Another important yardstick, of course, is the person's voting record. Harry, I am writing this while

Since we have been filing away the releases from the office of our longtime friend, California Assemblyman Paul Bannai of Gardena, let's see (and we may be doing him an injustice since we are pick-and-choosing excerpts) what our files show for 1975.

Juvenile Crime-Drafted for the most part dur- Naciones, which is wired for ing the 1930s, the Calif. It appears instead of dollars but not to delegates and brief, but ina loophole exists since, as Bannai notes, a probation department will detain juveniles "accused of only the most serious crime of violence or offenses involving pensive cities in Europe. substantial property loss".

Bannai is calling for a thorough reform of juvenile to these U.N. proceedings to justice laws as too many are being released-such as those caught for dope peddling.

Homestead Protection-This release explains a law topic as heavy as "the preven- portunity. which passed, providing more automatic protection for the homesteader, since the State Constitution requires the Legislature to protect from forced sale ... the homestead and other property of all heads of families". By having received a homeowners property tax exemption or the senior citizens property tax assistance, homesteader now acquires automatic protection of the house in which he actually resides, together with the outbuildings and land on which they are situated, from execution or attachment for up to $20,-000 actual cash value over liens and incumbrances if head of the family or 65 and older and up to $10,000 in all other cases. Other workings of the law are ex- ly thinking that at least I'll PR lady who writes for the plained.

Such useful information of how a new law applies to an individual appears regularly in the Bannai re-

Illegal Aliens-After a Sacramento superior court judge held illegal aliens in California are entitled to collect welfare benefits and at a time "when California is confronted with an unhealthy economy and real threat of bankruptcy, every step must be taken to assure that each tax dollar is spent wisely". Bannai reiterates the question: Whether the state is also obligated to people who enter this country illegally? Bannai's answer is apparently "no" since mention is made of a bill prohibiting illegal aliens from receiving publice welfare "since it's virtually impossible to continue to provide for its own people and assume the financial burden of hardship cases from other countries".

Public Employee Strikes—Commenting on a controversial bill providing for a public employees relations board to mediate disputed matters as well pro- some very clever woman vide public employ∈es a right to strike, some sharp who wrote up the ads for questions in Bannai's mind were voiced along with these outfits. Appealling to the opposition expressions from labor officials, groups and political leaders-which Bannai concludes as "reasonable doubt" as to whether or not this bill is truly in examples. the best interest.

One might surmise from Bannai's report he would support a bill if it would guarantee essential safety and being smothered by the public health services would not be interrupted, especially by those who depend on the government for such needs.

Other Topics-The subjects covered in other releases run the gamut of human activity that legislators wrestle from bill to bill and from committee to take a few hundred-trying committee. We don't have the latest count, but there must be at least 5,000 bills in the hopper at Sacramento.

Bannai had something to say about unfair credit reports, an ombudsman for prisoners (which he's for), homosexuality, smog control devices (he says what we had was a bad program), "regionalized government", banks as insurance agents, expanding the investment ability of the State (permitting the State Treasurer to place funds not immediately needed in savings and loans or investing in negotiable certificates of deposits), aerosols, malpractice insurance, locksmiths (this occupation is not covered by state licensing), and streamlining the public utilities commission.

The Republican in Bannai shines through in his report about Gov. Brown wanting to hold the line on the budget and avoid tax increase while the Legislature with its Democratic majority is described as some brave Japanese soul re-"something less than fiscally conservative". Says Ban- monstrated with her. nai: "A legislator doesn't have to be a give-away art- So without even appearing ist to get re-elected. But we thought it worthwhile to spend a couple of hours trying to weave the wanderings of a legislator from week to week into a couple of minutes for the reader who takes time to read this column.

When we were in Beppu, overripe fumes arising from the scores of onsen, we had to catch a cab from the eki to our ryokan. It was hot and humid, and there were at least thousand people-give or to do the same thing we were. In Japan they have marked lines to indicate where the people stand to wait for buses, trains, taxis, or some kind of locomotion. Very reasonable.

So we Gaikokujins stood patiently in our line like the rest of the Japanese cit'zenry, sweating buckets while we waited. Then here comes this past middle-aged woman with her filled furoshiki, also trying to catch a cab. She was a late-comer in the line, but do you think that this deterred her any? Hell no. She charged around us like Red Grange going around end, swinging her purple furoshiki, and stood first in line. But

Denver, Colo. Have you heard of OCA? Until recently, I hadn't. The letters stand for Organization of Chinese-Americans and, from what I've been told, efforts are being made to establish chapters in various parts of the country. The Denver group is struggling along, struggling for the same reasons that many JACL chapters are struggling. But OCA leaders feel there is a need for their organization for the same reasons there is a need for JACL.

The purposes of OCA are described in this manner:

"This corporation shall not engage in any form of trade or commerce, or carry on any activity which will result in a remunerative profit to the corporation or its members. Subject to the foregoing limitations, the object, business or pursuit of this corporation shall be as follows:

"To foster American democracy, to uphold the Constitution of the United States of America, to eliminate prejudices and ignorance, to promote the cultural heritage of the Chinese in America, to enhance the image of the Chinese in America, to promote active participation of Americans of Chinese ancestry permanently residing in the United States of America in civic and national life, and to secure justice and equal opportunity and equal treatment of Chinese Americans, as well as all Americans regardless of their race, creed, color, sex, or national origin.

Can't quarrel with objectives like that. More power to OCA. Judging from the food bazaar they held recently, OCA will be a larger and more active group in Denver sooner than the virtually moribund JACL chapter.

Washington

In the next several weeks, a bill which concerns ett Watada. They will be JACLers and endorsed by the Eastern and Midwest treated to the boat ride to the District Councils will come before either the full island from Fisherman's Wharf House or House Agriculture Committee.

The Rice Production Act of 1975 (HR 8529) may effect the membership of JACL because of the high rice consumption by Japanese Americans. The bill which is being spearheaded by Congressman Bill Alexander of Arkansas seeks to open up more acreage to Febt. 29 from:: new growers for the production of rice. With the pro- Tree and T. N.Y. Met Museum of Art buys Japanese collection

NEW YORK-Harry Packard, the rormer U.S. marine whose collection of Japanese art was sold to New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art for $5.1million, got the collecting bug when he went through houses abandoned by Japanese in China after World War II.

The collection, ranging from 3400 BC to the 19th Century, includes 412 works - scrolls, screens, ceramics, bronze and wood sculpture.

Packard, 55, who lives in Tokyo with his second wife and their two children, said the money is to be used by the Metropolitan to set up a center in Tokyo for the study of Japanese art.
