March 1975

SEATTLE CHAPTER TO MEET THIS WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19

The regular Seattle Chapter meeting will be held this Wednesday, March 19 from 8 p.m. at the JACL office, 526 S. Jackson St. President Lindbergh Sata will preside. Everyone is welcome to attend and make their pitch.

Audio-visual project "The Issei Women," directed by the three graduate students of the School of Social Work at the Univ. of Wash. has requested $300.00 from the Seattle Chap-ter. This will be the Sansei version on the study of Japanese immigrant women from Japan from the time they left the old world and their problems, and contributions as they tried to adjust to the new environment.

Harry Kadoshima, vice president, stated that this was kind of an emotional thing. "Are we an funding arm?" he asked. Vice president Cherry Kinoshita said, "We should not vote when we're emotionally high but the prequest should be decided by the committee since the question needs further study." Jerry Shigaki said May 31 is the deadline for slide project and they have already spent $500.00. Shigaki emphasized that fund is needed as soon as possible. The motion was made to vote at the next meeting and it was made clear that this was not tabling of the motion. Ken Nakano said in view of the forthcoming 200th anniversary celebration, we would support such project.

Tak Kubota for some time has been questioning who has the right to vote at the board meeting. Some of the members may have lost out in the election but they may get chairmanship of the committee carrying vote privileges. Another interpretor of the by-laws has only selected committee list with chairperson having voting privileges. The matter was referred to Toru Sakahara who said we should create a small subcommittee to study this problem further.

A letter was sent to Gov. Dan Evans asking support for the community program during the coming visit of Emperor Hirohito to Seattle area.

Bill 52 was discussed which has wavers for certain non-resident foreign student such as Japanese nationals here whose family is assigned in this area on business assignment. There were so many questions the matter was tabled.

Recording secretary Tom Koizumi was lamenting the fact that the Chinese community has been receiving tremendous publicity space in the media in recent months. Yet the only time the Japanese community gets the big play is during such unhappy episodes such as the Noel Noguchi and Johnny I. Okihara incidents. Koizumi urged that we get our publicity arm reorganized and to correct the poor scorecard of the Japanese community mediawise.

Nemesio D. Domingo Jr., Kyle Kinoshita, Clark Kido and Elaine Ko made the pitch to the board member as they represented the Alaska Cannery Workers Association in their campaign to fight for the survival of the International District's in its historical setting and flavor. They mentioned of the ecnouraging response on the petition campaign. Details on the demonstration at the suite of County Executive Spellman as well as the eight demands were elaborated.

Dedicated Randy Foy spoke on the recruiting program to get more Asian fireman into the Seattle Fire Department. The volunteer instructor will prepare would-be applicants for the civil service firemen examination. Monday and Thursday four-hour week course will continue for five months. This will include physical test program and drilling on the weakness of the individual would-be applicants. Any person wishing more detail on the Asian firemen training program should contact President Sata.

The Seattle Chapter voted to support the eight demands of the Alaska Cannery Workers Association. Details were covered in the February issue.

President Sata released the names of committee members for the 1976 years. The names were selected on the basis of familiarity with the particular job description. The committee members are: officers job description--Takako Yoda, Henry Miyatake, George Hom, Midori Uyeda; anti-defamation--Mary Fujita, Michiko Fujii, Charles Z. Mako Nakagawa and May Sasaki as well as Patti Shimomura, Kim Sasaki and Becky Sasaki were the overworked mailout crew which ran into difficulty during the change in the administration. The work continued well after 10 p.m. The January crew should receive special citation. Last months February crew were better organized recruitmentwise. In attendance were Vincent Tom, May s Sasaki, Audrey Matsudaira, Tom Akada, Patti Shimomura, Kim Sasaki, Becky Sasaki, Sam Shoji, Eira Nagaoka and Ron Hirata.

-- by Tomio Moriguchi, National Treasurer

A college professor, a college student, a couple of social workers, an engineer, salesman, politician, businessman and a government worker are what you have when the Executive Committee of the National JACL is shoved into a room. This body, "EXECOM", "shall, during the interim that the National Board is not in session, be responsible for and conduct such functions of the National Board as designated and authorized by the National Board." In addition to the seven elected officers, the chairperson of the District Governor's Caucus and the chairperson of the National Youth Council make up the EXECOM. As the elected National Treasurer, my "businessman" input to this executive body is a very interesting and gratifying experience. As representatives of the National Board, we must implement the resolutions and decisions of the National Council. In these efforts, we do not deserve a very good grade. This may be, since the EXECOM shall also act as a personnel Advisory Committee (if one is not formally constituted, and one wasn't), we have been devoting a lot of time to personnel matters. As the Facific Citizen states, there are a lot of problems in our personnel make-up. Geometric increase in personnel and budget has brought about tremendous pressure to the office of the Executive Director and other new staff members the past couple of years.

Is it a realistic anticipation -- what the director and staff are expected to do? Yes, if one expects in miracles. No, if one realizes the human, physical and achievement capacities of the staff. Then, what's the problem?

1. Over-extension of staff and resources.

2. Lack of proper communication with staff, officers and membership.

3. Failure to comply with established procedures.

4. Failure to touch base with Regional Staff and National Officers often enough.

These, very briefly, are the concerns we are focusing on at this time. Only the tip of the iceberg.

Since these failures only point to the problems -- the cause of the problems, what are they?

- 1. Inadequate organizational and administrative skills.
 - 2. Lack of effective leadership.

Finally, suppose the problems and causes for same are as stated, what now? 'Are administrative skills, quality leadership acquired, learned--through education or experience? I personally feel that education and experience are very important. However, a basic credibility and integrity are essential before these skills can be administered effectively.

Credibility and integrity are a whole new set of parameters. Can these be measured? How would you measure it? Does one measure them equally as one does administrative skills and leadership? Very interesting and challenging points I must deal with as a member of the EXECOM. Your thoughts on these and any concerns of the JACL at any level are always welcomed.

SEATTLE JACL PRESIDENT VOICES CONCERNS OVER STADIUM IMPACT ON INTERNATIONAL DISTRICT

Ata public hearing held by the King County Council on Feb. 26 to review the proposed 13.5 million dollar loan which the County seeks from 8 local banks for completion of the stadium, Seattle JACL President Lindbergh Sata urged that the Council "defer issues regarding financing until the needs of the citizens in the International District are examined and resolved." Sata joined with 21 other individuals and representatives of groups in airing concerns over the negative impact of the stadium upon the International District. One lone supporter appeared before the Council in favor of the financing proposal for completion of the stadium. The Committee for Corrective Action, a group concerned with the needs of the residents of the International District, requested the attendance of opposition speakers.

Sata stated that "...those who are most directly impacted by the stadium have again become the victims of benign neglect. It is unconscionable to proceed with issues of financing which places further tax burdens on the public, without first addressing those legitimate concerns within the International District. After all, it is the people within the International District who will be directly affected by the stadium and who are further threatened with displacement under the guise that the stadium will be an asset to all residents of King County. Several years ago I heard the statement that in this country God is not white or black or purple but in reality and based on the behaviors of people, God is green. As soon as fiscal solutions are found construction will proceed and human needs will be ignored. If such is the operational premise of the County Council I believe the Council should defer issues regarding financing until the needs of the citizens in the area immediately adjacent to the stadium are examined and resolved. I join the position of the Alaska Canner Workers Assn. and the Committee for Corrective Action in opposing the 13.5 million dollar loan until the human concerns are appropriately addressed."

STATE LEGISLATOR JOHN SY ENG DESIRES INPUT ON LEGISLATION

Representative John Sy Eng has communicated his concern as well as his wish that the JACL community contact him regarding legislative activities in Olympia. Without sufficient input, reports Eng, it is exceedingly difficult to represent his Asian constituency and once legislative action is taken, it is too late to express concerns.

The toll free phone number for messages to be left for Representative Eng is:

March 1975 SHEET A NEWSLETTER (cont'd): editor has moved to a new address. In the relocation process all the essential papers were thrown into assortment of boxes and it may be at least four months before the mess is untangled. Without being trite it can be said that responsibility of this nature requires a tremendous reference library and file system to interrelate the current with the past. Fortunately some boxes were identified such as stencil cutting equipment, some current news clippings, correspondences received at the residence address (as noted in the calendar of events).

Cherry Kinoshita and her staff have agreed to fill the center pages and we're sure this will be an opportunity for displaying a different format. It may be quite refreshing. Forthe last few years the newsletter has been thrown together helterskelter with minimum rewriting and without regards to journalism finesse. It must be the human nature to wait until the last possible moment with back against thewall with deadline staring in the face. That's when the inertia is overcome especially when the work is voluntary.

Unfortunately no committee report summary has been submitted to the newsletter following the regular meeting except on rare occasions. Taping is useless from the standpoint of time frame. It's too time consuming to unravel the facts. To make the work easier we would like to see summary sheets containing the mainpoint of the presentation without regards to detail. We would calculate that 80% of the time has been spent searching for news. This used to amount to about 30 hours per month including time spent in attendance at the key meetings. Writing the story and cutting stencil is extra.

Irregardless of the space limitation we encourage pertinent articles. You are welcome to write . If any special interest group wants to take over the whole page this is fine. However, the material must be non-political in compliance with the Internal revenue code and the postal regulations as non-politic organization and somehow the article has to be tied down with JACL. Otherwise we'll be spending $900.00 for postage stamps each year and will be forced to rewrite the articles of incorporation.

Here is a friendly suggestion. We have also noticed too often in recent years such key lecture series such as Asian Community Festival at the Univ. of Wash., lecture series at the Wing Luke Museum, 1975 Asian American lecture series sponsored by the U.W., Asian American Education Association conference, and other major Asian community events, and we're mentioning the events which our own Seattle JACL board members were key participants as moderator, lecturers, panel members, etc. These events were not reported to the newsletter. We suggest that you participants forget your modesty and at least tip us off that the program is forthcoming and we can pick up the phone and receive the material in time for print. We say the community has been the loser each time this happens. Invariably days after: the newsletter is in print we get urgent letters to publicize the events.

"SHINERS" -- A BLACK EYE, AND A CALL FOR COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

"Only Japs Ate Shiners," or 'literary feature' which appeared in the Oregonian's Northwest Magazine recently has awakened the local community from its 'honeymoon' with a sharp stinging bite. The response from the community has been very good, which begins to indicate the community is quite concerned with defatory incidents.

It has been brought to our attention that on Nov. 8, 1972 in the Community Press a similar article written by *Mr. Pratt appeared, aimed at the ^Jewish population. Mr. Pratt contends that the intent of these articles were not derogatory but written merely to point out the irony of the situations experienced by the Jewish and Japanese communities. This is not a suitable justification for the use of these epithets. It is quite ironic for Mr. Pratt to hide behind intent and context to expound his ideas when, in reality, many people are limited in literary and analytical expertise.

United Auto Workers Local 492 are currently picketing Nissan Motor Corporation in Portland. A member of the Portland JACL was subjected to verbal, racial harassment while going to and from work. This incident was aimed at an innocent individual who, in effect, has no connection with the development of the managerial policies of Nissan. When individuals begin to take the abuse of misdirected frustrations, all members of the community become involved.

The recent incident with the Toshiba Company in San Francisco illustrates what can happen, and we must begin to be aware of situations such as with Nissan that can develop into a major thorn.

With the current economic situation providing a seed bed for misdirected frustration, incident such as these will continue to increase, if proper steps for education and concern are not taken. It is imperative for all local chapters to develop a preventative plan to head off incidents such as these, before a problem develops. --N.W.-Intermountain Regional JACL
