The Treasurer's Report

I have been duly reminded by the continuing advertising in these pages that our National Biennial Confab is now only 18 short weeks away. It seems incredible but it is true, for "time and tide wait for no Relate Bogalusa"

RALLY APRIL 30

Philadelphian Will Relate Bogalusa

As preparations for the Convention are proceeding furiously along various avenues, I thought that our entire membership should be apprised at least of the general procedures that are involved in the national dues rates and expenditure of same.

First, the organization: The National Treasurer, lusa, La., will be the princi- with the 1967 JACL National a member of the National Board, is head of the Na- pal speaker at the Pacific Bowling Tournament in Los tional Budget and Finance Committee, which includes Southwest JACL District Angeles, all JACL members as a minimum all of the District Chairmen or their representatives, and all of the District Treasurers. Thus, every District Council is equally represented. The National Budget and Finance Committee, as well as many interested delegates, will convene in separate legal counsel, and a partner nese ancestry and one memsession at the National Convention.

Second, its functions: This committee will have a of MacCoy, Evans and Lewis. This was the ruling decided number of important functions:

1. It will review in detail the National Treasurer's one of the strongholds of the ing Advisory Board meeting report for the past biennium.

1966 CONVENTION AGENDA

Some of the issues likely to confront delegates to the 19th biennial National JACL Convention in San Diego (July 26-31) are discussed in brief in a memo from Kumeo Yoshinari, national president. For the moment, none seem controversial.

When this column mentioned the story, Judy Lee 505. Lois Yut comwe heard from Tooru Kanazawa in New York, the bined with Dixon Ikeda of San gang at the Rafu Shimpo in Los Angeles, and Dr. Kelly Yamada in Seattle.

Now, this past week, we've heard from Tokyo, Honolulu and North Wilkesboro, N.C., on the same subject. Tatsuo (Welly) Shibata, editor-in-chief of the Mainichi Daily News, wrote from Tokyo with the address of Tashiro's sister, Mrs. Aiko Hiratsuka in Arlington, Va., with the suggestion that "this might prove to be a lead". Y. Baron Goto, vice chancellor of East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, said he was interested in reading about Aiji Tashiro because Mrs. Series trophy. Goto's eldest sister was married to Dr. Shiro Tashiro who was a noted bio-chemist at the University of Cincinnati and a relative of Aiji Tashiro.

And so, what started as passing comment on Aiji Tashiro's magazine story turned into something of a search for Aiji Tashiro, which ended with a letter from Tashiro himself, saying "this Rising Son of Rising of Los Angeles with 278 was Sun is still alive and kicking vigorously."

IN PROOF OF SOMETHING—Tashiro writes that his sister sent him the Pacific Citizen column that to emerge winner over Mari started the whole thing.
