IDC QUARTERLY

I invited myself to the IDC had passed since attending the 20th Anniversary of the IDC at Pocatello. This meant that I had not seen JACLers like presidents Sud Morishita of Idaho Falls and Bob Endo of Pocatello, since then.

The amazing thing is that nobody looks any older. Eternal youth must be JACL's reward.

Pinch-hitting for our National Director, I discussed highlights of national interest with the delegates. The degree of interest and concern evident among them is certainly healthy.

At the same time it is an organizational reality that membership retention and *ustaining of interest in areas like IDC, where Japanese American population is limited, is increasingly difficult.

It is to the credit of those JACLers who continue to care, that these problems are being handled.

A goodly number of bright eyed youth conducted their own IDYC meeting, and joined us at the banquet. Co-District Youth Commissioners, Yaguchi, are examples of Youth: Jeanne Nakashima, 614 N. 20th St., San Jose 95112. JACLers who are keeping the "bridges" open between our adults and youth. Detention Camp Proviso

Jeffrey Matsui suggested that we devote a Newsletter to the socalled Detention Camp authorization in the Internal Security Act of 1950 inasmuch as many JACLers and JACL chapters appear to be interested and may call for its discussion at the San Jose National Convention.

To begin with, this enabling statute should not be referred to as the McCarran Act, for the late Senator from Nevada authored more than 100 major bills in his years in the Congress, some liberal as the Administrative Procedure Act that authorizes appeals to the courts of administrative decisions of government agencies and others as restrictive as the Internal Security Act. It certainly should not be confused with the Walter-McCarran Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 which provide naturalization and immigration opportunities to those of Japanese and other Asian ancestry.—M.M.

The Internal Security Act of 1950 has two titles. Title I is cited as the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950; Title II as the Emergency Detention Act of 1950.

It is a matter of record that JACL opposed enactment of the legislation that became the Internal Security Act of 1950, both at the time it was being considered by the House and the Senate for approval and for the subsequent overriding of President Truman's

We have cited specific sections and summarized their provisions because there appears to be, from what we have read and heard, much confusion and even misunderstanding regarding this law and its implications.

Following an alleged expose in a book entitled something like "Concentration Camps USA" more than a year ago and—if memory serves correctly—a radio or television show about some presumed activities in ment at Azusa Greens, karaconnection with the former WRA camp at Tule Lake, te, aikido, kempo, kendo, Op- rows, 9 a.m.; Tennis final round, California, plus several newspaper stories and even timist swimming meet at El Solano Canyon, 8 a.m.; Ondo Paeditorials, several California Congressmen, including Senator Thomas Kuchel, and the Washington JACL Office, queried the Department of Justice as to whether it was maintaining any detention camps for possible Council of Oriental Organizations "emergency use" under authority of the 1950 Internal Security Act.

At the same time, however, we would urge that JACL consider certain problems in connection with any national repeal campaign. We express ourselves only as to two of many.

There is no widespread demand for repealing this Title II. Thus, JACL must undertake a national educational drive to arouse the grass roots to serve notice on the 535 members of the House and the Senate that they demand action on this matter, with a full-time Sacramento - Masao Itano testi-Washington lobbying corps. The campaign would have to be more organized and more heavily financed than NC-WNDC - Wakamatsu Colony the post-war JACL drive for Issei naturalization.

And, in trying to secure the repeal of this inactive proviso, JACL may well invite and encourage the extremists and the arch-conservatives to activate themselves and their cohorts to use a repeal effort to "update" this particular law to "really take care" of those whom they dislike and fear—the civil and human Mile-Hi - Community picnic, rights advocates, the proponents of social and econo- Berkeley Fark. mic progress, etc., as well as the dissenters, the dem-

Shortest keynote speech

Honolulu Sen. Daniel K. Inouye has a tentative draft of the speech he is to deliver at the Aug. 26 opening session of the Democratic National Convention. And the speech, according to Inouye, could be the shortest keynote address in the history of the Democratic Party. "It's now timed so as not to exceed 30 minutes", Draft evader sentenced Inouye said. "That's well under the time for the 1964 Draft evader Dana R. Park, ra . . . Ida Smith, 82, who lives the shortest".

U.S.-JAPAN RELATIONS

As one who has devoted a good part of his life to helping improve two-way communications between Japan and the United States, Consul General Shimanouchi was honored by his alma mater with the Doctor long, and the girls with their of Laws degree in 1965.

These words might be assumed by the Convention at San Jose as an effective guide in U.S.-Japan relations. At the same time, the principles of understanding implemented at the local level seem to spell an attitude Japanese Americans can well adopt in facing the Negro crisis today.
