FORWARD THRUST TRANSPORTATION INPUT!!!

The Chapter membership meeting is scheduled for 7:45 p.m., Wednesday, Aug. 20 at the JACL office. The business meeting is scheduled from 7:45 to 8:30 p.m.

At 8:30 p.m. Robert Gogerty, Metro Consultant on transportation for the Greater Seattle area, will present slides about the modes of transportation. His main desire is to HEAR FROM the Japanese community their ideas and wishes about what they want in the way of transportation services. This definitely affects the business community and the elderly. So, you business types and you who have opinions, ideas, etc. about the elderly . . . come and express your ideas. The area of local and mass transportation is a subject which really knows no bounds. The wilder and imaginative ideas expressed, the better chance we have for an efficient and economical method of getting from place to place and back again.--Don Kazama

JACL office was flooded by water seepage from the ceiling Aug. 9. Tom T. Imori quickly rented a water suction pump to bring the office under control. Those helping to clean the office were Don Kazama, Larry Kazama, Tom Imori, Dr. Minoru Masuda, Mrs. Shegeko Uno and Mrs. Midori Uyeda. Mrs. Sally Kazama helped on the telephone. The building maintenance man was also on hand. Thanks so much for your timely help.

A Saturday night program might be possible at the JACL office.

Chapter members are urged to attend the DC meeting and luncheon on Sunday. Further information about the Saturday night meeting will be forthcoming. --submitted Teenage Center to serve the oriental community in the Beacon Hill area is open Monday through Friday from 4 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. at the recreation room of the Bailey Gatzert School. Teenagers are invited to drop in anytime between these hours. The crowd is still small but should pick up more steam as the idea catches on. Nucleus of the various Chinese, Japanese, and Filipino youth group in churches have been notified. Program offered include moving pictures, basketball, ping pong, dancing, color television and old fashion talk session.

"We're here to do anything outlandish," says Holly Takeoka. "What do you have to lose? We'll get little groups to do crazy things and you will get a following. It is important for one to develop his own personality. They can come in here, just sit around and gradually this person will have his own identity and have a different perspective."

The Teenage Center became possible when Don Kazama and Dr. Joe Okimoto, chairman of youths concern committee, met with Ed Singler of Mayor's Youth Coordinator. AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

It is with heart-felt gratitude that I address this letter to the JACL officers, Board, members, and all of the Greater Seattle Japanese community. Your donations of time, effort, and money made the Queen Coronation program one of the most memorable occasions I have witnessed.

It is my belief that the program was rewarding and enjoyable to the candidates as well as the members and honored guests. Therefore, to each and all of you, I convey my very warmest thanks for your support. Please allow me to emphasize my awareness of the spirit of those named, and those many, many un-named participants.

I look forward, with pleasure, to your continued whole-hearted cooperation in our future programs.

Sincerely,
Jiro E. Aoki

EXCITING WEEK FOR THE SEAFAIR PRINCESSES

by Karen L. Tsukiji, Japanese Community Queen

Representing the Japanese community as a Seafair Princess was exciting but still very educational. The activities were varied and many were once in a lifetime experiences in which I could participate. For one full week I was under the watchful eyes of the public. Probably the most critical occurrences were in the many Seafair parades. Even though I did feel the pressure of critical eyes, I still delighted in being one of the many centers of attention.

Besides the parades there were visits to several Seattle hospitals where all the Seafair Princesses visited the patients. The most enjoyable trip was to the Children's Orthopedic Hospital. Children are more expressive and communicate their excitement more easily. It gave me great satisfaction to feel that we were lifting their morale by our visit.

I attended many luncheons including the Rotary and Kiwanis Club luncheons. The Rotary luncheon was in honor of the Western Governor's Conference, while the Kiwanis luncheon was held in honor of the new Seafair Royalty. Two other luncheons were during the two days of welcoming the Navy. One day lunch was served aboard one of the ships in the sailor's mess hall and another day in the Officer's Club. I was also allowed to take a tour of a destroyer cruiser and a LSD ship. (LSD stands for Land-Sea-Drydock where ships can be repaired at sea).

The highlight of the week for me was the Governor's Banquet at the Washington Plaza Hotel. Ten Seafair Princesses were selected to escort the western Governors and their wives into the banquet room. Among the Governors present were Governor and Mrs. Reagan of California, Governor and Mrs. Love of Colorado, and Governor and Mrs. Evans of Washington. I had the pleasure of escorting Governor and Mrs. Burns of Hawaii.

The last activity which was also one that ended Seafair for the Princesses was the Torchlight Parade. This was the longest parade and also the one with the largest crowd. Afterwards all of the Seafair Royalty returned to the Olympic Hotel where the Princesses gave a party for our chaperones.

As I look back on the events of the past few weeks I can say with all sincerity that I have learned and matured a great deal from my various experiences of meeting many people, getting to know the other Seafair Princesses and taking part in so many varied and interesting activities. I wish to express my gratitude to the Japanese Community and to JAACL for giving me the privilege of participating in the Greater Seattle Seafair celebration.

DID THE HARD WORKING ISSEI FOLLOW THE EDICT OF MEIJI AS A WAY OF LIFE?

(Editor's note: Just about the time when the spring final was approaching, educational television KCTS of the U. of W. carried a program series on "Minority Report: Psychological Perspective" focused on the oriental community here. Dr. Nathaniel N. Wagner of the Dept. of Psychiatry at the UW narrated. As a warm-up in furnishing the background of the Japanese, Dr. Wagner read the Emperor Meiji's historical proclamation of October 1890 which struck us to be most enlightening. The television program closed with Dr. Minoru Masuda being interviewed for 15 minutes on what it was like to go through the shattering experiences of being evacuated and living in the war relocation camp. Dr. Masuda kindly furnished the copy of the proclamation which may partly explain the workings of the issei mind inherited by the nisei. The proclamation was printed in the book "The Population of Japan" by Irene B. Taeuber, 1958, Princeton University Press and is reproduced here for your interest.)

"Know ye, Our subjects: Our Imperial Ancestors have founded our Empire on a basis broad and everlasting and have deeply and firmly implanted virtue; Our subjects ever united in loyalty and filial piety have from generation to generation illustrated the beauty thereof. This is the glory of the fundamental character of Our Empire, and herein also lies the source of Our education.

"Ye, Our subjects, be filial to your parents, affectionate to your brothers and sisters; as husbands and wives be harmonious, as friends true; bear yourselves in modesty and moderation; extend your benevolence to all; pursue learning and cultivate arts, and thereby develop intellectual faculties and perfect moral powers; furthermore advance public good and promote common interests; always respect the Constitution and observe the laws; should emergency arise, offer yourselves courageously to the State; and thus guard and maintain the prosperity of Our Imperial Throne coeval with heaven and earth. So shall ye not only be Our good and faithful subjects, but render illustrious the best traditions of your forefathers.

"The Way here set forth is indeed the teaching bequeathed by Our Imperial Ancestors, to be observed alike by Their Descendants and the subjects, infallible for all ages and true in all places. It is Our wish to lay it to heart in all reverence, in common with you, Our subjects, that we may all thus attain to the same virtue."

PROGRESS BEING MADE IN THE UPGRADING OF THE INTERNATIONAL DISTRICT

5-story Hip Sing Association building at 8th and King is beyond preliminary planning stage to be torn down and rebuilt to accommodate 20-units. The first floor will be commercial. The building code requires that new apartment building be set back several feet from the property line abutting the street. The variance has been appealed and secured on the premise that first floor will be commercial in nature. But this brings in the problem of FHA financing which would not occur if the building were to be built for housing only.

Safeway Stores, Inc. branch at 8th and Jackson is due to be phased out this summer. An industrial firm is interested in taking over the premise. International District Improvement Association through the Model Cities Program is determined to keep this area commercial and to block off the encroachment of industrial firms.

U.S. Hotel, 315 Maynard South, is being converted into 54-unit low-rent housing at the cost of $4,000 a unit. The work has the approval of FHA and Model City task force on housing. The wiring, heating and plumbing will be reconstructed to comply with the code and the rooms modernized. Rentals will be approximately $80 per month. Abie Label is the owner.

A patch of green in the form of mini-park on the northwest corner of Maynard and King may become a reality. The City of Seattle Park Department has already approved the plan. The financing of the project now being negotiated will be made from the City matching fund, federal fund, and from the Forward Thrust. The park will extend southerly from Bush Hotel and westerly to the International Post office thereby eliminating few more landmarks in the International District.

ANNIVERSARY INSTALLATION OF FIRST HILL LIONS AND THEIR TRIP TO JAPAN

The 15th anniversary installation of the Seattle First Hill Lions Club was held last June at the Bush Garden. The program started with the street temporarily closed off for traffic by the police department for the Imperial Drum and Bugle Corps to provide the musical selections with their banners waving in the hot afternoon sun.

Frank N. McCartney, insurance agency owner, was sworn in as president to succeed Bill Komoto. Governor Daniel Evans was the keynote speaker. He stated that young people are questioning whether education today is relevant to problems of today.

"We live in an absolutely unique age," Evans stated. "I hope that we try to understand frustrations and desires of our youths. This generation is more committed to do something for others than any previous generation. They have this commitment and we should show them how to fulfill this commitment. I think the young will embrace this nation and will make this generation better than any generation."

After the banquet Bel Cantos choir of Franklin High School entertained with several musical selections prior to their departure for London, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. First Hill Lions is a prime supporter for this organization among many contributing groups.

15 year Charter Monarch certificates and chevrons were awarded to Frank Hattori, Tak Kubota, James Matsuoka, T. T. Nakamura, Bill Mambu, Ted Sakahara, Toru Sakahara, Ralph Shimbo, Art Susumi, Dr. Terrance M. Toda, and Grant Beppu. Hattori and Kubota received citation for 15 years perfect attendance. Kubota was also banquet chairman and master of ceremonies.

Lions club members were then readying for the 52nd Annual Convention of the Lions International in Tokyo to take them in a chartered plane. Now they are all back. They were addressed by the Emperor of Japan as follows: ". . . I desire to express my deep appreciation for the many years' activities of members of the Lions International inspired by the spirit of friendship and tolerance and devoted to mutual understanding and social service and for their contribution (to the) welfare of society as well as friendship between the people of all nations.

"It is significant that this convention is held for the first time in Asia and a great number of Lions have gathered here from all over the world. It is my sincere hope that the Lions will further deepen mutual trust as well as friendship and work together to contribute to the peace of the world and the welfare of humanity."
