Redress workshop educates educators

by Elaine Akagi

The Seattle Chapter sponsored a day-long workshop, geared for teachers, on the topic of the Japanese American Experience. The basis for the topic was to get the JACL's curriculum guide out to teachers and help them to teach with it. The initial goal was to attract around 20 teachers, hoping that they would spread the word to their colleagues. The workshop, instead, attracted almost 50 individuals; not only teachers, but students and other interested parties.

The highlight of the day was the appearance of Gordon Hirabayashi, who spoke to the group about his experiences in his struggle to have the United States overturn his guilty verdict of the 1940s. The audience was first shown the video, "A Personal Matter" which chronicles Mr. Hirabayashi's struggle when he defied Executive Order 9066. After the video, Mr. Hirabayashi was able to focus on his most recent courtroom battle which found him "not guilty" and that the U.S. Constitution should have protected him during the time of war.

Cherry Kinoshita followed with a summary of the struggle for redress, sought by Japanese Americans and won in 1988. Kathy Hirose, a Seattle area teacher, presented a lesson based on an individual's rights and his protection by the Constitution. This lesson was geared for secondary teachers in the audience.

Following a "bento" lunch, author Ken Mochizuki read from

Legal ruling opens possibility of more eligible redress cases

by Cherry Kinoshita

In a meeting hosted by JACL at national headquarters September 16, Office of Redress Administrator DeDe Greene reported that the August 30 mailing to 260 additional eligible individual cases of $20,000 redress checks brought the total of paid cases to 79,832. Eighty thousand payments have been authorized by Congress.

Included in the 260 were 191 from Hawaii and 29 from Arizona. Twenty-five internees, and six Japanese Peruvians also received payments.

ORA estimated that potentially 5,000 additional cases may become eligible for redress compensation as a result of the Ishida and Consolo decisions. The Federal Court of Appeals reversed the denial of eligibility for claimants Douglas Ishida and Linda Consolo, who were born in Ohio and Utah, respectively. Greene stated that under the Court's rationale, children who were born after their parents "voluntarily" evacuated from the West Coast, his book, "Baseball Saved Us." The story tells of a young boy in an internment camp. Teresa Maebori, National JACL Education Committee Chairperson, followed the reading with a lesson based on the story. This lesson was geared to elementary and middle school teachers.

Shox Tokita then talked about his life and the effect of an internment camp on it. His presentation was similar to one he has given students in classrooms he's been invited to visit. It gave the teachers an idea of how a guest speaker could enhance a lesson.

This workshop was the dream of the committee chair, Sharon Klostermann. She envisioned this dream and pursued it with a vengeance. Her committee consisted of Don Maekawa, Michelle Ota and Elaine Akagi. The workshop was six hours in length, including lunch, but could have easily been an eight hour one. The program was so full that there was little time for questions. Having such notables as Gordon Hirabayashi, Ken Mochizuki, Cherry Kinoshita and Teresa Maebori involved gave the workshop the credibility it deserved. Attendees, in their written evaluation, praised the content, speakers and classroom materials as invaluable.

as well as children born after their parents were released from internment camps, would be potentially eligible as they were unable to return to their parent's original place of residence in the prohibited zones and thus "deprived of liberty."

ORA's interpretation of the Court's decision will require that the claimant's birth be prior to January 2, 1945, the date of rescission of the Exclusion Order, and that at least one parent must have lived prior to evacuation in a prohibited zone.

Meeting participants expressed concerns about the January 2, 1945, cut-off date being used by ORA, urging instead the use of the June 30, 1946, date used by the Civil Liberties Act, as a more realistic date when evacuees could safely return to their previous West Coast homes. These concerns should be expressed in writing during the public document period when amendments to the regulations are issued, according to the ORA officials.

Installation Banquet (January 27, 1966) to honor community activists

by Elaine Akagi

The 74th Annual Installation Banquet of the Seattle Chapter JACL will be held Saturday, January 27, 1996 at the Doubletree Suites in Tukwila. The banquet committee has chosen for its theme, "For the Sake of the Community," and will honor deserving individuals who have given of themselves to the community. Although we are not at liberty to disclose the names of the honorees at this time, we're sure you will agree that the honorees are deserving.

The keynote speaker for this year's banquet will be Marine Reserve Capt. Bruce Yamashita, formerly of Hawaii, now a practicing attorney in Washington, D.C. Yamashita, with the support of the Honolulu Chapter JACL, successfully challenged the U.S. Marine Corps in court, proving that his dismissal from Officer Training School was based on racial discrimination. He is currently heading a class action suit on behalf of other minority members that were similarly treated in OTS.

At this year's banquet, we are hoping that the Asian and other ethnic minority communities will attend. We encourage representatives of these groups to join us.

Keep looking in this newsletter for more information on the banquet. Remember to save January 27, 1966, on your calendar.

Membership drive begins; competition hot and heavy

by May Namba

Great enthusiasm was shown as the membership drive got off to a good start under the leadership of Captains Jerry Shigaki and Mako Nakagawa, assisted by Kazzie Katayama and Kip Tokuda, respectively. The drive goal is 50 regular new members. The captains have challenged each other to see which team can enlist more new members. The team with the most completed membership applications will be treated to a dinner by the losing team. The membership drive will officially end October 19, 1995, at the commencement of the next board meeting. More membership application forms may be obtained by contacting May Namba, [784-3824].

Captain Shigaki's team consists of the following members: Calvin Takagi, Anne Uemura, Dave Hoekendorf, Ayako Hurd, Mike Kimura, Ray Ishii, Jeff Hattori, Kazzie Katayama, Eileen Kato, Sid Kuboi, Hugh Matsubayashi, Ken Nakano, Joby Shimomura, Vicki Toyohara-Mukai, May Namba and Grant Yamaguchi.

Captain Nakagawa's team consists of the following members: Elaine Akagi, Arlene Oki, Sharon Klostermann, Iris Miyahira, Shea Aoki, Randy Aoyama, Tony Ishisaka, Chuck Kato, Cherry Kinoshita, Michelle Kumata, Jonathan Matsui, Chizuko Norton, Sam Shoji, Kip Tokuda, Janice Yee, Gary Maehara and Virginia Thompson.

New membership applications already have begun to arrive. The race has begun. Will your team be on the receiving or giving side of dinner? "They" say it's always better to give than to receive; obviously "they" were never in this race.

Attendance at candidate forum urged

by Arlene Oki

The Seattle Chapter is pleased to join the League of Women Voters in co-sponsoring the following candidate forums for important public offices. We urge Nikkei to attend these forums and to speak with a strong voice for the values and concerns of our community!

Tuesday, October 24, 7 p.m., Downtown Public Library — Seattle City Council candidates.

Monday, October 30, 7 p.m., Mercer Middle School—Seattle School Board candidates.

Since the remaining $3.36 million will cover only 168 more cases, ORA officials expressed concern about the need for an additional $100 million in appropriations from Congress. Stuart Ishimaru, legal counsel to Deval Patrick, Assistant Attorney General of the Department of Justice Civil Rights Division, and Greene raised the possibility of tapping the $45 million balance authorized for the Civil Liberties Public Education Fund. Five million of the $50 million authorized for the Education Fund was appropriated by Congress for the 1995 fiscal year, but the activation of the Education Fund has been stalled by the delay in Senate confirmation of the Fund's Board of Directors. The Department of Justice's legal opinion is that all individual payments take precedence in disbursement of funds appropriated for the Civil Liberties Act, according to Greene.

In an informational booklet distributed, ORA provided the following data:

ORA payments to date by states (five highest): California (59,627); Washington (5,590); Illinois (3,161); Oregon (1,751); and Colorado (1,242).

Total claims: 83,698

Number paid: 79,832

Ineligible: 1,582

Other (including eligible, ineligible pending, no heirs, more information needed, died before Civil Liberties Act): 2,284

Cases of "Unknown Historical Records": 3,824

Other Data: Minor children who relocated to Japan prior to the end of WWII: 124 individuals previously found ineligible may become eligible if propose amendment is implemented.

Crystal City camp: ORA is considering proposing amendment to extend the end of the internment period from June 30, 1946 to February 27, 1948 when the Crystal City Camp actually closed.

Hawaii cases: 96 Iwilei claimants were paid in August. Total Hawaii appeal cases: 934. Paid: 529. Ineligible: 327. Pending review: 33. Eligible: 13. Withdrawn: 32.

Phoenix/Glendale cases: Total—129. Paid: 68. Pending review: 13. Eligible: 1. Ineligible: 46. Withdrawn: 1.

Railroad/mining cases: Remain ineligible while research ongoing as to whether Federal Government action led to the firing of workers.

JACLers attending the meeting were: Acting National Director Karyl Matsumoto, NCWND Regional Director Patty Wada, and CCDC Governor Travis Nishi. Ben Takeshita (representing JACL-LEC), Joe Allman (Arizona JACL) and Allicyn Hikida (Honolulu JACL) also attended.

Others participating at the meeting were representatives from the National Coalition of Redress and Reparations and the Japanese Peruvian Oral History Project.

Soccer match aims to support victims of Kobe earthquake

by Ray Ishii

Eight months after the devastating earthquake in Kobe, Japan, approximately 200,000 people are still living in temporary housing and an estimated 100,000 people are living with relatives, according to the Hyogo Cultural Center. The absolutely devastating conditions brought about by the earthquake is still a harsh reality to Seattle's sister city.

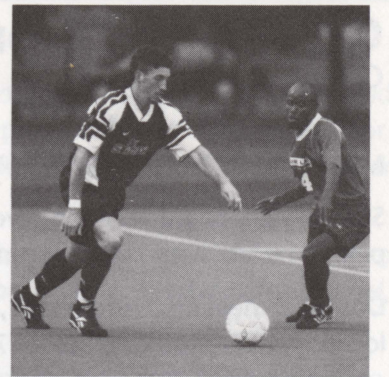

The Seattle Sounders will meet Vissel Kobe of Japan in a Kobe Relief Fund Soccer Match. The profit from the match will go to support the people of Kobe. Specifically, the funds raised will be donated to the City of Kobe, the YMCA in Kobe, and Nara-Tampopo Kai, a private agency helping people with disabilities find appropriate housing and support in Kobe. The JACL earlier this year conducted a successful fund drive in support of the Kobe citizens. Consistent with our earlier effort to assist the people of Kobe, the Seattle Chapter is endorsing the Kobe Relief Fund Soccer Match.

This historic event marks the first time a team from the J-League (Japan's premier professional soccer league) will play in the United States. An exciting team, Vissel Kobe features many international stars from Japan and Europe. As part of their visit, Vissel Kobe will be traveling to Vancouver B.C. to play the Canadian Olympic Soccer team. During the week of their visit, Vissel Kobe and the Seattle Sounders will be conducting a soccer clinic for youth soccer teams in the area. In addition to raising funds for the people of Kobe, it is hoped that this will be the first of many matches involving Japanese and Seattle based teams.

The Kobe Relief Fund Soccer Match is scheduled for Sunday, November 19, 1995 with kick-off at 3:05 PM at Memorial Stadium. Tickets are $9 for adults, and $5 for senior citizens and children under 15. Tickets are available at TicketMaster (628-0888). For group discounts (15 or more) and for other information, please call Jeff Posey with the Sounders at 622-3415 ext.4.
