The Sansei narcotic problem is definitely not restricted to Gardena. It is county-wide. The problem is much more serious than the average person suspects. One half of the crime in the Los Angeles metropolitan area can be charged to narcotic problems.

Recently I attended a youth council meeting and at this conference asked this direct question. How many students in their respective schools were involved or have been involved in any sort of glue sniffing, narcotics or dangerous drugs?

I asked for a show of hands if they thought 25% were offenders. To my amazement 100% hands were raised. went as high as 50% and still some hands were raised. At this meeting at least 15 Los Angeles schools were represented. So you can see the problem is certainly not solely in Gardena.

EDUCATION FOR TOMORROW

An ardent advocate of "education for tomorrow with some 23,000 memberswith sound planning today" dismissed the podium and an increase of about 6,000 microphone at the Pasadena JACL installation dinner and paced the floor to expound his thoughts on pub- you consider the Japanese lic schools. He would have made excellent use of a American population has inbackboard, if it were handy.

The speaker was Ramon Cortines, the Pasadena Unified School District administrator working on long- national membership in ex- Editor: range planning. Basic question prefacing his address cess of 50,000-maybe, 30,000 was: "Are we going to educate the young people for or 40,000 today. our world or their world?" Admitting teachers are about the most "insecure" lot, he developed thoughtfully the concept that students should be prepared for their world-not ours. And if it doesn't work here through peaceful means, his "education for tomorrow" may not work anywhere else.

The three goals of public education, which he cited, siderations on why we need has shown remarkable courare that education must be (1) comprehensive, (2) in- to increase JACL membership age and strong determination tegrated, and (3) equally provided. It was his contention that since many who attend shall be. college do not graduate, occupational training ought to be enhanced for those who can't cut it at college. JACL has had programs in the past orienting Sansei to collegiate life and a professional career, but just thoughts about a similar program to encourage the levels, bend every arm and With the evolution of the passing. We, who knew him, ly encouraged by the council's Sansei to industrial skills.

For Pasadena to meet these three goals of education, Cortines hopes for an "educational park" where all high school students now placed in three campuses Ed Moriguchi, 530 - 18th Ave., would converge. It was my privilege to attend the Consultation on Japanese Work sponsored by the United Methodist Church in San Francisco earlier this month.

We Are Different

It was one of the first times that the church actually admitted there are problems in the Japanese community in dealing with the relationship of the ethnic church to the larger church structure. As a result new strategies must be developed in order to deal with the problems of the ethnic church.

The two day conference was headed by presentations by Dr. Harry Kitano, professor of social welfare at UCLA, and the Rev. Roy Sano, associate minister of Centenary United Methodist Church in Los Angeles.

Out of these two perspectives of the church and the community, many vocal concerns were expressed, and it was a sign that the Japanese community can speak out, even if it has to be prodded.

From the two days of presentations and discussions, annual KMTV public service for their year-round use of "But because many of the I offer the following observations:

Admittedly, said supporters of the amendment to the State Administrative Code, the figure of 15% was arbitrary. But observers believed it appropriate in calculations applied to most actual situations, and believed it should go far in eliminating the de facto segregation in California school districts.

The code amendments, which have the force of law in California and can be changed only by a vote of the state board, probably will have a major effect on an integration suit by the American Civil Liberties Union against the Los Angeles City School District, now being heard in the Superior Court.

The ACLU charged that the district is not doing enough to eliminate de facto segregation, saying it existed in any school showing an enrollment of 50% or more of minority youngsters. The 50% figure, however, is based upon sociological studies and has no root in

A fine choir and spirited band appropriately accented the meeting with spiritual overtones, emphasizing the religious foundations of Operation Breadbasket.

At this meeting were many Black and White members of the Catholic religious community, possibly due to the fact that Father George Clements and Father Rollins Lambert, two Black principals in the controversy at St. Dorothy's Catholic Church, were to appear on the program.

In the Nisei Classic at Holiday Bowl, Jack Okamoto 6350 Fallbrook, Corner Victory 241, and 225 for a real fine 715 set. Jack was carrying the pocket so well, I am certain he has been learning some magical tricks from Shiro (Houdini) Kitabayashi, his teammate and good friend. All kidding aside, Jack has been one of the top Nisei bowlers in Southern California for a number of years and a real bowling enthusiast. He makes a precise study of the game and bowls using some real good ideas. It's always a pleasure to see him score big.

On the same night, Fred Tokeshi, future brother-in-law, ripped the pits for a 279 single, high The individual champions game for the night. Incidentally, Fred reminded me that his wedding date is set for June 28, not the 29th as printed last week : . Almost forgot Sam Sato who posted a 255 second game to win the high game pot.
