To coin a cliche, JACL is at another one of those "crossroads". We are on the threshold of a full time Washington, D.C. operation, manned by David Ushio, and the close of an era in JACL when Mike Masaoka bows out with the well earned plaudits of all of us. In early 1973, Mas Satow will close a distinguished and dedicated career as National Director. We are in the process of canvassing the nation for a qualified successor. The Community Involvement Program (CIP) coordinated by Warren Furutani, and manned by several 'Foxes" in California, is being re-examined and retooled for presentation to the National Council. The Education Commission Program, headed by Ron Hirano, is similarly being re-examined.

What is the future of the Youth Program? The roles of Ron Wakabayashi and Victor Shibata are also being re-evaluated.

Personnel cost is a heavy investment in our budget, and will become heavier. The CIP and Education Programs were funded in the current biennium outside of the salary allotment, and may very well become a personnel cost now.

There are JACLers around the nation who are programs. The concentration of staff in California, although defended on the grounds of population density, raises questions about the "national" scope of our

Crime File

Msgr. Charles Kekumano, Honolulu police commission chairman, has charged that the news media "have done harm to the police department without cause" by publicizing recent accounts of alleged police brutality. Kekumano was joined by Dr. .. Robert Chung, vice chairman, in criticizing the media, "particularly the newspapers," for devoting too much space to alleged brutality cases in the last few weeks. Kekumano singled out the Star-Bulletin and accused its editor, A. A. Smyser, of "political bias" for an editorial that advocated the creation of a civilian review
