A black man approached them and asked in a cocky manner, "Hey, man, when did you come to our country?" Like a putdown. Chuck replied, "I was born in the U.S." That stopped the exchange and the man left sheepishly. "We as Americans should not have to stand for such harassment but must—as long as there are ignorant people," Chuck added in his report. "We have been conditioned

Pearlstine's story appears in the first column at the top of farm, wondering what hap- ter, sits in the midst of the page one. Under what newspapermen call a "kicker," reading "The 'Quiet Minority'," the main headline says: "Tokyo-U.S. Differences Stir Fear and Militancy in Japanese-Americans."

The thrust of Pearlstine's story is that hostility be- ers of bins sit under shade Instead, he lives with his tween Japan and the United States has surfaced again trees waiting for a truck to family in a trailer across the because of economic competition and Japanese Americans fear they will be victimized once more. This thesis, of course, is not new. The book "Nisei," published nearly three years ago, raised the possibility that Japanese Americans might well face a new round of prejudice and discrimination if U.S.-Japanese rela- in Seion miss took a turn of the worse. The book observed: "There is a futile and fatalistic outlook inherent in this thesis. It holds that the destiny of the Nisei, what- OWN einnic toods ever his desires and whatever his efforts, is tied in perpetuity to the land of his ancestors because of white America's racism."

What is interesting at this point is that a respected national publication like the Wall Street Journal has taken cognizance of this concern. And the question that follows immediately is why American unhappiness with Japan seems inevitably to find a scapegoat in the Japanese Americans. Our nation has been at which has been sending rice, sword's point for several decades with Soviet Russia ethnic foods and canned and Red China, yet there was no great likelihood that goods. Russian Americans or Chinese Americans would become victims of a national ire. Yet, let Japan build sible, has not been able to up a large trade surplus and the hate-Japan kettle meet the problem of ethnic begins to simmer with worrisome repercussions for Japanese Americans.

There is no simple answer, of course, but it is likely to a break in the levee under- of that a number of factors contribute to the problem persons homeless. First is the matter of visibility. There are just enough Japanese Americans to be noticeable, but nowhere outside of Hawaii are there enough of them to make up a block large enough to defend itself. A second factor may be popular resentment over the industriousness and aggressiveness that have led to the economic success of the Japanese Americans as a group If this is true, the ambivalence of this point of view is laid bare in all its inconsistency; the Japanese Americans (somewhat to their discomfort) are also held up as the ideal minority by critics of the alleged indolence of other minorities.

Yet, for those who consciously or unconsciously fear the Japanese Americans for being too successful, there is scant reassurance in Pearlstine's article which quotes certain Nisei spokesmen as complaining that they continue to be held down by prejudice based on race, a complaint certainly with merit.

Pearlstine reports that Japanese Americans "by avoiding confrontation tactics and following a policy of assimilation rather than separatism", have become far more prosperous and better-educated than blacks or Chicanos. But, he continues, many Japanese Americans contend that the barriers are not yet down, the policy of assimilation has not worked, and a more militant approach is necessary.

Be that as it may, a long view of the "Nisei prob- Tokyo as drop-off points. lem," which has been a lively topic of conversation for a half century now, reveals some startling changes. ## Dear Friend of Jeffrey:

LOS ANGELES - Bruce

from his position as Associate National Director the JACL, as of July 31, 1972. For the past five years, he has devoted himself far above and beyond the call of duty for causes that greatly benefited not only Japanese Americans but Asian Americans in general. Bringing a sensitivity and sincere commitment to his job that is rare, even for those in the social service field, Jeffrey has contributed greatly to the respect which JACL has enjoyed in Southern California and certainly has widened the scope of its influence, particularly among the youth.

We have only to recall the Dr. Thomas Noguchi, Francis Ching, James Yoshinaga and more recently, the Frank Soyejima cases to know that Jeffrey has functioned as a conscience of the community.

As he turns to a new chapter in his life, a number of his friends, who are sure that there are many others who would like to express their appreciation to a rare and dedicated human being, has planned an informal evening with Jeffrey to be held on Wednesday, August 23, 1972 with a no-host cocktail at 6:30 p.m. and dinner promptly at 7 p.m. at the Golden Dragon Restaurant, 960 N. Broadway, Los Angeles. We hope you will make every effort to attend.

As a more concrete expression of our appreciation, we are also accepting contributions to a "Friends of Jeffrey" fund. If you wish to contribute, please include the amount with your check for ticket reservations. Deadline for ticket reservations is August 18, 1972. Thank you and see you on August 23, 1972.

West L.A. Auxiliary wine tasting party reset

With the smashing success of last year's benefit wine tasting party still echoing in the air, the Auxiliary of the West Los Angeles JACL, by popular demand, is staging another benefit wine tasting party on Sunday, Oct. 29, 12:30 to 3:30 p.m., at Yamato Restaurant in Century City.

Committee members, head-ed by co-chairmen, Mary Yanokawa and Haru Nakata, recently met with Ken Ishizaki, owner of the restaurant, and Joseph Minervini, consultant. Five northern California wineries will be represented. Proceeds (tickets at $4) will be used for community projects to include ITA (Involved Together Asians), Issei Project, and Nora Sterry Lighted School Program.

Summer Programs

Auxiliary members and their husbands gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Yoshida on July 22, for swimfest and steak bake On Sunday, Aug. 5, the Auxiliary participated in the WLA Mall Asian Cultural Festival with a successful white dragon booth (white elephant). chaired by Mrs. Shig Takeshita. Proceeds will be donated to the Issei Project. Morri's Flowers 548-3484 Mrs. George Kanegai was lauded for putting together this highly successful festival which featured foods, crafts, and entertainment from different Asian counties, including Korea, China, Philippines, and Japan. Popular actor, George Takei, was master of ceremonies during the entertainment hour . . . In the interim, members are preparing handicraft gift items to be presented during the Issei Appreciation Day program to be held in October at Felicia Mahood Center.
