Timing Awkward

Whether some choose to believe it or not, the procedural change is not motivated by 'Hair' tickets prejudice against one nomi nee. Somehow I sense that Steve Doi lit a fuse which he couldn't extinguish. Since getting in the last word strikes me as a child's game, I shall not JACL membership reply directly to his most recent letter, again given wide circulation. Vital Point

One such attempt leaves Steve very vulnerable. The only such meeting I ever attended was reiod that a hassle was going on between the different groups in the San Francisco Chapter. It was an informal meeting at Steve Doi's home after I spoke at the S.F. Jr. JACL installation dinner on March 28, 1969. Present were Wes Doi, Yo Hironaka, Louise Koike, Steve and Char Doi, Joyce and myself. It was also concluded in an atmosphere of seemingly better understanding, with mutual expressions of good will exchanged. If it was an "exercise in futility", Steve either has a bad memory or, worse still, chose to be less than honest in the meeting.

Those who know me, I hope, do not see me as a name caller. On the other hand it seems to me that I have been the target of some vicious words. Thinly disguised efforts to wear the mantle of injured innocence and martyrdom ill becomes people who will launch irresponsible and vindictive attacks in the public media. Steve and Dr. ten to every voice, implications that you can't handle dissent just can't be taken seriously.

Cody, Wyoming hardly fit for men.

It's a shame that circumstances left the evacuees with such an unfavorable impression of Wyoming. In so that evacuees who visited it at one time or another another time, under other circumstances, it is possible would find little that is familiar. Back during the war to see the beauties and attractions of this section of days, Cody was a town that looked windblown and the state. Understandably, few evacuees wanted to remain in the Heart Mountain area when the camps were closed. One of the very few remaining, perhaps the only one, is Masako Matsuda Ota who married Dr. Minol Ota, a native Wyoming veterinarian. Dr. Ota was employed by WRA to look after livestock at the camp, and there he met and wooed Masako who had been evacuated from the San Jose area of California. But even she won't be around very much longer. Dr. Ota is taking a federal job in Lincoln, Neb., and the family will be moving away shortly.

EXPERIENCE

As democratic candidate for the Utah State Senate in 1968, he lost by a mere 147 votes out of approximately 21,000 votes cast in a strongly Republican district. His opponent, one of the most influential senior senators, is a likely candidate for Governor of Utah in 1972.

Ray is currently campaign chairman in Salt Lake County for U.S. Senator Frank E. Moss in his fight for re-election. Salt Lake County holds over 40% of all votes in the State of Utah and is the key county in state wide elections.

Ray was in the Heart Mountain Relocation Center during World War II and served as a interpreter, interrogator and special agent in the Korean Conflict after graduating from the Army's Military Intelligence Language School.

He has been a lobbyist at the Utah State Legislature since 1959 on various public and private bills including health, education, welfare and civil rights...

For the last ten years, he has been a speaker at elementary, junior high, high school, college and university classes and assemblies; churches of different denominations; and ethnic, service, civic and professional organizational meetings on, such topics as civil rights, civil liberties, juvenile delinquency, adoption, marriage and divorce, child custody, public welfare and welfare laws, rules and regulations, public health laws, rules. and regulations, and the Japanese people in America.

As a Caseworker: Ray worked with underprivileged children and families of all races, colors, creeds and religions in administering, coordinating and providing medical, legal, economic and welfare assistance.

As a Referee in Juvenile Court: Ray heard over 10,000 cases dealing with children and adults in trouble.

As a Deputy County Attorney: He prosecuted cases in J.P. Courts, juvenile court, city court and district court. Ray Uno also handled civil matters.

As Assistant Attorney General: Ray Uno was chief counsel to the State Welfare Department, State Hospital, State Training School, State Industrial School, State Council on Aging and other state health and welfare agencies. These agencies had total expenditures of more than 50 million dollars a year. As chief counsel to these agencies, Ray Uno reviewed old laws and proposed and drafted new legislation. In Private Practice: Ray Uno has engaged in private practice of law and is admitted to all courts of Utah, including the U.S. District Court and the U.S. Court of Appeals, 10th Circuit. He is currently with the firm of Madsen, Uno and Cummings.

The Sky Is Falling

So many things are happening these days . . . On the international scene the war rages on in the Far East. Mao Tse-tung warns the world to prepare for a possible third world war . . . On the domestic scene the nation is crippled with labor strikes. The campuses ty are also eligible if their ments. have rekindled the fires of discontent.

JACL is preparing itself for the national convention. People all talking about, polarization, conservative versus liberal. On my own personal scene I feel first and second place winquite uneasy to say the least. I work for the Japanese ners, respectively. American Citizens League, and it scares me to see an able from Haruo Imura, scho- attend the chapter board organization fighting over conservatism or liberalism larship chairman, 2225 Pacific meeting on Friday, June 12, when only something radical will save the national Ave., Alameda. convention, and the predicament of this world.

I would hate to be labeled a "chicken little", yet I see no advantage to being in the position of "I told you so". This is why I take great concern in the direction this country is going and therefore I am concerned with the direction of JACL since it represents a portion of this nation that I can and want to relate.

The past direction of JACL has developed an acute June 28 at the Northeast YM- nese in Japan, the United guest speaker at the Milwauproblem of stagnation. Through the organization's general policies of isolation our concerns and interest have become greatly limited. With the progressive leadership of the last couple of years JACL has started moving but the tempo must be increased greatly.

In times that represent discontent and misunderstanding you must communicate and open up so understanding can again prevail. The organization should assert and address itself to international, domestic, and local issues, because it is naive to think that we are untouched by the happenings of the world. The membership must understand that the world is much end total of 1,999. smaller now, and that international relations set the precedent for domestic relations. Whether the National Board can assume the power of any national committee is the issue at hand in the Nisei of the Biennium question. The controversy may be settled if it can be determined that the majority of the chapters, whose delegates comprise the National Council, has ever delegated such authority.

The issue certainly focuses upon the powers of delegates, who as a body comprise the National Council and the main deliberative assembly within the organi- sick, sick. It is sick because zation.
