EDC-MDC CONVENTION

That the Chicago JACL Chapter can sponsor outstanding and inspired conventions was demonstrated again this past Labor Day weekend when it hosted the highly successful Seventh Biennial Joint EDC- Santa Ana, served on the MDC Convention.

He was particularly interested in the photographs which depicted the kind of life evacuees had to lead in the camps, and with the artifacts that were made from rocks, wood, and other camp materials and expressed the sense of beauty and dignity that girded the philosophy especially of the Issei evacuees.

Prior to the Convention Banquet, Ambassador and Madame Shimoda, National JACL President Jerry Enomoto, and Chapter Chairman and Mrs. Henry to full-time magistrate in To-Terada greeted more than 700 guests at a red carpet reception.

And, properly, the Sunday evening banquet was the climatic event of the three-day conclave.

Probably for the first time since World War II, Negro-Japanese study the Japanese Flag was presented with the American Flag, and "Kimigayo" was sung after the "Star- underway by Nisei Spangled Banner" at a JACL function.

Under the expert "toastmastership" of Harold FOREST GROVE, Ore.—Phil-"Tokuzo" Gordon, the lengthy banquet program moved swiftly.

Attorney Thomas Masuda, as president of the Chicago Japanese American Council which coordinates the 40-odd Japanese American organizations in the Windy City, eloquently presented 1,100 Japanese flowering trees to the City of Chicago in appreciation of that community's welcome to the evacuees and relocatees some 25 years ago after the 1942 evacuation. Elizabeth McLean, Deputy Commissioner of Public Works, accepted the trees on behalf of the city. Hideo Sasaki, landscape architect of Harvard University and a member of the President's Fine Arts Commission, and Yosh Nakazawa, Evanston, Illinois, architect-engineer, found an appropriate site for the trees and designed their planting.

After the "JACL Hymn" and "America, The Beautiful" were beautifully sung by the choir of the Church of Christ, Presbyterian, and "Sakiyu no Uye" by Hinae Nakazawa, Ambassador of Japan delivered his maiden speech to an American audience. Although space will not permit even a summary of the Ambassador's speech at this time, suffice it to say it so impressed the Congressmen present that arrangements are now being made to have it extended in the "Congressional Record" so that all members of our legislative branch and all government officials may be made aware of his historic words on that occasion.

By Bill Hosokawa

Denver, Colo. VIETNAM-Nisei are probably no more and no less concerned about the U.S. dilemma in Vietnam than the average American. Nisei have served with distinction as civilians and with U.S. armed forces in that unfortunate country, and some have given their lives, just as older members of their generation, their brothers, uncles and fathers, gave their lives in Korea and World War II. Other Nisei, with equal sincerity and dedication, have espoused the philosophy of the doves and have demanded, as is their right as Americans, that their government end the war.

Nisei of both persuasions, as well as those in the middle ground with no strong opinions, would do well to read Prof. Edwin O. Reischauer's thoughtful article in the current (Sept. 19) issue of Look Magazine. Soon after Reischauer resigned as U.S. ambassador to Japan in 1966 to return to Harvard University, he was quoted in various press reports as being strongly opposed to government policy in Vietnam.

But the Look Magazine presentation, taken from a book to be published by Alfred A. Knopf Inc., is a reasoned and scholarly discussion of the choices ahead for this nation as Reischauser sees them and shows no particular bias.

THE CHOICES - In brief, Reischauer says the choices are escalation, withdrawal, and continuing on "somewhat the present terms" in the hope of eventual settlement. Each of these courses has its dangers.

Escalation, he points out, not only increases the possibility of a head-on collision with Red China, but it "might well wreck our whole relationship with Japan—and perhaps with other important allies as well."

Withdrawal, however it might be "papered over," chairman; Elaine Uchiyama of St. Louis, Midwest; rear would be an admission of defeat whose most important consequence "would be the psychological and political impact" on Southeast Asia and the whole world. EDC-MDC JOINT CONVENTION "One wonders," he writes "what effect this might have in other countries, such as Japan and our Eurohave in other countries, such as Japan and our European allies, that have been relying on commitments ATTRACTS 150 YOUTH MEMBERS is organized for Spokane youth made by us."

But even more worrisome, Reischauer says, "is the effect that our withdrawal from Vietnam might have on ourselves." He fears that the attitude that the life of "one good, clean, Christian American boy" is worth more than all the "benighted Vietnamese" could "all too easily turn into the worst sort of racist isolationism, which might drastically reduce our usefulness to the less developed parts of the world and might also damage our relations with the advanced nations."

That leaves only one choice: "I believe the chief hope we have for a tolerable outcome is to force the in the Windy City over the tion and ended with a beneother side gradually to reduce the scale of fighting Labor Day weekend. and eventually to accept some sort of reasonable settlement." As part of this course he proposes "ela- cially on Friday night, Sept. boration of realistic and generous terms of settlement 1, with fund raising activities that would give the Vietcong a tolerable alternative which included a slave aucto an apparently endless war."

A friend of ours who has her children in college wasn't feeling too good recently and finally went to see her doctor. The doctor examined her, laughed, and said she was fine, it was just that she was in a family way. With that my friend began to cry and no attempt by the doctor could pacify her. "It's not what you think, doctor; it's just that I can't face going to all those PTA meetings again!"

There are, of course, some chapters which have not yet begun preparation for the drive. And time grows short. The National Membership Kit is already in the print shop and should be available within the next ten days. But it's an obvious truth that the kit is worthless without a mailing list. The present goal for the PSW District, as stated by National Membership Chairman James Kasahara, is to accumulate a total mailing list of over 15,000 names. This is, in my opinion, a very low figure which takes into account the fact that JACL chapters have not been established in some key areas of our district. But in spite of the low figure of 15,000 there is serious doubt whether the goal will be reached. The Membership Committee is therefore seeking help from members to volunteer to bolster their chapter's efforts.

And any JACLers able to assist in the drive is more than welcome to attend the next district membership meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 19, 7:30 p.m. at the
