FROM THE BOARD:

Representative John Sy Eng passed out copies of the proposed income tax law with charts for determining the amount. John did a beautiful job of fielding considering the scope of the questions involving high finance. John was responsible for writing good portion of this legislative proposal.

The newsletter mail out crew for Oct. 10 headed by Shobo Fujii was like an old reunion with the Multi-Media (photographic & performing arts) Center and the Seattle Central Community College Visual and Applied Communication Dept. In attendance were: Pat Burns, Marilyn Tokuda, Susan Fujii, Rich Fujii, Ann Fujii, Joyce Nakagawara, Steve Suzuki, Kimi Nakanishi and Eira Nagaoaka.

Shig Sugiyama was named as campaign project coordinator for the JACL Eld. Fund, and Gov. Dr. James H. Watanabe has appointed Tak Kubota as Pacific Northwest District fund raising chairperson. Tomio Horiguchi, member of the National JACL building committee, will play a major role in the Seattle area.

Don Kazama, membership chairman, reported last October that JACL has hit the all-time high of 715 members. Don explained one of the reasons for the high mark was that "JACL has started innovating." Kimi Nakanishi is membership secretary and Frank Hattori takes care of the Thousand Club. Congratulation on your hustle in going over the top, Don.

Fifth installment of the JACL membership bulletin dated August had shown that practically every Chapter in the Pacific Northwest District Council had exceeded last year's membership total. Columbia Basin with 35 betters last year's 28; Gresham-Troutdale 160 v. 101; Mid-Columbia 167 v. 165; Portland 340 v. 282; Puget Sound Valley 225 v. 205; Seattle 672 v.

631; Spokane 142 v. 136; and White River 75 v. 77.
FUN TIME MIXED IN WITH DR. SATA'S TRAINING WORKSHOP

JACL board members together with leaders from the Asian American Education Association attended the Leadership Training Workshop Oct. 12, 13 and 14 at the Crystal Mountain in the Rokka Ski Lodge. The facilities were made available through Harry Kadoshima of the Rokka Lodge management for which we are grateful. The Workshop conducted by Dr. Lindbergh S. Sata is something in the magnitude which we could never afford. We thank Dr. Sata for his generosity.

Training session emphasized self-awareness. For instance, everyone who arrived in the Lodge Friday evening was tired and ready to call it a day. But the first session was held that very night. By 10 p.m. the atmosphere changed. Everyone felt full of energy and were busy getting acquainted. At 3 a.m. the conversations were still continuing. What happened to the fatigue? We tried to probe into this phenomenon.

In another session we learned to analyze the meeting. Low participation leads to low motivation. Low skill of members means low order of implimentation of meeting objectives and high skill likewise increases this chance of implementation. We have learned to dissect each meeting. What about the one on one conversation here and there which ignores the issue of the meeting? Who's doing all the talking? Who are the motivators? What are the inhibitory forces and the facilitating forces in the meeting?

Saturday afternoon was set aside for three hours of mushroom hunting. The older persons took this opportunity to catch up on the sleep. Everyone enjoyed the conference. One mystery remains. Who took home the full bottle of Cutty Sark?

Signing up for the workshop were: Harry Kadoshima, Masao Tomita, Bill Kawahara, Barbara Yoshida, Nobie Chan, Sam Shoji, Ben Nakagawa, Sonny Tangalan, Hideo Watanabe, Tomio Moriguchi, Mako Nakagawa, Eira Nagaoka, Paul Kuroiwa, Tom Iida, Henry Miyatake, Ken Nakano, Chuck Kato, Kayko Watanabe, Rodney Kawakami, Edmond Lew, Lela NeSmith, Suck-Min Kim, Hazel Calhoun, April Reed, Brenda Carpio, and Donna Lew.

DONATION:

The Seattle Chapter wishes to acknowledge the generous donation from the following:
 $25.00 from Mrs. Aiko Yamagiwa in memory of her late husband Chitake Yamagiwa who passed away May 23, 1973.

ALL PAC*ASIAN BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT IN SEATTLE PROPOSED FOR NEXT SPRING

The planning committee for the proposed 1st Annual Pac*Asian Invitational Basketball Tournament to be slated for Mar. 29-31 in 1974 in Seattle has been doing lots of homework.

The tourney hopes to draw representative teams from Vancouver, B.C., Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Fresno, Stockton, San Jose, Sacramento and Los Angeles. The three ethnic groups in Seattle represented by Nisei Veterans Committee Basketball Leagues, Filipino Youth Association and the Seattle Chinese Athletic Association have shown interest and indicated support and will be cosponsors with the Seattle Park Department. The format to be used as a guide for detailed planning has already been written. The sponsoring group here is planning to incorporate under Northwest Asian American Athletic Association. The goal is to incorporate each major coastal area to move the tournament from city to city each year.

Frank S. Fujii, the prime mover, described the purpose of this tourney:

"Asian ethnic awareness throughout the Pacific Coast has dedicated a direction of togetherness and understanding among the Asian-American Youth Programs. As much as gains have been indicated in many phases of Asianisms, still a greater togetherness can be created through not only Governmental Projects and Studies in grants and research but a concrete program such as an Annual Invitational Sports Tournament inviting youth and along with their community support."

NOMINATION AND ELECTION SET FOR INTERNATIONAL DISTRICT SPECIAL REVIEW BOARD

Ordinance No. 102455 has created a special review district which covers the International District bounded by 12th S., 4th S., S. Charles and S. Jackson St. and including the area bounded by Yesler Way, S. Jackson, 4th Ave. S., and the freeway. All businessmen, residents, property owners and employees in this expanded International District, will have an opportunity to give the Special Review District Board your ideas and to nominate individuals to run for 5 selected positions on the Special Review Board.

The Special Review Board will hope to preserve this area of historical note and to assist in safeguarding the general welfare of the International District by blocking bigtime developers out of harmony with the intent of this area, to promote safeguarding of character of this district for the future use and enjoyment of all our people, and finally to encourage community spirit, cooperation and participation.

J.D. Braman, Jr., City Director of Community Development and staff member Al Wyemura (Sansei from Ohio) along with Bette Terada, program coordinator for International District Improvement Association gave the orientation Nov. 1. Under this system the Review Board will present their case to City Planning Commission, hence to Dept. of Community Development, back to Planning Commission and to City Council.

Nomination meetings on Nov. 13 and 14 were too late for the press. Nov. 15 nominations will be at International Realty, 526 S. Jackson from 7:30 p.m. and on Friday, Nov. 16 from 4 p.m. at the International Drop-In-Center, 524 6th S.
