TOUGH QUESTIONS

The other night some of us gathered at the home of National 2nd V.P., Dr. David Miura, and kicked around some current JACL concerns. Aside from the fact that all of JACL's problems were solved (?), Barbara's wonderful food and hospitality made the evening.

Tough questions such as political action and partisan activity, by staff and officers, were considered. As PC Editor Harry Honda put it, elements in JACL are becoming more and more concerned about such matters.

WHITTIER-At a time when many question the continuing need for JACL, such an event as the granting of a charter to a new chapter is particularly significant, national president Jerry Enomoto declared at the SELANOCo JACL installation dinner Nov. 18 at the Candlewood Country Club here. Before 200 members and friends, many from surrounding JACL chapters who made the newest 89th chapter in the national organization feel at home, Enomoto saluted those responsible for forming the unit covering Southeast Los Angeles and North Orange County areas.

But the message was addressed to the entire national organization when he urged JACL to move ahead.

Looking back on Nov. 8, JACL and persons of Japanese ancestry lost a number of congressmen who have been most helpful and cooperative over the past several years.

Probably the one likely to be missed the most is Rep. Frank Chelf (D-Ky.). Philadelphia

The other evening following one of the delicious dinners that are always served at the Warren Watanabe's (his wife Mary might as well have received her Ph.D. in home economics rather than in biochemistry, as she has) we settled down to the delights of conversation along with several others, including Dr. Scotty Miyakawa who was down from Boston.

A number of topics elicited interesting observations but one that aroused the most animated comments was this thesis, unfounded, unproved and unsubstantiated: while Nisei may have one of the highest educational levels of any group, they have not steeped themselves in the knowledge of the fine arts, the true appreciation of classical music, the great paintings of the masters, the monumental literature of the Western culture. Why was this?

It certainly isn't that the Nisei is an intellectual dolt or mentally blunt: he can quickly figure the odds of filling an inside straight during a poker game, the a number of advantages that profit margin on a shipment of tomatoes on probable none of the earlier attempts quotations for next week, speedily diagnose a cere- ever had. bral thrombosis, or calculate with precision the stress The Leadership Conference on a supporting beam which is a few degrees off angle. on Civil Rights is encouraged But when I thought about it, while I've been in groups to renew its efforts to bring where people have earnestly discussed the fine arts about majority rule in the in depth, I've not yet witnessed a group of Nisei sit about and engage in discussion of the merits of Cezanne, Manet or Picasso; or analyze Beowulf or the writings of Paine, Bacon or Harriet Beecher Stowe; of a new Congress, has the or the beauty of Beethoven's third symphony "Eroica" or the significance of some character in "Don Gio- by majority vote unfettered by vanni". Rembrandt's paintings strike no spark although as I study his paintings, some glimmerings of his mastery do manage to faintly, but fleetingly, basic precepts of democratic a majority vote unfettered by tors twice voted for cloture on penetrate the cultural darkness. Now, I can't dismiss all of this by tossing them off as unimportant for I do believe they are very important. But try as I have, admittedly not very diligently, my tastes remain quite plebeian and I am no connoisseur of the fine arts. And I feel sad about this because I feel I am missing a great deal.

Misery loves company and perhaps that's why I have the sneaking suspicion that I'm far from being alone in this respect among the Nisei.

RATIONALIZING FACTORS?

It was vigorously pointed out during our discussion at the Watanabe's that there were indeed many Nisei in the arts with names named and specific fields being mentioned; that compared to college graduates as a group, Nisei probably had a higher proportion of those affirmatively interested in the fine arts. Never- to adopt new rules at the Just as the Senators of the theless, perhaps because of my high expectations of the Nisei I wondered why there weren't more.

Some of the possible "factors,"—likewise unfounded, unproved and unsubstantiated— were: (a) in their earlier years the Nisei had practically no time or money to indulge in the advantages of being exposed to the finer arts; (b) an overwhelmingly large proportion of the Nisei were born and raised in rural communities where facilities for the fine arts were nonexistent, sharply limited or not readily accessible; and (c) in college a greater number of Nisei took the "breadand-butter" vocational courses rather than the impractical luxuries of the social sciences, Romance languages, and the humanities.

And in closing, perhaps now a fourth factor ought to be added and that is, "you can't teach an old dog new tricks." Especially an "inaka" dog as this writer

THE JAPANESE PRINT: Its Evolution and Essence By Muneshige Narazaki and C. H. Mitchell

This stunning new book contains a beautiful collection of woodblock prints drawn from the works of Japan's great artists of the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. 106 full-color letterpress plates have been tipped into this exceptional volume, some using six colors in order to reproduce the original prints faithfully. The collection, drawn from 24 different sources in Japan and America, includes many extremely rare prints, some known to be unique. Containing the work of every major, as well as most of the important secondary ukiyo-e artists, it is displayed across 274 generous-size 101/2" by 15" pages. Muneshige Narazaki, a leading Japanese art historian and founder-Chairman of the Japan Ukiyo-e (woodblock print) Association, and Charles H. Mitchell, a Vice-Chairman of the Association, combine a profound knowledge of the subject with insightful interpretations from a Western point of view to create a work of unusual scope and value. $35.00 (Introductory price until

THE ARTS OF JAPAN: Ancient and Medieval

By Seiroku Noma; translated and adapted by John Rosenfield One of the most beautiful books ever published, this volume presents on large 101/2" by 141/2" pages, many of the finest art objects produced in Japan up to the year 1572 over five millennia of cultural treasures. Superb photographs in both color and gravure portray not only the splendid art objects themselves, but the magnificent temples, shrines, and countryside of which they are a part. Content ranges across sculpture, painting, ceramics, architecture, and costumes, and is accompanied by excellent, detailed text.

A series of 112 full-color plates, accompanied by authoritative text, surveys four highly developed Japanese art media: ceramics, lacquer-ware, metal work, and textiles. Many of the art treasures shown are carefully preserved in storage and have never before been published in color. Objects crafted from the 4th century B.C. to modern times appear in context with a full historical discussion of their cultural significance. Spacious 101/2" by 141/2" pages provide an excellent setting for these masterworks of Japan. $32.50

SUIBOKU: Studies in Japanese Ink Painting By Ryukyu Saito; translation by Charles Pomeroy

Explanations and illustrations by a noted Japanese painter and instructor make it possible for anyone to take up the fascinating study of ink painting. Photo sequences, including 14 full-color plates and over 150 black-and-whites, show in detail the basic brush techniques. A historical sketch of ink painting and a discussion of its special characteristics enhance the text. $6.95

WOMAN PRESIDENT MAY CONTINUE TO LEAD PASADENA JACL

BY MACK YAMAGUCHI PASADENA — While ballots for 1967 Pasadena JACL officers are expected to be returned by Nov. 30, the nominations committee revealed Mrs. Aki Abe, leading Nisei churchwoman and community worker, was its candidate for president. If elected, she continues to keep the chapter string alive of having women presidents since 1962, when Eiko Matsui was chosen its first feminine executive. Kimi Fukutaki and Mary Yusa followed, serving two-year terms.

Mary Yusa will spearhead the 1967 membership drive. The chapter was recognized recently for having exceeded its 1965 membership this year. Bob Miyamoto acknowledged the help the chapter gave at the recent Presbyterian Church bazaar to raise funds for a new church to be built soon in Altadena.

On the nominations committee were:

STRESS J. A. RATHER THAN C.L.

In the days when JACL had the greater battles of righting the wrongs against persons of Japanese ancestry, the occasional critics of JACL objectives, modes of implementation and personalities were seldom recognized by the Pacific Citizen. Only when the good name of the Japanese American in general was attack- PRESS COMMENTS: ed did the JACL or the PC react.

Now that the majority of the so-called Japanese problems in America have been licked — especially JACL Should Be JA with passage of Washington's SJR 20 to repeal their alien land law (the last of the statutes born out of anti-Oriental hysteria), we anticipate even more criticism -fair and unfair-against the organization. This is part of the price of leadership.

Persons in quest of recognition of sorts in their heckling that JACL has had to buck involvement of the hyphenated, own way often tackle the Establishment for the target is easier to hit.

Constructive criticism of JACL has always been welcome, though this may not have been public knowledge. Old timers may have been oversensitive to criticism because of their loyalties and backgrounds. Past national JACL president Dr. Roy Nishikawa, however, fellow men has been stated and re- No see? Reprinting of Rev. William Shinto's column under Press Comments may have some question our judgment for providing it space. As noted over the commentary, what he is saying is not new, sometimes myth, but also symptomatic of the reaction JACL openly faces in Southern California. Rev. Shinto does suggest that JACL should stress the J.A. aspect rather than the C.L. principle.

In spite of open criticism, Nisei in Southern Cali- don't think I have one, huh? JACL is supposed to be workfornia who are interested in the JACL enough to be- So, okay, but here's what I've ing for Nisei Week. But not Prop. for acting and performance. JACL has a direct pipe- venerable JACL. First off, so 14, unless the individual was line into the Congress, the White House, the state you're not even a member of willing and motivated to be legislatures and capitols wherever chapters are located. At the same time, chapters try to fill the needs of the local community.

JACL did not assume the role of speaking for all Nisei; rather, the reins of leadership within the Japanese community were shifted upon the young Nisei shoulders after the bombing of Pearl Harbor. And when it was decided to evacuate persons of Japanese ancestry, the JACL with its string of chapters in the affected areas was the only Japanese group that the U.S. government could approach to carry out that edict to evacuate as peaceably as possible.

Hence, to those unfamiliar with Nisei history, it would appear JACL "appropriated" the role of speaking for the Nisei and this conclusion is understandable when one must make judgments based upon insufficient knowledge.

That JACL was able to wear the mantle of lead- Concoction which I faithfully ership under the most trying times is a credit to the men (like Saburo Kido and the late Walter Tsukamoto) who took up the challenge. JACL continued to make itself heard in the chambers of government, speaking out against anti-Japanese discrimination, calling for remedial legislation and generally promoting what it beieved to be in the best interest of persons of Japanese ancestry.

And to those who criticize JACL's role during the gration, involvement, etc., why Evacuation, they may be asked: "Do you think the did they help form a hyphenmajority of the Nisei would have preferred the imprisonment of their Issei parents, classified as enemy aliens? And if JACL's role was wrong on Evacuation, what efforts could you do as an individual to protest except perhaps to holler from a federal penitentiary?" It was either jailing the Issei in one big jail and the tions? Nisei in another jail or going all together.

The military necessity for incarcerating peoples land' because of race, as upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court that, friends, is what we are in the Korematsu case, is still a loaded weapon against the American citizenry.

As for the charge that JACL preaches integration yet itself doesn't intend to lose its identification as a would do well not to bite off integration and involvement in Japanese American organization, a Nisei sociologist pieces bigger than it can chew has said: "Because we are an identifiable minority, we cannot as individuals set ourselves apart from the problems of the rest of the group. Since we cannot escape being judged as a group, it is important for us to have or question is directly related an organization that promotes the good image of Japa- to nese Americans. Public acceptance of this image results in more rapid and lasting integration."

JACL believes integration to be in the public in- issue, involvement is sort of interest in some specific atterest for the greatness of America is manifested by apparent. But take the present its history of many cultures, people and philosophies each contributing its assimilable facets to the strength of this nation. JACL does not believe in integration to gauge of Nisei temperature, the extent that its elements are disintegrated or un-

> And for JACL staff to sit on committees in Washington, Sacramento, or City Hall and look learned and important because they represent that great minority (a minority infinitesimal we are) is sort of like the Mad Hatter having a Japanese beetle to his tea party. Wouldn't add nor detract to the story of Alice and her magical wonderland. So, you get to speak. Bully for you. So, do you notice how everyone else suddenly becomes a polite, enigmatic Japanese, listening, nodding, courteously ----and completely ignoring you? Why? Cause yellow power like that is like a ladyfinger firecracker compared to black power which is dynamite. And just to include everyone, what gives about the highfaluting integration ideals of Jr. JACL? Seems to me time with 'their own'. And see, here, I'm not knocking the right of JACL to form a youth movement but if the goal is the larger human community this seems like a rather roundthe-mulberry-bush kind of

So JACL is filled with concern about goals. Well, one thing for sure it would be good just to ask what a voluntary organization is! It is a group of people with common tainable goal. Like a lobby. Couldn't imagine a farmer's lobby fighting for the civil rights of migrant workers. Just doesn't seem fitting.

panese American entity. And sounding goals I read about. As a matter of fact if it way and the most directly re- i we expect, that's all.

Thank You

Dear Editor: What can we say but thank you ever so much for all the help you've given us during the past year with our publicity. You have been very generous and we sincerely appreciate it so much. Without your support we would have never made it this far as public opinion was "doubtful" but now I am confident that we are able to portray the ideals of unity within the Japanese as well as other racial groups. We only wish that we could say more than a mere "thank you" to show our appreciation from our entire membership. We may be "kookie" at times but we are trying our best to hold the "inbetween" age-group together.
