean on it.

Too, it is important to remember "why" a cocktail party is thrown. In this city most cocktail parties are given by single girls who need an excuse to bring a large crowd of unattached men together. A cocktail party, under these auspices, has much the same overtones as a meat packer looking for beef on the hoof in a stockyard. If you're invited and you're married and you're asked to bring your wife along, then you might as well be reconciled in advance to spending the time talking to your wife. The only reason you were asked is to add the necessary density to the occasion.

Here I am at the end of the column and I haven't even started. But before I sign off, I want to congratulate the Detroit chapter for its acumen in listing "social arts" as one of its concerns.

(Richard has asked to be excused because of his busy schedule at Look Magazine and promises to return in mid-December. We'll be waiting.-Ed.)

Election Blues

It would seem from this corner that the Republicans are Indeed poor losers. We still hear some undercurrent of misgivings and discontent.

So, each day President-Elect John F. Kennedy's popularity in California is "dwindling." But he won the election overwhelmingly as far as the electoral votes are concerned. Yet the GOP die-hards can't let it go at that. They insist that what with the final count on the absentee ballots still to be completed Richard M. Nixon can still win the state's 32 electoral votes. So, what?

Kennedy won the presidential election last week on Wednesday morning. Let's leave well enough alone and get together and work.

In our books, if Nixon was the more able man he would have taken the Nov. 8th election "hands down." He was supposedly in office the last seven and a half years. He was experienced, as the saying goes. Compared to Kennedy, Nixon was an "incumbent." Yet, he lacked the drawing power to win.

"What if's" are still being circulated in town. When you walk down Li'l Tokio you'd think the election campaign was still on in its final stages.

The metro press has been sour ever since Wednesday last week. The so-called influential-or supposedly influential editorial masters of the fourth estate are still under the delusion that "something went wrong somewhere." It did! Nixon simply lost the election. It's as plain as that.

Now, the brains of the Republican party label Mr. Nixon as the "unchallenged" GOP leader. He must be if they can't get another man who can outclass what the Democrats offer.

It is high time we brushed off the seat of our pants and get the ball rolling. This is what we mean when we say that "we have been standing still the last eight years."

And we're quite sure that good Republicans will agree with us: Mr. Kennedy was elected by the majority of the people to succeed President Eisenhower.

Christmas Club Savings

Sab Kido brings back the fond memories of 25 and 50 cent Christmas Savings Club accounts. The trick is to save that amount each week and at the year's end you get back the accumulation plus interest. They were the golden days of the 1920s and the 30s.,

According to his Shin Nichibei column this week he writes that close to 4,000 persons of Japanese ancestry have saved a grand sum of nearly $1 million during the year at the two local banks, the Sumitomo and Bank of Tokyo.

Cutting it down to the average it means about $250 for each individual Christmas Club depositor. Although a member of the Sumitomo Yule program we didn't do so well againwhat with little better than $100 in the $150-plan group.

Christmas checks have been sent out to all and we should be getting ours in a day or so.

Our first generation was a stickler for thrift. But today, what with everything so high, we tend to live on a pay-topay basis. Especially the wage earners.

defense installations and production facilities, repeal is being financed and pushed by subversive forces outside the State and even of the Nation, etc.

A look at the latest available tabulations clearly indicate that there must have been "organized" opposition, though not identified publicly.

WITH 5,006 PRECINCTS out of 5,200 reporting, there were 414,457 "yes" votes to 490,977 "no" votes, "Yes" was for repeal, "no" against. Of the 40 counties in Washington, only one-King County, which includes the City of Seattle-gave a majority for repeal, and that by only 173,100 to 142,805.

Of the six state propositions on the ballot, four were approved and two defeated. In addition to the repeal of the anti-alien land law, the other defeated initiative measure was to authorize "liquor by the drink in taverns".

While various reasons, all cogent, can be advanced for the unfortunate results of the Washington State votes on this issue, complacency more than any other explanation is responsible for what happened there.

PERHAPS THE CRUSHING DEFEAT in Washington will arouse the Nisei not only in the Pacific Northwest but elsewhere to the dangers of apathy. If Nisei Americans will learn from this experience and react accordingly, then perhaps real victory will come out of this temporary setback.

Election Summary

Los Angeles

SINCE MOST NISEI Americans are Democrats, there was a general feeling of satisfaction with the election to the presidency of Senator John F. Kennedy, although many, especially in California where Vice President Richard M. Nixon is a native son and personally acquainted with many persons of Japanese ancestry, were not entirely pleased with the results.

The closeness of the popular vote between the two candidates for the White House kept many Nisei glued to their television sets until the stations went off the air early Wednesday morning when it appeared rather certain that the young Massachusettan had won the necessary electoral votes to claim the highest elective office in the land.

THIS PAST ELECTION saw many more Nisei than ever before actively participate in the campaigning, some of which became rather bitter in such spots as Los Angeles, as Japanese Americans demonstrated their growing political maturity and awareness. Nisei Americans not only electioneered as individuals but also as members of special nationality committees for their respective favorites on both the national and state ballots.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, Nisei Americans were rather pleased with the overall net results-the election of Senators Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson to the presidency and vice presidency, respectively, of the United States, and of the net gain of two United States senators and 23 United States representatives by the Republicans in the Congress. Continued Democratic control of the Senate appears to indicate that Montanan Mike Mansfield will be the next majority leader in the Upper House. Senator Mansfield has a record of friendliness toward those of Japanese ancestry, both those who reside in this country and those who live in Japan. And, continued control of the House means that Texan Sam Rayburn will remain the Speaker of the House and New Englander John McCormack the majority leader. Over the years, both have been most sympathetic to the problems of Americans of Japanese ancestry.

OF SPECIAL GRATIFICATION to the Nisei on the mainland was the overwhelming re-election of Democrat Dan Inouye in Hawaii. His record-breaking total must have helped swing the 50th State from a "certain" Nixon territory over to the Kennedy column. This happy result should mean that Dan himself will enjoy greater influence and prestige in the next Congress and with the next Administration. That so many Nisei on the continental mainland expressed personal concern in his re-election may well have persuaded many Hawaiian Nisei who were "on the fence" to vote for the young war hero who made such an outstanding record in his freshman year as the Aloha State's first congressman.

OF SPECIAL DISAPPOINTMENT to persons of Japanese ancestry everywhere in the world was the crushing defeat administered by Washingtonians to the effort to repeal their State's anti-alien land law, for this reversal represents the first since the end of World War II on the national, state, and local fronts on any corrective or remedial legislation of benefit to Americans of Japanese ancestry. Perhaps even more shocking to Nisei Americans is that this is the first significant evidence that popular acceptance of persons of Japanese ancestry in the United State is not nearly as widespread or general as we had hoped and believed. Evidently there is considerable latent undercurrent of hostility and bigotry against those of Japanese ancestry in this country, and particularly those residing in Washington State.

Defeat of Alien Land Law Repeal

COMPLACENCY, MORE THAN any other single factor, was responsible for the defeat of the constitutional amendment in Washington State to repeal its anti-alien land law.

This complacency was reflected in the apathetic support given to the campaign by the Japanese Americans themselves, in the lack of activation of their endorsements by individuals and organizations who gave only lip service to the elimination of intolerance and prejudice, and in the failure of Nisei and JACL outside the Pacific Northwest to rally to the cause.

The accepted pre-election suggestion that there was no organized opposition lulled all those who believe in dignity and equality for all persons without regard to national origin, race,. creed, or color into a false sense of security. At the same time, the forces of prejudice and persecution quietly and behind the scenes put into operation an organized telephone campaign of smear and innuendo in the final hours before the balloting began. While the advocates of repeal were confident of success and counting the minimum votes neessary to assure elimination of the constitutional sanction for the alien kand law, the opponents started a vicious rumor campaign which even developed into telephone calls-repeal would mean that aliens would be relieved of paying property taxes, repeal is sponsored by the Communists who desire to buy land around

Bill Hosokawa of the Denver Post in his regular column in the Pacific Citizen wrote that Horiuchi's 75-year-old opponent was "too shrewd to appear on the same platform" with his young, personable and articulate Nisel opponent. "Horiuchi is by far the better speaker, better informed, better able to express his numerous ideas."

Hosokawa also wrote "Horiuchi thinks he has a chance to win, but he realizes it often takes at least two political campaigns before a young candidate can upset a veteran incumbent."
