Youth Program

Washington Since the National Council has given high priority to youth programs and has brought the JAY (formerly Jr. JACL) fully within the JACL organization (at the request of the JAYs themselves), it seems appropriate to publish my views of the JAY and of the National Youth Program, which are given in the following summary which prepared for my participation in a panel discussion of the direction of the JAY and the National Youth Program at the recently concluded National JAY Convention at Hayward.

Forecasting the future direction of the JAY and of the National Youth Program is difficult since the composition and leadership of the JAY will continue to change over relatively short spans of time and the immediate needs and interests of the young shift and change in direct relationship to the environmental stimuli to which they are exposed at any particular time. Nevertheless, I will venture a few hypotheses about the future of both the JAY and the Youth Program.

With regard to the JAY-

• The direction of the JAY should evolve from among the JAYs themselves and should not be imposed from the outside.

 The JAYS, with their outstanding leaders during the past biennium, have laid firm programmatic and organizational foundations for the immediate future. By following-up on what has been accomplished so far, making further improvements as needed, and assuring that the projects adopted (or to be adopted) are carried through to fruition, the JAYs should produce ends which will benefit not only JAY members, but also other members of the Japanese American and Asian American communities. At the same time, this effort should serve to ensure the continuity of the JACL JAY program by broadening its base through an increase in members and the development of new and additional JAY leaders.

communication among the JAYs is improved and the position of the JAYs on the National Board becomes even more firmly established, the JAYs should have increasing impact on the future direction of JACL as a whole .-It is particularly refreshing when the CIVIL SERVICE young Board members can and do question the "conventional wisdom" of their elders, forcing clearer thinking to answer the simple question "Why?"

· Although the JAY should not be wiewed as a primary training ground MERIT UP-GRADE for future JACL leaders, a natural result of JAY programs and activities should be the development of increased individual self-assurance and competence in coping with various kinds of personal and group problems so that JAYs will be better equipped to step into the mainstream of society. Thus kagawa, who has been teachit is likely that the JAY will help pre- ing in a Dept. of Defense pare many of its members to assume school in Japan for the past leadership in various fields such as in nine years, filed for a promocivic, professional and business groups as well as in JACL itself.

Concerning the National Youth Program-

• The National Youth Program (of its beyond a master's degree, which the JAY is a part) is under the he told the National Education broad direction of the National JACL organization, but must still be responsive to the overall needs and interests of JA youths in general. Accordingly, the National Council will undoubtedly continue to give high priority to the development and expansion of the selected. Youth Program.

IMMIGRATION IN MID-1970s

Till the mid-1960s when immigration quotas for Asians were repealed, JACL was quite involved in matters of immigration. Interest flared on a collateral issue of naturalization in the early 1970s when the question of "illegal aliens" jeopardized the status of Issei aged on public welfare in California. Newspaper articles concerning these problems continue to be Whales filed in the PC morgue-but correspondence inside Editor: JACL has been scant this past biennium, so far as this desk is concerned.

There was attention paid to "aliens" with reference to JACL membership at the last National Convention, out all the species until only but it did not address the more critical problems which will vex this republic as economic skies continue to become darker each passing day.

We now see the group called Zero Population Growth last month calling for a 90 per cent cut in legal immigration of 400,000 to 40,000 and a crackdown on the millions of illegal aliens, estimated by the Immigration and Naturalization Service as high as four chapter delegates shall be goals that will develop JAmillion a year. One employer was quoted: "They are very good people-very hard-working. They get their pay checks and they send them home . . . The kind of work they do, nobody else wants to do. It's not the money—they get paid the same as everybody else."

An immigration official in Los Angeles explained illegal aliens-mostly from Mexico-are coming here because of jobs which pay more than those in Mexico, part of May, the musical even if the pay is cheap by U.S. standards.

of a Man without a Country

THE TWO WORLDS OF JIM YOSHIDA

by Jim Yoshida with Bill Hosokawa Foreword by Senator Inouve

Jim Yoshida, native-born American, was forced to serve in the Imperial Japanese Army in China. This is the story of his many adventures and ordeals, and how he finally regained his lost U.S. citizenship. "In an age when too many Americans are disdainfully discarding their citizenship and birthright, it is instructive to read how important these were to a man whose American roots reached back only a single generation." -SENATOR DANIEL K.
